a choice of many kinds. In colors—$1.50 and $1.95.

100 half yard wide!

Morning Edition

Equal Rights—True Industrial Freedon

USTRO-GERMANS DEFEATED B

DVANCE GUARD OF INVADERS EITHER KILLED OR CAPTURED.

nemy Pinned to the Very Brink of the Danube River with Enormous Losses," Official Report.

r Crossing Points the Struggle is Still in Progress - First Details of the Great Contest Between the Teutons and Slavs on Highway to Constantinople-Attitude of Greece and Rumania Worries England.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ONDON, Oct. 8, 10:30 p.m.—The advance guard of the Austro-Germans who crossed the Danube at Belgrade has been partly destroyed partly captured and those who entered Servian territory across the have met with enormous losses, according to an official dispatch ived tonight by the Servian War Office from Nish: The dispatch says:

On the northern frontier the enemy has crossed the Save at Yarak, ale of Prograrska, at Zabrez, opposite Ostrusnitza, and at the great of Ciganlia and on the Danube at the Belgrade fortress, at the quay

The advance guard which crossed at the Belgrade fortress has been in response to a cablegram from Stephen Trowbridge, formerly destroyed and partly captured.

At Yarak, Zabrez and the Isle of Prograrska, after several fierce s, the enemy has been pinned to the very brink of the river with enor- recently by French cruisers after defending their homes sixty-one osses. At the other crossing points the struggle continues.

At Belgrade two officers and over one hundred soldiers were capof whom eighteen were from the Two Hundred and Fourth Infannent of the Forty-third German Division. Among the captured also soldiers of a Prussian brigade belonging to the Fifteenth Army which came here from the Italian front."

De Facto.

GNITION OF CARRANZA O FOLLOW CONFERENCE.

erican Countries to Also Give Their Assent, Expected England will Refuse to Join this nt Because of the Benton Murder and the Sup-Backing of the "First Chief" by Germany.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Oct. 8.-Gen.

Tansing will present to OROZCO POSSE and the Ministers of Bolivia, atemala, the informa aces he has received tatives of Carranza demanded recognition ms that he is in pos greater part of Mexi-and is able to impose the inhabitants thereof.

CARRANZA FORCES

MOVE NORTHWARD.

(BY WIRELESS AND A. P.)

(BUAYMAS (Mex.) Oct. 8 (via San Dlego.)—Carranza forces reported additions and polar vancing into Sonora from the southern of Pacing Advancing into Sonora, who refused to import the pacing into Sonora, who refused to import th THE LOSING OUT.

will the United States trains but it is expected a. Brasil, Chile, Bolivia, Guatemala will do like-course European powers is Bot known. Great the British was murdered that it will be recognized as that Great Britain will deem it expedient to abandon her purpose not to recognize Carranza and will fol-

BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] BUREAU OF pected to accord prompt recognition

IS SET FREE.

IBY A. P. DAY WIRE ! VAN HORN (Tex.) Oct. 8 .- Indict. ments against the members of the cual Orozen and four companions in a battle in Green River Canyon, Culberson county, were dismissed today by Judge Jackson in the District Court.

a haisting that his dethy temporary and that stion to continue the control of the countheir families.

CARRANZA FORCES

maril. Chile. Bolivia, matemala will do likemare European powers not known. Great the when the British was murdered that it receasise Carranza or it is known that the coraise Carranza or it is known that the in Mexico have been the construction of this government of oil to the construction of this government of oil to the coraise of the construction of this government of oil to the coraise of the construction of this government of oil to the coraise of the coraise

LONDON, Oct. 3, 9:50 p.m .- The efforts of Austria and Germany to force their way through Servia to hands with their Turkish allies have ituations of the war.

The Austro-German troops already have gained a footing on Servian teritory, but they have not as yet come into touch with the main army, which is entrenched in the mountains just beyond the rivers, while the Anglo-French force, which vas landed at Saloniki is making its way northward to assist the Servians and to protect Macedonia from a threatened Bulgarian invasion. The landing of British and French troops is proceeding despite the change in the Greek government. The ministers of the Entente powers at Athens have asked Greece to define her policy with regard to the Balkan situation, but the new Premier. Alexander Zaimis, has answered that he will be unable to do this until a meeting of the Cabinet is held. There is log of the Cabinet is held. There is maintain a policy of benevolent neutrality towards the allies.

The press and public of London and Paris, with the experience of the sudden change in Bulgaria's attitude fresh in their memory, are demanding that steps be taken to see to it that a similar change does not take place in Athens. It has been suggested that the appearance of an allied fleet in Greek waters would have the effect of holding Greece in line.

Allied fleets already are reported off Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and in the Black Seas and in view of the possibility of a Russian landing on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, it is stated that a Turkish army is being sent there so that the Bulgars will not be called upon to fight their old friends and protectors.

What assistance Italy will lend her allies in the new venture forced upon them in the Balkans is not disclosed, nor has any change in the policy of Rumania been announced.

The German press suggests that the allies, despite the landing of troops in Saloniki, are preparing for more energetic operations against Turkey in the hope of smashing her before Germanic assistance arrives and that Italy may take part in these operations.

There still are three months of good weather ahead for any new move against the Dardanelles, or for operations in other parts of the Aegean district, while the Russians under Grand Duke Nicholas are expected to force matters in the Caucasus and the British to push along to Bagdad.

IN THE WEST.

TURKS HAVE SURPASSED ALL CRIMES OF PAST BY DEEDS IN ARMENIA.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ONDON, Oct. 9, 2:30 a.m.—Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a letter expressing regret at his inability to attend the meeting to be held by the Lord Mayor at the Mansior House next Friday to start a fund for the relief of Armenian refugees says with reference to the massacre of Armenians:

"It is a crime surpassing the worst deeds of the Turks. As the Turks are entirely dependent upon the Germans for support, the Germans surely could, if they would, put an end to so disgraceful a condition of affairs, and I should hope that the German-Americans who must be anxious to save what remains of Germany's good name, would use their influence to check a continuance of these purposeles

> RELIEF FUND SENT. [BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Armenian atrocities con the committee of mercy, of which August Belmont is treasurer, announced tonight that $100,000 had been forwarded to Ambassador Morgenthau for the relief of Armenians in Turkey. The committee said that Ambassador Morgenthau had reported relief was urgently needed and when received would be used to help Armenian refugees wherever they were found.

The committee also sent $6000 to Cairo, Egypt. This was don onary at Aintab, Turkey, but now at Cairo, which said:

"Six thousand Armenians from Antioch villages, including four on congregations, arrived at Port Said. They were rescued days against violent Turkish attacks. Heroic sufferings. Children born during flight. Pastor raised Red Cross flag, seen from sea by cruiser. Survivors utterly destitute. Mostly women, children, many sick. British authorities providing food, shelter."

AUSTRIANS WATCH ALLIES LANDING AT SALONIKI

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

URIN (Italy) (via London) Oct. 9, 2:46 a.m.—According to the correspondents of local newspapers, the Ministers of the Entente powers have notified the Greek government that for the present the Entente powers intend to land an expeditionary force of slightly over 70,000 men. It is said that Austrian agents are watching the landing carefully and claim to know the exact composition of ing the landing carefully and claim to know the exact composition of the force.

The prompt action of the Greek Minister of Communication, M. Diamantides, it is said, prevented a possible disaster at the beginning of the Entente movement. When the landing began three railways out of Saloniki were in Austro-German hands and the employees had received advance instructions from Berlin to obstruct the movement by every possible means, according to the correspondents. Rumors spread of an impending widespread sabotage, but M. Diamntides is said to have made a burried trip to Saloniki, saized.

he M. Diamntides is said to have made a hurried trip to Saloniki, seized onwever, evidence that Greece will naintain a policy of benevolent neurol of the railroad, and discharged all German employees. The cars in which the allied troops are being transported inland are new railty towards the allies. rolling stock which has just arrived from America.

GERMAN NEWSPAPERS ON THE ARABIC AFFAIR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ONDON, Oct. 8, 10:40 p.m.-Reu-, Secretary Lansing pointed out that tions between Count von Bernstorff ter's Amsterdam correspondents the commander of the submarine was sends excerpts tonight from the convinced that the Arabic intende editorials of several of the German to attack his vessel, but that the ofnewspapers dealing with the negotia- ficers of the Arabic denied such inand Secretary Lansing concerning the perial government could not refuse sinking of the White Star line steamer to credit the words of the British Arabic by a German submarine. The officers and therefore admitted that Frankfurter Zeiting, the correspond- the Arabic did not intend to ram end says, on the whole is satisfied the U boat and that consequently the with the solution of the Arabic affair attack on the Arabic was not con-

FIRST CLASH OF SERIES.

Young Shore Pitches Brilliantly, but Support Fails Him.

Hoblitzel, Scott and Shore Himself are Guilty of Mental Lapses at Critical Moments and Phillies, with Only One Ball Hit Out of the Diamond, Take a Freaky and Hard-fought Game.

Cleveland Alexander won his game from the Boston Americans, but the victory was for from be ing the impressive one his team-mates

The breaks of the game the star pitcher of the National League, and had to be to give him the honor of winning the first world's series contest in which he has participated. Through a sequence of plays as unusual as ever seen upon a ball field, the Phillies won by 3 to 1.

FLUKY STUFF. made these three runs on five of the fluklest hits the game has ever veloped into the first run of the series, being the only safe ball driven out of the diamond by a Philadelphia oatsman. It has been predicted the short outfield would prove the winto all expectations, it was the infield,

Big "Hobby" Hoblitzel, first-base

MIGHTY ALEXANDER WINS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Grover of the five strange hits sec

BANDITS' POSSIBLE LOOT.

Reports from East Indicate Robbery of Baltimore and Ohio Train in West Virginia was One of Biggest Since Days of the James Boys-Posse and Bloodhounds on

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INCINNATI (O.) Oct. 8.—Not less than $100,000, and probably more, and maybe as much as $10,000,000 was the amount of loot secured by the bandits who held up the Baltimore and Ohio train No. 1 at Central station, W. Va., were the troops to concentrate at larly may take part in these operations of the Yaugh River, south a parently no attempt has been added that it took a parently no attempt has been and the larly may take part in these operations. The south is they may take part in these operations of the result of the Yaugh River, south and they may take part in these operations. The south is they may take part in these operations are not one of the result of the Yaugh River, south and they may take part in these operations. The south is the particularly are not one of the result of the Yaugh River, south and they may take part in the control of the Yaugh River, south and they may take part in the corporation of the Arabic after though it adds that it took as well as the particularly from the particularly from the parallel communication with Nogales as the day. He resigned. To leave the particularly from the parallel communication with Nogales at the provision train left the parallel communication with Nogales at the provision train left the parallel communication with Nogales at the provision train left the provision tr

Some of the French Ships Carry Three-inch Guns.

The steady roar of the three-inch lifes continued as the cruisers cirled far above. Mallard was the most aring operator. He fired the big gun hille plunging from side to side and ropping rapidly, imitating the maeuvers carried out while engaging an semy.

The battle planes and cruisers are on to begin movements in large madrons, both defensive and offensive. They are to attack the Germannes of communication, particularly the railway junctions, with the object cutting of supplies and spreading emoralization in the rear of the Germans.

ENTENTE MINISTERS

LEAVE BULGARIA.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. F.)

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Oct. 7 (via London, Oct. 8.)—The Ministers represents

During the visit of the correspond-ents to the aviation school, it was learned from the commandant, Capt. Pegout, that about 100 military avia-tors were under instruction. This is only one of a large number of these schools, which are turning out trained aviators.

Capt. Pegout said noncommissioned officers and soldiers were making of Greece, informed the British, capable operators of fighting machines after one month's instruction. In the after one month's instruction. In the many thousands for the work of the mork of the first a meeting of the Cabinet," new and terrible aerial war craft.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—"Premier Zaimis of Greece, informed the British, French, Russian and Italian ministers who visited him today, that he could aggregate, these schools are equipping not define the government's policy under the cabinet," as we and terrible aerial war craft.

GERMANS ARREST

NOW A FACT. MRS. MERRIT HILDEBRANDT OF PRISON BY SOLDIERS.

[ST ATLANTIC CARLE AND A. P.] GENEVA (Switzerland) Oct. 8 (via Paris.)—Mr. Merrit-Hildebrandt of Remarkable Development of Military Aviation.

Remarkable Development of Military Aviation.

Correspondents Permitted to See Battle Cruisers.

Correspondents Permitted to See Battle Cruisers.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—An aerial army is no longer a dream of romance. Such an army, formed in divisions and squadrons, with battle aeroplanes, cruisers, aeroplanes, scouts and torpedo planes, all armored heavily and carrying three-inch cannon and rapid fire guns, is a reality. It has been made possible through the remarkable development of military aviation.

The French government today permitted correspondents the first inspectible aviation field is a vast inclosure. The aviation field is a vast inclosure. The aviation field is a vast inclosure. The aviation field is a vast enclosure. The aviation field is a vast inclosure. The aviation field is a vast inclosure. The aviation field is a vast enclosure. The event of the robbery, about 2 o'clock, until the remark add an unpleasa, and unpleasa, and unpleasa, and unpleasa, and the work as a vast inclosure and warrange for conserving there were stayed for one of the best on the Baltimore and Ohlo system. It was a this Mines Again.

Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Never Wants to See Trouble at His Mines Again.

Ne

all parties are harmed, including the proper mitted correspondents the first inspective aviation field is a vast enclosure. The aviation field is a vast enclosure. Entering the field, a money feet high, with a number of planes stretching in the field. A money feet high, with a number of planes stretching in the field of the fiel

OF ALSATIANS.

PARIS, Oct. & .- "Many cases of i A large number of these battle pressed anti-German sentiments in rulsers are now ready. Several of hem recently carried, out a night ombardment far back of the German ne. During the Champagne engagement these cruisers hit a German ballon, which exploded in a mass of ames. dividuals charged with having ex-don, Oct. 8.)-The Ministers repremana.

Each squadron will consist of nine aeroplanes of all types, including one battle plane, two battle cruisers and six scout planes. The complement for a squadron will be upwards of fifty officers and men, for the operation of the aeroplanes and their transportation on lorries, drawn by automobiles, with which each squadron will be squipmed. The Belgian and Servian Ministers representations on the Bulgarian government.

The Belgian and Servian dinisters applied for and received their passports this morning. The Dutch Minister has taken charge of the business

GREEK POLICY

IS UNDEFINED.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.1

VON MACKENSEN LEADS GERMANS INTO SERVIA

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 8 (via London.)—
The Teutonic invasion of Servia is proceeding favorably, progress in the crossing of the Drina, Save and Danube rivers by the German and Austrian armies under Field Marshal Von Mackensen being reported by German army headquarters.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is announced.

The capture of three cannon opposite Ram is an of industrials and represent the south of St. Marie-a-Py, we capture six officers and 250 men.

"Eastern theater, army of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg: Russian attacks north of Kosjany and south of Wiczunieuw were repulsed.

"Amy of Gen. Von Linsingen: Russian posts near Newel and Omyt, southwest of Pinsk, were driven off Our attack in the region of Czartortwsk is making progress. German troops of the army of Count Bothmar repulsed several Russian attacks.

"Balkan theater: The crossing of Drinking Providing that it must saved there.

AMERICAN AIR FIGHT FOR F

SAYS BRITISH DIPLOMACY

AMERICAN WOMAN. SAYS STRIKES MUST CEASE.

Rockefeller Addresses Denver Chamber of Commerce.

This was the statement of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in an address before the Denver Chamber of Commerce today. Mr. Rockefeller was the guest of honor at the weekly luncheon of whom he pleased, upon such terms as he pleased, frequently has been mis-represented. The inference sometimes drawn from it that father and I are drawn from it that father and I are fighting organized labor is untrue."

Mr. Rockefeller read extracts from his testimony before the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations, in which he declared his belief in labor unions, provided they were so organized as to leave every worker free to associate himself with such groups or to work independently."

The extracts concluded with a

"It is upon that last declaration hat the industrial plan accepted by ur company and its employees have een developed," Mr. Rockefeller add-

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.] BERLIN (via Sayvillé) Oct. The Overseas News Agency says to-

"In reply to a petition relating to the increased cost of food supplies, which was presented by the Socialist party, the German Chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, stated that the government would form an im-perial commission, including Socialists and members of all other parties, to study the question and devise necessary corrective measures.

"The German Commercial Treaties Association, the German Association of Industrials and representatives of the interests which have been engaged in trade with Russia have petioned the Chancellor that a guarantee of equal rights for Jews be incorporated in the peace treaty with Rus

MUCH LUMBER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 8.—It is reported here that England has or-dered 165,000,000 feet of lumber from British Columbia mills, the contract providing that it must be cut and

AMERICAN AIRMEN FIGHT FOR FRANCE

[BT ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PARIS, Oct. 8.—Seven American SAYS BRITISH DIPLOMACY

IS A GHASTLY FAILURE

IBY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Seven American wolunteer aviators took part in aerial reconnoisances in the battle of Champagae, They are William Thaw of Pittsburgh, Serst. Eliliott C. Cowding of New York; Sergt. Norman Prince, Boston: D. G. Masson, San Francisco: Bert Hall, Bowling Green, Ky.; James ment issued tonight says:

"After an intense bombard-ment with shells of various calibers, Boston: D. G. Masson, San Francisco: Bert Hall, Bowling Green, Ky.; James ment with shells of various calibers, and two blockhouses included in the salient still held by the enemy in front of his second line of defense. Two ment with shells of various calibers, and two blockhouses included in the salient still held by the enemy in front of his second line of defense. Two ment with shells of various calibers, and two blockhouses included in the salient still held by the enemy in front of his second line of the salient still held by the enemy in front of his second line of the front of his second line of the Seconds in a bomb thrower and some machine guite on other parts of the French ment with shells of various calibers, the Germans attempted today a very violent attack against Loos and its northern and southern approaches. This attack was completely repulsed and the attackers suffered heavy losses, the following corpa, which has just opened and the attackers suffered heavy losses, the following corpa, which has just opened and the attackers suffered heavy losses, the suffice and clurbrooms on Rue de Ponthern and southers and proceptible progress to sondersach."

The seligian official communication is sufficient to the south of the ferry man's been one of dismal, tragic weakness. It is a misfortune that Sir Edward Grey must be ended."

The seligian official communication is sufficient to the south of the ferry man's hearing the process of the front of the southeast of Tahure. We have gained a foothold in the fortified work 'Le thanks of the front of the sufficient the Ten Million Dollars.

(Continued from First Page.)

were aware that the money, which was being sent from Washington was on this train as it has been definitely learned that they demanded the Washington packages of the mail War will End Within Five erks. Two hours elapsed from the time of

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.— "Mother"
Jones, noted labor advocate, telegraphed union leaders here today that she would arrive in Chicago next Monday to take an active part in the strike of garment workers. The message, dated New York, was read to strikers and their sympathicers at a chicago and their sympathicers at the strikers and their sympathicers are supported less the consequence of the conseque graphed union leaders here today that the would arrive in Chicago next Monday to take an active part in the strike of garment workers. The message, dated New York, was read to strikers and their sympathizers at a number of mass meetings during the day.

Two arrests were made today. No serious disturbances were reported.

Two arrests were made today. No serious disturbances were reported.

To extinguish any great nation by this whistle to summon the submarine, the lieutenant swam out to sea. However, on sighting the aubmarine he mistook it for a group of Turkish rowboats, whereupon he swam toward shore and began to ascend the cliff in hope of hiding. He then discovered his mistake and again inght of the murder of her husband, James Coward, last month. She was serious disturbances were reported.

LOAN NEUTRAL. SAYS MORGAN. wheels of the armies, it is doubtfu

Years, He Believes.

Declares no Great Nation tually all German shipping in that quarter is being held up by British and Russian under-water craft and the ferry services between Germany and Scandinavia are being carried on by several are the control of the sumariar there. The control of the sumariar there is the control of the sumariar there. The control of the sumariar there is the control of the sumariar there. The control of the sumariar there is the sumariar there is the sumariar there.

Thinks External Obligations Must First be Paid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- That the ac ceptance by American bankers of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French five-year SWIMS ASHORE WITH POWDER; 5 per cent. loan was a strictly neutral water. Shortly after two men climbed into the again two men climbed into the commercial prospective and the state of the again that the state of the again the state of the again the again that the state of the again the again that the state of the again that the state of the again that the again that

The Prince and his companion

PRINCE OF WALES SHOT; GRAND DUKE WOUNDED

Heir to Throne of England Said to Have Received Bullet in Arm from Husband of French Waitress. Russian Commander Alleged to Have been Victim of One of His Own Men.

PARIS, Sept. 28 (by messenger to staff officers. Then he turned the New York.) - Last week the weapon on himself. Prince of Wales, while taking tea

Frince of Wales, while taking teal plan, as contrasted with the plan which is in common usage among other organizations of labor, where only those who elect to join the organization are entitled to its benefits.

"We shall try to so administer this plan that there may never come a day in which may be repeated the industrial disorders which have two often come in the affairs of this company and other companies in the State."

TO STUDY

FOOD PRICES.

FOOD PRICES.

BERLIN (via Savville) Oct 8.

BERLIN (via Savville) Oct 8. furiously jealous. Huguet wrote to his wife to say that stories about her flirtation with British officers had reached him and if he found out that they were true and that she had been unfaithful to him he would shoot her and then shoot himself.

IST DIRECT WISE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.—A story brought to this port today on the Russian steamship Czar from Archangel revives the rumor that the Grand Duke Nicholas ship Csar from Archangel revives the runor that the grand Duke Nicholas as been and then shoot himself.

STORIES EXAGGERATED.

As a matter of fact, the stories that had reached Huguet were grossly exaggerated. The British staff officers treated Mile. Barthou properly, and between none of them and the pretty Bretonne was there any levity of conduct or undue familiarity. One young officer, indeed, on the staff, who had fallen very much in love with her, proposed to her and had ceased, after her refusal to marry him, to visit the inn. On Saturday last the husband obtained twenty-four hours' leave from the trenches and he unexpectedly turned up at the inn, where his wife was employed, at about 5 in the afternoon. The Prince of Wales and another staff officer were having tea in the linn at the moment. It appears that Huguet watched his wife talking to the Prince and his companion for some minutes and them was seized with a blind rage. He rushed into the room and without a word of warning fired two shots in rapid succession, one at his wife and another at the two

GERMANS ARE REPULSED IN AN ATTACK ON LOOS.

Commence of the second

Killed or Captured.

or the other.

(Continued from First Page.)

German mercantile marine in the Baltic is beginning to feel the effect of the submarine warfare there. Vir-

OF A BRITON.

NEUTRALITY.'

ent neutrality" toward the Entente

DENIAL AT ATHENS.

BENIAL AT ATHEMS.

(BY ATLANTIC CARLE AND A. P.)

ATHEMS, Oct. 8 (via London.)—
The official news agency announced today that there was no foundation for rumors circulated in some quarters that the new Greek Cabinet intended to protest against the landing of allied troops on Greek soil.

PARIS, Oct. 8, 11:10 p.m.-The

The highest attainment possible in clothes construction

give superior style,

quality and durability

MULLEN & BLUETT

CLOTHES.

We advise an early inspection.

Kullen & Bluet BROADWAY of SIXTH

BULGAR ENVOY

was given his passports.

TEROIC FEAT

BLOWS UP BRIDGE.

JAPS EXTEND TURISDICT

make an important move for some weeks. But winter, with its hard, frezen ground, is expected to bring a renewal of the offensive by one side the Breaking Pe

Yuan Doesn't To

Numerous Questions Over Adminitr

PEKIN (China) Oct L horitatively stated that Japan's jurisdiction

NEW YORK, Oct & from Princeton Uni

State Department many of his son ulgarian Minister to France has been show that the boy was a year the navy w

ILL, SMALL VOICE ROVES TOO STRON

ED MARTINEZ DEAD. descendant of Don Gest da and a Link in Calif

the death here of Raphi, srandson of Isnacio Mi ho was commandante of a San Francisco at the ti American occupation—and OGE COLLAPSES.

Oct 8 (via Tuckerto bridge in course of co ross the Oder river ne on of the six tor of Congress, receiv

IAVY YARDS

BID LOWES

rate Concerns Outdon

Government Plants.

de are Opened for Six ?

nedo-boat Destroyers.

of the Boats may be B

by Uncle Sam.

WANTED FOR STEAD

TLAND (Or.) Oct. 8.— mail voice" gained and today in Earl Francis V with his wife, 21 years of up to Sheriff Hurlingered. He is wanted O., on a charge of and officers are now ake him back to face Frankin Builders Supply suppay until September day he went to the band 1450. He drew out the Comprising $657.25 in cold and silver. If went to Mrs. Welker to a Than I came West, resultand September 26. I came the next day and si has sought to have me it up," said Welker in his coup."

a's romantic past was brok

JAPS EXTEND JURISDICTIO

TOBER 9, 1915.—[PA

Relations with China the Breaking Point

Threaten to Employ Ar Yuan Doesn't Yield

Numerous Questions Over Adminitration

PEKIN (China) Oct. 8,-It citatively stated that the Ja danger point Wednesday.

threatened that if China did not mit to its demands the Japa would pursue their own course. would pursue their own cours, porting it by force if necessary. Chentao is part of the Kira tion of Manchuria, forming the dary between China and Korea. Japanese claim jurisdiction Koreans residing in Chentao untreaty signed May 7, 1915. Or maintains that Chentao was not tioned in this treaty and they that previous treaties hold Japan's threat is regarded as no of the manner in which the Japan's threat is regarded as no of the manner in which the Japan's threat is regarded as no of the manner in which the Japan's threat is regarded as the continually are overriding the Clin Manchuria.

Since last May numerous questions officials being forced to quiese, although they were in right. Japan's hold on South I churia new is unshakable.

GERMANS AGAIN ATTACK DVIN

their forces north and south a point.

Concentration of considerable man forces in the vicinity of opol in Galicia, about twen-miles south of the frontier. Is be-here to be due to political con-in the Balkans rather than to a tention of menacing Kiev. Com-dire quiet prevails throughout touthern fighting area.

Refugees continue to pour his-rograd at the rate of several the-daily. A feeding station estable by British charities in the Pain-station of the railway from whi-ares for hundred daily. Late of riana Buchanan, wife of the In-ambassador, is in charge of this wa-

YARDS BID LOWEST

Concerns Outdone by rnment Plants.

o Opened for Six Tor-boat Destroyers.

the Boats may be Built by Uncle Sam.

ENOTON, Oct. 8.—Estimates autoreps authorized at the das of Congress, received to-the Navy Department from the Navy Department from the Island and Norfolk Navy while the Norfolk Navy and the Mare Island yard at property on the Cost. The appropriation bill that the vessels shall cost to a surfect of the Norfolk Navy and the Mare Island yard at property on the Cost. The appropriation bill that the vessels shall cost to the Cost. The Cost.

is and They

sed by the President.

[ST & P. DAY WIRE.]

MINOTON, Oct. 8.—Secretary is estimates on army needs in cational defense

Dearment plans, it is under-miniplate an increase in ex-ment of military establish-tapar with navy increases to it is generally admitted beststy Daniels will recom-increase of $1,250,000 or late year's navy budget.

IN OWN POWDER. First for the Navy is Be-

TON, Oct. 8.—Secretary mounced today that

SMALL VOICE ES TOO STRONG

INTED FOR STEALING MEY IN OHIO SUR-INDERS HIMSELF.

(Or.) Oct. 8.—The in Earl Francis Welhis wife, 21 years to Sheriff Huriburt He is wanted in a charge of em-

Builders Supply and until September 11. Went to the bank to He drew out three sing $657.25 in curallyer.

tallyer.

allyer.

tallyer.

to Mra. Welker to join a I came West, reachexpember 26. Mra.

the next day and since expert to have me give ald Welker in his con-

MARTINEZ DEAD.

condant of Don Gaspar and a Link in Califor-Numr wire.]
Oct 3.—A link with

ntie past was broken ath here of Raphael on of Isnacio Marcommandante of the rancisco at the time
a occupation—and a of Des Georgia of Don Gaspar de panish Governor of was born in 1839. Se Martinez. His se Martinez. His ne Peralta, whose d thirteen leagues hay region. county seat of Con-where Raphael was after him.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Heavy Snowstorms Sweep North-west, and Temperatures Drop Below Freezing Point.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF "THE TIMES, Oct. 8 .- Chicago's tempera ture fell to 44 deg., the maximum to-day, and is dropping tonight. Heavy snowstorms are sweeping over parts of Michigan and Wisconsin, and in Upper Wisconsin and Minnesota the temperature is 2 deg. below freezing. Eastern States also began to feel the cold wave today, and the Middle West senerally averages around 40 deg. generally averages around 40 deg. with indications of freezing tonight Other temperatures:

Island and Norfolk Navy proved to be lower than the street from private concerns. In announcement has been is considered probable that more of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

New Orleans, I.a.

North Plaite, Neb.

North Plaite, Neb.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

North Plaite, Neb.

Is a list of the boats will be built greamment plants.

New Orleans, I.a.

North Plaite, Neb.

North Plaite, Neb.

Rapid City, S. D.

Rapid City, S. D.

St. Louis, Mo.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8,-Details of MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Details of a murder plot which the police believe began in Buffalo, N. T., and ended early today in the slaying of Kate Arnold, 28 years old, were sought after the woman's body had been found in her room in a small hotel here. Two men are thought by officers to have followed her from Buffalo for the purpose of ending her life. For three days the suspects loitered in the entrance of the hotel and in the alley in the rear of the place.

The supposed slayer of the woman went boldly to the hotel about 1 a.m. today and asked for Kate Arnold. He was shown upstairs and she met him in the hall. Nothing more was known until her body was found this morning. The woman had been at the hotel but a short time. She told acquaintances her parents lived in Buffalo.

MARY GARDEN BREAKS DOWN.

Overwork in the French Hospitals and Goes to Scotland for Rest. [ST ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] LONDON, Oct. 8 .- From her cour

LONDON, Oct. 8.—From her country place, Strichen in Scotland, Mary Garden, the American soprano, has telegraphed as follows:
"Miss Garden broke down this summer from the strain of her ambulance work. No operation was ever performed. She is now at her Scotch home getting back her strength to enable her to return to her duties in France."

Stomach and Liver Troubles

Form Fitting Overcoats

Whether viewed from the back or the front, this new form-fitting Overcoat is the best that we've shown yet. Possessing style, character and in dividuality

Societu Brand CLOTHES

These also make excellent auto and motoring coats. We have them in Black, Blue, Brown and mixtures. Values that you will appreciate at

$20 to $35 Also "Scott System" Guaranteed

Scott Bros 425-427 SOUTH SPRING ST.

Overcoat Specials at $14.50

MINE OFFICIALS TO MEET MINERS

Arizona Strike Conference Called in El Paso. British Consul Asks Gov.

Union Labor Agitator Says Fight will go On.

Hunt to Protect Citizens.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 8 .- A con-contained in a suck and was not are made and the control of the co

PHOENIX (Aris.) Oct. 8.—A conference between mine officials and a complete one between mine officials and a complete of the country manners in the Clifton-Morenci district. Who recently went on strike for recognition of their union and a new wage scale, probably will be held in the country behind use. So and the country behind use and the country behind use and the country behind use. So a fight and they should be here tonight. The tonight that he had received a message from C. W. Harris, adjutant-General of the country behind use. So and the country behind use. So and the country with the labor movement of the country behind use. So and the country behind use. So and the country behind use. So a fight and they should be here tonight. The conference has been completed with. There is nothing now a garry would take favorable action. A definite answer is expected by the Governor tomorrow morning.

Gov. Hunt received a request today from the British Consul at El Paso. Governor tomorrow morning.

Gov. Hunt received a steller to the mine and the strikes and the strikes and the would send no more troops until after he receives an answer from the mine officials tomorrow concerning a conference of the country, who has been active in attempting a conference of the country, who has been active in attempting a conference of the country when the proposed the country with Norman Calliton, adding the borne of E. A. G. Dulmary the proposed the country with the strike and the proposed the country of the proposed the country of the proposed the country of the proposed the

Grand Prize, Panama-Pacific Exposition Grand Prize, Panama-California Exposition
San Francisco, 1915
San Diego, 1915

It has the delicious taste and natural color of high-grade cocoa beans; it is skilfully prepared by a perfect mechanical process; without the use of chemicals, flavoring or artificial coloring matter. It is pure and wholesome, conforming to all the National and State Pure Food Laws. CAUTION: Get the genuine with our trade-mark on the package

Established 1780

Walter Baker & Co. Ltd. DORCHESTER, MASS.

To Loyal Californians

And All Lovers of Justice and Fairplay

An effort is now being made to secure from the United States Government a blanket concerns for the entire Yosemite Valley.

This means the monopolization of America's most beautiful park and California's pride. Putting all camps, hotels and concessions under one control would choke off competition and be extremely detrimental to public welfare.

I have spent eighteen years perfecting the summer camp system in the Yosemite. I have entertained over 78,000 people at Camp Curry. To these lovers of our wonderful valley and to all men and women of California who object to the monopolization of a public domain. I make this appeal. I ask you to protest against any action which would force Camp Curry and all other concersioners to pay into private hands a portion of the profits which otherwise will go to the Government. I also publicly protest against the conducting of a bar in the Yosemite. This is in violation of the law. The individual seeking this monopoly has conducted such a place.

I also ask that the use of motor cars on the floor of the valley be granted to all motorists and not

These questions come up for hearing before Secretary of the Interior Lane, October 15. Immediate action is necessary to save the Yosemite Valley, and I ask every loyal Californian and every lover of fair play to sign the following coupon and mail AT ONCE. Do it this minute and you will be doing your State and the public a service.

DAVID A. CURRY, Cosmopolitan Club, Washington, D.C.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON, SIGN IT AND SEND OUT IN NEXT MAIL

IMMEDIATE ACTION IS NECESSARY

HON. FRANKLIN K. LANE,

Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D.C.

The undersigned desires to vigorously protest against the granting of a blanket concession in the Yosemite Valley which would place all hotels, camps and other concessions under the control of one company. We believe this fostering of a monopoly would be against the principles of the United States Government and extremely detrimental to public welfare.

(Name) City(Address)

-why is San Fernando Mission Lands the most rapidly selling acreage suburban to Los Angeles? Why have hundreds rushed to this section during the past four months and purchased little farms of 1, 2½, 5, 10 and 20 acres? Why—when there has been practically no demand for suburban land in all other sections - has selling activity been so intense here?

The reasons are simple—but powerful. These are the famous fertile "chosen lands" of the old Mission Fathers, which surround the historic San Fernando Mission. Annexation to Los Angeles brought the $30,000,000 aqueduct water supply to these lands-abundant water for irrigation at the low rate of one cent per inch-immedi ately increasing the land values (according to experts) from $200 to $400 on each acre. Hence, the unprecedented rush for land. Nearly $400,000 worth of these lands have been sold during the past five months. San Fernando Mission Lands are located on electric car line on $500,000 electrolier-lighted boulevard—close to all city advantages, schools, stores, churches, theaters, etc.

San Fernando Mission Lands

5 Acres or More

An Acre and Up

Single Acres at Low Price on Easy Terms This is the type of land that produces bumper crops of lemons oranges, avocadoes, walnuts, sugar beets, deciduous fruits and winter vegetables-where conditions are ideal for hogs, dairying and poultry. Go Sunday at our expense and see the type of land you've always had in mind. If possible call at our offices and make excursion reservations in advance.

Angeles Mesa Land Co. 433 South Hill Street (ground floor)

rly inspection.

n&Bluett VAY of SIXTH

The Times Free Information Bureau 619 South Spring Street

present public regarding rates and attractions of railroad and steamash; lines, hotels and pleasure and health resorts. Photographs, descriptive circulars and transportation literature are kept on hand for inspection and distribution. Times readers can obtain here in a few minutes without the delay incident to writing for it, all the information necessary for a safe and enjoyable journey or vacation. This service is absolutely free. Literature also may be obtained at the New Times Building, Broadway at First street, also may be obtained at the New Times Building, Broadway at First street.

EXEMPTED TO HAVE THEIR MAIL ADDRESSED TO THE BUREAU.

New Arlington Hotel

Santa Barbara, California 3 KINDS OF GOLF

Nine-Hole Links on Hope Ranch Twelve-Hole Links on Hotel Grounds

Indoor Golf Inside Of Hotel

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND WILMINGTON TRANSPORTATION COMPANY

Trains leave Los Angeles
Pacific Electric (6th and Main streets.)
Sait Lake Route (East First Street.)
Steamer Leaves San Pedro
Common Amiles Amiles
Steamer Arrives Avalon
Steamer Leaves Avalon 3:30 P.M.
Trains Arrive Los Angeles
Pacific Electric (6th and Main Streets.)
Sait Lake Route (East First Street.)
Salt Lake Route (East Pirst Street.)
times of salling without notice.
For reliable information, time cards and folders, apply to cards and tolders, apply to Ranning Company Agric, 104 (Main Entrance) Pacific Electric Bldg.
Sixth and Main Streets.
Banning Company Agts. 104 (Main Entrance) Pacific Electric Bidg. Phones: Sunset Main 26-Home 10564

RADIUM SULPHUR SPRINGS

AT THE MERRITT JONES HOTEL, Ocean Park

American Plan, $2.00 per day up.
American Plan, $2.00 per day up. Even accommodation. Try our table d'hote din ner Sunday, 75c. Spend the week-end here
Write for folder,

CAMP BALDY

Beverly Hills Hotel and Bungalows

Steamsbips.

STEAMSHIP BEAVER Sails Sun., Oct. 10, 12 o'Clock Noon LOW ONE-WAY AND ROUND TRIP FARES
All Fares Include Berth and Meals
SAN FRANCISCO, ASTORIA, PORTLAND and all points east
Sallings October 10, 15, 20, 25, 30,
C. G. KRUEGER, Dist, Pass. Agt.
S17 South Spring Street Phones: Home A2751—Main 1906

9 Days Pleasure Trip PERSONALLY $32 and $36

The Most Popular Personally Conducted Excursion Leave Los Angeles Sunday morning, October 10th. Tel F1351, Main 8342. CONTINENTAL STEAMSHIP CO., 995 South Main Street, Marsh-Strong Buildin

THE 4 LARGEST SHIPS

Congress Governor President Queen SAIL MONDAY AND THURSDAY For SAN FRANCISCO and SEATTLE

Daylight San Diego Excursions SUNDAY AND WEDNESDAY-10:30 A.M.
All Pares Include Borth and Meals. Main 47 624 South Spring Street
115 W. Ocean Ava., Long Beach. 119 E. Colorado

Fast Passenger, Express and Freight Service Masatian, La Pas, Topolobampo and other guif por Tickets at all steamship agencies. For passenger of freight rates call Main 4366 or A4266. SOUTHWESTERN STRAMSHIP CO. LTD.

Steamships

PANAMA CANAL and NEW YORK

DELIGHTFUL CRUISES

DELIGHTFUL CRUISES
board Large American Transatiant Liners.

"FINLAND" "KROONLAND"
22.086 Tons Displacement,
From San Francisco Los Angeles
Pier 57, 16 a.m.
Oct. 25, Nev. 16, Oct. 26, Nov. 17.
Onkew YORK TO PANAMA CANAI
25 and up First Cabin 3100 and up
6 and up Intermediate 550 and up
6 and up Intermediate 550 and up
6 and up Combination N.Y. Ticketa
One Way Water—Other Way Rail One Way Water—Other Way Rail
PANAMA PACIFIC LINE
G. N. KOEPPEL, Gee'l. Agt., L. A.
440 Mer. Nat'l. Bank Bidg.
Main 1942
"P. H. Larke, Gen'l. Pass. Agent.
19 Geary St., San Francisco.
Bwayne & Hoyt, Gen'l. Freight Agents
439 Sansome St., San Francisco.

American -Hawaiian S. S. Company Regular Freight Service New York-Los Angeles

E.S. "DAKOTAN" sails October 16th. S.S. "HONOLULAN" sails October 19th. 501 California Bidg., Los Angeles, Cal. Broadway and Second St. fain 5441. Home 6087

Resorts

Col. House and Dudley Field Ma-City Restaurants and Cafeterias

Superh Koutes of Travel

Main 5823-Office 120 West 6th St-Home 60854

Los Angeles Limited—1:25 p.m. Pacific Limited—9:00 a. m.

FOR CHICAGO AND EASTERN POINTS TRAINS LEAVE FROM SALT LAKE DEPOT DAILY.

IT COSTS NO MORE To Go East

Via San Francisco-Portland-Tacoma-SpokansEcattle-Through the Scenic Northwest.
Et arm Days' Stop-over in San Francisco
Steamships GREAT NORTHERN and NORTHERN PACIFIC, or Shasta Route to Portland.
Tour
GLACIER NATIONAL PARK
This Summer
Get Hustrated booklets and full information from
J. W. PHALON, T. F. & P. Agt., 606 S. SPRING ST.

Orange Empire Trolley Trip $3:50 TO RIVERSIDE AND REDLANDS THROUGH GRANGELAND AT 9 A. M. DAILY FROM MAIN STREET STATION, LOS ANGELES

Steamships.

San Francisco And Return -

THE EXPOSITION FLYERS

Sailing

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SUNDAY and TUESDAY $4.00 San Diego

SUNDAY, TUESDAY THURSDAY and SATURDAY

PACIFIC NAVIGATION COMPANY 611 SOUTH SPRING ST.

lone, collector of the Port of New York, were at the station to greet the President and his party, and hurried them into a limousine. The crowd cheered and applauded and pushed forward for a chance to see the future Mrs. Wilson. She beamed upon the crowd and the President looked at her and smiled.

"They are applauding you," he said

EVERYBODY HAPPY.

WILSON HAPPY, MRS. GALT SHY

Thousands Cheer President and Fiancee in Gotham.

Couple Guests at Dinner and Later Attend Theater.

Today They will See the Ball

Game in Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8,-Presiden Vilson and his flances, Mrs. Norman brief visit to the President's closes From the time of their arrival this afternoon until late tonight they were New York's chief objects of interest and each time they appeared in public mobiles were in pursuit, and the seand each time they appeared in public they were followed by thousands.

For the first time since he became President Mr. Wilson gave way as a center of attraction to another. The people showed anxiety to see him, but their eyes were centered on the land.

Both the President and Mrs. Galt were evidently pleased by the reception accorded them. They were slightly shy on their first appearance in public as an engaged couple, but acknowledged applause with smiles.
They made no attempt to hide themselves and every time they appeared in public they were side by side. The firms being to entertaining his fiances.
He was very happy and jovial throughout the day and his usually stern face was constantly wreathed in smiles.
The programme of the couple included a long automobile ride throughout the day and his usually stern face and a theater party tonight. Tomorrow shey leave at 11 o'clock for Philadelphia, where they plan to witness the decond game of the world's series baseball championship. Immediately after that they will go to Washington
on a special train.

A the theater can be exame Bones appeared in their box and were sented.

As they entered the theater
the entir a uddence arose and applauded. The play, but the President and Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the sented.

As they entered the theater
the entir a uddence arose and applauded. The play, but the President and Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex that they will go to Washington
on a special train.

As they entered the theater
the entir a uddence arose and applauded. The play, but the President and Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex through the president and
Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex through the president and
Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex through the president and
Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex through the president and
Mrs. Galt were casily the stars of the complex through the president and
Mrs. Galt were casily the stars

Addressed to Chicago Mayor are Piled on His Desk Awaiting Return. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. S—Six or seven hundred telegrams and letters of constratulation, addressed to Mayor Thompson for closing the saloons on Sunday were piled on his desk today, there to await his return from San Francisco. One was from Gov. Capper of Kansas, but they came mostly from preachers and temperance workers of cities of the Middle West.

Two hundred and fifty individual telegrams addressed to Mayor Thompson at San Francisco were placed on the wire today by delegates to the Rock River conference of the Methodist Church. All were congratulatory. The tolls were paid, it is said, by a wealthy layman.

TO PROCLAIM YUAN EMPEROR

MONARCHICAD MOVEMENT SAID TO BE GROWING RAPIDLY STRONGER IN CHINA.

[BY ATLANTIC CARLE AND A. P.1 LONDON, Oct. 8.—A great military review planned in Peking in celebration of the anniversary of the formation of the republic is said by the Peking correspondent of the Evening Standard to have been abandoned in Peking correspondent of the Evening Standard to have been abandoned in consequence of the discovery that military leaders intended forcibly to crown President Yuan Shi Kai as Emperor.

The correspondent adds that the monarchical movement is developing rapidly, and that the bellef is growing that the President will be proclaimed Emperor on New Year's Day.

China's state council, acting in the capacity of a legislature, today forwarded to President Yuan Shi Kai for promulgation the bills authorizing the Chief Executive to call a people's convention for the purpose of settling the form of government China is to have in the future.

The members of the council in a message accompanying the bill, recommended that every opportunity be given to secure the real opinion of the masses on the question whether China is to have a monarchical or republican form of government.

FAIR PLAY BY LANE. Won't Permit Employees of Land

Office to Secure Choice Locations is Colorado.

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 8.-Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, today sent a telegraphic order to the Register of the Land Office at Montrose to cancel all entries made by employees of the reclamation service on the recently opened lands of the Uncompangre Project in Montrose county. It has been charged that certain employees secured choice lands through inside information not available to the general public.

COPPER COMPANY QUITS.

TRENTON (N. J.) Oct. 2.—The Copper Range Consolidated Company, incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, today filed a certificate of dissolution with the Secretary of State. The company has issued a capital of $29,373,900. William A. Paine of Boston is president of the company. EVERYBODY FREE.

EVERYBODY FREE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A verdict of not guilty for all five of the defendants was returned by the fury heretonight in the case of the five labor leaders, charged with causing the death of Abraham Liebovitz for obtaining nonunion employment during a garment workers' strike. Originally there were seven defendants, but the court discharged two of them. Julius

The Pacific Slope

SHIP MARIPOSA MAY GO DOWN. BULLET FIRED BY MI

Passengers Landed Safely; Vessel on the Rocks.

EVERYBODY HAPPY.

Along the streets, where everybody seemed to recognize the couple in the automobile, the Presidential party was driven to the hotel, where Mrs. Galt, Mrs. Bolling and Dr. Grayson were to spend the night. The President was then driven to Col. House's apartment on East Fifty-third street.

After brief interval the President called at Mrs. Galt's hotel for her. As the party left the hotel they were held up a few minutes by a large corps of photographers. The President and Mrs. Galt sat smilingly side by side as their pictures were snapped.

Engine-rooms Full of Water, the series of the series of the series of the series of the seamship Mariposa of the Alaska Steamship Company's fleet, which seamship Mariposa of the Alaska Steamship Company's fleet, which went on the rocks on Pointer Island, near Bella Bella, B.C., early today, is in a for word received by her owners tonight. The Mariposa's hold and engine room are full of water and the vessel has a bad list to starboard and has a big hole in her forward bottom. No details of how the Mariposa happened to strike the rocks have been received, owing to the Canadian censorship imposed upon British Columbia wireless stations, but company officials presume that Capt. C. J. O'Brien lost his bearings in a fog.

The Mariposa's seventy-nine passengers, en route from Seattle to Alaska points, were landed on the beach by the steamer's small boats soon after they were picked up by the steamer Despatch, which answered the Mariposach, which answered the Mariposach and the calcada the left tentered the left tentered the left tenter. Frank E. Davis has the particular, which he was at the beside of the c side by side as their pictures were snapped.
Early on the ride the President was recognized by automobilists and pedestrians and many persons turned, bowed, smiled and waved handkerchiefs and hats. Frequently the President raised his hat in reply and Mrs. Gait bowed and smiled.
Automobile parties sought to set near the President's car to see the couple, and as a result, before he had proceeded far, upward of 100 automobiles were in pursuit, and the secret service men and city detectives had a hard time keeping them back. The return ride to Col. House's apartments and the hotel was made just as the sun was going down.
DINNER AND THEATER PARTY.

the steamer's small poats soon after the ship struck. A short time later they were picked up by the steamer Despatch, which answered the Mari-poas's "S.O.S." call. The Despatch is proceeding to Ketchikan.

The Despatch is proceeding to Ketchikan.

Two salvage vessels were dispatched tonight from Victoria, B.C., in response to a hurry call from Capt. O'Brien, who said much of the cargo could be saved if prompt action was taken. A large part of the 1200 tons of freight aboard the Mariposa consisted of government supplies for the Alaska railroad builders at anchorage. Thirty-four members of the Mariposa's crew are being brought to Seattle by the fishing steamer Starr. The rest of the crew is standing by the wreck to assist in salvage operations. The Mariposa, a vessel of 2158 gross tons, was built at Philadelphia in 1852 and for many years was operated

MEXICAN SILVER COURT EVIDENCE.

HALF A TON IS PILED UP IN CHAMBERS DURING HEARING IN SAN FRANCISCO, is claimed was seized by Gen. Carrenza from the Compania De Minero and shipped to the Johnson Assay Company of El Paso, Teras, was piled up in a local superior courtroom today as evidence in an injunction action brought by the Mexican mining concern. The Wells-Fargo Express Company was enjoined, at the petition of the mining company, from turning the bullion over to the El Paso, company here.

Today's proceeding was the presentation of a-petition by the El Paso firm, asking that the injunction be dissolved.

ELECT MRS. HUGHES HEAD OF SOCIETY.

MRS. BROWN OF LOS ANGELES AN'S ORGANIZATION.

OAKLAND, Oct. 8.—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Pacific Coast branch, elected Mrs. Edwin Holt Hughes, wife of Bishop Hughes of San Francisco, honorary president and Mrs. George B. Smyth of Berkeley, president today at the closing session of the society's annual convention.

Other officers elected for the society was a sensite, for the and elected the folion; F. F. Wilson, Los annual convention.

Yosemite, for the and elected the folion; F. F. Wilson, Los annual centre of the society of the society was a sensite, for the and elected the folion; F. F. Wilson, Los annual centre of the society of the society of the same close of the society was annual convention.

onvention.
Other officers elected included:
Mrs. C. E. Brown, Los Angelea, vice-president: Mrs. S. F. Johnson. Pasadena, corresponding, secretary; Mrs. Bellet T. Anderson, San Pedro, association secretary; Mrs. J. R. Umsted, Los Angeles, recording secretary; Mrs. Z. M. Parmice, Pasadena, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Hooper, Alhambra, superintendent of young people's work; Miss Laura Charnock, Los Angeles, secretary of extension work. The new officers were installed by Mrs. William Fraser McDowell of Evanston, Ill., the national president.

SOCIAL WORKERS ORANIZE.

Permanent Association Formed and Portland is Selected as Next Year's Meeting Place.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 8.—The social workers of the Pacific Slope, who met here, as individuals, formed a permanent organization today to be known as the Conference of Social Workers of the Western States, and selected Portland, Or., as their place of meeting next year.

Portland, Or., as their place of meeting next year.

F. C. Nelles, superintendent of the Whittier State School for Boys, was elected president. Other officers were elected as follows:

Dr. Susan J. Fenton, Oakland, first vice-president; William J. Day, Oakland, second vice-president; Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, Portland, Or., secretary; Mrs. John L. Covington, Seattle, Wash, treasurer. Secretaries from each of the Western States will be elected later.

TO PAY DEPOSITORS.

MAY SELL BANK'S RANCHES,
INTA F. NichT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Frank
J. Symmes, receiver of the California
Safe Deposit & Trust Company, today asked the Superior Court for permission to sell twelve of the company's ranches for $28,859.82. If the order is granted the money will be distributed among the 10,000 depositors of the defunct institution. The of ranches lie in Alameda and San Josquin counties. The court has alere asked interested parties to appear abor October 13, to approve or disapprove of the deal.

BURR HARRIS HANGED.

there were seven defendants, but the court discharged two of them, Julius Woolf and Solomon Mets, during the Prison today for the murder of Mrs. Rebecca Gay of Los Angeles,

Commence of the party of the pa

GEORGE E. DAVIS SINKING RAPIT

SAN FRANCISCO

THE TIMES, Oct. 1.-

Davis, who atte

IN HIS BRAIN.

Religious Field.

OSAKA SHOSEN KADRA INAUGURATE NEW SEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 1 Osaka Shosen Kaisha con three steamship companies a

GRAPE MEN JOIN

WINE INTER PROTECTION BEFORE NEXT CONGRESS

S. F. Wilson of Les

OAKLAND, Oct 8.-

BAN FRANCISCO, 0 he larger Pacific

DRAW COLOR LINE

Application of Ice As for Membership. SAN FRANCISCO color line was

HIS FIFTEENTE ANNIVERSA

ATURDAY MORN

Day's Flock Gives

a "Gasoline Wagon, Congregational brates Tomorrow.

al News of the 1

NEW ORGANIZATION.

sing the largest church auh the West, it is one of the mattive and comfortable. The sa cordial invitation to atas curices.

The sa cordial invitation to atas curices.

The sa cordial invitation to atas curices.

The sacroices holding to
the sacroices holding to
the sacroices holding to the common creed of al Christendom." which, in a belief in the entire Bible, change or abridgment.

AINING SCHOOL SIOUS TEACHERS.

ELIGIOUS TEACHERS.

Angeles Christian Training Religious Teachers will open of Christian Training Religious Teachers will open to the street of the street o

STS HONORED. O CONFERENCE

CH NOTES. ENS TOMORROW. C. Selecman, the pas-h at Trinity Audito-raing on 'The Church loor,' At the evening the will be, 'Elijah-hady,' A translation of the con-lation of the con-latio

FIFTEENTH

"Gasoline Wagon."

brates Tomorrow.

Religious Field.

ic Slope. EORGE E. DAVIS

ER 9, 1915 .- [PART

SINKING RAPIDLY. WHO TRIED SUICIDE STILL

IN HIS BRAIN. BAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 8.-George E central transfer of the desired of the second of the secon accident a vears of an accident a who is 41 years of an accident a who is 41 years of an accident acci

FOUR MORE SHIPS TO THE ORIENT

INAUGURATE NEW SERVICE TO THIS COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8-

AN FRANCISCA, one of the Shore Raisha, one of the steamship companies subsite the steamship companies and steamship companies the steamship companies and steamship co

The new service, he said, would a addition to that promised by layo Kisen Kaisha. Oto said the service will be hout a month. San Francisca made a port of call.

GRAPE MEN JOIN WINE INTERES

WILL MAKE FIGHT ON ISSE PROTECTION BEFORE NEXT CONGRESS.

SAN PRANCISCO, Oct. S.

isin and wine interests of Caa joined hands at a meeting day to make a fight for three clive issues before the next ess. They will petition for the timent of a law placing fis
a brandy drawn for the fornica sweet wine at 3 cents, or ac condingly low figure. Falling in they will ask that the special was 55 cents be maintained, instances they will endeaver to ent the brandy being taxed hich is the amount placed andy not drawn for the fornic
f the wine.

ROCERS ELECT OFFICE S. F. Wilson of Los Ass Chosen President of the en Pre OAKLAND, Oct. 8.—

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. In larger Pacific Coast

tion over fifty corporation coast-plying tramp steam Robert Dollar Company was the defendants.

The petitioning companies decision of the United State Court are now required to find the Commission as common tween California ports which california public utilities commission has not as yellowing the commission of the recular lines with lower rate regular lines with lower rate and carry passengers.

DRAW COLOR LINE

be at Wednesday evening seeding the midweck meeting seeding the was very easily by E. P. Clark, press of the pays the seeding seeding will worship in the a Auditorium. On using Dr. R. A. Torrey, world evangelist, was the new church and Sunday morning and

Sunday morning and
Is expected that the
have phenomenal
service will be held
ite a.m., and 7:30
be made a dominant worship. The chorus be composed of upmudents of the trainsected by Prof. L. F. accompanist will be in Marsh, who has reside as director of mans conference, and from a professorship music at Denver.
of the big auditorium services of the Church Door will be held,
if the hands of the
the effect is highly axminster carpets
if and it he called

Take feet is highly arminister carpets to all and the rock pile."

Aminister carpets all the alales, and the service will precede the service will precede the service will precede the services. Miss Alice Lohr and Raiph Laushin will sing a contraite and tenor duet, and there will be a big anternation to attack the services.

Margaret McKee will whisted Mendels was a service will whisted Mendels will be a services.

Margaret McKee will whisted Mendels was a service will whisted Mendels was a secommon creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the church as the common creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the church as the common creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the common creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the common creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the common creed of raiseadom," which, in it is the entire Bible. A sageles, holding to that of the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the world's Herritage and the common creed of raiseadom, which was a supplete of the world's Least Trenty-evening and venings and ven will be unable to occupy his new pultiomorrow, and Rev. John M. Barnhart, former pastor, will conduct the services.

The 1915-1916 season of the Uniwarsity Forum will begin tomorrow at the recent anof the church in San lected as delegates al conference to be
year at Saratoga, N.
Bevard, president of Southern CaliLocks, Rev. Math as Oliver, Dr. AlM. Larkin and wars selected to a California at the
the most imporchurch.

NOTES.

S. TOMORROW.

Sisceman, the pasat Trinity Auditoon The Church
A the evening
all ba "ElijahA the cevning all ba "ElijahA the evening
all ba "ElijahA the conference" on "The Church
The pastor will be held at 4:30 p.m. each such as the evening and "Nunc Dimittis"
Notes a special feathe music will be a special feature. The choir will sing the "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis" Send Out Thy Light." At these agrices the pactor preaches on the After God's Own Heart."

Will be unable to occupy his new pullold time Mormonism."
Rev. R. W. Abberley, pastor of the Magnolia-avenue Christian Church, will speak on "The Bible and the World's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
A good citizenship meeting will be
world's Life" at 11 a.m. tomorrow.
The bled in the evening at the broad trees.
The pastor will be a for the bled to remain here through the coming season.
His subject to the market provide to doctrine and practice of the church | FILE PETITION AT EL CENTRO.

> DIRECTORS IDENTICAL. LICENSE REFUSED.

be "Forgiveness."

Rally day will be observed tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Campbell will preach at 11 a.m.
on "The Church's Outlook and Equipment;" evening subject, "My Part in the Church's Onward Movement." Both the Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor Society will have rally day exercises.

Dean MacCormack will preach on raily day exercises.

Dean MacCormack will preach on "The Adventures of a Liar" in the morning at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. At night he will give a description of his recent trip to Canada. He will tell of his visits to several large cities and of the people's enthusiasm for war. The Sunday-school will hold its annual raily day services at 9:30 a.m.

Pay Chartes D. Wheles will preach services tomorrow at the Cenaptist Church, Pico and Alvarado streets.

Rally day services will be conducted tomorrow at the Vermont Square Christian Church. Rev. James R. McIntire, the pastor, will preach in the morning on "What I Want Jesus to do for Me." His evening theme will be "Why Jesus Came Into the World." Mrs. William Moser and Miss Grindle will sing.

At the Westlake Presbyterian Church, Dr. Coyle will preach on "What is the Chief End of God?" in the morning and on "The Unreason of the Agnostics" in the evening. The congregation is greatly rejoiced over the return of Dr. Coyle from a vacation in the East. The church members are looking forward to a prosperous year.

sk with over 106
Il worship in the Auditorium. On
F. R. A. Torrey.
orld evangelist, was he new church and unday morning and
unday morning and
unday morning and
expected that the
have phenomenal
service will be held.
If a morning they
be made a dominant rathly. The chorus
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of upfents of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed of the trainteed by Prof. L.*F.
composed

CHARGES AGAINST IRRIGATION SIERRA MADRE'S DEARTH OF

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCEL] EL CENTRO, Oct. 8 .- Petitions ontaining ninety-five names, asking Dun of Monrovia and A. L. Ryder of the recall of C. W. Brockman, director Lamanda Park, two representatives of of Imperial irrigation district for the county Democratic committeemen,

EIGHT DEMOCRATS SEEKING OFFICE

LIVE JEFFERSONIANS IS DISAPPOINTING.

SIERRA MADRE, Oct. 8.-Walter

TAXES AND INSURANCE.

Mr. Jones of New York Tells World's Congress There is Entirel too Much Legislation Against Com

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 .- F. Robertson Jones, secretary of the workmen's compensation publicity buworkmen's compensation publicity bu-reau of New York, today told the members of the World's Insurance this afternoon with the staffs of their members of the World's Insurance respective legations and their na-the recall of C. W. Brockman, director of Imperial irrigation district for the Calexico district, were filled today. The charges are identical with those preferred against Director Hamilton.

Checking of the petition against Hamilton disclosed that forty-two of the net number being two short of the net number of the lades of the recall, said fifty additional names would be filed within the time allotted.

The district quarrel was further complicated today by the circulation of a recall petition against J. Arthur skepsard, president of the way little opposition to him and has shown himself thoroughly trick. He has been on the opposite side of the fence from Brockman and Hamilton.

NO LIQUOR LICENSE.

Arthur Shepard, president of the Board of Supervisors, announced to day that no liquor license would be granted the unincorporated town of Winterhaven, in the Imperial county, just across the river from thirsty yuma. He said he had received a leignam from United States District Attorney Schoonover asking postponement of action on any petition for a license.

The new town adjoins the Yuma Indians.

The new town adjoins the Yuma Indians.

The new town adjoins the Fuma Indians controlled of unincorporated cities.

The new town adjoins the Saile of the proposition of the support of the proposition of the propositi

FOREIGN ENVOYS QUIT BULGARIA.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—In a dispat from Sofia, Rueter's correspondent

"The representatives of the Entents Congress, who are gathered in convention here, that too many taxes have been legislated upon insurance companies.

"A tax on insurance is a tax upon a necessity." Jones said. "When insurance is taxed, the policyholder eventually bears the burden. We are being taxed too strenuously. There is too much legislation for us."

TRABUCO HIGHWAY.
[LOCAL CURREFORDENCE]
SANTA ANA, Oct. 8.—Steps were

Trench Ministers in Audience."

JECOFF HEADS THE BULGARIANS.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8 (via Lenden Oct. 9, 2:12 a.m.)—According to a dispatch from Sofia, King Ferdinand, as commander in chief of all the Bulgarian forces, has entrusted command of the field forces to Gen. Jecoff, Min-ister of War.

Indice Santa Rosa Pioneer,

[SY A. P. NIGHT WIEE.]

BANTA ROSA (Cal.) Oct. 8.—

Oliver Hall, a farmer and member of an old pioneer family, was indicted tonight by the Sonoma county grand jury on a charge of murdering his brother-in-law, Robert E.
Linabauth at Two-Rock Valley sants.

Goto Church Tomorrow

The churches in this city do not exist for themselves—they are here to serve—they are necessary to the peace, safety and prosperity of the community, their business is to minister to man's social, mental and spiritual needs—they want the opportunity of bringing you into fellowship with good people and into a new relationship with a loving God who is your Heavenly Father and your best earthly friend-Go to church tomorrow.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH TRINITY AUDITORIUM DR. J. WHITCOMB BROUGHER, Pastor.

11:00 a.m.—"WAS CHRIST A CHRISTIAN?"

Anthems by Quintette and Chorus Choir.

MISS ALICE LOHR, Noted Controlto, Sings Folo.

T:30 p.m.—"JOY RIDING AND ONE-ARM DRIVING."

Shall We Send Reckless Drivers to Jail and the Rock Pile?

Big Choir Sings Farmer's "Benedictus."

Alice Lohr and Ralph R. Laughlin sing contraits and tenor duet. Special: Margaret McKee, "Queen of Whistlers," gives 2 numbers. Ray Hastings plays big organ and chimes. 2500 FREE SEATS-EVERYBODY WELCOME.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH JAMES A. FRANCIS, Minister Bible School, with classes for all ages, at 9:30 a.m. Public Worship, with preaching I a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Morning, "TWICE ONE IS TWO." Evening, "GOING TO SCHOOL OJESUS." B. Y. P. U. meeting, 4:15 p.m. A GOOD PLACE TO COME.

PRESBYTERIAN REV. ROBERT FRANCIS COYLE, D.D., Minister.

WESTLAKE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, GRAND VIEW NEAR WEST NINTH.

11 A.M.—"WHAT IS THE CHIEF END OF GOD?"

10 P.M.—"THE UNREASON OF THE ANOSSTIC." (Dr Coyle preaches both sermos 10 a.m., Bible Class in charge of Dr. Coyle. All men welcome. IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, DR. JOHN BALCOM SHAW, Minister, will preach.

11:00 a.m.—"Joy and Peace in Belleving."
7:30 p.m.—"Do We Inherit the Guilt of Sin?"
At 10 o'clock Dr. Shaw will lecture before his Congregational Class on the Episson.
Dr. A. B. Prichard will preach at the Vermont and Sird street branch, both me and evening.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH COR. TWENTIET Rev. Edward W. Campbell, D.D., Pastor, Sunday-school, 2:45 a.m. Morning o'clock, subject, "THE CHURCH'S OUTLOOK AND EQUIPMENT." Evening is o'clock, "MY PART IN THE CHURCH'S ONWARD MOVEMENT." Dr. Campbell preach both morning and evening. Take Wathern MOVEMENT." Dr. Campbell

THEOSOPHY.

United Lodge of Theosophists

FIFTH FLOOR METROPOLITAN BLDG.
Broadway at Fifth.
(Public Library Building)

Sunday, 8 P.M.—"Occult Knowledge."

Friday, 8 P.M.—"Man—Visible and Invisible"

CONGREGATIONAL

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

AS PASTOR 11 a.m.—"THE CHRISTIAN'S USE OF HIS CHURCH."
4:30 p.m.—Twilight Communion and Reception of Members.
No Evening Service at 7:45.

THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

R. A. TORREY, D.D.

Pastor

WIII Preach

Tomorrow at 10:30 and 7:30

4000 FREE SEATS

A GREAT DOWNTOWN CHURCH

for all the people, to which strangers in the city have a special invitation. Communion service, 10 a.m.; Sunday-school, 2:30 p.m.; Christian Endeavor, 6:15 p.m.

PHENOMENAL CHORUS L. F. Peckham, Director; C. H. Marsh, Accompanist.

SIXTH AND HOPE STREETS.

REYNOLD E. BLIGHT TURCH OF THE PEOPLE, Blanchard Hall— IS THE WICKEDEST MAN IN THE WORLD! Do With the Hyphenated American?" Music b METHODIST.

TWO SERMONS BY REV. CHARLES C. SELECMAN. 9:00 a.m.-Free Moving Pictures. 11:00 a.m.-"THE CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR." 7:30 pm-"ELIJAH: A CHARACTER STUDY."

EVENING SPECIAL-MISS ELEANOR MILLER, Leading American Dramatic Reader, will rea ROYAL PRINCESS," by Christina Rossetti.

TRINITY'S FAMOUS CHOIR—100 VOICES
Thomas Taylor Drill, Director.

WELCOME-2500 FREE BEATS. EVERT TOURIST SHOULD SEE TRINITY. 300 P.M.—FRENCH MUSIC CONCERT.
DR. BRUCE GORDON KINGSLEY, Concert Organist.
MISS MYRNA NEONETTA JACK, Concert Violinist.

Silver Offering at Door. FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. CORNER SIXTH AND HILL STREETS.

DR. CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE, Pastor, will preach. :30 P.M.—FILATES WIFE. WHEN HUSBANDS SHOULD OBEY THEIR WIVE WHEN WIVES MAY DISOBEY THEIR HUSBANDS. SHOULD OBEY BE IN THE RIAGE CEREMONY! ARE WOMEN BRAVER THAN MEN?

Sunday-school at $:30 a.m. Dr. H. W. Brodbeck, Superintendent, Epworth Leagues at 6 p.m. ALL SEATS FREE—EVERYBODY DEVITED.

THE EXTRAVAGANCES OF CHRIST III be the topic of W. L. Y. Davis in the West Adams Methodist Episcopal Church, bbath morning. "ARE THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OUT OF DATE?" will be the ening subject. SPECIAL—The new chorus will supplement the quartette morning and ening. A male quartette will sing "Remember me, O Mighty One," in the evening.

LUTHERAN

FIRST ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

WM. EVANS, Ph.D., D.D., ASSOCIATE DEAN OF THE BIBLE INSTITUTE, WILL OCCUPY THE PULPIT.

10:00 A.M.—Adult Bible Class. Taught by Dr. Evans.

11:00 A.M.—"Glimpses Into the Future Life."

7:45 P.M.—"The Proper Approach to the Bible."

Professor Earl Houck will sing.

EPISCOPAL

ST. PAUL'S PRO-CATHEDRAL DEAN MacCARMACK D. D. will pre

9:30 A.M.—Sunday-school Rally day.
11 A.M.—"THE ADVENTURES OF A LIAR." 7:45 P.M.—"A VISIT TO CANADA IN WAR TIME."

The enthusiasm for the war. When will the war end? Should the United States supply munitions to the Allies?

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH COUNTY WHAT Admin

REV. GEORGE DAVIDSON, M.A., Resumien at 7:30 a.m. Sunday-school at 9:30 a.m. rvice and sermon by the Rector at 11 a.m. "WALKING WITH GOD TODAY."

Evening Service and Sermon by the Rector at 7:30 p.m. "A MAN AFTER GOD'S OWN HEART." and avenue car to Adams, walk one block west to Figueros, or University place, walk through Chester to Adams and then one block east. NO RENTED PEWS. CHRIST CHURCH, FLOWER AND TWELFTH STREETS. DR BAKER F. LEE, RECTOR. 7:30 a.m., esicbration of Holy Cemmunion; 9:30 a.m., Sunday-school and Hible Chass; 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and Sermon. Subject. "The Cry of the World's Heart." Evening at 7:48 o'clock, special musical service and sermon. Subject. "The Silent Partner." The rector will preach at both services. Thursday, 2:30 mm., Realing Service with anothing and laying on of hands. Tuesday, 1:30 p.m., Rector's Guild will meet at Guild Hall.

11 A.M.—"PRAYER FOR LABORERS."
7:80 F.M.—THE THREE GREATEST THINGS TO DO."
6 GOOD MUSIC—CENTRAL LOCATION—CORDIAL WELCOME. MAGNOLIA AVENUE CHRISTIAN (Take South Vermont, West Adams or U Rev. H. W. Abberley, Pastor. RALLT DAT SERVICES. Werld's Thought and life." Evening Good citizenship is by Eugene Bialock of the U.S.C. Short address by the Past

WILSHIRE BOULEVARD

Wishire Housevard and Normandle Amanual SUNDAY-SCHOOL RALLY DAY—9:30 A.M.

11 A.M.—THE FLACE OF THE CHILD IN THE KINGDOM.
11:30 P.M.—WHAT IS TO EBCOME OF THE ONE WILD WILLFULLY SIMEP

BROADWAY CHRISTIAN CHURCH Charles F. Hubiar, Paster.

FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH 925 SOUTH FLOWER STREET Bunday Service 11 a.m., subject: "DISCOVERING AMERICA." Special Music. Sunday-school at 10. Hon Aired L. Bartlett will speak to the Social Service Class at 16 e'clock on the "Nonpartisan Measure."

UNIVERSALIST

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH 1378 So. Alvarado, comos Hooves (Take Pico car to Alvarado or West 16th to Hoover Street.)
Sunday services: Sunday-school S:45 a.m. Sermon 11 a.m. by Rev. L. B. Fisher, D.D.
President Emeritus of Lombard College. 6:30 p.m., Toung People's Meeting. All invited.

NEW THOUGHT.

HOME OF TRUTH

Bervices held at 11 a.m., Blanchard Symphony Hall, 232 South Hill Street.

or line was

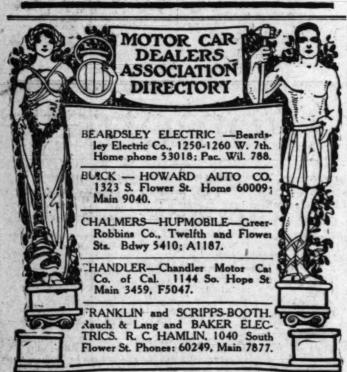

Watch Your Brand

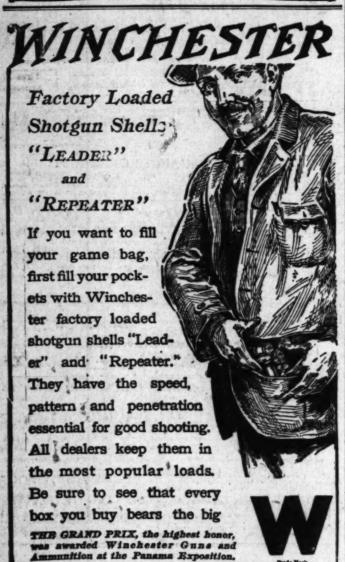

If by mistake you get the wrong one, you can't be contented 'till another CHANCELLOR is started. Make sure your cigars are worthy your purchase. CHANCELLOR—is a worthy cigar—backed by

H. JEVNE CO.

$10 Watches

Moran's Fighting Phillies Take Advantage of Brea

OPENING WORLD'S SERIES GAME FULL OF THRILLS.

Red Sox Start Out Like They Mean Business, but Hoblitzel Falls Asleep and Big Chance Slips-Crowd Gets Excited When First Phil Run Scores - Scott Pulls Prize Boner-Eighth Settles Everything.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HILADELPHIA. Oct. 8.—There croft. Speaker drew his second base on balls and went to second on Hobitzel's out, Stock to Luderus, Lewis here slammed the first ball pitched to left field and Speaker dashed around third and home with the tying Tun. Whitted amde a swift throw to the plate to head off Speaker, but it was a little wide. Lewis took second a used good judgment in letting Alexander's first offering go by him, for Klem called it a ball. Then he laced the of Gardner's long fly, ending the second ball that the Phillies' fdol Alexander opened Philadelphia's sent up to center field for a single. half by going out, Barry to Hobitzel. Then Alexander, in trying to get Speaker for a third strike, pitched wide, and the big Texan was given a base on balls. Speaker was forced at second by Hoblitzel, Bancroft to Niesecond by incollized, Bancroft to Nie-hoff. Hooper sprinting to third. Then came the first break in Boston's play-ing, Hoblitael being caught napping off first, Alexander to Luderus, when he took too long a lead, retiring the side.

Side.

Shore made short work of Stock when he came to bat the Phillies' third baseman going out on a high foul fly to Cady between the plate and first base. Shortstop Bancroft three was little time to get stock at the plate and first base. Shortstop Bancroft three was little time to get stock at the plate and he scored as Scott three out Cravath, the other trushed also going after the ball and bumping into the ex-Mackman as he caught the ball. Paskert was the third out on a lofty foul to Hoblitzel.

SECOND.

"Hit 'er out, Gavvy," yelled the crowd, as the home run slugger came to the plate the plate the plate the plate the plate the plate and he scored as Scott three out Cravath, the other winning and losing of the opening game world's series. It must be said to the credit of them that every one of them played good bal not a one of them pulled one of the many boners.

SECOND.

the bail. Paskert was the third out on a lofty foul to Hoblitzel.

SECOND.

Lewis, first up for Boston in the second landing, drove a scorching single to left field, which Whitted, the former Braves' player, fielded quickly. Gardner sacrificed. Alexander to Luderus, Lewis pulling up at second. Barry went out on strikes. Henriksen was sent in to bat for Cady and shot a bounder to Luderus, Lewis pulling up at second. Barry went out on strikes. Henriksen was sent in to bat for Cady and shot a bounder to Luderus, who furnished the ball. Ruth, hitting for Shore, also rolled one to Luderus, who made the second when the third baseman found he could not outsprint the speedy runner he threw to Bancroft covering second. Bancroft made a stab to get Barry sliding into second, but he was covered and raught Lewis as he was turning to an instant too late, and turned and caught Lewis as he was turning to so third again. Cady ended the inning, going out on strikes after the count was three to two.

"Gavvy" Cravath, who made a record of twenty-four home runs this season, was given a round of applause as he stepped to the plate. Shore let him walk and he was forced at second on Luderus's grounder, Barry making the out. Cravath ran out of line in trying to avoid Barry. Luderus tried to steal second and was thrown out on a beautiful throw by Cady to Barry. Whitted worked a base no balls ard was left on first when Niehoff struck out, retiring the side. Shore, leading off for Boston in the third, was an easy out, Niehoff to Luderus. Hooper lifted a high, long fly to Whitted in left field. Then Scott banged a hard, low drive between left and center for a single. Speaker tried to account the ball into the left field backers but his drive was too.

"Gavery in the count was left on first when the count was three to two.

"Gavrey" Cravath, who made a record of the plate. Shore, leading off for Boston in the third, was an easy out, Niehoff to Luderus. Hooper lifted a high, long the count was left on first when the count was left on first w and center for a single. Speaker tried hard to put the ball into the left field bleachers, but his drive was too short and Whitted was under it for the third out.

THRST PHIL HIT.

The Phillies got their first single in the third inning. After Eddie Burns had lifted a fly which Scott gathered in Alexander sent a slow, tantalizing bounder to Gardner, who came running in to make a quick play, but he could not field the ball to first in time to head off the big pitcher. Stock forced the twirler at second, Gardner to Barry. The best Bancroft could do was to send a roller to Hoblitzel, who scooped up the ball and raced to first in the fourth inning, but again failed to score. With two strikes and no balls, Hoblitzel shot a hot one to Niehoff, who threw Hobby out. Lewis fouled off two balls after the count on him was three to two and then went out on strikes, Gardner slammed a base hit over second, which Paskert fielded in fine shape. The runner, however, was left at first, for Barry sent a short fly to Cravath, the right fielder's only fleding chance in the game.

FIRST RUN.

Distributed shot a bot one to Nieshous the count on strikes, Gardner slammed a base hit over second, which Paskert fielded in fine shape. The runner the count on strikes floored by the colorado Belle in straight heats free floored only fleding chance in the game.

FIRST RUN.

and a short fly to Grand Belle in straight heats the fielder's only flelling chance in the game.

FIRST RIN.

The Phillies' first run came in the fourth innin Passers brought in the second, third and fourth heats and first more?

The 2:15 frot went to R. F. V. which Burney piloted to victory in the second, third and fourth heats affect for the second by Cravath, the latter going out, Shore to Hoblitzel. Passkert took third on Luderus's out, Barry to Hobittle he first run of the series, when White the other.

Summary:

The 2:15 frot went to R. F. V. which Burney piloted to victory in the second, third and fourth heats and first money.

The 2:15 frot went to R. F. V. which Burney piloted to victory in the second third much cheering. A minute later Paskert came home with the first run of the series, when white the other.

Summary:

The 2:15 frot went to R. F. V. which Burney piloted to victory in the second the second behalf and the second to the second to the second to the second to be a condition of a hit as the second to the second behalf the second behalf the second behalf the National leaguer up in the fifth, struck out.

The second the second to the second by the second the second by the second to the second by the second to the second by the second by the second to the second by the second to the second by the second by the second the second by the second to the second by the second to the second by the second to the second by the second the second to the second to the second to the second to the Shore was forced out at second by Scott, Niehoff to Bancroft, on a near play. Burns, the first National leaguer up in the fifth, struck out. Alexander lifted one to Lewis. Stock raised a low fly in front of the plate. Shore came racing in to catch it, but he was a step too short and falled to hold the ball. He was given an error on the play. Stock was left at first. Bancroft being easily retired, Shore to Hoblitzel.

Speaker in the sixth lined a fly to Whitted. Hoblitzel drove a single to tright field. Hoblitzel stole second base as Lewis was striking out and Gardner put a high fly, which Catcher or Burns grabbed.

The Phillies also were quickly disposed of in their half of the sixth. The lucky seventh was unproductive for either team.

TIED UP.

Then came the eighth which saw Boston tie the score and Philadelphia win the game. Scott filed out to Ban-

LACK OF KEEN PLAYING JUDGMENT BEATS RED SOX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

D HILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The lack of keen playing judgment and the unbalanced defensive strength of the Red Sox was the direct cause of the American League champions' defeat today, while the ability of the Phillies to take advantage of the slightest opening gave them the runs which brought victory. Offensively, the Boston combination proved that it had an edge on the Moran brigade, even with Young Shore tonight was given almost as much credit by the followers of the game as the winning star of the Phillies

The loss of the game cannot be placed entirely upon the she of Shore, for Hoblitzel's bad play in the opening inning when he failed to consider Alexander's speed and was caught off first base with Hoope on third and Lewis at but, seemingly shut off a splendid chance for

The most glaring error of judgment, however, was that in the eighth session, when Scott failed to cover second on Barry's great onestop of Bancroft's drive.

Another notable feature of the play was the failure of both team to hit the ball hard and safe when men were on the bases. This was particularly true of the Red Sox with their nine men left on bases in an equal number of innings. The Phillies with a trifle more than 50 many runs and had but five stranded.

Tris Speaker, the hardest batter of the Red Sox, failed to secure a single hit off Alexander. Cravath, the home run king, was equally in-

CALIFORNIA BOYS SHOW CLASS IN GREAT SERIES.

DACIFIC COAST players were all mixed up in the winning and losing of the opening game of the world's series. It must be said to the credit of all of them that every one of them played good ball and

To begin with it was Bancroft who rapped out the single that decided the game and set all the writers scribbling. It was he who drove the hot liner over econd that Barry caught so sensationally only to see Scott sleeping away off second. Had Scott covered second on that hit Stock would have been forced. That would have left the game a tie and forced it into extra innings with goodness knows what result.

So Dave Bancroft came very near to deciding the game in the eighth inning. In addition he fielded perfectly. Bancroft also crossed the plate with the run that put the game on ice.

CRAVATH.

Cravath did not put the ball over the fence. The great fence buster did not even get a hit. But he figured in the scoring. In the fourth he sacrificed Paskert to

In the eighth he hit the high bounder to Scott that was so hard to handle that Stock had crossed the plate before a play could be made on him and all the other runners had advanced a bag. Besides Cravath had the honor of being purposely walked. To be passed in a world's series is something to crow over.

Burns, another Californian, is the emergency man who made good. He went behind the bat for Killifer. From the way the Red Sox went down in the pinches, he used his head. Critics have said that he was brainy and yesterday's game bears out the assertion. His peg was working with such deadly certainly that only one Red

WORLD SERIES CHATTER AND LOCAL BALL NEWS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Peggy Barth, the local boy, whose sensational catching for Seattle caused him to be bought by Brooklyn, has returned to his home here for the winter.

Bert Whaling of the Boston Brave will arrive here Tuesday. He will the explain why the Braves failed to wir

BASEBALL FANS HAVE WILD TIME AT EMPA

LARGE crowd of raving fans restrained the A LARGE crowd of raving land the Large Lar

The direct wire from the press box at Phili Empress management to put the plays on the board and papers were able to show the final inning.

After a very slight delay at the start of the gal noothly and rapidly. The Phillies' run in the fourth terrific yell of delight which was drowned a few Red Sox fans when Speaker slid across the plate with a

SAMMY BEER

SATURDAY MOR

Pipal's

TO PLAY MAN

Occidental and Ind

Pomona is Afraid of

U.S.C. to Show off D

in Highland Park. It will be ed the first trip of the Indian

Long Beach High eleven.

Manual Arts will see two g real inferest. The Toliers their newly acquired skill Throop College. The Whitti eleven will meet Santa Barba is ceming all this distance for

GAMES TO

Make Appearance

with Clubmen.

Long Beach.

RIVALS ALD Allows Fewer Hits the Philly Pitcher.

Pa Uses Many Extra M Bitter Battle

Wolter and Garner Bot liver in Pinch

BY HARRY A. W

POMONA HIGH IS

TO BE CONFINED TWO MORE WEEKS

CHAMPION OF COAST UP FULTON.

Armstrong, who recently we cific Coast golf champio Del Monte, is confined to the Goo an Hospital. While his sick not considered serious, it wi re weeks before he will ge a been there a week. He care of Dr. Dudley Fullppens also to be a golfe ong has played a prominen olf. He has been the South' bet. He is always some ar the top in every tourna enters. He is a director in the enters. He is a director in Mestern Golf Association. He has retired from the presidency and the state Golf Association and is and Annandale Country Club. Is also mester of the Midwick, Los Angels and Annandale Country Club. Is Midwick.

II PASADENA HIGH WINS. PASADENA, Oct. 3.— Adena High School's second

Commence of the state of the st

of Breaks

SAMMY BEER RIVALS ALECK

Allows Fewer Hits than Philly Pitcher.

Pa Uses Many Extra Men Bitter Battle.

Wolter and Garner Both De liver in Pinch.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

a game for Oakland ye

D TIME AT EMPRES

Pipal's Tigers Make First Appearance of Season Today.

TO PLAY MANY

GAMES TODAY Occidental and Indians to

Make Appearance.

Pomona is Afraid of Game with Clubmen.

U.S.C. to Show off Down at Long Beach.

m playing the old game today ans out at the old Occidental field Highland Park. It will be the first appearance of the Tigers this season and the first trip of the Indians to this notes is just a trifle worried.

Down at Long Beach the Trojani a hold a kind of carnival. The will play the second U.S.C. en for the edification of the crowd, hmen will play while the freshmen will play the targ Beach High eleven.

Manual Arts will see two games of all interest. The Toilers will try the newly acquired skill against through College. The Whitter State from will meet Santa Barbara, who is the santa Barbara, who is the santa Barbara in the santa Barbara is going over to Pasadena bliss up against crafty Duffy Seay's size. It should be a real test for a Machanics. Lincoln and Harvard ways.

MONA HIGH IS BEATEN, 7 TO 6.

Oct. 8.-Pomona

a full-back buck. The be back in the second a scored their only touch-ambers, Benson and Mor-several long gains around re remained 7 to second half. Po-

OBE CONFINED

FULTON.

TWO MORE WEEKS.

CHAMPION OF COAST UN-CARE OF DR.

tractions, who recently won to Coast golf championship tate, is confined to the Good Hospital. While his sick-considered serious, it will has been there a week. He has been there a week. He has been there a week. He has peen also to be a golfer sote.

See Sas played a prominent soit. He has been the South's bet. He is always somether to be a somether the top in every tournation. He is a director in some Golf Association. He retired from the presidency led to the Midwick, Los Angelamandale Country Club. The Midwick of the Midwick o that the second eleven of access High School here the accre of 3 to 0. The of the afternoon was a by Gleason. He put the sty between the bars from lies at an angle. The hard fought and even, that one kick,

PASADENA HIGH WINS. PASADENA, Oct. S. —

WEATHER IS GETTING IDEAL.

(RT A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8 .-

Pair and cooler was the weather midnight there was every inan ideal one for playing the second game in the big series. The sky was cloudless and a cool breeze blew from the north-

Those fans who were not fortunate enough to secure re-served seats or did not desire were greatly encouraged by the day and early began to line up

SEALS NOSE OUT

VERNON, 5 TO 4.

TIGERS POUNCE UPON FANNING FOR FOUR RUNS, BUT LOSE JUST THE SAME.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8. -SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—San Francisco won today's game with Vernon, 5 to 4, but it was not until the ast of the eighth that victory perched but in the Phillies' half of the eighth Francisco won today's game with the non, 5 to 4, but it was not until the last of the eighth that victory perched on the Seal banner. The Tigers pounded Fanning in the seventh, made four runs and incidentally overcame a three-run lead. Vernon used three pitchers and the Seals two. Score: vernox.

Rader, Sh	4	0 9	. 0	9
Barley W		0 3		2.
Bayless, If	0	0 1
Mane. CI		0 1		1
Kane, cf	. 4	0 1	0	0
Purtell, 2b	. 4	0 0	1	2
Risberg, 1b		9 9		-
Billiand Th		4 4	7
Berger, St,		2 1	3	9
Phencer, e		1 .		- 1
Decampiere, p	. 2	0 0	2	0
Doane, &	. 1	1 2		.0
Fromma p				-
Mitchell, 9		0 0		à
paracherit h		0 0		0.
Totals	95	4 0	94	13
E	.00		-	440
	The said
2-Batted for Decampler	e in s	erenth
RAN FRA	NCISC	0.		1
	A.B.	R. B.	H. P.O	A. A.
Fitneerald, of	. 4	0 1	- 1	0
Fiturerald, of	4	7 7	- 8	0
Aufvey, 1b	4		20
Allered, 10		2 1	20	- 0
Bodie, ef		0 1	. 1	0
Downs, 2h	. 4	0 1	. 5	2

School eleven here this afternoon. The game will be held on the High School's new athletic field, and a reg-ular opening day with exercises is Fredmen.

Norsan Michell Roders Moranian Detweith Detweit

Mighty Alexander Wins.

(Continued from First Page.)

Paskert dropped a Texas leaguer back of first base just out of reach of rifice and sent a fast bunt directly at Shore, The latter picked the ball up cleanly and had plenty of time to throw Paskert out at second. Much to the surprise of his team-mates, how ever, he shot the ball to first, where Cravath was an easy out. Luderus went out from Barry to Hoblitzel as Paskert raced to third. Then Whitted parely met a fast one from Shore and the ball went weakly bounding in the infield just over the pitcher's head. Barry made a great try for an out. but Whitted reached first a half-step ahead of the throw and Paskert was safely across with a run which seemed for several innings to be the only one that either team could put across. RAH FOR DUFFY.

on balls in Boston's half of the eighth, after Scott was out, and went to second on Hoblitzer's infield out. Lewis, who had fanned on his two previous trips to the plate, singled to left and Speaker scored, "Duffy" taking second on the throw-in. It was here that Paskert saved the game with his startling catch of Gardner's drive. Paskert has suffered much in all preliminary comparisons with Speaker, whom he opposes in center field, but that one catch today gave him a warm place in the hearts of the Philadelphia people.

The way Shore and Alexander were ut in the Phillies' half of the eighth came the decision. Alexander had proved an easy out. Shore got a bit a careless and passed Stock. Bancroft then shot the hit over second which gave Barry the opportunity to make a miracle stop with his bare right hand. Barry, recovering his balance, attred to toss the ball to second to force Stock, but the bag was bare, to lot of the started on a dead run for the keystone. In a forlorn hope Barry shot the ball to him, but Stock was safe and there were two on instead of two out.

UNTIL NIGHT.

SALT LAKE CITY. Oct. 8.—Sait Lake and Portland battled to a thirteen inning tie here today, the game being called on account of darkness with the score 4 to 4. The visitors the ball to him, but Stock was safe and there were two on instead of two out.

HE WOBBLES. At this critical juncture Shore became unsteady and passed Paskert. The bases were full and "Gavvy" Cravath, the home-run champion of the National League, with a particular fondness for the short fences of the Phillies' park, was at the bat. The crowd was shouting itself hoarse for "Gavvy" to hit it "out of the lot." Shore proved that he was willing to take a chance, however, by breaking the first ball over the plate for a strike. The best Cravath eventually could do was to send a slow bounder to Scott at third. It seemed to many in the stand that Scott had time for othe play at the plate, but he shot is the ball to first instead and Stock raced over with the winning run. Then Luderus hit a weak little grounder toward Shore. The ball took a bad roll in the mud just as Shore was reaching for it and Bancroft came over for the third and last run of the game. Manager Carrigan sent two plnch hitters to the plate in the ninth, but could not get a man to second.

Alexander outpitched Shore in every way except in the number of hits allowed. "Alex" gave but two bases on balls as against Shore's four and he struck out six merf, while Shore fanned but two. Boston had nine men left on bases as against Philadelphia's green.

WHITTIER HIGH TO PLAY FULLERTON.

Rain last night and early today threatened to cause a postponement of the game, which eventually was played under a brilliant October sun, with scarcely a cloud in the sky. The cosy little grounds of the Phillies were filled to the limit, despite the fact that the official attendance was announced as short of 20,000, probably the smallest crowd that ever witnessed a start of a world's series.

WHITTIER, Oct. 8.—Whittier High School plays the Fullerton High School plays the Fullerton High School eleven here this afternoon. The game will be held on the High School server atthetic field and server.

Every effort was made to get the start of NOT A CLOUD.

BARNEY TALKS FROM GOTHAM.

PAG	MI.	П	ľ	U	-	C	C),	١	8	T LE	LAGUE,
Club-												Lost.	P
San Fra	nc	h	e	0							110	. 81	.5
Los Ang	ele	18									103	90	.5
Salt Lak	e										96	86	.5
Vernon .											91	98	.4
Oakland											86	104	.4
Portland											75	102	.4

BEES AND DUCKS

SALT LAKE TIES UP IN NINTH INNING AND HOLDS ON UNTIL NIGHT.

Beore.
1000	- 9	PORT	TAND.
CHARLET TO			A.B.	R.	BH.	PO	. A.	9
Lober, of			8	1	1	3	0	-
Derrick, rf			T	1	2	4	0	ы
EDWAR, If			7		1	0	1
Rates, 1b			7	2	2 -	11	0
Flumref, 2b			5	.0	3	8	1.
Cartach, c			6	0	2	9	2	Э
Ward, pa			T	0	1	4	8	-
Pavis, 35 .			5	a.	2	8	4
Nowes, D			4	0	0	0	3	49
Covalencie, 1			0	0		0	0
Krause, x .				0	0	0		-
Fisher, XX .			0	0	0	0	0
Totals			54	4	14	200	16	-
					-	-
2-Batted
NE-Ran	or Kr	anse i	n twelf	th.

ALECK'S FIRST CONTRACT HERE.

stores the first professional contract ever signed by Grover Cleveland

CUBS ARE BEATEN

Barney Oldfield talked over the long distance telephone to Jack Kipper last night from New York. His message was that he is going to win the day and that the weather was David Joyce and Dr. Trowe, also spoke a good word. All three informed Kipper that they had a hunch that Oldfield was going to win in a walk and that they thought Jack ought to

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Club-
									Lost.	F
San Fra	enc	4s	e	0				110	. 81	.5
Los An	gele	Del	1					103	90	.5
Salt La	ke							96	86	.5
Vernon								91	98	.4
Oakland	١						ũ	86	104	.4
Portlane	1							75	102	.4

PLAY DRAW GAME

							-		-		-
		1			7	TO.	h	a	91	м	IND.			10.5
											A.B.	R.	BB	L P	D. A	. 3
Lober, of											8	1	1	3	0
Derrick, 1												1	2	4	0
Froms, If												ò	- 1		1
Rates, 1b							-	-			7	2	. 2	11	- ô
Flumre, 1	D .					Ĩ	2	1		2	8	ä	- 5	- 8	1
Carlech, c			-	-	-	7	*			1	4				- 4
Ward, on				1	-	•			•		*	ä	- 1	- 4
Puris, 3h				*	• •	*	*			. e		o.	-	- 6	- 6
Noves, p		9.0	* *			*		9 1			Ä	0	- 5	- 2
Covalencie			••			*					7	ä	- 2	- 6	- 2
Krause, 1	. 10											×	- 2	- 2	- 2
Fisher, x		e s									1	8	- 2		- 2
Fascier, X	E	5 6		2.5	4.6		01	5.5				0			. 0
Totals .											8.4	4	14	200	14	-
Access .				. 1		*		0.1		5	10.00	70		90	A.10

BANGTAILS TO

RACE AT ASCOT.

Old-time Sport Comes Back this Afternoon.

Fastest Runners in Country to be There.

Track in Condition Assures Some Records.

The runners will be off at 2:30 sharp this afternoon, and a large at-tendance is expected to see the racing sport revived at the stamping ground, decorated, and to the many visitors who have been out to the course in the last few days it looks like the ford and Don Domo raced for suprem-

When racing was in its prime in there than those that face the starte there than those that face the starter this afternoon.

The track is lightning fast and old records are sure to be broken. There will be a novelty race handicap Sunday, including an auto, horse, mule and a foot runner.

Official overnight entries:
Four furlongs, all ages: Grace H., 112: Sultaha, 112: Todilla, 112: Schulenberg, 103; Leah Cochran, 103, B. & L. purse, five furlongs, 4-year-olds and up: Kid Nelson, 107: Frazile, 107: John Hurle, 107: Robert Mantell, 107: Mandadero, 107.

Del Monte handicap, five furlongs, 5-year-olds and up: Leford, 108: Hardy, 102; Seneca, 115; Zenotek, 102: Sweetbalt, 110.

Fred C. Harlow handicap, one mile, 2-year-olds and up: Loft Graham, 120; Rash, 118; Be, 110; Cecil, 105; McAlen, 100; Gano, 95.

Purse, five furlongs, 3-year-olds and up: Francis G., 112; Magic, 105; Cantem, 112; Baby Lynch, 112.

Special weights, four furlongs, all carry 110 pounds: Ann Tilly, Roscas, Sonoma, Lamp Trimmer, Leonia.

ST. VINCENT LOSES TO HOLLYWOOD.

QUARTERBACK LEE PLUNGES OVER LINE FOR ONLY SCORE OF GAME.

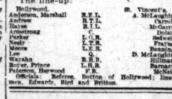

The Hollywood High School 135-Parochial School here today, 6 to 0.

attempted.

Hollywood's men were picked from the second team, the weight being necessary to make an even match with St. Vincent's, which has a young, light aggregation of players who light aggregation of players who have not yet grown to the interscholastic size.

Quarterback Lee of Hollywood was the star of the game. He made thouly touchdown by a short plungafter his team had carried the bal to within reach of the goal by stead;

The line-up:

-a regular 10-cent cigar-"that wonderful cigar" it's called. Everybody's talking about it. Armuletta cigars are made of a very careful combination of selected Porto Rican, Havana and domestic obaccos. California Cigar Co., distributors.

cost you only

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORY DEALERS and AUTOMOBILE SPECIALTY MANUFACTURERS. 100,000 Persons Will Visit the BROADWAY AUTOMOBILE AND FLOWER SHOW

Oct. 23rd to 30th, at the Boston Store Building, (Opposite CITY HALL)

derful opportunity to directly exhibit your product

J. S. CONWELL, BOSTON STORE BUILDING.

$685

Moon and Lexington Pico at Olive. Main 577-F6851.

Faxon Six Touring Car. $785 Saxon Four-Cylinder F. O. B. Factory $785 F. O. B.

SAXON MOTOR SALES CO.

Simplex Grade Automobiles at Motor Transfer N OORE & DENBY TRUCKS One and Distillate Trucks Manufactured by Main Office and Works, Torrance, Cal. Henne (5031; Pacific, Torrance Salescroom and Service Station, 1975-30 South Flower street, Les Angeles, Cal. Factory Branch, San Francisco, Cal. DISTILLATE MOTOR TRUCKS Moreland Manufactured in Los Angeles By

El Toro

EVERYBODY BOOST OFFICE 901 UNION OIL BLDG

PUBLISHED TODAY

Nathan Gallizier's Latest and Best Novel

THE CRIMSON GONDOLA A Tale of Venice and Constantinople at the Beginning of the Thirteenth Century

From Page's List

By the Author of "The Hill of Venus," etc. THE CRIMSON GONDOLA is the story of the fortunes and adventures of one Audran de Vere, while in Conntinople—the most romantic city in the world—on a mission to take the Lady Eleanor of Montferrat from the witches' cauldron of the Greek capital.

VIVID_COMPELLING_FASCINATING!

"The author displays many of the talents that made Scott famous."—The Index. With four Illustrations in full color; net $1.35, carriage paid, $1.50. TWO "BEST SELLERS"

POLLYANNA GROWS UP Trade Mark
The Second Glad Book
Trade — Mark

A sequel to "Pollyanna: The Glad Book."
Trade Mark
Trade — Mark
"POLLTANNA'S girthood and maidenhood are just as cheery, helpful and actively optimistic as her childhood narrated in the first GLAD BOOK was glad. She simply twines the tendrils of her affections about the reader's heart and suffuses his soul with the giorious sunshine of her nature.
"POLLTANNA GROWS UP" is really irresistible."—Philadeiphia Ledger.

ANNE OF THE ISLAND A sequel to "Anne of Green Gables" and "Anne of Avonlea."

By L. M. Montgomery

"Anne Shirley comes back the same old Anne-beautiful, story is the author's best. ANNE has not the humorous proclivities that she had as ANNE OF GREEN GABLES, nor is she so mischlevous (natural changes with the accumulation of years;) but she is the same sweet-tempered, cheerful girl that has made Prince Edward Island famous!"—Boston Transcript.

E. S. Armstrong, golf champ

Of the Pacific Coast, who is spending a few unpleasant weeks in a hospital. While his sickness is not considered Net $1.25, carriage paid $1.40

Published 53 Beacon Street by Critical, he will be confined for two more weeks at least.

St. Printing (30th Thousand)

Net $1.25, carriage paid $1.40

THE PAGE COMPANY

E. S, Armstrong, golf champ

OIL IS STRUCK

SPLENDID these shoes for girls and little boys. Button

TWO CHILDREN

BOOTS—a sale worth while—just for today—

$2.50, $3.00 and $3.50 shoes for women, a few pair more than 300 pair go on sale for $1.59 today. They are patent or gun calf leather. Cloth or kid tops. All sizes in the lot—choice

SEE THE SLIPPERS ON SALE worth to $3.50 for women—beautiful pumps; all leathers

DIE IN FLAMES.

DIE IN FLAMES.

IN IMPERIAL.

The first was a control of front of Ground.

Black Fluid Found Occing and their parents in a name presented in a function of Find.

Rush for Fields Follows the Reports of Find.

Rush for Fields Follows the Reports of Find.

Salton Sea Country may Contain Riches.

The first was the through the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many of the first of the month is make and stages of the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The many is the same fluid front is seen to save the tittle care. The first the month is a same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen fluid front in the same fluid front is seen f

MARTHA WASHINGTON shoes for women, just like picture; sold most places for prospected and is now filed upon, says Mr. Dutcher, for several square miles about the place of the feported dis-

HE'S CHAMPION BEE CATCHER.

AT PASADENA.

To Make Scientific Tests to Decide

dena will be awarded.
All afternoon a military band will play and several noted speakers will address the crowd.

INPANTS OF ALL AGES TO ENTER

Prize Winners—Mrs. Burdette Re-turns Much Improved in Health. Lamanda Park to Celebrate Open-o'clock, when prizes offered by mer-chants of Lamanda Park and Pasa-

Hotel Vista del Arroyo, Pass [Advertisement.

ployees of the Pacific Electric, who

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

Prince Cot. 8—Rolding the Los Angeles, they were told of the "bag for snipe" in the swamps near the grounds of the Los Angeles Gun Club, hear here, four Los Angeles men fell victims late last night to the annual Venice joke. The work has staking in the beaches and they were in for anything.

Meeting Max Sugarman, a furniture dealer of No. 720 South Main street. T. E. Rosin, a contractor of No. 446 South Hope street, and Joe Berger, a lewelly salesman living at the Rossiyn Hotel, were ranged in various cold spots on the grounds. Two held the bag and two few into the bag.

It is a fact that the city's better and fastest growth is from Los Angees to the sea out Brentwood Park.

Buy now at Brentwood Park.

Prince Winners—Mr. Burdette Return Much improved in Health Lamanda Park to Gelebrate Open-ling of New Park.

Ideal to expect the growth and the sport of the police will be gratifying to the lead to econsiderable states of New York and the police partol. All four, and Mr. Sugarman, the decoy, were arrested and taken before a Kangaroo court in the City Hall, Mayor Gerety taking part. Each was fined $10 and placed under a supposed bond of $100.

Bull To Ond New Park.

Branch Park to Gelebrate Open-ling of New Park.

Ideal to expect of the growth is sent the sport of the Jonania of New Park.

Ideal to expect the Jonania of New Park (and the weight of the Jonania of New Park (and the weight of the Jonania of New Park (and the weight of New Park).

Brand Park to Gelebrate Open-ling of New Park.

Ideal to expect the Jonania of New Park.

Ideal to expect of New Park.

Ideal to annual Park to Gelebrate Open-ling of New Park.

Ideal to expect of New Park.

Ideal to annual Park to Gelebrate Open-ling of New Park.

Ideal to expect of New Park.

Ideal consistences.

Ideal to Expect of New Park.

Ideal to Expect of New P ENICE, Oct. 8 .- Holding the Los Angeles, they were told of the

ALBERT CAMPBELL BRALY-JANSS CO.

344 So. Broadway

Protecting You

Which do you prefer—the work of the master, the originator-or a copy, the work of an imitator? In which lies your protection?

From an ordinary inspection you might think both were the same. But you soon realize that the similarity is all in form—nothing in substance.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is the original ground chocolate, supreme in quality because it is made right—the right proportions of the finest cocoa and pure sugar so blended as to please the most exacting taste. The trade mark and label protect you against an inferior article. Be sure to order from your grocer

Ghrardelli's The Only
Ground Chocolate

In 1/2 lb., 1 lb. and 3 lb. hermetically sealed cans. There's a double economy in buying the 3 lb. can.

D. GHIRARDELLI CO.

Special Oct. 10th Chicken Dinner 50c Chicken Soup a la Reine Rosst Prime Ribs of Beef au Jus Tomatoes en Suprise

French Vanilla Ice Cream SERVED AT BOTH STORES - 5 TO 8 P.M.

FRUIT JUICES TO BE TEST

Fifty Tons of Black for Trial Run.

New Industry to Um Citrus Products.

Record of Ganesha Park Pleasing to Pomo

POMONA, Oct 8 -- G formerly the central figur

SHERMAN, Oct. 8.—About 200 employees of the Pacific Electric, who live here, will be saved considerable inconvenience, hereafter by receiving their pay through the local office. Hereafter they are not to go to the Pacific Electric depot offices in los Angeles to get their money. This necessitated an extra trip a week to the city with the-base of several hours. Many of the men work in the shops here and to take time off. Hereafter they will draw their pay checks here and the Citizens' Bank of Sherman will cash them. Wives of the railway men will be convenienced thareby, also.

You tried the rest, now try the best, "Hotel del Coronado."—[Advertisement.

WOMAN RECOVERING. ILCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—Miss Helen Inglesby, who was severely injured Saturday when struck by a Pacific Electric car, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home on Arapahoe street, Los Angeles, When visiting the exposition at San Diego, stop at "Coronado."—[Advertisement.

REDNAPER CONVICTED. IN A. P. MIGHT WIRE!

MERCED, Oct. 8.—Albert E. Pisher was convicted today in the Superior Court, here of kidnapping City Attorney F. W. Henderson, May 26, with intent to commit extortion and such proposed and will be awarded.

The programme will be swaped to restore her nerves the sale will mark the official public curvelling of the beautiful in the beautiful supplied to the programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado."—[Advertisement.

The programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado. The Advertisement.

The programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will be a warded to the late of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will begin shortly a feet of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will be a warded to the late of the Coronado. The Advertisement of the programme will be a warded to the late of

SAN BERNA

SATURDAY MOI

Classified Line

Committee of the second of the second

FRUIT JUICES. TO BE TESTED

ounty New

Fifty Tons of Black Grapes for Trial Run.

New Industry to Use up Citrus Products.

Record of Ganesha Park is Pleasing to Pomona.

MONA, Oct 8.—George Waters, sorty the central figure of the canning industry in this valley, just purchased fifty tons of blackers in the Cucamonga district, with the make a trial run at the picnic, Sunday-school, church, and State society delegations, in thinks that more than 25,000 smalers visited the park during the same of the control of the same of the control of the same of the control of the contr fed Liners.

perial Valley, Salary 290, with advancement for right man, EDUCATIONAL EXPERT CO., 704-705 Haas Bldg. WANTED — AUTO MECHANIC, ALL-AROUND work, trouble shooting, lathe work, incition, etc. Garage, country, $4 and room, Apply HUMMEL BEOS. & CO., 118 E. Second st. (Agency.)

1008 DATE. OCTOPER 7, 1915, accomble for any debts or bills by mg wife, Mrs. Mae Elliott.

SPRING.

WANTED—YOUNG SINGLE MEN FOR COMMISsary cierks on relivary construction work in Callfornia and Arizona. Must speak Reantsh. Cirtrill references and state age, Address IE, box 170. THES OFFICE.

WANTED — PIANO PLAYER; MUST HAVE EXjerisnes in musical comedy, read show; salary sure. Apply Apt. 9, ALCAYAR APTR., 202 N.
Broadway. Breadway.

Breadway.

WANTED-MAN TO MAKE COLLECTIONS: NOT over 80 years old. Bhould have some experience. Balary and commission. Answer by letter only. Address L. box 97. TIMES OFFICE.

WANTED-THREE MEN SOLICITORS WHO RNOW bow to meet the public, salary and commission.

Boring da. 418 Marsh-threed Bids. Ninth and Spring da. WANTED-FIRST-CLASS LADIES COAT MAKER, no other need apply, 830 E. COLORADO, Pas-adena. WANTED NEAT-APPEARING MEN TO CARRY basket of estables and sell house to house. Apply before 292 WILCOX ANNEX.

San Diego.

WANTED—MP. TO LEARN AUTO AND TRYCK diving. Thomas course. Positions awaiting the branches, telegraphy, rates $10' nonlitions our endustee. PACIFIC AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL, 554 Mails Ave.

WANTED—STENDERS OF ROCK. REPTING, RNG. STENDERS OF ROCK. RESTRICT. MACKAY BUSINESS COLLEGE, Main et. at National Control of the Control of the Los Angeles Daily Times.

WANTED- Help, Male. WANTED—A FIRE EXTINGUISHER THAT EX-tinguished the dis, insures refety to all users of gasoline and kerseene, 100 per cent, profit to gasoline and kerseene, 100 per cent, profit to spenis, Address HisH, N. 1822 S. Washington St., PRONES: FIOTS. MAIN 1714.

WANTED—Situations, Wale.

WANTED-PIREYCLASS PINISHERS ON MEN'S Code. 423% R SPRING ST. FOOM 48.
WANTED-D PENPERIENCED WAITENSEE, APPLY LOS Angel

Space is not given under this heading to adver

YOU DON'T KNOW.

WE ARE DEVELOPERS OF TALENT.

Don't wait; come and see us at once The only achieved with the own studie.

L.O.B. PHOTOTICAY CO.,

512 Marsh-Strong Bidg.

WANTED—55 MEN WITH A BARKHONE INSTEAD of a wishbone to take the Free Civil Service Course. Los Anordes Evening Bids School. Note Course, Los Anordes Evening Bids School. Note Course, Los Anordes Evening Bids School. Note Course, Los Anordes Service students. Class exceeding adopted to Civil Service students. Can exceed the service for the Civil Service. Exercil pow. NORTH HILL ST. & Civil Service. Exercil pow. NORTH HILL ST.

WANTED-SALESMEN-

WANTED -- PRIVATE OR RUSINESS SECRETARY, university graduate, competent and experienced in

E. CHRISTIAN WANTS JANITOR WORK large church or several small ones, Ad-HOTET, SEILER, 980 S. San Pedro at., city, Main 2805. J. N. Felhousen.

WANTED EXPERIENCED PANTS FINISHERS WANTED BAPARSE STUDENT WANTS SCHOOL-Room 43, CANADIAN BEDG., 482 S. Main st.

555 S. MAIN.

SALEGIADY SALEGIADY.

ADDY ORFHRIUM IN. 618 S. Broadway.

ADDY ORFHRIUM IN. 618 S. Broadway.

WANTED-YOUNG MAN 25. WANTS POSITION ON TRUCK with charce to team hos residing. Address PK, box 455, TEMES BRANCH OPPICE.

WANTED-JAPANISE CHAIPPICE UNDERSTANDED CARE and resulting thoroughly. WILL assist about house and vari. References. Address L, box 118, TIMES OFFICE.

WANTED DEFENDABLE JAPANER CHAUFFELD desires position in private family years exper-ence and sood reference. FESCS, ABOOK, KIMURA WANTED SITUATION, EXPERIENCED SLIDE AND haritone player, also the dass limitype oper-stor, P. O. box 91, ABNTA ANA.

WANTED—FIRST CLASS JAPANESE WOULD LIKE cocking, general housework in family. TAKERA-KA. 802 S. Los Angeles.
WANTED—JAPANESE WANTS POSITION AT NIGHT effer six, office cleaning, any kind work. T3523, FRANK. MANTED—JAPANESE COMPETENT AND EXCEL-lent cook, wishes position family; here good ref-rences. Call A9242, Hami.

Broadway.

WANTED—MIXICAN BOY, 18, WISHES POSITION, can dista bath-nowered cars, not junk Address L, box 159. Times OFFICE.

WANTED—RANCH LAWN, OB ANY KIND OF WORK I can do, Good carpenter, Address L, box 155. Times OFFICE.

WANTED—JAPANDER, FIRST-CLASS COOK, DEsires situation, thoroughle experienced; response Main Solds, 64253, 537 S. GRAND. WANTED—STRINGT-CLASS ALGROUND ARCHItechned reference, Class and specific processes. From the processes of the processes of the processes. From the processes of t

EMPLOYMENT-

as cook or housekeeper, ranch preferred. R.F.D. BOX 51, Reno, Ner. ANTED—SITUATION, A NEAT-COLORED GIRL assist with housework, care for children, $25, none WILSHIRE 2229.

WANTED—GERMAN WOMAN FIRST-CLASS LAUN-dress and house cleaner, wants work for Mon-days, MRS, KOHLER, 321 Buens Vists. Home WANTED-DAYS WORK BY TOUNG, COMPE-tent, colored woman. Phone BROADWAY 1630. WANTED-WHITE WOMAN WANTS ANY KIND OF day's work. PHONE A9427.

WANTED-CARPENTERING, Painting, Paper-hanging, Tinting, etc. WANTED—PAINTING, PAPER-HANGING TINT-ing, general repair work. Prices reasonable; work guaranteed, BROADWAY 997; HOME 26497.

WANTED-FIRST CLASS CARPENTER READY FOR 2004 day or contact. Phone ECOTT South 1664, 2100 g. Grand one. Three, TINTER, HARDWOOD FIN-ther, must have work, tools, essentialing furnished, day work only. EAST 1374. WANTED—PAPERHANGING, PAINTING, TINTING, man who knows his business. Phone MAIN 6433, 52.20, after 6 p.m. BROADWAY 4489.

WANTED-PAINTING, PAPERING, INVING, LOW-ed prices consistent with good work, HALL, 1740 Marnella, 20001, West 6295. WANTED -- PAINTER LOOKING FOR PAINTING and tinting job, will convere, reasonable price, Good reference, SOUTEN 1745W.

WANTED—PARTNER WITH 20000 CASH, ACTIVE or elient, for established and highly profitable manufacturing and jobbing business of unlimited possibilities. The goods rands and sold are required by millions. Advertiser has a $15,000 stock, but needs cash for expanding. If you are a principal, then insessignte. I can "show you." Address I, box 197. TIMES OFFICE.

WANTED—PARTNER IN WELL ESTABLISHED weekly newspaper and sob shopt, doing good business and a bright future; small growing town; plant has linetype and fine equipment. Need good working partner, either outside or in. Must be a live one. Address Newspaper, BOX 188, La Jolin, Cal.

WANTED—WOMAN PARTNER IN HOTEL, SMALL WANTED—MR. THOUSEN COURSE, REGIONS, STATE OFFICE, MAIN ACTO AND TRICK MATCH—STRUCTURE PLANS COLLEGE, Main and Account of the College Main and Account of the C

O LET-CLOSE-IN CLEAN LIGHT, AIRY UP-per housekeeping room with rouning water, is set month; electricity, phone, bath, hot and cold safer $15 W. 117H ST.

TO LET -- MODERN 4-ROOM FLAT; WALL BED, Incolcum, gas range, bested, 3 cer linus; 1 block from Lunus Square, 18284; W. 22RD, **

TO LET -- (SPAR, MODERN 5-ROOM FLAT, 15 minutes; walk from CP+ Hall. Argin 513 E. LTH ST. Phone Swoth 628.

TO LET -- 4-ROOM LOWER FLAT, RARDWOOD COMMAND, up-to-date, reasonable. 1465 GIRARD.

WANTED—WE PAY CASH FOR ALL KINDS OF furniture, merchanding, etc.; any quantity.

WANTED—WE PAY CASH FOR ALL KINDS OF furniture, merchanding, etc.; any quantity.

WANTED—WE PAY CASH FOR ALL KINDS OF furniture, merchanding, etc.; any quantity.

Wanter merchanding, etc.; any quantity. TO LET-FOUR-BOOM NEW MODERN LIFE'S flat and garage at 912 So, Berendo at Best $22.50 to permanent tenant, 1119 Haas 21200, A1645, Edwy, 4175. 132-116 Court et Main 2114, P4810.

RAYTED—FURNITURE.

SET LET—FOUR-ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

ROOM also evid on commission R. FORES CO.,

ROOM also evid on commission R. FORES CO.,

ROOMS ROOM AVECTOR CO.,

RAYTED BOUREFOLD AND DIVINE FURNITURE.

THONY LIGHTERINE AND DIVINE FURNITURE.

THONY LIGHTERINE 148 E. Seventh et. F5624

Broadway 225.

ROOM AND ROOM FLORE LIGHTERINE CO.,

ROOM BOURT ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

TO LET—NEAR COURTHOUSE NICE 4 AND S
TOM BOURT ROOM PLAT BIG ENGINEERS.

TO LET—NEW AND MODERN HOW FLORE BIG ENGINEERS

ROOM BOURT ROOM FLORE BIG ENGINEERS.

TO LET—NEW AND MODERN HOW FLORE BIG ENGINEERS

ROOM BOURT ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

MICHIGAN BOURT ROOM BOURT NICE 4 AND S
TO LET—FOUR-ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

MICHIGAN BOURT ROOM BOURT NICE 4 AND S
TO LET—NEW AND MODERN HOLD BEES CNS

ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT FOR CNS

MICHIGAN BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT FLORE BIG BOOM STATES.

TO LET—FOUR-ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

MICHIGAN BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT FLORE BOOM STATES.

TO LET—FOUR-ROOM UPPER. TWO BEES CNS

MICHIGAN BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT ROOM BOURT PLATE BOURT PLA

Tlassified Linera.

TO LET-BOOM AND BOOM AND BOOM

TO LET.-HUNTLET APARTMENTS.
1207 W. Third st. Take Crown Hill car.

TO LET. FURNISHED BOOMS AT HOTEL MUNN, Fifth and Olive etc. Dandy rooms at $4 week. Rome at $3 and $3.50. With private bath, $6 up. Doubters and desailness. Courtest and cleanlines.

TO LET-HOTEL GEORGIA. NEW MODERNY,
PRO AND PROPERTY.

PRO AND PROPERTY.

PRO LET-HOTEL GEORGIA. NEW MODERNY,
TO LET-HOTEL GEORGIA.

TO LET-HOTEL GEORGIA.

TO LET-HOTEL BOOKS. BLOW WERK UP.

PRI 1888 S. HORE et. PASM. Main 2002.

BOOKS. WILL DEMAN.

GREEN R. HORE et. PASM. Main 2002.

TO LET-Rooms and Reard. TO LET MOST DESTRAILS ROOMS, FINE TAhig, home comforts plane, Victola, grand liheary, alseping porches; hot water always, 15 minutes out; second door from Hohart blvd. Pico and 10th st. case. 2581 DORCHESTER AVE. West
516. TO LET.—IN FINELY-PURNICHED ROME, LANGE control for the contro meeth. Westlake district.

76 LET—Would LIKE 2 OR 8 GENTLEMEN TO share large confortable front rooms, also one single room, board if desired. Reasonable rates. Walking disfance. 1298 ORANGE FT. 51752.

70 LET — A HANDSOMELY PURNISHED FRONT FROM with board in lovely neighborhood, suitable for school teacher or business woman. 1630 S. PRINCY AUG.

TO LET.—THE CARNATION ROOMS AND BOARD INTO LET.—THE CARNATION ROOMS AND BOARD IN DISSABLE ALLES COMPLETELY BOARD ROOMS AND BOARD IN DISSABLE ALLES COMPLETELY BOARD ROOMS AND BOARD INTO LET.—THE CARNATION ROOMS AND BOARD BOARD ROOMS AND BOARD BOARD ROOMS AND BOARD ROOMS AND BOARD ROOMS AND ROOMS Books, tennis court home cioding, business people received. Home Finox Testing of the Convenience of a home, practically received. Home Finox Testing of the Convenience of a home, practically received to the co

WFRMANN RCHRADES, SOT Grant Roger & Main and State of the State of the

TO LET-TO LET-8-ROOM DUTCH COLONIAL HOME IN West Adams district; completely furnished; larve livtnes-com, librar. 2 baths and lawfor; lawn fowers and fruit treas in roar; sevenal's mom in carge, 60% 25TH aT. Chil 2512.

TO LIST FURNISHED, HOLLYWOOD—
Prochills home; over an ace in grounds; seem rooms sleeping north, double earner, servanis; onerters, tennis court, etc. OWNER, 540 Van Nove Ridg, TO LET — COMPLETELY FURNISHED S-BOOM MODERN STORES AND AGROCIAL AVE.
TO LET FURNISHED, S-BOOM MODERN. 2018, 2020 MAGNOLIA AVE.

TO LET-PERMINERED, 6-ROOM MODERN RUNGAlow, nighto, Grand ave. car line. 1246 W. 49TH

FERET

TO LET-FROM 3 TO 6 MONTHS. S-ROOM HOUSE
AND GARAGE, WILLSHIPE DESTRICE; REALTHPULLY FURNISHED, WITH MAIN SERVICES, ADDRESS J. ROX 104, TIMES OFFICE.

TO LET.—SIT. NEW 4-BOOM BUNGALOW, COMpletely furnished, hardwood floors, built-in effe-ies: lawn kept; phone, water free. 1479 E.
2571. Honone-are, car.
TO LET.—S BOOMS, ELEGIANT AND ARTISTIC,
modern. plane, furneer, sarage, lawn, and flowers cared for. Adults, 54444.

TO LET - FURNISHED S. ROOM ROCKE, COM-ticles formined, SCR S. ARDMONE, AVE. Take was one of, car. HOME PHONE ESSAIS, TO LET - $22.56; NEW MODERS 4-ROOM BUN-galow, pleasy formined. No. 1872 EXPOSITION BLVD. Phone west 2011.

TO LET-

dress F, box 260, TLRES BRANCH OFFICE.

TO LET.—TRELF-TURNISHED LARGE. AIRT PROBLEMS and Correct States of burgalous courts. The country of t

NIE HRAE. Phone A8000.

TO LET—AN IDRAL S-BOOM HOME, IN SOUTH-wast, completely and beautifully furnished, all modern conveniences. Garses. For particulars cold day ANSS; certaines. 26208.

TO LET—6-ROOM COMPLETELY FURNISHED coctage, awards machine, no objection to oblider of the convenience of the convenience of the coctage, awards machine, no objection to oblide the coctage, awards machine, no objection to oblide the coctage, awards machine, and objection to oblide the convenience of the coctage, awards machine, no objection to oblide the coctage, awards machine, no objection to oblide the coctage of the coctage TO LET.—$13. FURNISHED. 3. ROOM CALIFORNIA bureabow, the view, capten, fruit trees, Control. Hullword cars 145 blocks. 16TT LSCILE AVE. West 254 or 742508.

TO LET.—CHFAFFR RNNT. 514, CLOSE IN 2-room finef furnished bureabow shope. all modern conveniences. 1134 LAKESHORE AVE. Edendis cap.

Come to Moneta care.

TO LET—FURNISHED THERE-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO UST—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO UST—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET—O-ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET—DANNY S.ROOM BUNGALOW.

TO LET OR LEASE_

TO LFT-6-BOOM MODERN BUNDALOW: SCRFFN porch, breakfast-room, garaine; besuffully furshed: close to City Hall, Venice; not the equilabled you find for rest, but a private home; very reasonable rest to reliable, respensible tensat, on reasonable rent to THE II W REED CO.,

Ocean Park. Cal.
TO LET—LONG BEACH TENT CITY, HOUSEKEEP ing tests; on ocean front, delightful for tourists.

TO LET-

TO LET-FOR LEAVE FOR CASI-SO ACRES IN Compton; has been plusted to bests had 3 years, house, large but standings for the case, plenty water. Call at First National Bank, E. E. El-Ulott, campton. TO LET-100 ACRES, $500. ALSO 110 ACRES FOR one-fourth of hav. R. D. LIST. 1021 Central Ridg. FOR SALE-

FOR SALE—A TWO-STORY HOUSE FOR ONLY
SEND THE STORY STORY HOUSE FOR ONLY
SEND THE STORY STORY HOUSE FOR ONLY
SEND THE STORY STORY STORY STORY
SEND THE STORY STORY STORY STORY
SEND THE STORY STORY STORY
SEND THE STORY STORY
SEND THE STORY STORY
SEND THE STORY
SEN F. A. BLELOW, 66127 or Main 5847.

FOR SALE, NO EXCHANGER A WELL-BUILT new residence of ten rooms in Wibbine district, with all modern improvements; lot is 68x120; two-story carace, fruit, flowers, etc.; piece 8000. If you wish to see H, call up 540185, HOME PHONE, for appointment.

FOR SALF—ELEGANT NEW 14-ROOM HOUSE, W. Adams Heights, corner lot, classic design, made and outside, beautiful hardwood (three kirch) trevor finish; four bathwoods, cost $35,000; will sell equity. Inquire JONES & JONES, Marsh-Strong Ridg. Phone 10175. Bids. Frome 10175.

FOR SALE—EQUITY WORTH $5500. IN PROPERTY on Toberman, new 10th st., better the circuit of t FOR SALE—any YOU ON'NG TO BUY, THEN read this $1100, in new $5000 7-noom bungalow; noth Wishire, thoroughly modern, for $500. PRONE 50044. PHONE 50344.

POR SALE — MY 6-ROOM BUNGALOW, INCUMbered 22450, worth 24000 foreclosure threatened; will take $100, D. W. HATNES, $4th and Gramery, 78575, afternoons only.
POR SALE—ATTENTION: FINE BUNGALOW, FINE corner lot, 50x150; orice very reasonable; no agents. Phone owner, 508550 from 7 to 9 a.m., 5 to 6 p.m.

FOR SALE-

TAIL & CRANE COMPANY,

508323; 44254. FOR SALE-SACRIFICE, 50-POOT LOT, $475; 850 down and $10 per month; on yellow car line; walking distance from new flate Normal School, Vermont and Melrese. Hollywood 62.

FOR SALE-FINE LOT ON WILTON PLACE, WILL sell cheap, PHONE P1467.

FOR SALE-

FOR LEASE,

200 DEEP. WESLEY CLARK & CO.,

POR SALE—RUSINESS LOT ON W WASHINGTON St., for sale; a barrain, WEST 4655.

FOR SALE — $4500, 100 FEET ON SOUTH PARK, one block south of Jefferson. Owner, SOUTH 2011.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE-

FOR EXCHANGE—
$10,000. Morigace $4200.

Four 4-room flats, on 42nd st; renired new for $60 month. Owner wants Kannas land to same value. Bdwy. 978, 614 Trust and Sav. Hidg.

FOR SALE—4 FLAT BUILDING OF 4 BOOMs each, rental $90 per month; price $8500; hair cash; balance mortgags. Owner, WEST 1000. FOR SALE-Industrial Property.

POR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—30500, INDUSTRIAL site near Ford factors. GEO, RISSMAN, 210 Wright & Callender Bidg. FOR SALE-Substitute Property.

FOR SALE-BRAUTISTIC, 24 ACRES IMPROVED, good house, fruit trees, staffs, very neat place, near Monrovia car line. Also have (1) acre improved, same district; as well as small and large unimporced pieces.

SOUTHLAND REALTY CORP.,
419 Homer Laughlin Ridg. Rdwy, 1080.
FOR SALE—ELEGANY SUBURBAN HOME SITE.
51 Of Cores, high ground, San Laborated Valler, befollerand, 12550 per acre. Address L., box 96.
TIMES OFFICE.

SMITH, 4500 Hammel st. FOR SALE—HIST BUY IN HAWTHORNE, CORNER acre ranch, $2500, terms, GEO, W. JONES CO., 418 Hibernian Bidg. A5751. Glendale POR SALB—NORTH GLENNALE POOTHILLS, CASI or part trade, 5-room bungalow, with alsening perch, and the convenience of a home, practically new convenience of a home, practically new corner lot, 55x179 to aller, bearing fruit trees, price $4600; will take chean lot as first payment, balance in rent, 1124 VIOLA, corner stocker, North Glendale, Oct off on Stocker et., walk two blocks week. Phone Broadway 0857; residence Glendale 8011.

Marlposs County.

FOR SALE—HAVE VERY ATTRACTIVE CATTLE and hog ranches, fine feed, running streams; liv-ing survises; nine and eak timber; improved and or improved. Prices very low. ROMERTS, 401 Union 611 Bilds.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY-

FOR EXCHANGE—
In San Joaquin Valler, Presno county, Cal., 800 acres fine fruit land, at $175 per acre, for anything worth the moner.

B. W. FOLEN,
BOX 50, Dinuba.

FOR SALE—YOU MARE THE FRICE: MUST HAVE money; quarter section, Tulare county, well longer; water two wells, ejection.

OR SALE—BY OWNER.

10 section of rich, level farming land in Promoty $22.50 ner acre, easy terms. Apply b.

MULLER, 315 Forsyth Bidg., Freeno, Cal.

MPERIAL VALLEY-

EASTERN-NORTHERN PROPERTY For Sale, Exchange, Wanted. OR SALE—512 ACRES NEAR OPAL ON THE Oregon thort Line, southwestern Wyoming; salers, and fruit and vegetables: 1. R. patent; axier, and fruit and vegetables: 1. R. patent; o incumbrance, ten dollars per tere, one-fitth sub; balance any time on mortance, 8 per cent, direce WM. R. MARTIN, 104 Chapala st., Santa strars, (Al. Barbara, Cal.

Brore EXCHANGE—110 ACEES NEAR CITY OF CHICAGO, 20 minutes ride to uptown; south side, near Rive Island, and West Fullman; will trade for a small orange grore with good innovocements, For particulars address L. C. WATTS, Clinton, Ill. Pide, par Recamento, for garage and equipment, L. WHALEY, 1258 Felaware drive, Los Angeles.

Will trade for T or 4-morn home in the case of t ANTED CHICAGO OR VICINITY IN EXCHANGE for $2500 equity in fine modern 8-room fewin halet, in Los Angeles, Cal. E. A. GAIDZIK, 1526 V. 45th st., Los Angeles, Cal. W. 451R 6., LOS ADSCICS, CSI.
FOR EXCHÂNGE.—PITTSRUTGH, PA., PROPERTY,
by owner, for Susthern California, SAMUEL,
PANNER, R.D. No. 1, Box 298, Pasadena, Cal. FOR EXCHANGE — I. L. BENNETT & CO. 304
South Breadway, room 338. Eastern for California crobustage.

GOVERNMENT LAND-

WANTED—TO EXCHANGE 160 OR $20 .ACRES deart land assignment on Pale Verde Mess. Assem-ment work done. For cover and equipment for small ranch. A. H. L., 721 Mound ave., South Passdens, Cal.

Pasadona, Cal.

230-ACRE RELINQUISHMENT, GILA RIVER, level, sage brush land, water 16 fest. WIII exchange for clear Les Agnées property or Gartfarm, Price $2000. W. FREEMAN, Dome, Tuma Oo, African Relinquistrator FOR SAIZ, ANTE-lone Valler, roof location. Address P, box 486, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE. TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

TO CLOSE ESTATE — BELINGUISHMENT AND decided land, near Lancaster, flowing water, time limited. BROADWAY 8054.

FOR RALE—DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE; GOOD condition; cheap, 1827 MAGNOLIA AVE., Apartment 18.
SCHOOL LAND FOR SALE—
600,000 acres, lists, particulars. State SCHOOL
LAND MAP. $2.50. JOSEPH CLABK, Sacramento

ORANGE AND LEMON GROVES-For Sale, Exchange, Wanted.

For Sale. Exchange. Wanted.

FOR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—
I own a twenty-acre twenty-five year old mavel orange grore on the boulevard close to San Remardine. Large ST500 pumping plant: fine 33900 home. It is a superior of the footble. Income 2500 the footble. Excellent opportunity to procure the ranch property at exceptionally low force. In the footble. The footbl

FOR SALE — SEE US FOR BEST EUTS IN OB-ance and lemon groves, in bed districts; our specialty fan Dimas, La Verne and Charler our A few good walnut and alfalfa propositions. Can match fructions exchanges. EAN DIMAS MEAL ESTATE COMPANY, San DIMAS MEAL ESTATE COMPANY, For Sall—11 ACRFS OF 4-YEAR-OLD LATE VAlencias, in beautiful Sunny Sione district, 12 miles from Los Angeles. All latest impresences to large country bacement, 2-room house, bath, etc.; all kinds of berries and family erchard. Bargain, Address L. box 3, TIMES OFFICE.

HOTELS, ROOMING HOUSES— For Sole, Exchange, Lease, Wanted

HOTELS, ROOMING HOUSES

A PARTMENT HOUSES— For Sale, Exchange, Lease, Wanted. TO LET-FOR LEASE-

Apartment-house, 12 aparts

FOR EXCHANGE-

BUSINESS CHANCES ot. Phones: F540. Breadoux 430.

WANTED-I HAVE $2000 CAM AND INImpigess enterveise; meter a

FOR EXCHANGE—10 ACRES BEST DANDY LOAM and under irrigation ditches, with shares water shock from two water convenues (deshibs supported All in fine order and related in peaches and arricate 2 wars old. food rapeh-house and criticalisms. Situated in Henry Will exchange for good property in or near Los Will exchange for good materials and accordance of the convenues of the conven WANTED-TO RENT. BARRET W.L., town, Arbona, Nerada or Chis TEN, Monolith, Cal,

FOR EXCHANGE—of all binds in ranch, residence we make trades of. Lief have reconstant to the control of the con Preson.

FOR EXCHANGE—OR SALE—MY EQUETY IN OWN improved acre, 4-room house, water, etc., Bellflower, for cash or arts; case terms on balance.
Address JOS SHOOK, Hynes, Cal. Address JOE SHOOK, Hynes, Cal.
POR EXCHANGE—BOUTHY IN FIVE-BOOM MODern home, fine revidence district, fian Dissey, for small impressed chicken ranch. Los Aqueless substration and the control of the control of the concontrol of the control of the control of the convoors treasent property. Sol FRYSON BLDG.
Second and further. Member LA.R. 19.

GROCERY STORE FOR SALE—SOUTINEST PREtrict, present owner 5 years, principals only.
FINNY ARCADE AND SHOOTING GALLERY, rood location (money maker.) Price $5000. Will recharge and saurage on rood real estate. FRED
G. FEARCE. 319 Douglas Side.
FACACE. 3

TOB QUICK ACTION, DROP ANSWERS TO Times "Liners" in Times letter boxes in downtown office buildings. The locations of the boxes are printed in the first column of The Times "Liner" action.

A Company of the second

BUSINESS CHANCE

SATURDAY MO

Classified Itn

MONEY ON FIRST MORTGAGES, MONIT ON FIRST MORTGAGER

ASSETTANT ON FIRST MORTGAGER

ASSETTANT ON FIRST MORTGAGE

ASSETTANT ON FIRST MORTGAGE

FOR ALK, TIME THORY MORTGAGE

ASSETTANT DEPOSITY, Worth coase

ASSETTANT OF ASSETTANT

TID-MONEY—I WISH TO BORROW 8900 FOR a person of my powdral note: will buy 10 person of maller food of MANING TOWN AT T. ON SPLENDID TOWN OF THE NOTE OF T

Innroved: building and a second and a second

MONEY TO LOAN-I HAVE SIGOO, SOME MANAGEMENT OF THE TOTAL PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF TH

MANEY—11 PER CENT., WILL D section meetings due 2 years to net 11 section planter house and some risk Mast raise Borney at on 12 to 12 to ath street, Bear PROPER, 50x150, pew and special street, base street, 50x150, pew and special MATE 5000 TRUET DEED ON ACREMitwoods county, worth $2,2500, $ new as an experience of the county of the county of the county and the county of the county of the county as a county of the county of the county of the county

as a county of the county of the county
as a county of the county of the county
as a county of the county of the county
as a county of the county of the county
as a county of the county of the county as a county
as a

disce ON CITY IMPROVED PROPERTY. Fig. ON 20 SHARES OF THE COUN-Fact End interest. Phone BROAD-HATE THUST DEED, 5783, MINS of DEED STATE OF THE STATE Land H. CONT. FUE TERRES Lands of the property to one the property of the prop

BROWN PROS. CO., CLOSE IN. IM. HER T PER CENT. SOUTHWEST ALSO STRICTED ONLY IN COM-

FER CENT. COOD CITY IN-

8 9, 1915.—[PART restiled Linera

TTO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE

melesce partments, stores, finis, ranches

SES OF ESTO STORM AND UP.
On for first mortgare.
Set lentifier leass a specialty

2 C and Sove cont., and up.
Construction tree.

Construction tree.

Construction tree for loans.

THE STORY OF RANCHER
IN ANY AMBIENT TO TO BE ANY AMBIENT TO TO
BE ANY AMBIENT TO THE STORY
BE ANY AMBIENT TO THE STORY
TO THE STORY ON APPLICATIONS TO THE STORY

NO. LANS.

NO. LANS.

NO. LANS.

N. GORRE CO.

LA Prevediment Ridg.

LANS. Home 60003.

LANS. ON REAL ENTATE, $50 TG

LE months, first or second mortcases

LANS. ON REAL ENTATE, $50 TG

LE months, first or second mortcases

LANS. ON REAL ENTATE, $50 TG

LANS. ON REAL ENTATE, $50 TG

LANS. The months first first on the result in monthly installations in the result in monthly installations in the property of the control of th

LOONFIDENTIAL BANK REF AND WOMEN ACCOMMODATES LAND MEDG, Hours 10 to 12:30.

11 PER CENT., WILL, DIS 12 toom plaster house and ga 12 toom plaster house and ga Must raise money at once house and ga Address P, box 460 ON FIRST MORTGAGES,

AT 7 PER CENT. 3 YEARS, barter improved, alfalfa ranch. 5 1000 on 80 acres for 3 years CTRLAND REALTY CORP., 412

to treet 1497

MONEY WANTED-

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

W. PIRIL.

FOR SALE.—'SCOTTS ASPHALITIM ROOF PAINTS' for thunds and commodition roofs, 50c sallon.
Scallon. cans. 82. Roofing, 81.50 per roll.
SCOTT,
The Reafer, 1702 S. Main. Home 28808.

FOR SALE-NEW AND SECOND-HAND CARONS and pocket-billiard tables, howling allers and accessories: bar fixtures of all hinds: easy paraments. We trust the people. The BRUNSWICK RALENCELENDER CO., 848 8 Los Angeles At

FOR SALE—
FOR SALE—THIR IS THE BIGGEST SNAI
state of the same of t

FOR SALES — CIRCANGIAN WALNUT, MAHOGANY, birdseep maple and onk dressors and chiffundary 2:12 mass: V.M. beds. fumed oak dining and liv-ing-room suites; davenort, dinner sats, etc., etc. A rare opportunity for any cine wishing to furnish, Good as-new. Call today, 7718 B. ELEWER, E. FOR SALE-JEWILL OAS RANGE CHEAP, LARGE sized over and boiler; four burners and sized over and properties.

FOR SALE-GOOD FURNITURE OF & ROSSIA. Bearing city. 72214 M. EIGHTH ST.

FOR SALE—THE DEEK EXCHANGE—
The chasper lakes in the city to get used desks, chairs, tables dilute cabinets: a large steek to select from. THE DEEK EXCHANGE, 202 8. Los angeles at A2808.

FOR SALE—OFFICE DEEKS, CHAIRS, TABLES, all standard, guamnteed lines, at rock-bottom prices. The Los angeles at desk house, WHEEL'S, 216-530 S. Los angeles.

FOR SALE—L. C. SMITH TYPENNITER, OAK typeswiter desk; flat-top-oak desk; typeswiter desk; typeswiter desk; flat-top-oak desk; typeswiter desk; flat-top-oak desk; typeswiter desk; flat-top-oak desk; typeswiter desk; flat-top-

BLDO.

WANTED-OFFICE FURNITURE, EVERY DESCRIPtion, we say highest prices. Phone Breadway
TESS. SFELLMAN DESK CO., TSO S. Sprice.
FOR SALE-2 SANITARY DESKS, 1 FLAT, I ROLL
top: I T. & E. filing cabinet; 2 swinel chain;
3 small filing cabinets; private owner. 1128 K.
GRAND AVE.

THINGS ON WHEELS-THINGS ON WHEELS-

FOR SALE—FORD ROADSTER, NEWLY PAINTED and overhauled: Master vibrator: electric born lights and storage battery. Only driven by woman owner. Cash $250. Flow Evernout 4516. Call 168. W. S3D 87. FOR SALE—REO. 5-PASSINGER. FULLY equipped. Price $350. See this snap, Make offer. Cole, 7-passenger, A-1 mechanically, price $450. Call Main 9104. See cars at $43 SOUTH MANYID—AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEAR LOT. $UTT. able for good home in fine locality, cash value. Cal.

ALE—PORD ROADSTER, NEWLY PAINTED overhauled; Master vibrater, electric hora, and storage battery. Only driven by women Cash $250. Phone Vermont 4516. Call 1043 / ST. ILL Mr. Sprout.

ANTED—AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEAR LOT, SUIT.

ANTED —AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEAR LOT, SUIT.

AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEAR LOT, SUIT.

ANTED —AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEAR LOT, SUIT.

AUTOMOBILE FOR CLEA

FOR SALE—FORD CAR, D MONTHS OLD, ALL extra parts in A1 condition except finishing upholatering and enamel. Searchlight, Frice SEC, See ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main
se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Mason Hole, 765 & Main se ROGERS, 9 to 12, Main se ROGERS,

ANDLY NOT W. PICO ST.

FOR SALE—$400, MY '13 BUICK ROADSTER, ME chanically perfect, now line, extra equipment, and the chanically perfect, now line, extra equipment, and the chanically perfect, now line, extra equipment, and the chanically perfect now line, extra equipment, and the chanically perfect now line, extra equipment, and the control of the ave.

WILL CONSIDER EXCHANGING MY CHALMERS reacher for 5-passenger car; must be late model and to good condition. Address P, box 464, TIMEN ERANCH OFFICE. UNE TOUR HEAD.

UNE TOUR HEAD.

UNE TOUR HEAD.

UNE TOUR HEAD.

FOR SALE—1915 EXCELSIOR MOTORETCLE, WITH delivery side care, just the thing for light delivery side care, just the side care, j OHIO: F5484.

FOR SALE-FIVE-PASSENGER CHALMERS "SA," perfect condition, self starter and electric lights;
people's actor Marker, 11th and Main etc.

PEOPLE'S ACTO MARKET, 11th and Main etc.

8200 will buy Inquire MR ESSCK 114 W.
Fourth.

1913 BUICK ROADSTER. EXCELLENT MECHANical condition, real bargain, at $350; terms.
421 E. 12TH ST.
FOR SALE—1914 BUICK TOURING CAR, SMALL, rest second line was und in fine condition. Evil
CEALS VIEW AVE., near Westlake ave. Fhome
51741. VIEW AVE., near Westlake ave. Fhome
51741. Home 51427.

WANTED—TO LOAN $350 ON LATE MODEL AUTOMOBILE. ADDRESS 617% R. HILL ST. ADDRESS 617% R. HILL ST. WANTED—DEEP COWS. CALVES. PRESS COWS. CALVES. PRES WILL TRADE SO-ACRE RELINQUISHMENT, AN-telope Valley, for good auto; good location, Ad-dress P, bux 438, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WE PAY SFOT CASH FOR USED AUTOMORILES of all descriptions, also sell on communision.
ENYDES MOTOR SALES CO.,
ENYDES MOTOR SALES CO.,
FOR SALE—1915 BUICK, $700 CASH, NO TRADE:
507 R Bull et.

buy. 3427 S. VERMONT, Saturday.

FOR SALE—LATE MODEL FORD TOURING CAR, overhaude, all in See-class shape cash or terms. 254 W. FICO. Breadway 2553.

The smaller cars for part. 107 W. THIRD.

VERMONT THE STATE OF THE CASH. VERMONT INC. FORD CAR WANTED FOR CASH, NEED NOT DE mechanically perfect, Apply 646 RAN PEDDO 87.

WANTED—A FORD ROADSTER FOR DELIVERY has been for cash; no hank, PHONE 20787.

WANTED—A FORD ROADSTER FOR DELIVERY has been for cash; no hank, PHONE 20787.

WANTED—IND PORD CAR. APPLY 2011 a referred of the leading Los Angeles choogidal, London, well recommended by Los Angeles choogidal, Phone 820613; after 4.

FOR SALE—HIDSON SS, GOOD CONDITION, GOOD HORS, $252, Phone 20613; after 4.

FOR RALE—HORSON ROADSTER FULLY cultiputed, Best cash ofer, 729 SAN JULIAN, and the control of the contr

Electric Automobiles.

FOR SALE—$150. BAKER ELECTRIC VICTORIA, new Exide batteries, good tires; this is a snap. HOME FIRME 57549.

For Hire-Automobiles JUST OUT-BRAND-NEW 1915 MITCHELLS, EX-clusive touring cars for particular people. Rea-onable rates. VERMONT 3037; 79450. day without driver, assessing the calls only $1.00; anywhere, any time; best service. STILWELL-AUTO CO., Wishing 922, Home 56757.

VANTED—AUTOMOBILES AS PART PAYMENT ON LUXURIOUS 1916 5 MD 7-PASSEGER LOZIERS, disk, prench at the talks; priced very low, $2400. If this in a the talks; priced very low, $2400. If this in the passes of the particular of the price of each of the price of each 1. EleCtor, coefficient and price of each 1. EleCtor, coefficient and sundays call 74000.

MINING—REGISTRAN AUTOMOBILES IN THE AUTOMOBILES IN 18th. French. 213, 171MES OF CONTROL 18TH. AUTOMOBILE RES. 18

tox 188. TIMES OFFICE.

If YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A RIG BARGAIN I bave a fine Oalkand model 43. 1914, electric land, with complete, good as the set of the control of the cont oreful drivers. Anywhere. Call BROADWAY NEW 1016 BUICK, CAREFUL DRIVER, SI.50 FIRST hour, $1 after, 844 S. BROADWAY, 17461, Main, 7238. NEW 7-PASSENGER CHANDLER, EXPERT DRIVER; passmable lifes; trips anywher, HOME 52877. transmable rates; trips anywhere. HOME 52877.

WILSHIRE 5961.
PLOURNOY AUTO SERVICE—1916 7-PASSENGER
Brick; new 5-passenger Overlands. 72260—WEST AND SALE—GOOD 7-SEATER, 1914 ADTO, NEW Substitute and State, 1914 ADTO, NEW Substitute and Substitute and THIRD.

WANTED—THE BEST LIGHT ROADSTER, FORD
LEGY, Vermont 2554, or SILW, at 4700 Vermont
LUCY, VERMONT 2554, OR SILVER, AND SILVER,

FOR SALE - $20 (COST $160) GOOD BURBER tare surrey. 2730 BROOKLYN AVE. Boyle 3325.

FOR SALE - SECOND-HAND FARM WAGON AND second-hand harness, SCOTTT'S PLACE, 125 &

East 3140: Home 31427.

POR SALE—19 HEAD OF ALL-PURPOSE HORSES and mares, weighing from 890 to 1200; all in good condition, from 7 to 10 years old; price $15 up. Good easiny wagms and harmess. 1935 E. SEVENTH 87. Main 3807.

FOR SALE—SCOTCH COLLIE PUPS, REASONABLE, 1341 A South Union. WEST 5353.

Branch offices 623 Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles. Special attention given cases by experienced attorneys. Advice free. Gress P, Day 498, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WANTED—A FORD OR MIGHT TARE FIVE-PASsenser Buick if a barmin; give telephone, Adfrees P, Day 491, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WANTED—BUICK OR OVERLAND, 5-PASS., 151415; most be first-class condition. No dealers.

FIRONE ADJIT.

FREE LEGGL ADIVCE, ALL CASES, PROMPT AND
FREE LEGGL ADIVCE, ALL CASES, PROMPT AND ALL LEGAL MATTERS ATTENDED. CONSULTA-stion free. W. A. JENKINS, 200 March-Strong

FOR SALE—1910 STEVENS-DURYEA, FIRST-CLASS condition, chann for each, or will trade for Ford car. 3427 g. VERMONT.

WANTED — LATE STILE GOWNS, SUITS, RE-modeling; gnarantee fit, style; $2.10 day or piece. Style of the condition of the condition

ELECTRIC MOTORS, Bought,
Exchanged,
One 24-frep annunciator.
J. D. TRUFF, 322 E, Third. Phone AP171. FOR SALE—2 BOILERS, 150-HORSE-POWER EACH, 125-horse-power Corliss emgine, water heaten, pumpa, etc., all in Smt-class condition; will sell cheap; 192 STIMSON BLDG, A1866. ELECTRIC MOTORS REPAIRED, BOUGHT, SOLD, rented and exchanged. THE MOTOR SHOP, 553

EDUCATIONAL—
Schools and Colleges

EXPERIENCED TEACHER COACHES IN ENG-lish, French, Latin, mathematics. Address bu $13, TIMES OFFICE, Passdena.

EWMAN BATHS AND MASSAGE, ATTENDANTS both sexes, 316 S. BROADWAY. Room S. WEDISH MASSAGE, RATHS. ATTENDANTS. BOTH sexes, 710 O. T. JOHNSON BLDG. SUPERB BATHS AND MASSAGE, SUPERBA BLDG. 520 S. Edwy, Suite 304, Attendants both sexes

ISS GRACE ALLEN, BATHS, MASSAGE: ATTEND ants, both sexes. 115% S. BROADWAY, room 14 LOST, FOUND, STRAYED-

APT-BLACK HANDRAG CONTAINING LADY'S Witham wrist watch, black cayx ring, with tamond, and $5. Setween Pice and 14th on Tancora. Thorsias evening Reward, Susset GLEN-ALE SHIM, HOME 2551. DALE SHIW, HOME 2851.

OST-OFF PARK TRANSFER, BLACK LADIES' traveling bag, contained bank book and other subtable users of Charles Roth Bernard: no meetions saked. ROOM 35, 521 OLIVE ST. Phone 11402. 1102.

Out—ON PANADENA SHORT LINE CAR, BOX containing lace walst and other articles. Liball terract for extraction of the ALLEN, 1415.

Servician are, South Pasadena, MALLEN, 1415.

Out—VELVET COAT, FUR TRIMMED, PANCT lising, Reward, Main 8400, McDOWITL, 612.

truck, $500 below cost, for quick cash, Address and mares, weighing from $00 to 1200; all in good condition, from $10 to 19 years oil; prife $15 ways. The price of the price THE SMALL RIGHT HAVELING CONTROL THAT THAY ELING TO THE SWATTERS ADD. THE SWATTERS A TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

Address P, box 464.

Through the deplacement of the contract on the contract of the cont

Solitable reward will be paid for return as any N. SPRING ST. Token Post Cord Co. JOHN R. LAWSON OUT. LOST-GOLD WISH BONN PIN, PEARL STITING. JOHN R. LAWSON OUT.

Write BOX 454, Reno, Nereda.

FREE LEGAL ADIVER, ALL CASES, FROMPT AND Efficient service. 626 SAN PERNANDO BLDG.

BOILERS

BOILERS

And Boilermakers.

Home ABCUZ. 508 CENTRAL BLDG M. dona discussion of the control of

GET YOUR PATENT DRAWINGS! OTHER INVEN-gon satisfied. No attorney fees. KRIEGCER, 442 Scheets Hide., Third and Main. PATENTS, TRADE-MARKS, SECURED THROUGH of sidi system. C. J. WILLIAMS, 1006 Biberoiss

FACIAL AND SCALP TREATMENTS, 740 W. PICO. Boom 5. Formerly 31714 S. Main. MISS GEORGIA RAKER. MANICURING, 662 S. Spring. Phone BROADWAY 7892.

FOR RALE—MY $500 UPRIGHT CHICKERING plane, in good condition, for $145; must be old immediately to stop storage charges; michtell on monthly payments to responsible parties, lek for Mrs. Cannon's plane, stored at $07 g. ROADWAY. PROADWAY.

PROADWAY.

FOR SALE—MY BEAUTIFUL CABINET GRAND PIand for $175; terms, $5 monthly; or will rent, ing discount for each 215 W. NINTH, between 100 and Ronadway.

TO LET—38 MONTHLY, EMERSON UPRIORY PIand, sweet tone, 638 R UNION, Phone 51815; WINTELL-A REPOSSIBLE PARTY WILL TARE bet of care of plane for use of same, PHONE 51851; EAST 1877.

VANTED—600D UNIVERSA.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION-

SADIE GRUMBLING, TEACHER OF VIOLIN, MANdolin, guitar, studies 711 MAJIESTIC THEATER and 850 S. BONNIE BRAE Phone 58910.
CENTLEMAN, EXPERT PLANST OF LEIPSIC
CONSEVATORY, desires pupils; terms moderate.
Proces 5151; WILSLIEBE 551, morning.

SEWING MACHINES-Old and New.

SEWING MACHINER OF EVERY MAKE, SOLD, remied and revaired, some shood ones as low as $15: all guitanteed of money refunded, thoroughir reliable. WHITE SEWING MACHINE AGENCY, $18 W. Sixth & Main 210.

TYPEWRITERS-Of Various Makes

Of Various Makes.

TIPEWAITERS RENTED—

5 MONTHS FOR $5.00 AND UP.

Initial rental anodies if you purchase,
PACTORN REFULLAT TIPEWHITERS,
Prices range $15 to $400.

AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO., INC., 106 & Spring at.

A5013. Phones. Main 3505. Tid S. Spring at.
A5012.

Phones. Main 3059.

RENT NO. 5 OLIVER VISIBLE. 3 MONTEN. 34.
See new model No. 9, fust received. F3334.
Main 9057. THE OLIVER TIPEWRITHER CO.

SEPTEMBER, 1915.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGE
LES, 88: andler, Assistant General Manager of the Times, being duly sworn, declares upon at the following is a true and correct of the daily circulation of said newspa-month of September, 1915:

SEPTEMBER, 1915.

All States West of the Mississippi and Canada form an Educational Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, Oct. 8.—All the States DENVER, Oct. 8.—All the States west of the Mississippi River and the western provinces of Canada are represented on a committee just formed here, the purpose of which is to institute an educational campaign in the interests of rural credit legislation. The appointment of this committee was the result of several days deliberations of committees representing the Investment Bankers' Association, the National Irrigation Congress and the International Farm Congress. Five members from each of these associations are on the committee besides one member each from the western States and provinces.

An agreement on some principle of rural credits is expected to be reached at the first meeting of the full committee, which is to be held in Denver in November. This principle agreed upon is then to be advocated and urged in the next session of Congress.

SLAV SUPPLIES.

Aresnals are Enlarged for Benefit of Russians.

Public Opinion at Tokio Favorable to Move.

Declare Troops will not be Sent to Aid Allies.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]
TOKIO, Sept. 10.—Munitions—not men for Russia—that is the great need of the Entente allies today, say Japa-nese officials. The authorities have repeatedly denied reports that Russia has asked for troops and that Japan will send troops. They are concentrat-

September 18. (Souday) 103.500 for receasing the output of munitions for keytember 29. (Souday) 103.500 for Russia.

The decision to enlarge government arisenals and even establish special factories pleases the military circles of Japan, who see in this an opportunity mot only it is help to help the september 29. (Souday) 103.500 for Russia.

Average for every day of September, 1915. (Soutant 29. (Soutant

VIEW OF THE PRESS.

HALF FULFILLED.

WOMAN TRIES TO KILL HERSELF BEFORE PHYSICIAN FRIEND IS BURIED.

IS BURIED.

IS BURIED.

IS BURIED.

IN DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE! HOOD RIVER (Or.) Oct. 8.—In an effort to fulfill a suicide pact, Mrs. M. F. Shaw attempted to kill herself here today half an hour before the funeral services of the late Dr. E. E. Ferguson, a prominent physician who took his life Wednesday.

According to report, Mrs. Shaw was once engaged to marry Dr. Ferguson, the engagement being broken just before he remarried his divorced wife, Dr. Belle C. Ferguson.

Mrs. Shaw took strychnine. She was rushed to a hospital and the poison removed by a stomach pump. She is now out of danger.

Mrs. Shaw add that she had promised Dr. Ferguson to take her life if he committed suicide, and that she had tried to keep her promise. She is a beautiful young widow.

MAYOR BELL LOSES POINT.

Developments Come Rapidly in Trial of Indianapolis Executive Charged With Conspiracy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Developments came rapidly this afternoon in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell.

Kent Way of trialshing and and general supplies.

VIEW OF THE PRESS.

"There is not a moment's hesitation," says the Japan for the Japan municity, say the Japan surking a prompt response to this full demand for help from Russia. It is the voice of a friend in need. To the fullest capacity of our arsenals, factories and workshops, national or private, we will help our friends, Japan she can help."

Referring to the impracticability of sending troops the newspaper said: "We know full well that our friends our allies, will not ask or expect this country to take the bread from the mouths of our children, to leave the home unprotected, or make future recovery for this country impossible. These are the only limits we set to the share we are prepared to take in the great struggle in which our friends are involved."

Great interest is attached here to references to the European war just made by Baron Takasaki Kato, ex-Foreign Minister, in a series

It is probable that the case will go to the jury Tuesday.

JOHN R. LAWSON OUT.

Union Laborite Convicted of Murder in Colorado Coal Strike is Released on Bonds.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)

TRINIDAD (Colo.) Oct. 8.—John R. Lawson, union labor leader, convicted on a charge of first degree murder on charges growing out of the recent coal strike, was released from the County Jail here tonight on $35,000 bonds.

The bonds were signed by Thomas M. Patterson, former United States Senator, and Verner Z. Reed, capitalist of Denver.

Lawson's release was effected through a recent order of the Supreme Court granting ball.

Lawson emerged smilingly from the bull pen' where with thirty other prisoners he has spent the last three months.

"Hello, John, I'm glad to see you," he said with trembling voice as he sreeted John McLennan, president of the State Federation of Labor, who arrived early tonight from Denver.

With the absurd idea that Germany will become mistress of the world in the long run, and eventually descend upon the Far East, seeking retaliation from Japan.

Hard Seeking retaliation from Japan.

He was impatient, he said, with Japanese alarmists who were obsessed with the absurd idea that Germany will become mistress of the world in the long run, and eventually descend upon the Far East, seeking retaliation from Japan.

He was impatient to conditions in Japan, where the people in general have played the main and declaive part in two geat wars to be one of exhaustion and expressed his unwavering conviction.

He was impatient, he said, with Japanese alarmists who were obsessed with the absurd idea that Germany will become mistress of the world in the long run, and eventually descend upon the Far East, seeking retaliation from Japan.

He was impatient, he said, with Japanese alarmists who were obsessed with the absurd idea that Germany will become mistress of the world in the long run, and eventually descend upon the Far East, seeking retaliation from Japan.

Hard Factorion of the Supplemental of the long run, and even

TO MEET AT EUREKA.

State Federation of Labor Closes its Sixteenth Annual Screed Against

THE CIT AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

H. S., Ryerson resigned yesterday pervise the affair.

as secretary of the Municipal League, to take effect within two months. He stated that his own interests make residing at No. 1252 W.

The South Dakota Society will meet in The Times assembly-rooms Monday evening. W. H. Whalen, formerly of Ruron, S. D., and now an official of the Southern Pacific here, will give a short address. There will be music, cards, dancing and refreshments.

PROTEST HIGHER
INSURANCE RATE.

BUSINESS MEN'S ORGANIZATIONS APPEAL FROM PROPOSED

To Show up Johnson's Scheme.

A special meeting will be heid at Blanchard Hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for discussion of the merits and demerits of Hiram Johnson's antiparty law. A. R. Holston posed by the Board of Underwiters will be the chief speaker and he will show up the absurdities of the bill. An opportunity will be given anyone to take the other side.

Accountants' "Exams."

INCLUDIANT INCLUDIANT

will hast all afternoon and evening. Refreshments will be served.

Isrge "Gym" Classes.
Five hundred women and children have registered in the gymnasium classes at the Y.W.C.A. for regular exercise in Swedish and German gymnastics, folk and interpretative dancing, sames and swimming. Women who have attended the classes in former years meet on Monday and Thursday mornings. The beginners' classes meet on Tuesday and Friday gornings. The evening classes for business young women met in the evening from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Prize Awards Today.

Prizes totaling $21,925 will be awarded at Exposition Park at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the 1915 General Committee's great school and home garden contest. There are over 900 individual winners, while thirty-eight county and forty-five city schools get cash prizes. Awarding of the prizes will be preceded by a band concert and addresses by Chairman Pridham of the Board of Supervisors, Chairman Flint of the 1915 General Committee, Superintendent of City Schools Francis.

Prized Scrapbook Missing.

A prized scrapbook sent to Gen. B. J. Viljoen, Sierra Madre, by M. L. Brennan, was lost for mislaid in the first column of The Times "liner" section.

A prized scrapbook sent to Gen. B. J. Viljoen, Sierra Madre, by M. L. Brennan, was lost for mislaid in the San Fernando Valley by a newspaper carrier and the owner is naturally much distressed and anxious that it be found. The book is ten by thirteen inches and contains Chicago newspaper clippings relating to the Boer war collected at that time, and numerous manuscripts on the same subject. If the finder will kindly leave it at The Times office, or notify this office where it may be obtained, arrangements will be made for the return of the book to the owner, Municipal Dance.

The second of a series of municipal dances held under the auspices of the City Mothers will be given this evening at Columbus Hall. Dances will be given each Saturday evening for six months. The City Mothers will, all be present to chaperone the girls and su-pervise the affair.

as secretary of the Municipal League, to take effect within two months. He stated that his own interests make this necessary.

Ventura County Picnic.

Former residents of Ventura county will hold their semiannual picnic and reunion at Sycamore Grove next Saturday. Picnic lunch will be served at 1 o'clock, with free beans and coffee. The programme will be informal High School Musicale.

The first of a series of artists recttals rendered by the music department of the Los Angeles High School will be Wednesday morning at 16 o'clock, when Morris Stoloff, violinist, and Charles Olerich, planist, will entertain.

Fails Dead at Brenkfast.

O. A. Cambbell, 55 years old, and residing at No. 1252 West Twenty-fourth street, toppled over dead at the breakfast table yesterday morning from heart failure. He had not been sick even for a moment. He was a native of Illinois and had lived in Los Angeles a quarter of a century. In former years he was well known in the produce business and at the time of his death was manager of the Anchor Tent and Awning Company. He leaves a widow and two daughters. Misses. Hazel and Ayleen. No arrangements for the funeral have been made, although it is likely that the Masons, of which Mr. Campbell was a member. will have charge.

of commercial organizations, held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The State Board of Accountancy will noid examinations of candidates for the degree of certified public accountant in Los Angeles and San Francisco in November. The examinations are open to all who desire to apply. Information may be obtained from Reynold E. Blight, Washington Building, who is vice-president of the State board.

Some Civil Service Jobs.

The County Civil Service Commission announces examinations as follows: October 25, steam fitter, 34 a day, plpe fitter, 33 a day; October 15, pharmacist, County Hospital, 3110 a month and one meal a day; October 12, foremen (2) fumigator crew, $4.50 a day. All examinations in the Hall of Records, Application blanks and information from the commission on request.

Church Social and Dance.

A social and dance for the benefit of the Divine Savior Church will be a commission of the traces are ordered.

TEACHER WINS APPEAL.

Church Social and Dance.

A social and dance for the benefit of the Divine Savior Church will be given this evening in Y.M.I. Hall.

No. 1184 South Spring street. The entertainment will be provided by Coff Walker, manager of the Pantages Theater. Police Judge White will please during the provaramme. The behefit was announced for September 27. but was postponed on account of the death of Bishop Conaty. Tickets sold for that date will be received.

Léyal Legion Headquarters Opening.

At 2:20 o'clock next Saturday afterboon the new headquarters of the Southern California Association, Companions of the Military Order of the Leyal Legion will be formally opened at 515 Wilcox Building. All members and persons eligible to membership are invited to attend. The function, which is to be of an informal nature, will last all afternoon and evening. Refreshments will be served.

But the served the second by Board; Now Ordered Reinstated After Hearing Before County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the track of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ordered dropped from the tracker of Education, won his appeal to County Superintendent.

Thomas A. Russell, city school-teacher ord

Myer Siegel & Co.

443-445-447 South Broadway Women's and Misses'

Suits at $2950

You cannot confuse these suits with the ordinary. These suits reflect the high-est grade tailoring and include the best quality materials ever offered in a like priced suit. Here you choose from an uncommon variety of models, and don't forget we specialize in all sizes for women, small women and misses.
(Second Floor)

New Arrivals in Blouses

Charming new blouses, the most effective styles are in dainty colored embroidered Georgette. Pearl button trimmed, in white or flesh. $5 05

Knit Underwear

Splendid assortment women's knit underwear, including vests and tights, 50c up.

Garments of Style, Quality, Lowest Prices

"The Exclusive Specialty House for Feminine Apparel"

San Francisco confirms your selection

Awarded Gold Medal Highest Honor for India-Ceylon Teas San Francisco, 1915

111-113 Hudson St., New York

M. A. NEWMARK & CO., Wholesale Distributors.

Cleanse the Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood: that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They feit "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. Thy tried $.8.8.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herdbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison and with the flow of gure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get $.8.8. from your druggist. Insist upon $.8.8. If yours is a long standing case, write for special advice to $.8.8. Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin taking $.8.8. at once. Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffer-get things tasty and healthful, too—we have them—Luscious American-grown Dates, Alligator Pears, Delicious Berries, Artichokes, New Potatoes, Pimientos, etc.

FOR THE PALATE

Tel Main 550

408 LUDWIG-MATTHEWS CO., West Seventh Street.

AUCTION

J. J. SUGARMAN,
Auction and Commission House
General Auctionee.
Purnturs, Merchandise, Fixtures,
and Salesrooms, 112-114-116 Court St.
(Between Spring and Main.)
2114. —PHONES— P4816.

Rhoades & Rhoades REAL ESTATE, LIVE STOCK, AND GENERAL AUCTIONEERS Guaranteed estimates on household durniture or bought outright for cash. Salesroom 1501-3-5 South Main. Both phones—Main 1259: Home 25679.

THOS. B. CLARK General Auctioneer and Importer of Antique Furniture 840 SOUTH HILL STREET F1907, Broadway 1921

AUCTION

REED & HAMMOND

1053-55 SOUTH MAIN STREET AT 11TH

Nold Auction Sales of Live Stock. Furniture,

Restaurants or Merchandise somewhere every day in the week. Call up F3545. Broadway

2560. for Adven.

AUCTION

$5000 STOCK OF GOODS AT 3725 CENTRAL AVENUE, COMMENCING

Stock comprises Hardware, Tools, Paints, Cutlery, Silverware, Graniteware, Tinware, Queeneware, Chinaware, Hand-painted China, Toys and 1000 other useful articles.

Tues. Oct. 12, 2 p.m. 2 lots, 40x120 ft., also 5-room cottage, 975 Catalina Street.

Have following furniture auction Mon., Oct. 11, 9:30 (14 rooms) 454 N. GRAND AVE. Tues., Oct. 12, 9:30 (7 rooms) 709 VALENCIA ST. STROUSE & HULL, Auctionee 309 Haas Bidg. Bdwy. 1136-

B. FORER CO. tion and Commission Ho 201 No. Spring St.

We buy for each and advance money stocks of merchandise of every descripti Phones: Bdwy. 4279—F5448.

Cal Auction Com. Co.

AUCTION

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, LO

reduced to see level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS — Except for relatively low pressure over Arizons and sing the Atlantic Control of the United States of the Control of the United States. The temperature has risen slightly over the United States of th

LOCAL FORECAST.
For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Saturday; west-to-measure suit, once you wore one. You'd be especially pleased with a $25 Exposition Special— STATE FORECAST:

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. S.—Weather forecast:
SAN FRANCISCO And S.—Weather forecast:
SAN FRANCISCO And Francisco and ricinity: Fair Saturday, except for cloudiness or fog in the early morning: light seet wind.
Northern and Southern California: Fair Saturday; light west wind.
Saturday: Fair Saturday; light seeth sind; sancento Valley: Pair Saturday; light seeth sind; sancento Valley: it's an exceptional value and in-cludes choice of all the latest style suitings, artistically designed and finely finished.

Don't Delay; come in today.

A.K. Brauer & Co. TAILORS TO MEN WHO KNOW.
Two Spring Street Stores
$45-347 and 529-527%

Baseball and Base Bombs.

We prefer the former. Just as you would prefer a Brauer made-

A New Novel with a California Setting by Mary Hallock Foote

The Valley Road

"A novel of sterling merit.
Two generations, parents and children grow and advance with life in tree of the modern freshingly free of the modern freshingly free of the modern cacles, the questionings and advowiderments of the fiction of the hour. A record of sane living, capitally told." — New York Tribune.

"One of the choice novels of the year. A symmetrical, beautiful story, with passages that fire imagination, that smite with pity, that quicken with the stress of life's great moments. Surrounding it all, and one with it, is the colorful California atmosphera." Milwaukse Free

At all bookstores, $1.35 net. HOUGHTON MIFFLIN CO., Boston

Subscribe to the

F. A. TAYLOR,

434 So. Hill St. Save The Baby Use the reliable

HORLICK'S ORIGINAL Malted Milk

Jpbuilds every part of the body efficiently Endorsed by thousands of Physicians Mothers and Nurses the world over for nore than a quarter of a century. Convenient, no cooking nor additional milk required. Simply dissolve in water.

mple free, HORLICK'S, Racine, Wis

No Substitute is "Just as Good" as HORLICK'S. the Original A Contented Mother. A Contented Mother.

A quiet, tranquil mother will transmit a more healthful influence than if she is extremely nervous from undue pain. That is why experienced mothers are constantly urging expectant mothers to use the old time-remedy. Mother's Friend, a dependable external treatment obtained at any drug store. It relieves undue tension on the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion and gently soothes the network of fine nerve threads. It is the one splendid assistant to ease, comfort and safety.

WE ARE MAKING

a special offer on a $6.00 set of teeth that we know cannot be equaled elsewhere under $17.00. We/know it so well that we are willing to make you this proposition—bring us a sample of ANY dentists $12 set of teeth and we'n! duplicate it for $6.00 of the set of $10.00 to $10.0

RUPTURE

ly winds.
For Southern California: Pair Saturday.
STATE FORECAST.

ind.
Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Satur-ay; light northwest wind. da; i light northwest wind.

ARISONA FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Forecast for Arisona: Pair
Baturfay and Sanday; warmer in east partion.

Baturfay and Sanday; warmer in east partion.

Baturfay and Sanday; warmer in east partion.

Baturfay and Sanday arison.

Gauss begint Colorado

Biver, 16. 72-leet; discharge, 8700 second feet.

DENY DRUNKENNESS.

Witness for the Defense in Auto Tragedy Challenge Testimony Driver

The second day of the preliminary a charge of manslaughter, witnesse of the defense offset to a considerable degree the testimony as to intoxication offered by the prosecution. The testimony of Shelley Larson, local patrolman, that he observed Mr. Manderbill's automobile.

testimony of Shelley Larson, local patrolman, that he observed Mr. Mendenhall's automobile signagging along the road and Mr. Mendenhall swaying in his seat as the machine passed him on San Fernando boulevard, was combatted by testimony of 12-year-old Phillip Fitz.

The boy stated he had, with other witnessee, passed Mr. Mendenhall on the Burbank road a few moments previous to the accident, that he seemed to be perfectly sober at that time and slowed down his machine as he passed. Other testimony was introduced by the defense tending to prove the defendant was not under the influence of liquor at the time of the collision.

Justice Palmer, who is hearing the the collision.

Justice Palmer, who is hearing the case, stated the matter of sobriety was immaterial and would have no effect on his verdict.

R. W. Gorten, an auto mechanic in the Cassidy car, testified he smelled liquor on the defendant and declared the fault was entirely Mr. Mendenhall's. Following his testimony the prosecution rested.

The hearing will be continued Mon-prosecution rested.

The hearing will be continued Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Mendenhall was driving a small supply truck to the LO.O.F. sanatorium in Lopez Canyon August 18 when the machine collided with one driven by D. J. Cassidy of No. 4631 East First street at Lincoln avenue and San Fernando boulevard. Mr. Cassidy died from the injuries he sustained.

FIGHT FOR LAND.

Five Contestants Each Lay Claim to Being First to Settle on Santa Barbara Section, The local Land Office looked like a

own meeting yesterday, when five con-

town meeting yesterday, when five contestants for sixty acres of land in the Santa Barbara National Forest presented evidence showing that each of the quintette had settled first on the land on August 11, when it was open for settlement.

The contestants are William E. Sands and Marshal L. Cruse of Los Angeles; Henry H. Schmidt and Annie L. Rose of Surry, and Dr. George O. Nicholson of Long Beach.

So closely is the time estimated by the evidence of the witnesses as to the exact minute when some of the contestants settled on the land that yesterday it was necessary to consult a chronometer watch and compare it with an Ingersoil, carried by one of the party, to determine the exact minute when they started to put up a shack, camped on the land and started a fire to cook their first meal on the new possession.

It is believed that at least a week

new possession.

It is believed that at least a week will be occupied in taking the testimony.

One of the features of the evidence vesterday was the recital of a pitched battle when the grand rush was made as to which of the contestants should be allowed to put their tent up under the shade of an oak tree.

DRIVE OUT SPOONERS.

REDLANDS, Oct. 8. - That there are not enough lights in the city parks and too many dark corners which are infested by "spooners" was the assertion of W. M. Morrison, a retired educator. He appeared before the Tustees and asked that a large light be placed in Library Park just north of the library. "It is as dark as it can be there and the benches are almost always occupied by youngsters who should be home," said Mr. Morrison. "Spooning is the rule and a big light will do more to drive them out than anything I know of," he continued. The Trustees promised to make an investigation as to whether lights were needed in other places in the city parks. re not enough lights in the city

Coronado Agency—334 Spring St. -[Advertisement.

Reliable Dentistry Drs. Lutz & Lutz

I was to be to be the state of the state of 404 S. Hill St.

VITAL RECORD

MARRIAGE LICEN

XXXIV'S YEAR

KNDALL—SEADY. Marcos T. Keball.
Bridy, 19.
KLEDOSA — LAPIN. Samuel Elect. 21.
Lapin, 22.
LEARNED—BUCK. Willard M. Lead.
E. Boke, 39.
AANTA CRUZ—FFELZ. Levens and the control of the contr

BIRTHS. Names, ser, pure and das et al.

BRIGGR Mr. and Mrs. Frank a Day of the Colore S.

BRCGR Mr. and Mrs. Frank a Day of the Colore S.

BRCGR Mr. and Mrs. Frank a Day of the Colore S.

Red street. October 6.

GUERRNA Mr. and Mrs. Rinks R.

Brought S. Mr. and Mrs. Resistant S.

Winnight street. October 6.

GUERRNA Mr. and Mrs. Resistant S.

Winnight street. October 6.

GUERRNA Mr. and Mrs. Resistant S.

Winnight street. October 6.

Gladys atenue. October 1.

Fifth street. October 7.

Fifth street. October 5. Accepted and Swo

Pairall Continues Atta DIVORCE SUITS FILE

RITANN A. G. against Anna.

GRITCHPIELD. Inex M. against Anna.

GRITCHPIELD. Inex M. against Anna.

BAYER. MAYINE R. asainst George

BADCLIFFE Alexander C. against Valley-FIFTED. Fitness against loss.

WATTE-Malelle against Dan F.

WATTE. Adabelle against Dan F. DIVORCE DECREES GAL

OFFICIAL DEATH LIN

DEATHS.

RR. At No. 612 East Perty-seed 8, 1915, William J. Barr, formed of Cal., aged of Years. Funeral at the chapel of Research Pigneros, Monday at 1:20 p.m.

MARQUE, October 8, Cardine & Boston Bestuding at parties of W. A. Sum

ARKER, in Tempico, Men, Guide tor Phote Pariser, and 25 year. Puneral notice later HOADER, October 5, at No. 1815 street, Alice Rhondon, and 67 Funeral Ioday at 2 pm, from ringham & O'Conhor, No. 1816 areans. Internant, Indoorse Offingers. At No. 742 has for October 8, 1915, Mrs. sedents 69 years. Funeral services at the chiral ers. 855 Figueros, Monday, 194 are requested to attend the hoter, A'Delia H. Ellia at the chair holtzer Stras Co. at 1 p.m. toky.

PUNERAL NOTICE

GERTRUDE BALDWIN, Research GUILTY OF SMUGGLING

Jury in Federal Court For Against Two Men After B Many Hours. After a day when lot showed the same in the United States Distitured a verdict of said the case of John 6. George Boring, charsel gling in twenty Chinese landed in September. 181 Berkeley.

landed in September.
Berkeley.
Judge Trippet instractions after court of morning, and at 6 pm had been reached. The second secon morning, and at a had been reached. The if there was likelihood and the foreman declar stood 11 to 1.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Mosely the jury be locked up and the court made as should report at 2 may be agreement had then been would do as Mr. Mosely. The verdict was found time limit expired.

SAUCER ENDS DEBATE Discussion on Reis Wagon Construction Teamster to Go to 1 If one is a teameter, in vogue and drive a wagon. Fred Nelson so Thursday because be far wheeled style, He is to contracting company. wheeled style. He scontracting company, 1625 Santa Fe avenue construction. Mack McKean, driven concern, thinks no content to the second drive a low-two met Tursday in an discussing the high and low wheels. The debate ended received a saucer of wapon left its mais taken to the Received treatment of several left.

In result-getting "liner" section ri powers of Alada

Ever-advancing

The Dynamite Trial. FOUR JURYME

IN FIVE D Quartette of Talesma

Defense Uses Six Peren Challenges; State O

Detective Burns.

been secured and sworn i M. A. Schmidt on the c of having murdered Char laggerty, who was killed i Building. They are W. W. bler, a street-car conducto siding at No. 921 East 7 tieth street; Sanford Wood a retired merchant residi No. 399 South Los Robles nue, Pasadena; C. D. Dani rancher and fruit grown Lankershim, and E. H. h an apartment-house and re rant owner of No. 204 St Redondo Beach. The oath administered to them justore the adjournment of last evening until 10 o'
Monday morning.

Late in the afternoon the khmidt talesman, Henry Pair med, and then began the experemptory challenges. The entitled to ten and the def twenty such challenges. The used but one of these, while fense employed six.

Just before the peremptor

N. 码. 型 School (

French Se ade of very fine French Se Contrasting color; sizes 1 Wash Dresses $1.75 & smartest styles in practic terials and serviceable colors to 14—All extra values. Full Pleat splendid line of new full lodels. Sizes 6 to 14 years In Plaid $3.

Middy Blouses $1.5 Made of fine white Galatea with tan Collar, belf and yoke; stite Diped in colors. Sale Fine H Ultra bargains in highest clever styles and beautiful goods, so out they go at H

Were $1.25 to 2-Clasp Fren

A Glove you can depend up qualities. Made with pique broidered backs—Black will We can fit you perfectly. Kid Gloves $1.75
Two-clasp Glace-Kid Gloves
overseam sewn Paris point
A very light weight French dress wear. Black, white colors.

Merode U The recent cool nights have fall Underwear. Better act time to be getting your U $1.00 Union Suit you can be every style you can ask for New Fall weights—Light

Sale $1.00 B Box Hosier 3 Pairs for $1.00

A Sale—The Latest Effects All women love dainty necky conceits at the most attract —Pick out a few pieces from Collar and Cuff Sets in hems Georgette Crepe; also in hand dered transparent Marquisette. Chiffon sets in black and with ecta.

-Many varieties in lace-trim
well as tailored designs. Sheykh & Li

VITAL RECORD

BIRTHS.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED.

DIVORCE DECREES GRANTED

OFFICIAL DEATH LIST

aged of venta, and of Ryman for meral at the chapel of Ryman for Meralsy at 1:30 p.m.

Manshers of Arlor Vitne Rebailsh Low, as a saw recommend to attend the function of all the charge of R combinator firms On at 1 p.m. today.

GENTRUDE BALLWIN, Recording forms.

GUILTY OF SMUGGLING.

G. against Anna.
ELD. Ince M. against Matthew R.
nels against James V.
Mayme B. against George Brass.
E. Alexander C. against Blanche W.
(TO. Frances against John.
EV. L. L. against Edna L.
Adabelle against Dan P.

MARRIAGE LICENS

POPULATION | By the Pederal Consus (1916)-318.196 | By the City Directory (1915)-318.197

TXIV" YEAR.

The Dynamite Trial.

TOUR JURYMEN IN FIVE DAYS

stette of Talesmen are Accepted and Sworn.

dense Uses Six Peremptory Challenges; State One.

irall Continues Attacks on Detective Burns.

Pour permanent Jurymen have secured and sworn to try E. A. Schmidt on the charge rty, who was killed in the on of the original Times at No. 921 East Twenred merchant residing at re, Pasadena; C. D. Daniels, a him, and E. H. Miller, partment-house and restau-owner of No. 204 Strand, stered to them just be-before the peremptory challenges were begun the defense asked that the court proceed to the securing of a thirteenth man as juryman, but the court announced that this would not be acted upon until the full jury of twelve is secured.

The State's challenge came first, and it had Henry Palmer, the last man selected, removed from the box. Then it rested. The defense then challenged George W. Alexander, C. C. Casaboom, Jacob P. Squire, P. J. Tarr, H. L. Mc-Cabe and A. M. Allen, J. W. Brown, one of the jurymen who was passed, was excused from service by the court because of ill-health and the probability that he would be unable to stand the siege of the long trial.

Just before the challenging began, Juror Imbler requested the privilege of cerrecting his testimony. He had stated that he had never belonged to a union. In his correction, he stated stated that he had never belonged to a union. In his correction, he stated that at one time he had joined a meat-cutters' union, but soon dropped out. The court announced that in order to expedite the case it was advisable that an adjournment be taken until Monday morning, in order to give time to the court and the counsel to make required investigations.

NEED NEW VENIER Only eighteen men remain of the gular venire of fifty-one men from been drawn. At the rate of procedure during the week just closing the entire list will be exhausted, probably by Tuesday night or Wednesday forenoon. Then will come up the question of securing another venire. It is understood that there are yet about 190 names in the box from which the under the provisions of the old law requiring that a juryman must be a property owner. The new law reprobable that the defense will again renew its attempt to secure jurors drawn under the new statute.

All of these were placed in the box drawn under the new statute.

After the adjournment of court, and then began the exercise of mayter challenges. The State is not of the first week was practically as much progress as he had anticipated. When Schmidt was brought into court yesterday morning, he took particular pains to show to the newspaper representatives a telegram he of the security of the first week was practically as much progress as he had anticipated. When Schmidt was brought into court yesterday morning, he took particular pains to show to the newspaper representatives a telegram he

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1915. -EDITORIAL SECTION. Dream Realized.

OPEN WAY TO DEVELOPMENT

Harbor Railroad to be Put into Operation.

Route Leased on Toll Basis to Pacific Electric.

All Common Carriers Given

Equal Facilities.

Arrangements for the operation of the Municipal Terminal Rallway at the Harbor were completed by the Harbor Commission yesterday through the issuance of a permit to the Pacific Electric Railway to switch and operate cars on the city's rails. This action, in the opinion of the Harbor in the opinion of the Harbor were completed by the lessuance of a permit to the Pacific Electric line haul car is made in the case of the spur serving the First-street wharf and for switching on this celetric Railway to switch and operate cars on the city's rails. This action, in the opinion of the Harbor will allow the Sait Lake to connect with the municipal lines at Wilming-ton by making the same rates from points on the east side of the harbor to the connection with the city rails as to the connection with the city rails as the Salt Lake gets from points on the west side of the harbor to the point of connection. All of these rates will be filed with the State Railroad Com-mission and the Interstate Commerce Converted to 2. Commission."

According to the terms of the agree ment reached yesterday, the Pacific Electric will furnish all motive power and cars to handle the traffic on the and cars to handle the traffic on the municipal tracks. The railroad is to pay the city 31 for each loaded freight or express car on which it gets the line haul. For switching cars en-tirely on city tracks, the Pacific Elec-tric will receive 60 per cent, of the switching charge and the city 40 per cent. On cars moving over the Pamarbor Commission yesterday through the issuance of a permit to the Pacific Electric Railway to switch and operate cars on the city's rails. This action, in the opinion of the Harbor Commission, puts into operation one of the most important projects in connection with the development of the city harbors.

The order issued by the Harbor of a revocable permit to the Pacific Electric is from the municipal warves that are slow as those to all other wharves as they may be required to serve steamships. The form the first of a revocable permit to the Pacific Electric is required to handle the cars of any other railroad which may connect with the municipal terminal, and it is also gives the city trackage rights to the two miles of Pacific Electric rails, including the draw bridge between the permit of the Harbor.

According to Secretary Matson of the Harbor Commission, this opens up all of the city's harbor improvements at Wilmington and San Pedro to all railroads on equal terms, accomplishing the Object for which the city has been working for years, and it is done without expense to the city other than for rails to serve its facilities.

"The one string which the Board of Harbor Commissioners holds on other harbor facilities," said Secretary Matson. "This cone string which the Board of Harbor Commissioners holds on other harbor facilities," and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed the city the same access to their harbor facilities, and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed as the provided and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed as the provided and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed as the provided and the same rates as they have to the municipal farmed as the provided as the same access to their harbor farmed as the provided ast

SEES VICTORY FOR PARTIES

Ohio Governor Declares the Power of Sanity.

Republican Ideals Need of Emphatic opposition to the John no-party propaganda and an appeal for support of sane Republican ideals marked the address of Gov. Frank

TIME FOR THOUGHT.

"And let me tell you this—you good neighbors who have come out to give me this royal, hearty welcome—there never was a time in the history of the country when there was a greater need of serious consideration of political matters by the thoughtful people than there is today. And you can't lay all the blame on the scheming politicians when the laws that are enacted, and their enforcement, do not meet with your approval—if you are too busy with your daily affairs to seriously participate in politicial development.

"This one further fact presents itself to my mind—that you, in this State, ideal in many respects, of all people need the support and protection of Republican policies. With your vast harvests of citrus fruit each year, and with one-third of the nation's sugar produced within your borders—a sane, sensible Republican tariff is of the utmost importance to you. And I most emphatically believe the industries of our own nation should be developed and supported before we undertake to develop the industries of any other country."

THE IMPOSSIBLE HAPPENS.

A Deserving Democrat Turns Down a Government Job—Commissionership Not for Porter.

ship Not for Porter.

A new record was hung up in the Federal Building yesterday when Rufus C. Porter, an attorney, recently here from Texas, declined appointment as commissioner of the United States District Court, vice Charles N. Williams, whose four-year term of office expires today.

And thereby hangs an interesting tale. When the matter of naming a successor to Lynn Helm as referee of the United States District Court for Los Angeles county was put up to California, He Says.

California, He Says.

California, He Says.

Executive Warmly Welcomed and Much Entertained.

The same of the United States District Court for Los Angeles county was put up to Judges Bledsoe and Trippet, some time ago, there were two leading candidates for the fat post. One was Force Parker, who was afterward given the place, and Mr. Porter, Judge Trippet is a special friend of Porter and favored his appointment, but Judge Bledsoe was a Parker, man and finally was able to win over Judge Trippet.

and finally was able to win over Judge Trippet.

The referee snap gone, the selection of a successor to Mr. Williams was next. On account of the ruling of the then Atty.-Gen. McReynolds two years ago, Mr. Williams was ineligible for reappointment.

Then Judge Bledsoe, probably desiring to even things up for Mr. Porter, recommended him to Judge Trippet for the commissionership, and of course the latter was pleased thereat.
But Mr. Porter has concluded that he does not want the place, and the judges are now in the air about the office. The post pays fees and is worth only about $100 a month, which is not enough for the Texas Democrat.
Someone else will later be agreed on by the judges.

BOMBARDS JOHNSON CAMP.

BOMBARDS JOHNSON CAMP.

Col. Young Wins Plandits of Rotarians when He Declares Dangers in Slaying Parties. Declaring adoption of the propose inst. would throw the control of the State into the hands of individuals State into the hands of individuals and destroy the power of the people. Col. Lafayette Young, former United States Senator from Iowa, yesterday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club threw bombs into the camp of Goy. Johnson and the few greedy and selfish politicians backing him.

"The hope of the country is its young men," the eloquent speaker said. "Politics will be pure and forceful as long as young men are interested in it.

"There can be no question about the purity of politic, being protected more under party regulation than by individual or unrestrained personal government."

Col. Young also spoke at length on the European war and when he concluded the address the results of the purity of the concluded the address the results of the political series of the concluded the address the results of the people of the political series of the people of the political series of the people of the people of the political series of the people of the the European war and when he con cluded his address, he was given a rising vote of thanks by the Rotarians.

FRAT MEN'S BANQUET. FRAT MEN'S BANQUET.
The annual complimentary banquet of Southern California chapter of Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity, to the freshmen class of U.S.C. dental college was held last evening at Hotel Clark. Dr. Julio Endelman was toastmaster. Irwin J. Wells, grand master, was one of the principal speakers, Dr. B. B. McCollom was chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

BOLD RUSE TO GAIN LIBERTY?

Realty Operator, in Jail, is Indicted as Forger.

Deed Presented as Bond has False Names and Seal.

Executed in Cell, is Belief; Hunt for Die Vain.

with forgery. It is alleged he forged names and a justice's seal to a deed which was later presented to Judge Craig as security for Canfield's appearance for trial. The prisoner is supposed to have written the deed and attached the seal while he was confined in a cell.

That a secret' indictment was returned against a man who is in fall is explained by the fact that suspicion rests upon others in connection with the alleged forgery.

Where Canfield secured the alleged bogus die and where he kept it concealed are problems county detectives have not solved. Early yesterday morning they hurried to the prisoner's cell and searched it thoroughly but without result. Last night it was stated the die must have been taken from Canfield's cell between Thursday afternoon, when the indictment was returned, and yesterday morning. The deed, which was repudiated by Judge Craig on the ground it did not represent enough property. Canfield's bond being fixed at $20,000, was pre-an innocent party to the salege.

Canfield is said to have gained the sympathy of the woman through representations of his innocence, and when he asked her to present a deed for a ranch near Covina as a bond for his liberty, she consented to do so. The deed is said to have represented the transfer of a ranch from one A. M. Seeley, the document having been apparently duly registered and sealed. A notary named Egbert, and living in Inyo county, was sup-

CAN'T MAKE 'EM SHOUT FOR ANTI-PARTY BILLS.

Governor Departs with Peeve Because of Lassitude of Southern Following and will Return Soon "on State Business"-His Motive Believed to be Ambition to Wear Toga.

Business"—His Motive Believed to be Ambition to Wear Toga.

OV. JOHNSONT recent visit to of the Hale. Senthers California, and with one-third of the mean pointment to him. He came down from Sacramento via the valley route and returned by the third of the Hale. Senthers California, and the one-third of the mean pointment to him. He came down from Sacramento via the valley route and returned by the canal, preaching the destruction of the canal, preaching the destruction of the canal preaching the destruction of the canal preaching the destruction of the canal preaching the canal pr

Music Thru a Real Diamond No Needles to Change

11111

The diamond stylus is the secret through which Mr. Edison gave to the world the perfected phonograph—the New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph. This finely mounted, high polished diamond brings out those delicate overtones and fine shades of sound that give character and richness. The original is there—with all its distinctive beauty of

The New Edison Diamond Disc

The triumph of Mr. Edison's great inventive gentus. Here, at last, is a phonograph that reproduces the voice and instrumental music with absolute fidelity to the original— human, life-like, natural. What all music lovers have been waiting for. Come in and hear your favorite record on the New Edison. It will be a revelation to you. No obli-

Prices $60 to $450 Easy Terms

Call or write for beautiful descriptive catalog of the Diamond Dise and Diamond Amberola. Send us your mail orders.

SOUTHERN ALIFORNIA MUSICIO Frank J. Hart, President. 332-34 SO. BROADWAY, LOS ANGELES.
Branches: Pasadena, Riverside, San Diego.

GUILITY OF SMUGGLING. Jury in Pederal Court Finds Verisians Against Two Men After Deliberates After a Jay when ballot after believe to the same deadlock, a grain the United States District Centre turned a verdict of guility last sight turned a verdict of guility last sight turned a verdict of guility last sight turned averdict of guility last sight turned as the serving in twenty Chinese who was landed in September, 1912, at his landed been reached. The court amount and the foreman declared the set of the locked up for the safe and the court made an order tanded the court made an order the should report at 9 p.m., and fi se should report at 9 p.m., and fi se should do as Mr. Moody wished. The verdict was found before set the limit expired. SAUCER ENDS DEBATE

3 Pairs for $1.00

BAUCER ENDS DEBATE.

Discussion on Relative Merits
Wagon Construction Cause
Tramster to Go to Hospital.

If one is a teamster, one only
In vogue and drive a low-she wagon. Fred Nelson got his face Thursday because he favored the wheeled style. He is and live at contracting company. He drived the contracting company. He drived champions a wagon of low-she construction.

Mack McKean, driver for the concern thinks no one who apcates what is what in teamster would drive a low-wheeled again
two met Thursday in a cate saw of the contraction on the contraction.

The debate ended wheels.

The debate ended wheels.

The debate ended wheels.

The debate ended wheels
weapon left its mark and
weapon left its mark and
weapon left its mark and taken to the Receiving functions treatment of several lons cus.

In result-getting quality "liner" section rival the may powers of Aladdin's Lamp

N. B. Blackstone Co. $18-320-322 South Broadway School Girls' Apparel

had here about the best assortment of wanted wearables, for and school girls, in the city, and at prices that will mean quite —High-class makers represented with their finest offerings. French Serge Dresses $6.50

ses $1.75 & $2.50

of very fine French Serge with full pleated skirt; collar and vestee training color; sizes 10 to 14. A most unuqual value at $6.50. Smart New Furs Full Pleated Skirts for Girls did line of new full pleated skirts for young girls—very latest Bizes 6 to 14 years.

In Plaid $3.25. In Navy Serge $3.50.

Middy Blouses $1.50
Late of fine white Galatea with PuriCollar, belf and yoke; stitched and Middy Blouses $3.25 Stylish affairs in navy flannel. Made with wide collar and trimmed with either white or black braid. Sale Fine Handbags Half Price

Utra bargains in highest grade leather Hand Bags—Finest leathers, dever styles and beautiful workmanship. We need the room for new loods, so out they go at HALF PRICE.

Were $1.25 to $15.00-NOW 65c to $7.50 2-Clasp French Glace Kid Gloves

A Give you can depend upon for its smartness and wearing $ 175 miles. Made with pique seam; two-toned heavy silk emblacks—Black with white and white with black. Kid Gloves $1.75

Two-clasp Glace-Kid Gloves with the seems sewn Paris point backs. A full line of the famous "Rayser" double-tipped Silk Gloves in two-clasp double-tipped Silk Gloves in two-clasp style. Shown in black and colors.

50c and $1.00 Pair

Merode Union Suits $100 The recent cool nights have surely made you think of fall Underwear. Better act on these thoughts, for it's time to be getting your Underwear ready. The best $1.00 Union Sult you can buy—of course, it's a "Merode," and comes in stary style you can ask for.

New Fall weights—Light, medium, heavy.

Sale $1.00 Black Silk Stockings

Box Hosiery

Hundreds of Pairs Famous "Onyx" Make 65C All Sizes, at Pair...

A special event in which every pair of Hose offered is reduced 35c in price. Every woman should participate. Black and colors. A Sale—The Prettiest and 65C Latest Effects in Neckwear

All women love dainty neckwear, and here are the prettiest and freshest excits at the most attractive price to be found anywhere in the city.

Color and Color from the following:

Color and Conf Sets in hemstitched and transparent Marquisette.

Late and Conf Sets in hemstitched and Color and Col Sheykh & Lissue Handkerchiefs

tirely new assortments just received.

Inc sheer qualities with colored borders.

Sould one Handkerchief fade in color we give six new ones free.

Sould be thandkerchiefs of face in color we give six new ones free.

Sould be thandkerchiefs of face in color we give six new ones free.

Moto-Initial Embroidering to order.

the ninth excursion to the fairs at San Francisco and San Diego which The Times has sent out in the last seven months.

Times excursions, are taking advantage of the excursion, which left last night.

The party travels in their own special train and will arrive at Santa Cruz for breakfast this morning. The visitors will be received there by Mayor Howe and the leading citizens of the interesting seasied town. After breakfast this morning the big redwood trees, six miles from Santa Cruz. Following a brief stay among the trees the party will proceed to San Francisco, where such conditions will take the members through San Francisco to the Inside Inn, where they will go direct to the rooms reserved for them. After funch the party will return to Los Angeles on the 14th inst.

The party will return to Los Angeles on the 14th inst.

The party will return to Los Angeles on the 14th inst.

The party will return to Los Angeles on the 14th inst.

The following is the personnel of the party will return to Consar Ackerman, Miss Marie Ackerman, Mrs. F. M. Ackley.

Mrs. Grace Bonnard, Mrs. S. L. Bennett, Franklin Bell, Mrs. Charles Barrington, Jr. Miss Ella Rashore, H. F. Basley, Mrs. C. Comer, E. R. Conger, Mrs. L. C. Comer, E. R. Conger, Mrs. L. C. Comer, E. R. Conger, Mrs. L. C. Comer, E. R. Conger, Mrs. S. D. Chillison, Mrs. L. D. Chillison, Mrs. L. D. Chillison, Mrs. L. D. Chillison, Mrs. L. D. Challed, Los Carson, Mrs. E. J. Chandler, Los Carso

Arson, Mrs. E. J. Chandler, Lorenthandler.
Mrs. D. B. Dodson, M. C. Dyer, Miss.
Pearl Dyer, P. T. Durfy, Miss. Ella.
Durfy, G. L. Dennis, Mrs. G. L. Den-

Miss G. C. Fortier, Mrs. C. L. Field.
Thomas Gould, Mrs. Thomas Gould,
V. M. Griswold, Mrs. W. M. Griswold.
Miss Lillian Hedges, Donald Huff.
R. Hardfuty, Mrs. M. S. Hart, Miss.
C. Hart, Mrs. M. Hess, Mrs. S. A. tume, H. L. Heffner, Mrs. Berths leffner, Miss Alice Hawkinson.
Mrs. J. K. Ingalls.
Miss Martha Jacob, Mrs. Edna D.
ohnson.

Miss Martha Jacob, Mrs. Edna D. Johnson.

Mrs. C. F. Kemp, C. F. Kemp, F. E. Kemp, Mrs. H. H. Kerckhoff, William Klump and Raiph Klump.

Miss Dora Lamar, R. W. Lord, Mrs. R. W. Lord.

Mrs. A. E. Manss, Miss Thelma Manss, Miss Ida Maul, Miss Mildred McKim, Mrs. N. J. Miner, Miss Mary Miner, F. R. Miner, Mrs. Ed A. Moody, Mrs. Ed A. Moody, A. Monckon, Mrs. A. Monckton, Mrs. E. May.

Miss Myrtle Neu.

Miss Mary Olewiler.

Mrs. J. S. Parsons, Mrs. Preuss, Mr. Preuss, Kenneth Preuss, Preuss's naid, F. X. Präffinger, Miss Mina Pfaffinger.

S. L. Rice, Mrs. S. L. Rice, N. E. Rice, Mrs. F. C. Rice, Mrs. N. E. Rice, Mrs. Mrs. Mollie Rhodes, Mrs. N. B. Rairden, Mrs. May. Mary Rouse.

Miss Kate Vogel.

Miss Gladys Watkins, Miss Alice oodham and Miss Zella Wetmore.

TWO IN SAME TRAP.

Chinese Peddler Robbed—Partner Incensed Till Identical Negro Takes His Wallet by Old Ruse.

When Wing Sing, a Chinese vege-table and fruit vender, returned table and fruit venuer, recurrent Thursday to his home, No. 319 Apa-blasa street, and told his partner, Loo Chu, he had been robbed by a negro on Figueroa street, his partner was justly incensed. He upbraided Wing Sing aggressively as a careless and un-worthy partner. He said it served Wing Sing right and he ought to stand the loss.

Wing Sing right and no out the wagon out. He went over Wing Sing's territory. And in the afternoon when he got to Eighth and Valencia streets, the same negro who had held up Wing Sing stopped him. He bought the same fruit, for the same amount, and tendered the same $20 bill in change, and when Loo Chu unthinkingly reached for his wallet, the negro seized it in the same way he had seized Wing Sing's, and fied in the same manner, on a bicycle.

Thursday he had to abandon the bicycle to get up greater speed with his legs. Yesterday his bicycle sufficed.

ratiroading" when John Denair passed

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

A Satirical Answer.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—(To the editor of The Times:) One of your editorial captions, October 7, aaks:

"Where does President Wilson stand on the main question?

Here is the answer:

President Wilson does not stand on any question. President Wilson sits down on every question. Just as a hen sits on a door knob.

Then waits for results.

The results are the same in both cases.

J. E. CRANE.

President Wilson does not stand on any question. President Wilson sits down on every question. Just as a hen sits on a door knob.

Then waits for results.

The results are the same in both cases.

J. E. CRANE.

SMUGGLERS BUSY.

Tightening of Land Lines and New Power Boat Sends Contraband Runners Far to Sea.

The tightening of the land lines on the Chinese smugglers has caused an increase in the ocean traffic, and within the week reports have been made to Capt. Charles T. Connell, chief of the local immigration bureau, of a big load of contrabands that was successfully landed in the vicinity of Monterey.

The completion of the government's

TIMES" PARTY

OFF FOR FAIR.

Denair trained a constantly-changing body of subordinates, many of whom later rose to hish positions in the railroad world.

Short services will be said over the body of the dead railroad man at the what is afterneon. The San Bernardino lodge of Elks will be in charge. The body will be shipped to San Francisco for burial. Mr. Denair is survived by but one near relative, a son, John Denair, Jr., of San Francisco.

Following service in the Civil War as a youth and participation in the battle of Gettysburg and other ensembles of the Army of the Potomac. Mr. Denair entered the service as youth and participation in the battle of Gettysburg and other ensembles of the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroad, now a part of the Big Four System. Later he was master of transportation of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway, and when that road was taken over by the Santa Fe became superintendent of the desert division, with headquarters at Redelas.

Retiring from service eight years for the world's fair left last night on a Southern Seatife train de luxe. This is the ninth excursion to the fairs at

to center his efforts in the great Northwest.
Flourishing colonization societies now exist in Florida, Texas and other Southern States. Father Sherman has been employed by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis and Richard Currans, well known here by his association with the Salt Lake Railroad, as the advance agent or scout for introducing the colonization plan to the people of the State of Washington and the surrounding country. The idea of the society is to have churches and schools erected and ready before the colonists are invited to go and occupy the lands. The promoters also plan to have an amusement hall and everything will tend to make a settlement attractive. Railroad magnates, Father Sherman says.

to make a settlement attractive. Rail-road magnates, Father Sherman says, favor the scheme because the develop-ment of lands obviously increases freight and other business. Religious authorities favor it because it is bet-ter for the people to lead the sim-ple rural life than to be in crowded and congested centers of activity and excitement. All benevolent organiza-tions are willing to co-present in the

Saturday—The Day to Outfit Children

S ATURDAY is always a busy day at Beeman & Hendee's, because parents who wish to outfit Boys, Girls and Intermediates with high-grade Apparel at reasonable prices invariably favor this store, because of our exclusive at each other.

Handsome one-piece Serge Dresses for school and general wear— 55 up

Novelty Dresses, less conservative, in serge, and Ottoman cloth combined with bright 217 CA bright $17.50 UP

The season's newest styles in Wash Dresses for girls between 6 $1.50 UP

Company, 173 Breadway, New York Perfect T

Tea is the acme of perfection, being all pure, Black, Mixed or Green.

Four Jurymen Chosen.

(Continued from First Page.)

(Louncil, No. 14. of Chicago, which said that 16.000 organized painters of the Windy City stand back of him.

"We want you and Dave Caplan to know that we are with you to the last inch." said this telegram.

J. W. Brown of Long Beach was the first Juror under examination yesterday morning. He stated that had been a farmer; believes The Times Building was dynamited, but would give a fair and impartial trial to Schmidt if he undertook to prove that the destruction of the building was from some other cause.

In the examination of this Juror, Chief Counsel have the defense that the destruction of the building was from some other cause.

In the examination of this Juror, Chief Counsel Fair all, for the defense and it.

"We want you to understand that we are not looking for a compromise warding the form of the state of mind he was in regarding the last of mind he was in regarding the state of mind he was in regarding the s

1.31

READ WELL AN WIN THIS CO

Prizes for Best Answe List of Questions.

> Familiarity with "The Ti Columns Essential.

TATURDAY MORN

Test is to Name Adver from Descriptions, riedge contest to be opened fire, have one week in which to the problem.

If in doubt as to the firm repres it contestants are at liberty to a set the telephone or inquire drem those whom they believe to the firm the telephone or inquire drem those whom they believe to the telephone or inquire drem those whom they believe to the telephone or inquire drem these modernocity answers, and their questions are asked to only it to give all the ald possible. It is a the telephone of the telephone

TOMAN STILL MISSING.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8.—Profoury atery continues to surround transa temperature of Mrs. Any rawood one of the best-known of the best-known of the best-known of the city, who left her by Wednesday morning and we not have a net best-known of the set.

Theatres-Amuser OROSCO THEATER BLANC

BURBANK THEATER-"THE B

"UNDE EMPRESS THEATER-WORLD'S SE

PRINITY AUDITORIUM

UINN'S SUPERBA-

SINS OF THE M

ALLY'S BROADWAY 7 DONALD

"The Voice

Matince 2:30 3 Sho BROOKS THEATER
OPENING SATURDAY, OCTOR
THE TWO ORPHANS

J.7%.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Important to all Merchants

The Courts Have Spoken

Three judges of the Federal Court sitting en banc at Portland, Oregon, have just decided that the law passed at the last session of the Legislature imposing a five per cent tax on the gross business of all merchants using trading stamps and coupons, and of trading stamp and coupon companies, doing business in Oregon, is unconstitutional.

The decision follows the case of Little et al. vs. Tanner, from the State of Washington, in which it was held to be legitimate for merchants to use premiums as a discount for cash trade and for the purpose of attracting and building up business.

President George B. Caldwell, of the Sperry & Hutchinson Co., and Hamilton Corporation, who is now making a visit to their many merchants and representatives on the Pacific Coast, states:

"The use of trading stamps and similar devices is neither more nor less than a legitimate system of advertising. As well might legislatures attempt to classify separately those who advertise in the columns of the daily papers or use electrical signs, bill boards or other devices and impose a tax upon them to the exclusion of others engaged in the same business who do not so advertise. The attempted classification is purely arbitrary and vicious class legislation and strictly a violation of the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

"The Sperry & Hutchinson Co. is the oldest and largest premium house in the world. We employ expert trade analysts and give a service measured by actual redemptions of over 90% of our stamps issued. We employ publicity experts and annually spend several hundred thousands of dollars with newspapers and magazines. We do not invade their field nor do they ours. We cooperate with publishers to get results for our merchants and manufacturers. We invite the fullest publicity of our system and methods in the interest of fair play. The day is now past when competition is to be prevented by associational methods which are to the great disadvantage of individual members. Freedom of business gives every merchant and manufacturer the right to say whether or not he shall use premiums as a permanent business builder. To-day over 30,000 merchants of the United States are using our system successfully.

Copies of this Oregon and other decisions on the use of premiums may be had by calling upon any of our principal agents in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Portland, Oregon; Seattle and Spokane, Wash.

The Sperry & Hutchinson Co. 2.7. Green Trading Stamps

The Hamilton Corporation Hamilton Coupons

Geo. B. Caldwell, President

(State of the state of the MAN

Los Angeles Branch

345 South Hill St.

Awakening

ER 9, 1915.—[PART II]

REAFFIRM DECISION.

2.36

ssed

ner,

o be ount

and king

und ndred zines.

of our e day ed by every ner or siness Inited e use Cal.;

tion

uth Hill St.

You're Eligible.

PAD WELL AND WIN THIS COIN.

List of Questions.

Columns Essential.

tis to Name Advertisers

ad will be offered to thos able to correctly tell who set.

si-in fact, a large number—
si-in fact, a large number—sell-known business firms of yell-known business firms of yell-known business firms of
yell-known business firms of yell have a description of sistes or of some special prodinterest of some special prodinterest or some slogan, or some other of identifying them, but withstion of their names. It will the readers of The Times to answers, and your position to some of the premium winners determined by your careful of the regular advertising:
is only one qualification for ty to contest, and that is that not an employee's family,
smber of an employee's family,

TWO HURT; ONE JAILED.

Investigation of Crash, Fatal to Horse, Leads to Police Seeing Sec-

FOUR SEA DOGS. MORE DIVERS.

MANDS WEST WILL MAKE.

"Our Present Unpreparedness Means that We Invite War," De-clares Local Member of Congress, Saying Battle Cruisers and Sub-marines will be Asked For.

Four batttle cruisers for the Pacifi in Congress at the coming session mixed club at the Westminster.

"We insure our lives and our proposition, as a ricles will be published in the correct answer given the Contestants will, there come week in which to solve less.

"Now, no one of us is an advocate of militarism. But the lesson of the moment is that the lust of conquest may that will command the respect of other nations. Our present unpreparedness means that we invite war. "Now, no one of us is an advocate of militarism. But the lesson of the moment is that the lust of conquest may head to anything. It is not beyond the bounds of possibility that some of our sister nations may take advantage of our unpreparedness. "Here on the Pacific Coast we are appeally open to attack. We have nothing on this coast for defense, and the lad possible.

"Here on the Pacific Coast we are appeally open to attack. We have nothing on this coast for defense, and the lad possible.

"Here on the Pacific Coast we are appeally open to attack. We have nothing on this coast. We want fifty of these built on this coast. Because we want them to stay here.

"We also want four battle crujsers, the wait of the solution, high-speed rating and the like, that we need in the defense of this coast."

Speaking further of the submarine programme, Congressman Stephens stated that the demand will probably be for coast-defense divers, as distinguished from sea-spoing craft, which cost $1,250,000 each, while the singuished from sea-spoing craft, which cost $1,250,000 each, while the first average but $555,000 in cost.

Regarding the defenses of Hawaii, which cost $1,250,000 each, while the first average but $555,000 in cost.

Regarding the defenses of Hawaii, which was each of the sead of the se "We insure our lives and our prop

entres-Amusements-Entertainments

OSCO THEATER— Pourth Big Week Begins Sunday Night BLANCHE RING

URBANK THEATER-

"THE BIG IDEA" wood and Frances Slosson and all-star Burbank Company BEGINNING TOMORROW MATINEE

"UNDER COVER" of MISS FRANCES RING. Usual Burbank prices. Worth $2.08. PRESS THEATER—

WORLD'S SERIES BASEBALL wire from baseball grounds to Empress Theater. Every minute play is show

Dong open 16 a.m. Game called 11 a.m. Admission 25 cents. NITY AUDITORIUM-

ER Sat.

THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS VIOLINIST BUT SEATS NOW-75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50. MN'S SUPERBA—CEXTRA SHOW 10 AM POSITIVELY LAST TWO DAYS

SINS OF THE MOTHERS N. Y. Sun's $1000 Prize Film.

Asia Stewart, Earle Williams, Julia Swayne Gordon, Next Week. "Judge Not, or The Unwritten Law." LY'S BROADWAY THEATER— 833 S. Bdwy

DONALD BRIAN in "The Voice in the Fog" Mest Week-PAULINE PREDERICK in "ZAZA."

THEDA BARA in "SIN" 8HOWS AT 11, 12:20, 1:40, 2:00, 4:20, 5:40, 7:00, 8:20 and 9:40 p.m.

100 2:30 3 Shows Tonight 10, 20, Starting 6:30 30c THEATER-

TYPES

Esther pushed her way through entrance, conscious that her Sunday Two persons were slightly injured, a horse was killed and an automobile wrecked carly last night near Avenue 20 and Dayton street, when a truck gardener's wagon and the motor car collided. The injured were taken to the Receiving Hospital but later removed to their homes.

L. H. Seruntine, No. 805 East court street, and Miss Else Winkle. No. 900 East Pico street, in a small automobile truck, crashed into the wagon, which was driven by Simon Bushman, a ranchman.

Both occupants of the automobile were hurled to the street and one of horses attached to the wagon was so injured it was shot later. At the concerning to me sum in gold for the correct the first accident happened. No one was injured, but Brown was arrested and charged with driving an automobile truck, or she was going to meet Sam, Sam the handsome.

While the police were investigating the wreck H. L. Brown of Tropico, driving a large automobile, crashed into the side of another wagon less than 100 feet from the spet where the first accident happened. No one was injured, but Brown was arrested and charged with driving an automobile with circles while the sum of these columns. The sum of fellows that I can cop a queen—every time."

The girl winced at the "every time," but blushed at the sugar coating. Sam was an object of suspicion and dislike among parents, but every higher dreamed of receiving attention from the handsome young idler at her side. He leaned to her with such ardor, it drew the gaze of every one on the car.

BISHOP'S WILL AIDS MINISTRY.

CREATES FUND TO HELP STUDY

By Sara Moore

Last Testament

PARTY DEFENSE LEAGUE ORGANIZING CAMPAIGN.

THE joint committee of the Republican, Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition parties met last night in the Realty Board Building and adopted resolutions urging the people to unite in a concerted effort to defeat the adoption of Johnson's no-party laws at the election the 26th inst. The committee condemned them as un-American, unpatriotic and vicious. Isadore Dockweller, chairman of the committee, presided.

After adopting the name of the Party Defense League of Los Angeles county, the committees on finance, publicity, speakers and law. Plans were also laid to secure the active support of 150 representative men and women of the county, irrespective of their political faith, to join in the movement to retain partisanship in State elections.

The headquarters of the league will be formally opened today on the fourth floor of the Realty Board Building, where literature and campaign matter will be distributed to volunteer workers. Meetings will be held almost nightly from now until the election and efforts made to impress the voters of the necessity of their exercising their suffrage.

Miss Mary Foy, prominent suffrage worker and member of the Democratic State and National Committees condemned the purpose of the antiparty laws and pointed out that under its provisions an organized minor.

PRESHMEN ON VIEW.

and the election of the executive and the election of the executive and the election of the executive and legislative officials of the State to enforce and administer the same. Is one imperatively demanding support and protection, and that the preservation of said right is of vital importance to the best interests of commonwealth and nation alike:

Be it Resolved, That we, voters of Los Angeles county, here assembled do unite and do hereby organize the Party Defense League of Los Angeles county and that the purpose of said league will be to oppose the antiparty laws enacted by the Legislature at its recent session, which laws will be voted on by the people at the cratic State and National Committee, in sueaking before the committee condemned the purpose of the antiparty laws and pointed out that under its provisions an organized minority would control State elections rather than the majority.

The resolution adopted by the leasue follows:

Whereas, Believing the right of citizens to organize and maintain and act through political parties in the promulgation of political principles and the election of the executive and legislative officials of the State to enlice in the promulgation of the executive and the right of the state to enlice in the promulgation of the executive and the right of the state to enlice in the promulgation of the executive and the right of the state to enlice in the promulgation of the state to enlice the promulgation of the state that the state that the promulgation of the state that the state th

WILL WED AT ROMANTIC ALTAR OF OLD MISSION.

In a picture setting, which will portray a scene such as might have been witnessed in the early days of Southern California's romantic history, the nupital wows of Miss Louise Whipple Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Ward of No. 1711 South Fair Oaks avenue, South Pasadena, of which Miss Ward is a member, were printed. In the looks appears the mame "Mrs. Edwards Francis Watkins, Jr., of Alhambra, son of Edward Francis Watkins, one of the pioners of Southern California, will be plighted.

The marriage will be conducted in the old adobe mission at San Gabriel, where the prospective bridegroom was christened when a few weeks old, next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, in the presence of 400 guests. Although he has lived in Alhambra, because of associations Mr. Watkins has been a regular attendant at the San Gabriel Mission all his life.

While the invitations were sent out several days ago, the details of the wedding plans are being guarded with nutmost secrecy. John S. McGroarty, author of the "Mission Play," will be best man, and little dark-eyed senoritus in costume, it is said, will strew rose petals in the bridal path.

Theatres-Amusements-Entertainments

STANDS PAT ON PRESENT WAYS.

SENTITE BOARD OPPORED TO CONCRETE THE SENTING AND CONTROL AND

on Co.

2:26

was conceived that permissing woman had archward and fallen into a mailen or strayed into the of the harbor flats. A sarch of these regions, Dr. O. H. L. Mason, pastor they will become the supply station with the will be the state of the same that the value of the will be the supply station with the same that the same that the value of the same that the value of the will become the supply station for a future attack on us."

THE object in the Haas Bidg. Seventh and Broadway, any beautiful and the crices or reasonable.

CONFERENCE CONSIDERS NEW FINANCIAL PLAN.

NEW financial plan was presented by Rev. George Johnson at the general convention of the Evangelical Association yesterday. It is one of the most important questions to be decided upon. Following is the report:

"In order to promote a more systematic and harmonious support of the various missionary and benevolent of the various missionary and benevolent of the conference at loady afternoon Rev. J. Warren that a commission on finance be elected, which shall arrange for a general budget for missions and benevolences. The various societies or boards looks from an old apple tree which shadowed the grave at Kleinfelteraville, the insulance of the Revangelical Association. The tree hore an immense crop and the spaw with the simplicity that marked and their authorized aims for revision and appointment to the various annual conference. Each annual conferences. Each annual conferences. Each annual conferences. Each annual conference as holder to the conference of the association was annual conference. Each annual conference budget to the various shall apportion the annual conference holder to the various annual conference budget to the various shall provide a committee on the budget for missions and benevolences and their authorized aims for revision and apportion the annual conference budget to the various annual conference budget to the various charges. The every-member canvas with the site where the

L. E. BEHYMER, of Aqueduct Power under one man-

A Caller.

los Angeles Climes

A. of the Associated Press, age covered; Day, 22,000;) 0; words transmitted, 30,000, not including specials,

OFFICE: LOS ANGELES (Loce Ahng-hayl-ais red at the Postoffice as mail matter of Class II

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF TESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Reports from industrial centers throughout the country all agree that mills of every description are taxed to their stmost, some of them overtaxed, to care for their orders. These include textile, steel, shipyards, woolen mills, flour mills, machine shops and in many places general building. Reports of several concerns turning down orders are current. Speculation is on a scale seldom, if ever, before reached in this sountry, and all prices tend to higher planes. Sank clearings for the week touched the mormous total of $4,$81,657,000.

(For details see financial pages.)

W HERE IT FAILS. This plan of the Chinese to tie a debtor up by the toes until he consents to pay might work providing the 'obtor was solvent; but in cases of bankruptcy we fall to see how the method would help.

Yuan Shi Kai continues to refuse a brone in the press dispatches and in the resence of prominent Americans. What will do in fact after the election is subject to reasonable doubt, or why would there be an election?

F INISHING HIS WORK.

We are pleased to see that Maj-Gen.
Goethals will remain Governor of the Canal Zone. His personal pride should inspire him to stay with the job until he knows that it will stick. Unfortunately the Panama slide is not a new kind of dance. I INISHING HIS WORK.

SWAPPING VOTES. President Wilson is for woman suffrage. This fact was announced the same day as his engagement to marry a fasciing Washington widow. It is not im-sible that these two items have a more

D Every now and then one reads of happy reunions that should have been staged years before, but were delayed be-cause one side or the other failed to get a letter. The frequent repetition of these incidents would almost inspire the wisdom on the part of separated persons to write two letters in case one were lost.

DROSPERITY ON WHEELS. It seems that out of the 14,000,000 persons who have visited the San Francisco sons who have visited the San Francisco exposition more than 200,000 a month have been arriving by automobile. This is a remarkable index of the prosperity of California, because, of course, a great majority of those machines belong to the population

N THE WAY. Judge Blount of Washington told the National Defense League that our rights were being invaded both by Germany and England. While this may be true, and in-deed it seems certain that it is, one must member that Germany and England are erely going after one another and that ey really can't help it sometimes if Amer-

| | SELESS SACRIFICE. old boy sent to the reform school here after his old father and mother had mortgaged their home in order to keep him out of the penitentiary in minois. There seems to be no sense in permitting one membe of a family to bring ruin to all the rest. Sympathy and forbearance are all well enough, but people who depend on this sort of thing never become independent until they have exhausted all those who are willing to make sacrifices for them. Not the slightest good ever comes from such indulightest good ever comes from such indul-

OBODY DECEIVED. We are not surprised that the English people themselves are beginning to resent the strict British censorship of the war news. The effect has been to keep their own people in the dark and thus dampen the ardor of the nation and preclude the possibility of enthusiasm. Meanwhile the facts about the campaign eventually leak out, and most of the surprises have not been pleasant for the English. For inthey never knew that for three weeks the Germans and their allies had been bombarding the Servian border until the truth came out that 400,000 soldiers from the central powers had crossed over

ONE SAD FEATURE. This war destroys more than cities cathedrals and men. It brings death to wealth of invention in gestation. Thes men who go down in the trenches are the world's agents who have been about the world's work. Among them are the in entors, composers, master mechanics and nanciers who have had their fingers upor the pulse of the world's purpose and action They have plans in the making and ideas which, before the war, they had carried the loss forever of their splendid mentality and its superior efforts. If the war goes on for another year Europe will suffer such debilitation of its creative thought that American inventors will be compelled to meet the world's demand with a new supply that will place this country in the fore-ground for a century. This is no particular advantage to the United States because in the evolution of man there is no special value in the emphasis of one country over another at the cost of great sacrifica

東京の大学者の大学の大学

FINANCIAL PLANS FOR MEXICO. The representatives of six Latin-An ican nations, with a representative of the United States, will meet in conference in Washington today for the purpose of agree-ing upon and recommending to the Mexican nation a plan of pacification that shall put an end to the civil strife that has desolated

Mexico ever since the fall of Madero. Active intervention is not contemplated. The conference will confine itself to recdations, and such recommendations may include recognition of one of the con-tending factions as the de facto government of Mexico, based upon a showing that the government which is recognized may make of its ability to preserve order and protect the lives and property of foreigners. The representatives of both Villa and Carranza will be in attendance on the conference with evidence in behalf of the ability of the chiefs whom they represent to comply with the requirements of the confer-

Anticipating the recognition of the Carranza government as the outcome of the conference, Senor Nieto, the Sub-secretary of Pinance in Gen. Carranza's ostensible Cabinet, has given to American newspaper representatives the views and purposes of the so-called Carranza government for the settlement of Mexico's financial affairs.

The sub-secretary frankly says that, with the continuance of the conditions now existing. Mexico could not free herself from the use of irredeemable paper money of compulsory acceptance.

But the recognition of the Constitutional-ist government by friendly nations will serve to strengthen the external credit of Mexico so as to enable her to abandon a system of irreseemable paper money. She will do this, not only upon the credit she will obtain from abroad, but upon the strong vitality of the wealth-producing sources that only await the advent of per order to spring up and develop again.

Regarding the monetary question, the Carranza faction has decided to avoid the vaciliations and prejudices that made it adopt in the past the lame pattern of a gold standard without the gold. The object of the government will be to obtain metallic system based on a gold standard. The untold sources of riches of the country allow the entertainment of the hope that this can be accomplished.

The money issued by the Villa or Zapata or other factions is absolutely worthless, its circulation is prohibited by law, and measures will be adopted to seize and

The fluctuations and depreciations of Mexican paper money are attributed by Senor Nieto to various causes, some of which are natural and some artificial. Among the former are the lack of an imme diate guarantee, the increase in issue forced by the lengthening of the st aggle, the diminishment of exports, the increase of importations caused by the introduction of articles of general use, and by the inexorable law of supply and demand. Among the artificial causes appear the immoderate speculation engaged in by merchants with the paper money. These merchants use every possible means to effect the rise or the slump of paper money as is best suitable to their personal interests.

The proposed Department of Finance will avoid these evils by putting into practice the necessary measures tending to restrict the undue speculation in its paper by reg-ulating the money exchanges and checking. by competitive means, the hitherto omnipo-tent power of the bankers. So says Senor government the public national debt amounted to 500,000,000 pesos ($250,000,000.) From

The present amount of gold and silver in the Mexican treasury is 5,000,000 pesos ($2,500,000.) After this sum is sufficiently iduciary circulation.

For the discharge of the national obliga-tions and the rehabilitation of the national finances Carranza will rely on the taxes on exports, the stamp taxes, the taxes all German property, real and personal, on petroleum, on mines and on export of within her confines. Germany reciprocated That is a pitiful story of the 18-year. precious metals, as well as those levied on with a similar measure as to property ural products,

If the conference agrees to recognize the so-called "Carranza government" the ques-tion will present itself whether Carranza will be able to organize a real government or to maintain it a week after organization. The trouble is that there seems to be no nucleus of patriotism or good sense in Mexico upon which to establish a permanent government of any kind, and it is to be feared that any effort will simply result in a fresh crop of wrangling bandits.

The plan of financial establishment as by Senor Nieto looks well on paper, and if it could be carried out would place Mexico on her feet financially, and solvency would be the harbinger of prosperity. But if Carranza should set it up orrow, who would upset it day after orrow?

Senor Eliseo Arredondo, the Washington agent of Carranza, and Senor Enrique C. Llorente, the Washington agent of Villa, with other representatives of their parties with them, will appear today before Secretary Lansing and the ministers of Bolivia, Jruguay, Guatemala, Argentina, Brazil and Chile and present the evidence and arguments of their respective chiefs for Amer-

The principal showing required will be as to the ability of the government recog nized to protect the lives and liberty of for-eigners, especially Americans. The American public will await with interest the outcome of the conference, and will await with greater interest the action of the party recognized, and with still greater interest the action of those not recognized.

COBERNG JOHN PAUD. Naturally a nation that does not be-lieve in preparedness would not elect John Paul Jones to the Hall of Fame. But John Paul has several facts to console him. One that he didn't give up the ship. . 1 1other is that, while every child in America 9 years of age and over has heard about him, where not one adult in 10,000 has-any idea of who Mark Hopkins, Francis Park- New Zealand the press chronicles numerous man or Joseph Henry were. No doubt they were all estimable persons, but if fame consists of being talked about and remembered, they have missed nearly everything except have—individually and collectively—grown even concede the presence of Daniel Boone, dear ones wasted." because he "kilt a bar" and made a note on the Kentucky frontier. Yes, these two gentlemen are quite welcome, but we believe that John Paul Jones was just as good a man in the eyes of the average American as Charlotte Cushman, who was also elected. Of course writing history was all right for Francis Parkman, but where the likes of him and refused to make his-

PANZA

S PITES AND PUERILITIES OF WAR. War begets race hatreds and race hatreds in turn beget war. War spites find expression in many ways, some of which are hateful and mean, and others of which are puerile and ridiculous.

The exaction of a thousand millions of indemnity and the cession of Alsace and present war, found expression not only on the battlefield, but in political and social life. France ordered the sequestration of owned by Frenchmen, and in addition prohibited future naturalization of Frenchmen and ordered the revocation of existing naturalization papers. Frenchmen made their children burn toys made in Germany. Paintings by German artists were torn from the walls of French academies, and playing of the music of Wagner was prohibited to French orchestra and bands. German restaurant proprietors excluded dishes with French names from their menus, and the guest who called for "potage" instead of souper" would be greeted by the attending Ganymede with an insolent stare.

Until the outbreak of the present war Germany and England were friends. Their royal families were united by ties of kindred. Queen Victoria was the grandmother of Kaiser Wilhelm, Edward the Seventh was his uncle, and George the Fifth is his

War has changed the friendliness of Germans and Englishmen into a race hatred so bitter and so implacable that both nations refuse to consider any peace except a peace obtained by exhausting the other, and peace, when it comes, will not for many years result in much abatement of ill feeling. When a volcane ceases to erupt, the hot lava it has poured upon the land will take generations to cool, and those who walk upon the crust may at any time break through into the seething mass below, Germany has outlawed the literature of France and England from her libraries. Both Shakespeare and Moliere are exiled to the garrets or the cellars of private houses, while in England booksellers do not carry in stock the works of Goethe or

In England shops bearing German names have been looted, their contents smashed and their proprietors and clerks beaten by

The destruction of noncombatants by German submarines and Zeppelins has so enraged the people of Great Britain that many cruelties have been inflicted by Englishmen upon such Germans as have not been driven from the Brit' h islands. Even British assaults upon the property and persons of Germans.

The people of the warring countries sharply their election by the New York University to hate each other so bitterly that when apt's

Senate. We do not resent Elias Howe, be | hostilities cease friendly relations will not cause in a way sewing machines are a very soon be resumed, and peace will come, not good thing. We have been convinced of that as a dove bearing a welcome olive branch, by reading Hood's "Song of the Shirt." We but as "a mourner bowed for honor lost and

> THE IMPERATIVE DUTY OF THE COMING CONGRESS.

Over the Republicans and the seven Progressive members the Democrats will have a majority of only thirty-one in the Sixtyfourth Congress. The record of the Re ublican party leaves no room for doubt that it will stand practically as a unit for an adequate army and navy. In the Det cratic membership of 232 there are a great have no sympathy with a penny-wise-poundfoolish national defense policy. Therefore we may be assured that the next Congress will vote the necessary appropriations for an increased army and navy.

Where is the extra money to be found? No one wants a bond issue. Only a supreme emergency would justify that expedient. An increase in the income tax rate would be so unpopular that the Democrats would not care to propose it. There remains the tariff. The Underwood tariff law would never have been placed on the statute book in its present wage-destroying form if the tariff-haters could have had a vision of the great war in Europe, with its blighting effect, in spite of heavy orders for war supplies, upon the industries of the United States, present and to come. And after the war what may we expect? Does anyone doubt that every manufacturing nation in Europe will see a golden opportunity in the American low tariff, unl it is raised before the peace? Thrift to the uttermost farthing, or its equivalent, will be the rule in England and on the continent, and labor will be cheap-far cheaper indeed than it is now. Every American industry not sufficiently protected will be in danger: and we know that before the first shot was fired in the war a great many of our industries were menaced by the low rates of the Underwood law, with the result that fully two million of our workers were idle or on half-time. We did not hear much about strikes for more wages and less working hours in those days, which days vividly recalled those of 1893 to 1896, Unamended, the present Democratic tariff law would bring many a once flourishing business toppling down in disaster after Europe resumed its peaceful occupations. There is nothing for the coming Congress to do but to face the question without illu sions or prejudices and deal with it unitedly

To Mr. Wilson and the Democratic party t should be plain that the emergency is not political. We most have more revenue millions upon millions more of it. American industries must not be allowed to exto rack and ruin. The Underwood tariff law should be amended upward at once That is the imperative duty of the coming Congress, irrespective of party prejudices, party feeling or party political exigencies. Save the American factory to the American worker in this way and in so doing afford the government all the revenue necessar; for current needs and for the necessary expansion of the army and navy for def of the American flag.

Couldn't Best Tommy.

[Life:] They were at dinner and the dainties were on the table. "Will you take tart or pudding?" asked capa of Tommy.
"Tart," said Tommy promptly.

His father sighed as he recalled the many ons on manners he had given the boy.
Tart what?" he queried kindly. But Tommy's eyes were glued on the pas-

"Tart what?" asked the father again, "Tart first," answer ' Tommy triumph-

National Editorial Service. TOMORROW IS CHINA'S FOURTH OF JULY.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES] BY CHIN CHU.

Chinese Author and Philos OMORROW is Wuchang Day. In China more than 400,000,000 human beings will be offering thanksgiving. On October 10, 1911, the great revolution against the Manchu monarchical rule which had endured nearly three centuries broke out at Wuchang under the leadership of Gen. Li Yuan-hung. Both this event and the place where it occurred were very important, because Wuclang is in the center of China and commands an exceedingly important strategical position in the heart (the eighteen provinces. The outbreak was also important in its leadership, because Gen. Lu, as an influential military officer, controlled at that time a large number of newly-trainey soldiers and held both the confidence of the army and the public. The final success of the revolution was mainly due to these facts.

The Wuchang outbreak was im-diately followed by China's declaration of indence supported by a majority of the ovinces, especially those in the south of China. This compelled the abdication and dethronement of the Manchu Emperor. So that is why everybody today in China is celebrating Wuchang Day.

Wuchang Day is to be remembered by the world because it means at least three things. To the Chinese it means that, after 270 years of foreign rule, the people of China have reclaimed their sovereignty from the Manchus, their former conquer ors; and also after 2000 years of absolute monarchical government China has resumed oth the name and the station o republic a restoration of the democratic government which existed once in the old days, the times of Emperors Yau and Shun. To the world it means that one-fourth of the whole population of the world on that day freed themselves from an oppressive foreign rule and began to strive to govern themselves according to the best modern ideas of gov-ernment. To the United States especially it means that American ideas of government have, for the first time, found their way on to the mainland of Asia, and that the place of being the largest republic in the world has been taken away from the American commonwealth by the republic of China, which embraces five different races and 400,000,000 people.

Now the establishment of a government for the people is very far from being an innovation in China. In olden times, when the Emperor Shao was on the throne, he chose as his successor a simple man who for a very long time had been a farmer and who became known and loved as the Emwho became known and lived as the Emperor Shen. The successor of the Emperor Shen was also chosen by him sutside his own family from among the ablest younger men of the China of his day. The throne at that time, you see, was not hereditary.

at that time, you see, was not nereditary. The theory of government of Shao and Shen was that it was the people who are civine. The "ear" or "eye" of the heavens is represented by the "ears" and "eyes" of the people. The heavens cannot hear, except through the people; the heavens cannot see, except through the people. The first and most important duty of the ruler is to see to it that whomever the people like best shall be the next ruler. For the coun-try is owned by the people who inhabit it, rather than by the person who rules over it for the time being. The presence of these ancient ideas sufficiently explains how the Chinese people, having been called the most conservative among mankind, so readily cepted the principle of republican gov-nment-accepted this principle without ernment- accepted this principle without any hesitation at all. Over against this fact, however, some important distinctions should be kept in mind between the Chinese old ideas and the re-publican principles of our own time. In the days of Shao and Shen the Emperor selected his own successor, who might and might not be his son. Although at first the people were permitted to express their "yea" and "nay" regarding the now Emperor by some sort of declaration, yet ex-perience proved that this was not satisfaetory, not a safe system to prevent an unscrupulous person from seizing and holding cracy was from above and not from below, and therefore it was not permanent Consequently it is to be noticed that, while those ancient theories of government have helped the Chinese people to establish the present republic, at the same time those very ideas might militate against the suc cess of the new government. In order to uphold the new republic of China, to help China through her present troubles and struggles, the American people are in duty bound, in loyalty to their own ideals, as well as for the betterment of the world, to encourage and to assist young China's re-publicans of what was the Middle Kingdom.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

MOTHER AND MAID.

A maiden in a garden swing is surely an entrancing thing. She wears a gown of white, mayhap, a Chambers novel in her lap, her hands are soft and lily-white, and earth affords no fairer sight. Man views her with romantic tears, and in his heart bewails the years, which bar him from the bewalls the years, which har him from the lover's yow, forbidding hir so sweet a frau. And then around the house he goes, and sees her mother washing clothes, or hanging rags upon the line, with aches all up and down her spine. Her hands look fierce, for they were boiled, as o'er the tub she sadly toiled; her face is roughed by steaming duds, her eyes and hair are full of suds. ing duds, her eyes and hair are full of suds. The stranger tears his whiskers then, and goes back round the house again, and sees the maiden in the swing, a charming and delightful thing. "I'm glad," he sighs, "that Igam old, I'm glad my blood is running cold, or I might fall upon my knees, before that damsel 'neath the trees, and she might softly whisper yes-naught could be worse than that, I guess!" WALT MASON

[Philadelphia Bulletin:] Dr. Clarence H.

Prinageiphia Suitethi: J. Dr. Clarence H. Neymann of Martin Grove, Ill., has returned home after serving for almost a year with the German Red Cross.

"Some people declare," Dr. Neymann said, "that the Germans are now triendly to America. Well, toward such a declaration as that I'm rather cynical. I'm like the war with was visiting in the West.

as that I'm rather cynical. I'm like the man who was visiting in the West.

"Ten years ago," a western Mayor said to this man joyously—'ten years ago'—and he waved his hand out over the roofs—'there was no town here at all."

"'Hump,' said the visitor. 'Hump, and what makes you think there's one here (一个一个一个

Pen Points: By the Se

Is it spelled pantalette or pa

The Philadelphia baseball should role of the Count of Monte Cristo:

How time flies! Thanksgiving here before we can raise the pri It is suggested that the hymn at at sea will be just the thing for the

The seat of authority is where sits. Father may not confess it, but me body knows it is true.

It is officially announced that the ama-Pacific Exposition will close De-1. You had better hurry.

The Boston rooters at the big san terday no doubt sang that well-kno odist hymn, "Pull for the Shore."

President Machado, the new rules of tugal, has been inaugurated. Note That must be the Portuguese for Materials

It is estimated that a mosquito has three million eggs a year. What en the cold-storage or "yard" eggs? Can the unscrambled? Southern California is the only lake know of where ladies can wear low and shoes the whole year round who being a walking advertisement for many control of the control of

The movement to take the tarif or politics is again looming large. The lacrats have made such a mess hardless tariff question that they are all in to

The "big drive" is on all right in theater of the war, but there is a dis-of opinion as to just who is doing the ing, and it is a difference of opinion

It is urged that the United State chase Jamaica and Bermuda for fig. 000 each, but the only reason we have advanced for the expenditure is the b

In spite of the fact that treates broken by the inauguration of the lawar, the wireless conversation washington and Hawaii indicates words go much farther than they will on account of the boost in many stocks, grain, etc. It is about the h sandwiches washed down with Q

Miss Gertrude Fisher, a Philai has been voted the prettiest set a United States by a congress of phers. She was probably born in Los Angeles. Her "double" can on the sunny side of Broadway al

Mr. Bryan says: "I am not a and will not be a candidate for the tion." Horatio Seymour in 1868 "Your candidate I cannot be," but be A declaration such at this is the railroad ticket—it is good as M

The baseball managers are pl dellar possible out of the world's segames. It is a long time since has no form of amuseme the almighty dollar.

Word from Washington is t Wilson will personally pare all the priation bills to be submitted to Congress. And in that case it is that the Chief Executive will on his hands. The Del for an appropriation.

Old Dock Redfield, the storm the Wilson Cabinet, favors this country foreign goods of here at a price below that at the produce them. The consumer less scratch his head and word would help him. He would have much, and the government the revenue.

Don't worry about the slides on ama Canal! They will cease what tic earth shall have found its an ance of weights. This is only a of time. The unstable eart from the banks into the from the bottom under the F artificial weight of dredging just as the liquid sands of the crept up here and there dredging and rip-rapping Goethals is on the job.

If I could come again to that Where once I came, where and moved.

ere, by the sea, I saw her to hat soul by which the world If, as I stood at game among

She would appear again a While the red herdsman sheaves, And brimming waters

If, as I gazed, her Beauty the In that old time, before I is Would lean to me and revela-Words to the lips and calor

Joy with its searing-iron wise; I should row all; all I BUT KILLS HE CIRL WHISPERS DO

ATURDAY MORNI

RE DELIGHTS,

of Three Years Tries to Fur Trimming of Mother's Forbidden Match Ignites Own Small Prock—Surgeons

white fur on the dress of hear. Mrs. Dominico Tobesco, No. Darrin street, was cotton. Si cotton would burn, but being years old, she was not permit and her chattering to hereon and any nothing of it.

Then the child lighted more when Again the fur refused to a Petulantly the little girly away the second handful of thes. One of them fell near her at it fired the thin fabric.

The blaze fared up above her feet the was so delighted she cooed is reamed with delight. "Chi, chi, chi." Thi, chi, chi.

tenselously, not realizing what word meant, her mother heard from the kitchen. The fire came if it burned. Anna Theresa's
And suddenly like some horrid to it gobbled her, licking its advanced for the expenditure is that land needs the money.

The split in the ranks of the Desir Kentucky presages the defeat of ley, the Wilson nominee for Governa knock-out in Kentucky would certain a crimp in Democratic hopes in 1914.

It is denied that President Wass go to Kentucky to assist in the Design to the love mamma," she said slow-ictly, and then sighed deeply. he peace of death had come.

ERIAL LAND ISSUE NEAR END.

COMMISSIONER SAYS CONTROVERSY WILL SOON BE SETTLED.

Cay Tallman, Commis General Land Office, who spent lours at the local Land Office a six, passed through Los Annuarday on his way to the masseo fair, after a visit to the land had a conference en in Imperial Valley Peral years have been what the govern et as to be allowed to may cause to be allowed to may what the government to do in regard to the allowed to the land, and the alleged this of those who have settlement of the settlement of the losses, and making home-for grazing purposes; as acres or a full section-dared that it was pos-a land would be thrown by the end of the pres-early in 1916.

en Points: By the Staff

The Philadelphia baseball shouters in the of the Count of Monte Cristo: "One!"

It is officially announced that the Pas-na-Pacific Exposition will close December You had better hurry.

The Boston rooters at the big game yearday no doubt sang that well-known Mailist hymn, "Pull for the Shore."

It is estimated that a mosquito hen have hree million eggs a year. What are they old-storage or "yard" eggs? Can they be inscrambled?

It is urged that the United States pechase Jamaica and Bermuda for $100,00,000 each, but the only reason we have see advanced for the expenditure is that has

The split in the ranks of the Democration Kentucky presages the defeat of States, the Wilson nominee for Governor. I knock-out in Kentucky would certainly at a crimp in Democratic hopes in 1916.

It is denied that President Wilson we go to Kentucky to assist in the Democratic gubernatorial campaign. He has me sense, for he has friends on both sides the Democratic fight. "On, Stanley, on."

broken by the inauguration of the kuro-war, the wireless conversation between Washington and Hawaii indicates for Business has been brisk in Wall seen on account of the boost in many gran in stocks, grain, etc. It is about time the speculators have been living on based andwiches washed down with Croins we ter for some months.

Miss Gertrude Fisher, a Philadelphia has been voted the prettiest girl in United States by a congress of photo phers. She was probably born and run Los Angeles. Her "double" can be son the sunny side of Broadway almost day.

Mr. Bryan says: "I am not a can and will not be a candidate for the na-tion." Horatio Seymour in 1865 'Your candidate I cannot be," but he eclaration such a: this is somethis railroad ticket—it is good as far

The baseball managers are pinching dellar possible out of the world's serie

And in that case it is that the Chief Executive will have a on his hands. The Democrats are Old Dock Redfield, the stormy petral the Wilson Cabinet, favors 'esping out this country foreign goods offered for shere at a price below that at which we produce them. The consumer will do the less scratch his head and wonder how the would help him. He would have to ask would help him. He would have to pay much, and the government would not the revenue.

Don't worry about the slides on the re-ama Canal! They will cease when the pla-tic earth shall have found its natural is ance of weights. This is only a question of time. The unstable earth slides and banks into the canal and from the bottom under the pressure of artificial weight of dredging on the business as the liquid sands of the Sues Cartesian crept up here and there through it dredsing and rip-rapping. Don't Goethals is on the job.

RE. TION.

DELIGHTS,

BUT KILLS HER.

fur on the dress of her Dominico Tobesco, No. street, was cotton. She would burn, but being tick!"

touty, not realizing what meant, her mother heard the kitchen. The fire came burned Anna Thereea's suddenly like some horrid gobbled her, licking its a all ever her.

"the screamed, and then mamma—chi!"
tied mother rushed into the a laby was afiame. Even hir was afire.
"ind the baby out the door ther in the grass of the time screaming, "Is baby
aby hurt!"

"It answer, saying softly, the baby wailed her her cries lessened. At the from pain, but, still a looked up at her was bending over, too to talk, for she knew nma," she said slow-then sighed deeply. of death had come. LLAND E NEAR END.

SIONER SAYS BE SETTLED.

the local Land Office in Imperial Valley mperial valley wall years have been what the government is 60 toward, restoring to has withdrawn in behalf irrigation project and who have made a settle the land when it was into the land when it was into the land when it was to be allowed to stay it respansers.

an to be allowed to stay a trespassers.

The stay of the stay as trespassers as what the government of in regard to the alleged at those who have settled to the stay of the s

Bold Ruse.

(Continued from First Page.)

posed to have witnessed the signatures. Investigation showed there is no such notary in Inyo.

Besides searching Canfield's cell detectives made a thorough hunt at his home, according to report. Failing to find the die there they said it was probably thrown into a sewer.

Canfield is alleged to have defrauded a number of people out of various sums through clever manipulation of documents accepted by a local insurance and trust company. Following his arrest the concern and others in similar business adopted a system which they say is invulnerable.

The accused man, it is declared, employed the same H. Rabild as an alias and when arrested at his home, No. 4217 West Sixth street, he told the officers they had the wrong man. "The man you want is H. Rabild," he is said to have declared.

A specific charge against Canfield is that he obtained $2500 from Miss Caroline Schertz, No. 466 East California street, by representing he owned valuable property at Clearwater.

SHORT-STORY ADDRESS, E. H. Hadlock will address the Short Story Club in Cumnock Hall this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on "How to Write a Short Story." The meeting will be open to the public.

Men will appreciate the Ease of Munsingwear.

The way 'Munsingwear Union Suits fit and cover the form—without gaping at the seat—the manner in which they give and take with every twist of the body and every contraction of the muscles—without inding at the crotchbeen a surprise and delight to millions of men.

You will find the garment and material you want,

$1 to $5 Sarris & Fra

School Footwear Here the Children will be fitted with care and courtesy. Attractive, serviceable and dress wear. Children's Shoes $1.50 up.

50c Luncheon

Ice Cream

35c Luncheon

(Berved between 11 and 3) Lamb Cutlets

New Green Peas Baked Potato Pienapple Tartlette

(Cafe; Fourth Floor)

Beautiful Silks, Woolen Goods, Linings, Only $1 Yard

Many of these materials were not bought to sell at a dollar; we simply make an arbitrary reduction for today only. Women's fingers will itch to get hold of these beautiful goods to work up into fashionable suits, dresses, waists, etc.:

The Woolens

-Good shades and wanted

42-in. Wool Epingle. 40-in. Wool Crepe.

47-in. Poplinette. 48-in. Serge.

46-in. Panama 42-in. Henrietta

48-in. Storm Serge:

The Silks 40-in. Crepe de Chine, $1.50

36-in. Novelty Stripe Taf-

26-in. Surah Clan Plaids. 35-in. Colored Messalines. 35-in. Black Satin Messa-lines. 35-in. Chiffon Taffetas. 26-in. Stripe Taffetas.

The Linings 36-inch Satins, in all plain shades, also black, ivory and cream; and 36-inch Pompadour Satin Linings, white and colored grounds with floral designs and stripe effects.

$10 Robes, $7.50

Quite the largest showing we have ever made, at the widest range of prices-$1.50 to $30. Ends fringed and stitched edges;

Imported Scotch clan plaids; finest of wool and harmonious colors-42nd Stuart, Murray-McLeod, 42nd McKenzie, Fraser, Forbes-Glengarry, Campbell, McKinley, Forbes and others.

New Kimono Crepes 10c Yard

Light and dark shades, with allover figures and floral designs in pink, blue, lavender and black; special 10c

Soft Finish Crepes Soft Finish Crepes

In white; six different stripes; for underwear; 30-inch width; five widths of stripes; one of the most uninch width, reg. 15c...10e usual 25c values at...17½c

Checked and Striped Dimities and Muslims-in white, for

They Are Here—1916 Patterns | Special Sale New Fall in Automobile Robes and Rugs Blouses, at Each $5.95

An offer available only to today's buyers. however. Handsome new fall blouses, in tailored models of radium silk in rose, China blue, helio, sunset and ivory; or in fancy models in crepe de chine-white, black or navy; Georgette crepes in white, flesh, navy and black; a soft cream net, or black lace over white, for formal wear; none of these bi

Bedding Reduced

Down-filled Pillows

linen covered ticking; 21x 27, regularly $5, pair...$3.75 -feather filled; linen covered ticking; 21x27; regularly $3, pair $2.10

Mattress Protectors

-full size; quilted; reg. $1.75 at$1.60 -3/4 size; quilted; reg. $1.50, at $1.85

Coulter Special Sheets

-made of even thread muslin of splendid weight; sheets finished with three and oneinch hems-

72x90, reg.	75c								59c
90x99, reg.	90c								74c
45x86; case	s; re	g.		20	c				15c
(Domestics	; Real		Bo	utl	à i	A	fal	e)

Leather Goods at Real Savings

Genuine leather handbags and purses; many different kinds of new styles; some were formerly $1.75$1.00

Walrus Traveling Bags, $5.85

Genuine black walrus, in 15 or 16-inch size; made strongly and durably, with leather protected corners; leather lined, with inside pockets, made perfectly secure with double claw locks.

Leather Suit Cases, $4.85-24-inch size; in tan or black; with double strap fastener or metal catches. Same case in 26inch size$5.25

50c Lisle Hose 35c Pr.

Women's black lisle hose, a broken line of sizes of different weights; but all good values at fifty cents-their regular price - offered to close out this particular line, in sizes somewhere or other from 81/2 to 10, for, pr., 35c (Hoslery; Main Floor)

Our First Special Sale Fall Suits C1 Q75 Values From $22.50 to $27.50 . .

Only thirty-five suits in all; and the first thirty-five women who see them will in all probability take them; they are early fall styles which the manufacturers will not duplicate, hence we cannot reorder them.

Shown in gray mixtures; navy, greens, black, in serges, poplins and gab-

Styles to suit anybody—plain tailored models and the more elaborate ones for formal wear-some short box coat styles in navy serge and blackand-white checks.

Extra Good Ribbon Special at 35c

Women in search of pretty ribbons to be made up into the thousand and one gifts that clever hands can fashion out of ribbons will find here a veritable wealth of the choicest at extreme price reductions because we have not complete lines of colors in any one weave. Warp prints, stripes and plaids, good for children's (Ribbons; Main Floor) Unusually Wide Variety in Cunning Coats for Children We doubt if anywhere hereabouts you can secure such a wide diversity of becoming, dainty styles in separate coats for children of two to fourteen years as you can at Coulter's. Here are a few descriptions:

At $5.00

Blue, brown, green, gray mix-tures, with velvet and braid trimmed collars; newest models for girls of 2 to 14$5.00 green, at$7.00 up to $12.00 as above.

At $3.50 to $12.50 Plush and corduroy coats Corduroys, in blue, brown and for little tots of 1 to 6, priced

Tailored Hats-for girls, $1.50 to $5.50; for small boys and girls, 50c (Children's Wear; Second Floor)

Undermuslins for Women of Full Figure

A special section, devoted solely to the selling of these outsize undermuslins—a feature which we know will meet with the enthusiastic approval of women who find it difficult in the ordinary store to find anything to fit them. Note the special introductory

Drawers in extra sizes; of fine heavy muslin, embroidery trimmed; reg. $1, for...65c -of muslin; heavy embroidery or nainsook; lace and medallions; reg. $1.50...$1 Gowns

—in crepe $1.25

—reg. $5, now, special$3.50

Camisoles extra size; regularly $3.50, now $2.25 and $2.50 Drawers

-of nainsook; circular style; German Valenciennes lace or embroidery trimmed; reg-ularly $165c Of nainsook; lace or embroidery trimmed; regularly $1.75$1.25

Gowns -high or low neck; lace trimmed; reg. $1.25....$1 Skirts

Reg. $1.50$1.00 Reg $2.25$1.25 Reg. $3.75$2.50 Reg. $6.00$4.50 (Undermuslins; 2nd Floor)

At $9.50 to $15

quality, for girls of 8 to 14.

Black plushes of extra good

-of nainsook; wide Swiss embroidery ruffle or lace trimmed; reg. $1.25...75c of nainsook, with fine Swiss embroidery; regularly $2.50$1.75 —With Valenciennes lace trimming; reg. $3....$2.25

Gowns -regularly $1.75 ...$1.25 -regularly $3.75 ...$2.50 Skirts Reg. $1.75$1.25 Reg. $3.00$2.00 Reg. $5.00$3.50

Notions

Insertions and Edgings—a large assortment of these wash braids, for trimming children's school dress or house dresses, in various combinations Per-sian effects and plain colors

Were 5c yard, now. . 3 for 10c. Were 10c yard, now 2 for 15c. Were 15c yard, now 10c Were 20c yard, now 15c, 2 Were 25c yard, now 20c, 3

40c Black or White Silk Hook and Eye Tape; assorted sizes, now yard20c 10c Pearl Buttons; assorted,

Revol or Sew-no-More Dress Fasteners; all sizes, black or white, 3 dozen10c 5c Safety Pins, assorted sizes 1 to 3; today 3 for 10c

5e Pin Sheets (260 count,) made from Brass wire, now 3 for 10c Veilings 50c Yard

Linen Values

Madeira Napkins — another 100 dozen real hand-embroidered napkins in rose scallop edge and new designs in the corner, special, dozen$5.85

Bed Spreads — for out-of-door sleepers; dark navy blue; they will not show soil; special . $1.75

Bath Towels — 27x54; extra heavy double thread; for Sat-urday only, 600 of them, Sets of Table Linen-a limited quantity of these wonderfully good sets; cloth with six matching

napkins, per set$3.75

224-228 South Hill Street—COULTER'S

COULTER'S-215-229 South Broadway

hould rnow all; all powers teries. —Lighn Massfield, in Harper's

SATURDAY M

DRICES BREA

tiverpool Also Drops nunition into the Pit (Continuous Decline forn Loses Over a Co lib Yield a Good Frac

Business: Money, Stocks, Bonds-Trade-Local Produce Market-Citrus Market

Business Money, Stocks, Bonds—Trade—Local Produce

Market—Citrus Market

Contract of the Contr Chienan, Mireminee a se. Paul Conv. 4, 58. 9015;
Chienan, Mireminee a se. Paul Conv. 5n. 1044;
Chienan, Mireminee a se. Paul Conv. 5n. 1044;
Chienan, Rock Bland & F. Gen. 4s. 811.
Chienan, Rock Bland & F. Gen. 4s. 811.
Chienan, Rock Bland & F. Rock 4s. 661.
Chienan Scottlers 45, 7s. 84.
Chienan, Rock Bland & F. Rock 4s. 661.
Chienan Scottlers 45, 7s. 1201.
Chienan A. Barren Scottlers 45, 7s. 1201.
Chienan Rock Bland & F. Rock Blandraton Coar, 4s. 1922.
Lacded Gas Rock Ds. 1922.
Lacded Gas Rock Ds. 1922.
Lacded Gas Rock Ds. 1923.
Lacded Gas Rock Ds. 1924.
Lacded Gas Rock Ds. 1924.
Montana Power Scottlers 45, 8s. 1924.
New York Central 4456.
New York Central 4456.
New York Contral 4456.
New York Raifway Adl. In. 48.
Raiboard Air Line Adl. In. 62.
Raiboard Raifway Adl. 63.
Raiboard Raifway Adl. 63.
Raiboard Air Line Adl. 63.
Raiboard Air Line Adl. 63.
Raiboard Raiboard Gas 1924.
Raiboard Raifway Adl. 63.
Raiboard Raiboard Gas 1924.
Raiboard Raiboard Gas

| 1714, 61 lup box cucumbers, 10, 69, 69, 61 lup box cucumbers, 10, 69, 150 lup box cucubbers, 10, 69, 150 lup box cucumbers, 10, 69, 150 lup box cucubbers, 10, 69, 150 lup box cucubbers

MARKET QUOTATION

shipment:$1.53 asked1.48 "

R 9, 1915.-[PART III TURDAY MORNING.

ICES BREAK

THREE CENTS.

FORECAST TOO MUCH

us Market CITRUS QUOTATIONS

Market is unchanged. VALENCIAS

Also Drops Bear Am-point into the Pit and Nearly Ostionous Decline Results. Loss Over a Cent, While Tield a Good Fraction.

VALENCIAS.

VALENCIAS.

CLOSING PRICES.

Corn—December. 101%: May.
Corn—December. 384; May.
Otto—December. 384; May.
December. 14.70; January.
17.35.
Forember. 2.15; January.
P. 35.
Torember. 2.25; January.
P. 37.
Cheese Grais Market.

December Co. Hombor New La P. Betton & Co. Hombor New La P. Betton & Co. Monthey New La Behass. 118 West Fourth street. La Fruit Shipments.

chieage Citrus Market.

Chieage Citrus Market.

There will be the control of the #88 .87 .88488% .80% .87 .86%86% 9.5 9.85 9:22 9.85

MANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Wheat— trading. Barley—Steady: the old at 1.29; May, 1.36% bid $1.85 feed

1.95 1.85 1.85 $1.22%

..$1.53 asked .. 1.48 " .. 1.45 " heat Market. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
(Or.) Oct. 8.—Wheat
Ma ¼ to 2 lower. Blueviold, 96: Club, 94; Red Bussian, 88. eral Market. NORT WIRE I TY, Oct. 8.—Hors—Re-later. Bulk, 8.00@8.4714; 45. Packers and butch-light, 8.00@8.50; pigs. BRENTWOOD PARK ta 1000; steady. Prime 110.25; dressed beef vestern steers. 6.50 and feeders. 5.50.67.00; calves. 6.00@10.25. 5000; higher. 50; yearlings. 6.25.67. 505. Ewes, 5.25.67. When Loe Angeles has her million will you will be one to regret you did not buy a homesite when you could—and so easily. Most wisk.]

A.—Hogs—Receipts, is above yesterulk. 8.00@8.60; light,
7.65@8.70; heavy,
7.85@7.75; pigs, 5.25 Albert Campbe Braly-Janss Co.

2000; steady. Na-6.25@10.50; western cows and helfers, 10.000 12.00. 10,000; steady. 1 lambs, 7.00 @ 9.25. Stock Market. Lealers in Municipal BON OVISIONS, COTTON and COTTON (AS OFFICE, BEADBURY BU sipts three. & BRYAN TORS SECURITIES CO

WOOL TRADING RATHER SPOTTY

VOLUME OF BUSINESS DROPS OFF AND PRICES ARE IRREGULAR.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The Commercialletin will say tomorrow: "The wool trade has experienced another unsatisfactory week, trading being spotty and considerably under an average week so far as the volume of sales is concerned. Frices are rather irregular and buyers are naturally seeking the weaker spots. Some dealers consider the market a little healthier, but this opinion is by no means general.

means general.

"The mills continue well occupied, no marked changes being noted as compared with a week ago."

Scoured basis: Texas fine twelve months, 67@68; fine eight months, 60@62.

	1000	9.014
STOCKS AND B	\mathbf{OND}	S
IN SAN FRA	NCIS	200
IN SAN FRA	MCI	oco.
(BT A. P. NIGHT W
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. S F		today's
range of prices:	$6-00 h . 7 15
U. S. Bonus— Se quarterly coupon	Bid.	Asked.
State benda-		4.20
Municipal Bonds
San Francisco Municipal 31/5 Fan Francisco Municipal 41/5 Ran Francisco Municipal 50 Miscellaneous Bonds		4.75
San Francisco Municipal Se	.4.15	****
Associated Oil Co. Bs	. 100	101
Bay Counties Power Co. Se	100%	****
Cal. Riec. Gen. Co. Ser. A ho	4114	82
Cal. Tel. & Light Co. Unifying Do	984	****
California Wine Association 5s.	. 93	98 7214
Associated CO. 6. Associated CO. 6. Buy Counties Power Co. 8a. Col. Ice Central Gas & Kleettre Sa. Col. Elec. Gen. Co. 8c. A 8a. Col. Elec. Gen. Co. Varifying Sa. Cal. Tel. & Light Co. 6a. Call Tel. & Light Co. 6a. Callifornia Wine Association Do. Cestral Callifornia Fraction Co. 5a. City Electric Co. 5a. City Electric Co. 5a. Common Common Light & Power Sa. Common Co. 5a. Common Common Light & Power Sa.	. 88%	****
Coast Counties Light & Power Sa.	. 90%	106%
R. I. du Pont de Nem. Ptr. 416s.	102%	****
Great Western Power Co. Ss	81 16	8136
Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Se	. 108%	****
Coast. Counties Light & Fower & Galson Light & Fower & S. R. I. du Font de Nem. Pdt. 418s. R. I. du Font de Nem. Pdt. 418s. Groat Western Fower do. So., and Croat Western Fower do. So., and Croat Western Fower do. Lake Tahwe Rr. & T. Co. So., Lake Tahwe Rr. & T. Co. So., Lake Tahwe Rr. & T. Co. So., Los Angeles Gas & Hectric Co. In. Cos Angeles Ballway & Co. So., Co. Angeles Ballway Co. So., Co. Angeles Ballway Co. So., Co. Angeles Lake Tahwe Rr. & T. Co. So., Los Angeles Ballway Co. So., Co., Co. So., Co., Co. So., Co.		90
Los Angeles Gas & Electric Co. Ss. Los Angeles Gas & Elec. Corp. Ss	9214	****
Los Angeles Railway So	. 96	****
Les Angeles Lighting Ged. So	99%	4417
L. APacific Ry. 1st Con. Mtg. 5	. 92	622
Marin Water & Power Co. fa		100
Marin Water & Power O. S Northern Bailway Co. of Cal. Ss Northern California Bailway Ss. Northern California Power Co. Ss. Northern California Power Co. S. Sonthern California Power Cos. S. Oakland Gas. Light & H. Ss	102	108
Northern California Power Co. Se	70-86	79
Oakland Gas, Light & H. 5s	100%	2507
Oskiand Gas, Light & H. 5s. Oskiand Transit Co. 6s. Oskiand Transit Co. 5s. Oskiand Transit Cos. 5s. Oskiand Tractic Cos. 5s. Oskiand Tractic Cos. 5s. Ownibus Cable Railway 6s. Oro Elactric Corp. 6s.	8819	95
Oakland Transit Com. Se		95 89 55 96
Omnibus Cable Railway 6	 4117	96
Pacific Gas Imp. 4s	51 %	****
Pacific Gas & Electric Co. &s	. 8814	884
Pacific Light & Power Old. Is		98
Facine Tel. & Tel. Co. Se	100%	102
fan Joaquin Light & Power fo		98
R. F., Onkland & San Jose Ry. Se	8014	4111
S. P., Oakland & S. J. 2nd Mtg. 5 S. P., Oakland & S. J. Con. By 5	s. 50	4214
Gro Electric Corp. Ga- Precific Gai Brun 4. Precific Gai Brun 4. Precific Gai Brun 4. Precific Electric Co. 5a. Precific Electric Railway Co. 5a. Precific Telectric Railway Co. 5a. Precific Tel. A Twl. Co. 5a. Remonstrate Electric Gas & Ey. 5a. Remonstrate Electric Gas & Ey. 5a. Remonstrate Electric Gas & Ey. 5a. R. F. Co. 18 Co. 7a. R. F. B. R. of C. 18 C. Gid. 5a. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 18 Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 18 Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. Co. 18 Co. 7a. R. F. B. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. R. F. B. Co. 7a. R. F. B. R. F. B. R. F. B. R. R. F. B. R.		8216
R. P. Branch Railway of Cal. Co.	1184	****
P. R. R. Co. 1st Befg. 4s	94%	9514
United Gas & Electric Co. Is	100%	20.18

1.25 1.56 1.56

NEVADA MINING STOCKS. SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Following are sales
ungs of quotations:

| Sales | Galdbald | High | Low | Bid | Asked Manhattan—
Buf Four in
Buf Con.
Man. Dexter
Morn. Glory
White Can.
Cometock—
1,100 con. Virginia .15
Hale & Nor.
Hale & Nor.
100 Mexican .34
800 Ophir .28
Savage .01 .15 .14 .18 .05 .33 .27 .06 .24 .41 .34 .24 1.400 Union 41 40

TO DOSOPAL 5.70 2.70

1.500 Cash Bor 55 65

Gipse Ouses 5.60

Merer Merer Miller 3.00 .04 .01 .75 .06 .02 .80 .34 .14 .00 .30 .21 .04 .13 .04 .27 .19 .09 .10 .10 5.50 2.35 2.40 .01 .56 .58 10 445 .08

SHIPPING.

HARBOR OF LOS ANGELES. ARRIVED—FRIDAY, OCT. 8.
Seamer Harvard, Capt. White, from Sun Diego.
Seamer Yosemite, Capt. Nelson, from Portland.
Seamer Aroline, Capt. Hamma, from Sun Fran-Steamer George Leomia, Capt. Phillips, from E

SAILED-FRIDAY, OCT, S. Steamer Harvard, Capt. White, for San Francisco Steamer Aroline, Capt. Hamma, for San Fran

Lewis Luckenbach, New York, sailed

lan Pedro, Masstlan, Icoding.

TIDE TABLE.

Oct. 9. 241 9-94 3:33 9:56
0. 9. 8 6.5 - 6.5 4.9
10. 3:10 9:56 4.20 10:47
11. 3:59 10:13 6:12 4.8
11. 3:59 10:13 6:12 4.8
11. 17 6.7 - 0.5 4.9
12. 4:11 10:56 6:16 ...
12. 18. 1:50 4:55 11:51 7:56
12. 18. 1:50 4:55 11:51 7:56
14. 2:50 5:55 1:50 6:54
14. 2:50 5:55 1:50 6:50
14. 2:50 5:55 1:50 6:50
15. 4:44 5:2 2:41 19:22
18. 3:2 2.4 6.0
16. 4:44 5:2 2:41 19:22
18. 3:2 3:4 6.0
19. 4:44 5:2 4:4 6:0
19. 4:44 5:2 4:4 19:22
18. 3:2 5:4 6.0

SPOT COTTON. NEW ORLEANS QUOTATIONS leans spot cotton market today: Low ordinary, 8.74; ordinary, 9.49; good or ordinary, 8.74; ordinary, 2.49; good ordinary, 9.99; strict good ordinary, 10.55; low middling, 11.18; strict low middling, 11.63; middling, 12.00; strict middling, 12.25; good middling, 12.57; strict good middling, 12.94; middling fair, 13.50; middling fair to fair, 13.75; fair, 14.00. Sales, 480 bales; to arrive, 2615 bales. Tone of market steady.

New York Cotton Market.

Furwished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Rock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Following is range of quota-ions today: Open. Wigh. Low. Bid. ...12.87 12.88 12.07 12.75 ...18.00 18.14 12.92 12.99

.18.29 18.81 13.10 .13.21 13.33 13.15 12.29 12.29 12.20 12.26 12. 12.71 12.77 12.83 12.89 12.

The Flanneed Market.

[BY DEECT WIFE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Flanneed market today as follows: Minneapolis, flaxseed, the quality of the light offer flaxseed, the quality of the light offerings was not very good and the demand ruled fair only. No. I seed sold at Duluth October price to 5 cents over. No. I seed closed at 1.81% @

1.85% and on spot and to arrive at 1.79% @1.83%. Receipts today ten cara, last year 68 cars. Shipments today none, last year seven cars. Linseed oil shipments totaled 415.773 pounds, oil cake and meal shipments 436,680 pounds.

Duluth—Receipts today three cars, last year 29 cars. Winnipeg receipts today two cars, last year 44 cars. Duluth flax, October opened 1.84: high,
1.84; low, 1.81; close today, 1.81½; yeaterday, 1.84; year ago, 1.34%. November opened 1.81%; high, 1.81%; low,
1.78: lose today, 1.80; yesterday,
1.78: high, 1.78: jown 1.75; close today,
1.75%; yesterday, 1.78: year ago, 1.36
May opened 1.84; high, 1.84; low 1.81; close today, 1.82; yesterday, 1.84; year ago, blank.

Mew York Sugar Market.

Purnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bidg., Los Angeles. 1

High. Low, 3.16 3.06 3.17 3.10 3.18 3.08 3.26 3.18

AWARD BABY PRIZES AT RIVERSIDE FAIR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

IVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—Judith Gunn, awarded to babies under 2 years of of Corona, age 4 years, was awarded the silver loving cup. in the Better Babies contest at the County Fair this afternoon, among 300 entries from Riverside county and seventy-five from Rediands.

Margaret Helene Polick of Riverside, age 3, was judged the winner, but her cup and declined to accept it. Walter Sitkeleather of Rediands, age 18 months, won grand prize for boys. These babies all scored 93, 7 per cent. Rediands babies carried off four fart prizes in the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note that the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions, and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note and the sevend divisions and the Mener twins of that city were as follows:

Note that the country of the country's crops are of record proportions, this week's bank clearings reached peak point, exity miles are on the country's crops are of record proportions, this week's bank clearings reached peak point, exity miles are pushing production on a night will be adopted a

Tos Angeles Daily Times

THAW SPEEDS ON HIS WAY HERE.

LEAVES SANTA BARBARA—FAILS TO ARRIVE AT HOTEL

BANTA BARBARA, Oct. 8.—At the wheel of his own machine Herry K.

SAD MEMORIES

OF YEARS AGO.

SLAIN MAN ONCE SLEW SAN DIEGO BOY ON BOAT ALONG COAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 8.—When Herbert N. Neale, a well-known attorney of this city, stepped into Judge m. leading.

Sanaghai, sailed

Lendon, leading.

Lewin's court to listen to a murder

trial in progress he was horrified to

Maniha. Sailed

Lewin's court to listen to a murder

trial in progress he was horrified to

Maniha. Sailed

Lewin's court to listen to a murder

trial in progress he was horrified to

Maniha. Sailed

Lewin's court to listen to a murder

trial in progress he was horrified to the discover that the man who had mur dered his brother. George Nesle, dead 20 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-37

18-30 19-Lewis's court to listen to a murder trial in progress he was horrified to discover that the man who had mur-

the young son of the carpenter at the

the young son of the carpenter at the sanatorium here, was almost instantly killed tonight about 8 o'clock when struck by an automobile driven by Al Davis, who is a garage owner at Beaumont. The lad lived only a few seconds after being struck by the machine, in which four men were riding.

The boy was stopped near the crossroads just in front of the sanatorium by an automobile party wanting to know which road to take to San Bernardino. The boy directed them, and then seeing the headlights of the Davis machine stepped off the road.

There is a ditch there, and to get out of it he stepped back on the road directly in front of the machine driven by Davis. He set the brakes and stopped the car within five feet of the spotwhere he hit the boy.

The accident happened just a stone's throw from the home of the boy, and his mother and father learned of his death when they came out of PLACE PADLOCK ON DISTILLERY.

REVENUE OFFICERS REFUSE TO

FRESNO. FRESNO, Oct. 8.—United States in ternal revenue officers closed, sealed and put a padlock on a distillery owned by F. M. Roessler, five miles northeast of Fresno today. The Federal authorities allege that Roessler has refused to render an accounting of the amount of brandy and spirituous liquors manufactured in the distillery, and Mr. Roessler is absent today in San Francisco on business and no statement of the alleged failure to account to the government can be obtained here.

A. C. Scott, deputy revenue officer, and F. H. Driscoll, special agent of the United States Treasury Department, have been here two days investigating the situation, and their action today follows.

They could give no estimate of the amount of Federal tax which the winery is alleged to have evaded paying. ernal revenue officers closed, sealed

ANCIENT PISTOL

OLD PROSPECTOR SENDS GA AT BARSTOW.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BARSTOW, Oct. 8.—Bert Perceley, an employee of the Barstow Garage, DOES ITS WORK

wheel of his own machine Herry K.
Thaw sped through here today, bound for Los Angeles to visit his uncle, Josiah Copley of Long Beach. The party included Thaw's attorney, Frank K. Johnston of New York, and E. P. Pendleton of Concord, N. H.
The party was in such a hurry to reach Long Beach before night that no stop-over was made here.
Reservations were made for the Thaw party at the Alexandria, but up to an early hour this morning none of them arrived.
Josiah Copley of No. 1846 East First street, Long Beach, uncle of Mr. Thaw, said last night that his nephew would arrive there this morning and had made reservations were to stay for his way.

Thaw's intentions were to stay for the Barstow Garage, was accidentally shot through the right leg today by Death Valley Joe is a well-known and propertor.
Death Valley Joe is a well-known character throughout all this section and was stopping at the garage en route to Death Valley hen Perceley.
The old man said he had an old black that was no account because he had tried to fire it and it would not shoot. He began pulling the tried out. "You have shot ma."
"No. I saw the built stripe the dust." Joe cried. "I have anapped it twenty times but it never went off form."

Ferceley, the decay of the Barstow Garage.

Was accidentally shot through the right leg today by Death Valley Joe is a well-known and propertor.

Death Valley Joe is a well-known and was stopping at the garage en route to Death Valley He patched the section and was stopping at the garage en route to Death Valley Joe wan.

Thaw's intentions were made for the day of the garage of the Barstow Calley Joe is a well-known and propertor.

Death Valley Joe is a well-known and propertor.

Death Valley Joe is a well-known and propertor.

Death Valley Joe is a well-known and was stopping at the garage en route to Death Valley Joe is a well-known and propertor.

Death Valley Joe

Perceley was sent to the County Hospital and Death Valley Joe went on his way.

Executive Head of Soldiers' Hom to Visit Here Monday - Wome

Entertain.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, Oct. 8. — Col.

Fred J. Close, president of the Board of Managers, National Home for Disabled Volunteers, en route from Kansas City, will arrive at the home on Monday, accompanied by the assistant inspector-general, and will be joined by Vice-President-General Col. H. H. Markham, in consultation with Gen. P. H. Barry on matters pertaining to this branch.

WOMEN ACTIVE.

WOMEN ACTIVE

The hotel in everyone's thoughts "Hotel del Coronado." - [Advertise

DROPS DEAD

MILKING COW

COT TOPPLES OVER ON RANCH OF PIGEON-FARM OWNER.

LANCASTER, Oct. 8.—While milking a cow on the J. Y. Johnson ranch west of Lancaster Thursday morning Robert Gillespie, a native of Scotland, toppled over dead. The deceased, who was 42 years old, was sent to the ranch less than ten days ago by a Los Angeles employment agency. He was apparently healthy with the exception of a slight throat affection. This is the second death on the Johnson ranch, the owner's son having passed away with tuberculosis a few weeks ago. Johnson came to the valley to recuperate a loss aggregating $50,000 sustained when his pigeon farm was swept away in the heavy floods of two years ago. Gillispie had no known relatives but is reported to have lived at Santa Maria.

Morning, noon and night—some-LANCASTER, Oct. 8 .- While milk

Morning, noon and night—some thing doing at "Hotel del Coronado.—[Advertisement.

Legal Motice.

FURNITURE SALE

$25,000 stock high-grade Furniture Rugs and Stoves, now in our new

GEO. W. DEWEY 734-736 South Main

INDUSTRIES OVERTAXED TO CARE FOR BUSINESS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

Schools and Colleges.

HUNTINGTON HALL
ding and Day School for Girls, Oneonta Park, South Passet

ST. CATHERINE'S SCHOOL MONTESSORI SCHOOL COMP. Miss Thomas. Miss Mosgreve cipals, Telephones W. 4832; Home

The Isaacs Woodbury Business College

FIFTH FLOOR HAMBURGER BUILDING, STH AND BROADWAY. Foremest of and business training school since 1844, Fall enrollment now beginning. 'All continuous ing entering please call, write or phone. Now is a good time to begin. Main 133; 71344 EDWARD KING ISAACS. President. HARVARD SCHOOL-Military

Right in your own city. To acre athletic field. Sixteenth year opens deptember Ms write for Catalogue, 16th and Western ave Phone 12141. Rt. Rev. J. E. Johns (Blahop Episcopal Dicess.) President of the Board. URBAN Day and Boarding—Young Boys'—Military—A m for every 10 boys. Every boy recites every Open all year. 800 South Alvarado. 52647.

Automobile, Machine Shop, Mining, Electrical, Mechanition privileges. New classes forming. Enroll this phone or write. 10822; Main 8380, 715 So. Hope St. SCHOOLS

Boarding and Day School. Preparatory, general and post-gradua courses. Out-of-door study, art, music, gymnasium, domestic selent Twenty-sixth year. Reopens September 30th, 130-178 South Eucli Pasadena. Miss Anna B. Orton. Phone Fair Oaks 69t. ORTON HOLLYWOOD SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

FALL TERM OPENS SEPTEMBER 20TH chool. 1749 La Bres Avenus. Boarding and Day School. College eral advanced and secretarial courses. Music. Art. Domestic Science in Training. Circular on application. Phone $7584. TUMNOCK SCHOOL OF EXPRESSION

ANGELES VISTA SCHOOL

GIRLS' COLLEGIATE SCHOOL TWENTY-THIRD TEAR

THE WESTLAKE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

WILSHIRE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS 174 South Normandie Avenus. Day pupils only; all departments. New building, outdow study. Eurythmics. Pall term begins Sept. 28. Principal, MISS L. C. PIRRET. Home 16628.

Real Estate Directory.

MONEY TO LOAN. n Amounts from $2000 to $10,000
On City or Country Property.
Current Rates.
BOBERT MARSH & CO.
200 Marsh-Strong Bidg.

NOTICE To Real Estate Men pay FULL commission to all R. A. ROWAN & CO.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

AW OF USURY BASIS OF SUIT.

HOTEL COMPANY'S CREDITORS PIGHT INTEREST PAYMENT.

Allegation Made that Part of Allegation State that Part of Loan Agreement was that Cor-poration Purchase a Lot at Four Thousand Dollars, Said to be Worth Only Half that Price.

Logan Agreement was that Corporation Purchase a Lot st Four Thousand Dollars, Said to be Worth Only Half that Price.

A sult by Henry O. Wackerbarth, in behalf of the creditors of the Golden Bay Hotel Company, against the sultern Cattfornia Investment Company and sillton. Hannah H. and Irving A. Metzier, is engaging the attailing of Judge Hewitt and several attorneys. The action seeks to enjoin the sais of the corporation's property through failure to pay certain promise of my lady friends."

"Hencause I am sick."

"Hon think Mrs. Martin drank more fhan she said she did. hornilland attorneys. The action seeks to enjoin the sais of the corporation's property through failure to pay certain promise of the law of usury.

The Golden Bay Hotel Company operated at one time the King George Hotel at Venice. Mr. Wackerbarth steeps Hotel Company, giving nine promissory notes secured by the personal property of the hotel. The notes hore 10 per cent. Interest and represented an aggregate of the secure of the property soid to the hotel company, was an indirect interest charge and that this is in violation of the law worth $2000. It was alleged by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is company produced that the low of the secure of property brokers of more than 2 per cent. agreement of the law worth $2000. It was alleged by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is in violation of the law worth $2000. It was alleged by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is the property by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is in violation of the law worth $2000. It was alleged by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is the law of the law worth $2000. It was alleged by the attorneys for Mr. Wackerbarth alleged that this is in violation of the law morth of the law of the law morth of the law of ins and of the sixty-four acres to D. E. Cartwright. If this was done. Mr. Pitman is aliesed to have stated, he would relinquish any claim to any Leta R. Jones, his daughters, and Miss portion of the residue, Mr. Miller laws there when his grandmother died. He states that C. E. Cole, his uncle, gave him information to the effect that Grandmother Pitman had spent all the assets of the estate and that nothing was left for the children or grandchildren. When in the fall of 1914 Mr. Miller, as he alleges, learned that his sister is left to the widow, Mrs. Ruth L. The was not certain a portion of the estate. Be was not certain other, June 1914 Mr. Miller, as he alleges, learned that his sister is left to the widow, Mrs. Ruth L. The was not certain other, June 1914 Mr. Miller, as he alleges, learned that his sister is left to the widow, Mrs. Ruth L. Hartshorn.

SLIM CHANCE TO WIN.

Apparently without a precedent in the local courts, aithough the matter is covered by decisions, the suit of L. B. Tuller of Pomona to recover $5000 damages for alleged depreciation of his property at Park avenue and Artesia street by reason of the noise of the cars of the San Bernardino line passing by his premises, came to a close before Judge Wellborn yesterday after a spirited legal battle between Attorneys Tuller and Ashburn. The Pacific Electric which owns the line was defendant, and set up that Mr. Tuller could not recover damages.

The court interested that judgment

Mr. Tulier could not recover damages.

The court intimated that judgment would be for the corporation, holding as a matter of law that whether the Tulier property had been depreciated in value or not, there could be no recovery because the noise of the cars is an incidental inconvenience which the property owner must suffer as a member of the general public, and it is not a taking or a damage within the meaning of the cohstitutional provision. In other words, the court was asked by Attorney Tulier to view the premises at Pomona and convince himself whether or not there has been any depreciation as alleged. This the court will probably do before finally handing down judgment.

ASK BIG DAMAGES.

ASK BIG DAMAGES.

Asking $100,000 damages each, suits were filed yesterday by M. W. Findley and W. A. Murphy against E. M. Davids and Lycurgus Lindsay for alleged malicious prosecution. These suits follow the filing of criminal complaints against Mr. Findley and Mr. Murphy in the Justice Court, August 11, on the charge of embezzling $4000. The charges were dismissed shortly after the complaints were filed.

The filing of the criminal proceed-

The filing of the criminal proceedings is alleged by Mr. Findley and Mr. Murphy to have prevented them from carrying out plans for the construction of a plant for the manufacture of clay products.

hemia," and the testimony showed that she returned with her father, made a second trip with her sister and the last voyage with her mother.

July 8, 1913, Mr. Weir sald he returned from a trip and found a note to him, which stated, "Old Bohemin for me." He knew that meant she had gone back to her home folks. He received a letter from her, stating she had arrived safely and more poignant the information that she was going to stay in Iowa.

TOO MUCH DRINK?

BUT WIFE SIPS, TOO.

BILKED, HE SAYS.

ASKS FOR ACCOUNTING.

ASKS FOR ACCOUNTING.

Elias Pitman, a pioneer ranchman of Whittier, left an estate of sixty-four acres when he died in 1885. Yesterday two suits were filed to quiet title and for an accounting, one against Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Pitman and the other against Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Pitman and the other against Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Pitman and the other against Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cole. The suits brought by John E. Miller, a grandson of Elias Pitman, promise to revive the history of old ranching days.

Albert S. Pitman is the son of Elias Pitman is the son of Elias Pitman and Mrs. C. E. Cole is a daughter. It is set up in the complaint filed by Attorneys A. and R. A. Moore, that Elias Pitman bequeathed his estate to his wife, who was to hold it during her lifetime. At her death it was to go to the three children. One of the children died a number of yehrs ago.

Mrs. Pitman died in 1909. Before

Mrs. Pitman died in 1909. Before

As leader of the orchestra at a dancing accamemy. Mr. Laietsky's labors, ceased at midnight, but Mrs. Laietsky's labors, ceased at midnight, but Mrs. Laietsky's labors, cased at midnight, but Mrs. Laietsky's labors, ceased at midnight, but Mrs. Laietsky's labors, constructive steps have been taken to remedy the situation.

President Betkouski of the Council will suggest amending the speed ordinance to provide for a lower minimum in a second or third bifense and he will urge the police Judges to show less leniency in imposing lines for speed-ern, but he said he was through. Single life suited him best, he said, as he could stay out as late as he pleased. It as separate maintenance suit, filed to the provide the stituation.

Wanton Waste.

City To investigate.

City To investigate.

Los Angeles is wasting more money through the city of the council to the provide for a lower minimum in a second or third bifense a when in the fall of 1914 Mr. Miller, as he alleges, learned that his sister, residing in Arizona, had been given a portion of the estate, he came to Los Angeles and made an investigation. He declares that facts dealing with the estate were concealed from him in order to prevent him receiving his share of the property.

It is further stated in the complaint that Mr. Pitman and Mr. Cole are in possession of the forty-six arces, and Mr. Miller asks that there is an accounting of the property from he date of the death of his grand-tother, and a clear title.

NOISE CASE ENDS

NOT RESPONSIBLE. Andrew E. Arbuckle, a good-natured heavyweight, lost a great toe under the wheels of a car of the Los Angeles Railway. He needed that great toe in his business, but the corporation won't have to pay for it, as Judge Rogers held yesterday that the latter could not be held responsible. Suit for $10,000 damages.

EMBEZZLEMENT. Vladimir Ruper, formerly treasurer of Savano Slavo, a local Slavonian benevolent society, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday on the charge of having embezzled $400 from the organization. The preliminary hearing was before Justice Brown. The defendant used the money, it was disclosed, for the relief of his brother, who was ill, and he admitted it. The defendant stated he had since repaid a considerable amount of the money. Ball was fixed at $500.

BELITING THIEF. Edward LaPlante, who says he is the son of a New York stove manufacturer, was yesterday found guilty of stealing a considerable amount of rubber belting and other goods from the Los Angeles Rubber Company, by which he was employed. Sentence will be pronounced Monday by Judge Houser.

BRENTWOOD

PAR

carrying out plans for the construction of a plant for the manufacture of clay products.

BOHEMIA FOR HER'S.

WIFE GOES BACK EAST.

What's the use of having a wife, if she won't stay home? John P. Weir, a Southern Pacific conductor, might have asked himself this question when he prepared to file suit for divorce against Hattie Weir. Judge Shenk tried the case yesterday and granted Mr. Weir a decree of divorce.

The severing of the ties comes after eighteen years of married life. Mrs. Weir was raised in Iowa, and the ure of the old home proved too strong, especially if any of her folks visited her. She referred to it as "Old Boordered the complaint dismissed."

Police Judge Suggests Plan for Various Departments to Drive the Elusive Buck into a Corner for a

CITY TO INVESTIGATE.

Los Angeles is wasting more money through failure to utilize its natural gas supply than the city is spending on public improvements, according to Chairman Wheeler of the Council Finance Committee, who introduced a resolution yesterday railing for an immediate investigation of the situation by the Public Utilities Board. Mr. Wheeler recounted the experience of custern cities, where, he said, millions of dollars' worth of natural gas was wasted before the communities realized the worth of cheap fuel, and said that Los Angeles is apparently following faithfully the bad example of the Ohio. Pennsylvania and Indiana cities, instead of profiting thereby.

The resolution, passed by unanimous vote of the Council, cites that it is well known that large quantities of

The resolution, passed by unanimous vote of the Council, cites that it is well known that large quantities of natural gas in the vicinity of Los Angeles are and for a long time have been going to waste, while gas consumers of the city are not enjoying the benefits of this supply at low rate. henefits of this supply at low rates. The Board of Public Utilities is re-quested immediately to make an in-vestigation covering the following vestigation covering the lollowing points:

How much natural gas is now going to waste in this vicinity?

How much natural gas could be developed in this territory if an effort were made to develop it, and, An estimate of the expense of development and of piping it to the city.

BIG BILL CANCELLED.

for $10,000 damages.

SUES FOR INJURIES. Alleging that G. B. and N. W. Warman assaulted him, the net results being six fractured ribs, a fracture of the frontal bone, injury to the spine and sundry bruises, N. C. Herron, in a suit filed against the men yesterday, asked $10,000 dames. The fracas is said to have occurred at Redondo Beach, May 12, last.

INCORPORATIONS. Texas Canyon Mining Company, incorporators Mrs. Antoine Denonie, Henry Denonie, George McKensie, J. F. Mitchell and Eyerell C. Moore, capital stock $250, 100,000, subscribed $1.5; Panama Wrench Company, incorporators U. Fernandez, E. A. Hillman and M. J. Lovett, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $1.5; Fidelity Security Corporation, incorporators Tred de Augustine, Fred L. Boruff, George A. Eastman, N. L. Marvin and E. J. Votaw, capital stock $150, 100,000, subscribed $50.

EMBEZZLEMENT. Vladimir Ruper, formerly treasurer of Savano per, formerly treasurer of Savano per formerly treasurer of Savano per, formerly treasurer of Savano per formerly treasurer of Savano per, formerly treasurer of Savano per formerly treasurer o

TO COMBINE WORK.

NEW STANDARDS BUREAU. Establishment of a municipal bureau of standards was discussed yesterday at a meeting of heads of departments with the Council Finance Commit-tee and the Efficiency Commission. Va-rious department heads presented ob-jections to the plan whereby it is proposed to do away with some seventeen testing laboratories scattered over the city and centralize the work with a

PARK

For residences only. No stores, hotels or apart-

Only one residence on a lot.

Building restrictions are precautionary, not excessive. And a liberal building dis-

J. Albert Campbell

Braly-Janss Co. Main 1371—Home 10026 320 Pacific Electric Bidg. Branch at Brentwood Park

Chairman wheeler of the Finance Committee said the department heads were called for aid and suggestions, and about all they gave was objections, but, nevertheless, the committee pro-poses to go ahead with plans for es-tablishing the bureau.

Petition is Sufficient.

City Clerk Wilde will certify the two-platoon fire ordinance repeal peti-tion to the Council Monday. The work the Fire Commission yesterday that view to economy and efficiency.

The harbor department, which preters to have its testing work done at it which preters to have its testing work done at it which preters to have its testing work done at it which preters to have its testing work done at it which preters to have its testing work done at it which proposed in the advance of the harbor engineer and the Board of Public Works, expressed the fear that a central testing bureau will consider the original petition bears 10,074 and the original petition bears 10,074 and the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the wall signatures and the amendment bears 5081 valid names. This makes a total of 15,155 good names and the required 15 per cent. Is 13,275. The supplementary petition for an terials should be under his supervision. The Efficiency Commission pointed will act as an auditor of materials the same as the City Auditor checks financial accounts for all departments, and all legal objections to the consolidation were removed. Chairman Wheeler of the Finance Committee and the department heads to the consolidation were removed. Chairman Wheeler of the Finance Committee and the department heads and are injured through firmen have been injured while trict on October 26.

The fault of the firequent accidents in which figures, subject to slight revision, show that the original petition bears 10,074 the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because they forget to retard the fault of the firemen themselves, because th

Warning to Firemen.

Hereafter, members of the fire department who forget to adjust the spark before cranking automobile fire apparatus and are 'injured through this neglect, will likely lose their pay while recovering from broken arms or legs. This order will be made by the Chief and approved by the commission, and every auto fireman will be notified in a manner that the Fire Commission believes will attract attention.

Minor City Doings.

The Council yesterday authorized the Public Service Commission to file applications with the United States Forestry Department for reservoir and dam sites and rights of way for conduits through government land in the vicinity of Leevining Creek and Rush ley, These reservations are sought by the city to forestall attempts on the part of private power companies to the upton the power available for development of the municipal power system.

Protests against the proposed change of grade in Avenue 50 between Pasadem avenue and Echo street were sustained by the Council vesterday and proceedings will be abandoned. The Council will hear protests against the proposes of the City Attroption.

Squabs 25c each

Hens, Fryers, 50c each -Freshly dressed for the Sunday

(Delicatessen Dept.-4th Floor)

Our Saturday Candy Special packed in 1-lb. boxes, 25c. -Chocolate-coated and the soft, rich cream-none del

-"Little Sleepy-head was having the time of her life. All about her were dollies of every tindcrippled dollies—but dollies with two hands, and two feet—and the prettiest eyes and hair!

—And there were doll clothes, and beds and dishes —and 'way over in the corner were her brother's skates and toys—such a world of them! —And then she awakened. She had been dreaming of Hamburger's Toyland and Dolldom—where —Santa Claus' advance gift hints.

Note-Watch Hamburger's Ads for Other News of Santa Claus

Lovely 23-inch Jointed Dolls, $1.50

-This is one of Santa's favorites—a great, tall dolly with bisque head, open mouth, sleeping eye as pretty hair. Such a dear! And it is only a dollar-and-a-haif—Mothers, dress this dolly now for Santa Cam "Winslow" Skates, $2.00 111/2-in. Teddy Bears &

Tennis Rackets, $1.00 Beginners like these rackets of selected wood—they are so strong, so well proportioned.

Other Rackets, $1.25 to $8.00

Tennis Bails — for practice, 25c; Championship bails, 25c, or 3 for $1.00.

Hall-bearing roller skates, with adjustable foot plate and toe clamps—a standard make that will last through many skating seasons.

—Big plush bears that will love to pull around!

able head and legs, yes, a "Flower" Pin Wheels, in diameter; easy to reto e, or 3 for Plain Bearing Skates, $1.25 com (Hamburger's Toyland and Dolldom—Fourth Floor—Today)

Dear Children:

-SURPRISES! SUR-PRISES! - nothing but surprises today. I am not going to tell you what the story will be or anything about what we will do, but I know you wouldn't miss it for anything - of course, you'll BE HERE. We had a splendid time last Saturday, didn't we? But this afternoon!-well-just be here and see.

-Fairyland, 5th Floor—3 o'clock.
Your friend,
The Hamburger Story Girl.

Begin Your Christmas Gifts of Art Needlework Now!

-There are so many dainty, inexbegin early.

—We teach you, free, how to embroider, crochet, etc. Women's classes daily, 9:30 to 4:30.

These Gift Hints-

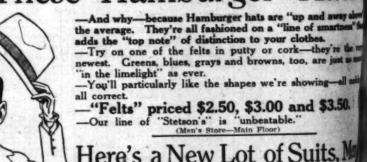

-Crochet jackets, auto caps, slippers, scarfs, sweaters--Luncheon sets, cord table covers, pin cushion and scarfs, sofa pillows, centerpieces, runners, fancy aprons boudoir caps, night gowns, corset covers, combinations, etc.

And, Children!-

—Join the Saturday embroidery class and begin to make your doll clothes for Christmas — or other pretty things for gifts.

Classes, Saturdays, 9:30 to 5 P. M. burger's—Third Floor—Today)

You'll Be Proud to Tip One of These Hamburger Hats

Here's a New Lot of Suits, M and They're Great Value favor of a new suit, when you see this line of new fall models at -Sack coats in 3-button style-trousers on conservative lines. Fabrics are gray and blue flannel, also gray, tan and brown mix-

Now there's a word or two to think about—and you'll think in tures and plaids; sizes 32 to 40-$12.50. Hamburger's Men's Store-Main Floor-Today.

The Sale of Men's Ties at 35c, 65c, 95c and $1.45 and tomorrow, the third day of this wonder sale, will prove the greatest. For—the hundreds of men, yes, even a thousand or so, who have bought neckwear, will tell their friends—and all around will the word -sensational values, beautiful silks, low prices—all this in Hamburger's

(Hamburger's Men's Store-Main Floor-Today)

Contract of the second section of the second

k. Should you ble. You can b Ha the week. So procurable. Bulbs filling orders early in the ris the highest grade p Holland on is now on. We will begin fi planting r first plan bulb

The Clause in the tea venture of the control of the

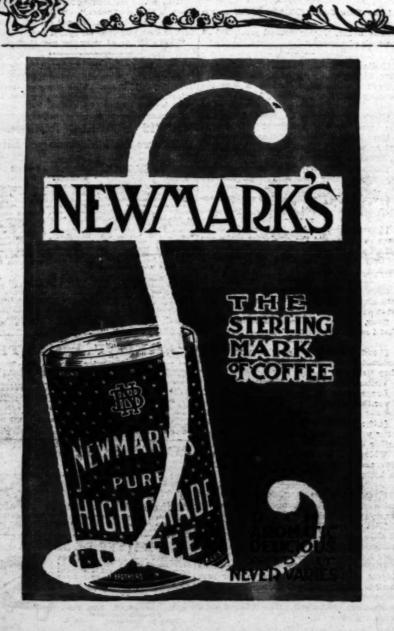

TEN CENTS. THE UNIQUE MAGAZINE OF THE SENSUOUS SOUTHW

1781-1915

Stump of Philippine Mahogany, Island of Negros, P. I.

Our Holland Bulbs Have Arrived The bulb planting season is now on. We will begin filling orders early in the week. Should you be contemplating an early Spring display make your first planting at once. The stock we offer is the highest grade procurable. You can buy cheaper bulbs than these we offer. When you do so you get inferior size, inferior strains and ultimately inferior results. Your labor in bringing them to maturity is the same. Is It Worth While? Our Hyacinths, Daffodils, Tulips, Iris, etc., are all big, fat, plump bulbs and will give you the highest results obtainable in your Spring garden. Our prices are strictly commensurate with the quality of the stock we send out. Choice bulbs will give your garden a gala appearance before the ordinary run of annuals and perennials come into flower. A SPLENDID LOT OF HYACINTHS ALBA SUPERBISSIMA—A grand pure white. CHARLES DICKENS, Blue—Porcelain blue with deeper tinta. CHARLES DICKENS, Fish—Large spikes, soft rose color. GERTRUDE—Deep pink. Extra fine for bedding purposes. GERNDEUR A MERVILLE—An exquisite shade of blush white. GRAND MAITRE—Pure porcelain blue. LA PETROUSE—Light blue. Elegant large spikes. NORMA—Basulful coral pink shade. BOBT. STERIGES—Deep rich rose. Very fine. RING OF THE IELLOWS—Exquisite pure yellow variety. DAFFODILS Among the various plants for Spring there is nothing to exceed the beauty of a well-grown bed of these. Their culture is simple and if properly treated with the return of each Spring there is an increased display of bloom. The varieties in the subjoined list are free growers and the bulbs quoted are all selected first size. DAFFODIL RABRI CONSPICUUS—Flowers large, perianth soft yellow, cup edged with orange scarlet. A beautiful thing. DAFFODIL BIOCLOB VICTORIA—Very large. A beautiful two-color daffodill. Creamy white and clear, rich yellow. DAFFODIL CAMPERNELLE RUGULOSUS—A dainty, medium size flower. Rich golden DAFFODIL EMPRESS—Identical in every respect with Emperor except color, perianth being white, while trumpet is a full rich yellow. DAFFODIL MADAM PLEME—A grand Daffodil with pure white perianth and golden yellow trimple. Flowers carried erect on stiff stems. DAFFODIL OBANGE FROENIX—White each orange. Double as a Camellia and not unlike it in shape. DAFFODIL PRINCEFS MAXIMUS—Perianth pale yellow. Cup deep yellow. DAFFODIL FORTICUS ORNATUS—Poet's Daffodil. Flowers white with the cup rim DAFFODIL EMPEROR—Giant trumpet Daffodil. Deep rich yellow. Unsurpassed as a Cut flower. DAFFODIL GOLDEN SPUR—One of the earliest pure yellow trumpet daffodils. Comes in a few weeks before-Emperor and Empress and lengthens the flowering period of these plants materially. deep red. DAFFODIL SULFRUR PHOENIX—Immense double flowers similar to Orange Ph but a lovely soft sulphur yellow color. size bulba, per doz., 50c. Per hundrd, $3.50. SOME GOOD TULIPS The following list contains the varieties which do well in this climate. They produce enormous sized flowers on stems 18 inches to 2 feet long. Having made exhaustive tests to determine the best varieties for this section we can unhesitatingly recommend the varieties below. BOUTON D'OB—Richest golden yellow. Immense blooms on long stems. GENNERIANA LUTEA—A spiendid variety for cutting. Stems long. Color paler than Bouton d'Or. GENNERIANA ALBA OCULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA RPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA ALBA OCULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENNERIANA ROBERA—Rosey carmine with black center. GENNERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. GENERIANA SPATHULATA—Rich crimson scarlet with blue-black center. NOTE THIS The bulbs offered are but a small portion of the assortment we have in stock. We have a full selection of all other seasonable varieties. These will be completely enumerated in our next bulletin of "What and When to Plant," in addition to a full list of cultural notes, the following of which will enable you to secure a splendid display of bloom. This bulletin will be mailed to all our regular customers during this week. If you are not already on our mailing list, drop us a line and we will send you a copy.

9# & OLIVE STS

NURSERIES , MONTEBELLO

MAIN 1745 -10957

LOS ANGE

from heaven. If any one of those great men who are responsible for the war could have foreseen the scope that it would take, the money and lives it would take, the money and suffering it would produce, think you for a moment they would have raised that terrible "cry havoe, and let slip the dogs of "cry havoe, and let slip the dogs of war?" We do not hesitate to answer the country of the countr apples of Iduna, daughter of the dwart, Svald. She had a tree, the fruit of petual during the partaker with perpetual youth. Possibly this eternal maiden is one of those we meet on Broadway of an atternoon.

This tree of the Northland might have been a real apple.

The Countess D'Amois in her strange meet on the Countess D'Amois in her the Countess D'Amois in her attente memoirs tells of the existence memoirs tells of the existenc strange memoirs tells of th

(THE TIMES MAGAZINE)

4 .

THE CITY AND THE COAST

ONE of our friends objects to the statement that there is much waste fruit in California. Since he is the president of a canning factory he ought to know. We would be glad to think that we are wood in the assumption. that we are wrong in the assumption, yet complaints of this sort have been made to us in large numbers, and many organizations are being formed by fruit growers throughout the State, with the hope of reaching a better understanding with the market.

THAT picnic of persons seventy years of age and over, held at Sycamore Grove, was a fine idea. It demonstrated the courage of Los Angeles. Not many cities would risk having more than a handful on such an occasion, and there are still fewer cities that could trust the weather to set a date for such a delicate undertaking.

A SAN FRANCISCO man followed a blonde beauty to San Diego, where he lost his heart to her and $8000. This seems to be truth con-clusive that San Diego is not the place to take a blonde beauty.

LILIAN TUCKER has started a club in New York for moving picture actresses. We suppose that the members must correspond by mail, for they certainly live in Los Angeles.

THERE may be something better in climate than the September sunshine in Southern California, but we never expect to see it this side of

PASADENA is enjoying the pressounds like a full orchestra,

World Sources of Tin.
THOUGH tin was known thousar of years before the dawn of histe it was not assigned a regular place it was not assigned a regular place in the scientific or commercial list of metals until the fourth century of the present era. All the tin used by the ancient Greeks and Romans up to that period had come from Cornwall, on the south coat of Albion, or from the East Indies, presumably from Malacca and south coat of Albion, or from the East Indies, presumably from Malacca and neighboring islands.

From prehistoric times tin had been alloyed with copper for the purpose of producing bronze implements, both for warfare and for domestic use. Alloyed with copper it gave that metal hardness, strength and a cutting edge. According to the Cornwall legend, cherished to this day, a hermit was accustomed to roam about the rugged cliffs and one day took to his rude home some beautifully veined rocks to form his fireplace. When he lighted his fire a stream of molten white metal form his fireplace. When he lighted his fire a stream of molten white metal flowed from under the stones, and St. Perrin taught miners how to obtain the ore and prepare it for the market.

The production of tin in Cornwall had increased to 2500 tons in 1800, to 10,000 tons in 1840, and to 12,000 tons in 1870. About this time there began to be a rapid development of in min-ing in the so-called Straits Settlements, south of Siam, and from this source of supply there came about 40,000 tons in 1900 which rose to 60,000 tons in 1905. The total world's supply, principally from these two sources, was then about 95,000 tons per annum.

An ingot of tin is pure white with a slight tinge of blue. Owing to the fact that it does not corrode on exposure to moisture it is extensively used for the coating of iron for cooking utensils and for cans containing fruit and meat foods. It is also rolled into this cheete called the fift. into thin sheets called tin foil for wrapping up tobacco, toilet soap, etc. These increased demands for the metal in various forms have greatly stimulated its production and its produc supply have been developed in recent

One of the largest producers at present is Bolivia on the eastern slope of the Andes. The great tin mines near Lake Titicaca are now rivalling those of the Straits Settlements, and those of the Straits Settlements, and there seems to be an unlimited quantity of the ore. Probably the richest man in South America is Simon Y. Patino, the tin king of Bolivia. His mines vield an income of $5,000,000 a year. He is president of the Banco Mercantile in La Paz, with a capital of $25,000,000. There is promise of a considerable output of tin in Alaska. From the new city of Anchorage, at the head of the deep and safe harbor of Cook Inlet on the south side of Seward Peninsula, a government railroad will of the deep and safe harbor of Cook Inlet on the south side of Seward Peninsula, a government railroad will be built, 450 miles in length to Fairbanks on the Tanana River. Near the line of this road are valuable undeveloped gold, copper, coal and tin mines. So promising are the future prospects of the region which will thus be accommodated, that Anchorage has already become a fine city and important seaport. The tin mines have already made a handsome yield and many tons of concentrates will be shipped to Seattle for reduction. This is the locality which the Morgan and Guggenheim syndicates expected to spend millions in exploiting a few years ago, but Uncle Sam has decided to shape matters so that all investors shall have an equal chance in developing its untold riches.

The Yunnan province of China, near the southern border of that empire, and under the French sphere of influence," is becoming one of the world's large producers of tin. This great tin field is at Ko Chiu, at an elevation of 5900 feet, and although its nearest port is only twenty-one miles distant at Mong-tsu, all its tin shipments go through the British port of Hongkong. In 1912 it exported 9750 and the suitant and when she made as put to that the part of the market that it was time for respectable girls to be in bed, and Juno with the part of the lemetand remarket that it was time for respectable girls to be in bed, and Juno with the mouth full of hatpins, pulled the mouth full Inlet on Peninsula, tons of tin. Of this amount about one-third was destined for consumption in the United States and the prices at Hongkong ranged from 41 to 45 cents per pound.

Tin is found in limited quantities in

Tin is found in limited quantities in Nigeria and South Africa, in Mexico, in Saxony, in Siberia, in Japan and in Australia. Though traces of the ore have been noticed in several States of the Union, it has not been produced in commercial quantities anywhere in the United States.

The Day of the Apple.

T HE rollicking day of the round red apple cometh apace. This is now almost a national institution, al now almost a national institution, although the date varies slightly in different States. Since the days of Adam the apple has been fairly well advertised, but mainly on its merits as a fruit. In mythology, romance and history the apple has been worked overtime and its connection with a number of memorable incidents is not warranted. memorable incidents is not warranted memorable incidents is not warranted.

Even the little affair of Mother Eve is misplaced. It has been represented that she gave an apple to her spouse; that he choked on it and has had an Adam's apple in his throat ever since. This is the oldest choke in history. But it is unjustified. It was a green persimment simmon.

Turing to Grecian mythology we strike the apple of discord. The whole smear of gods and goddesses were gathered in high jinks at the wedding of Thetis and Peleus. The nectar had been circulating freely and Hebe's hands were sore from rushing the growler. They got to where they were playing kissing games when Eris, the unpleasant dame who had charge of the department of hatred, butted in with a so-called golden apple, which of the department of hatred, butted in with a so-called golden apple, which she threw on the table with the exclamation that it was for the belle of the ball. It was a swell bunch of girls and it was hard to sort out the niftiest chicken of the lot. At last the contest narrowed down to Juno, Minerva and Venus. Some class, eh? Old man Jupiter was too crafty to decide the bet. He was a flirty guy and if he gave the premium to his wife it would neeve some of the other sparkling peeve some of the other sparkling gazelles present. So they telephoned for an outsider and the first one called for an outsider and the first one called was Paris, a bright young man who owned one of the largest laundries in Troy. Paris came spurting up in a taxi and was invited to look over the glittering trio of skirts. It was some job to decide which was the beauty. But Venus, who had been carelessly feeling her oats, happened to give him a wink and that settled it. Taking the golden fruit he handed it to the lovely blonde, who up to that time had not lost her arms. "It just matches your hair," he said with an admiring glance. And then the party broke up.

nenes took an apple from his poon and dropped it in her path. When as we the enticing fruit Atalanta pau and picked it up. Then she made ther dash for the lead and again other dash for the lead and again the foxy Hippo dropped a fine sample of fruit. He tried this the third time and was able to beat the girl to the wire by a nose. There was so much excitement that you couldn't hear the 6 o'clock whistle blow. Atalanta felt terrible over her defeat, but she wreaked a fearful revenge.

She married Hippomenes!

What she thought were apples were prunes.

The golden apples of Hesperides were also famed in ancient lore. These grew in the orchard of Reuben J. Pittacus, one of the most successful pomologists of Hesperia. He had a barbed wire fence around his place and at the wire fence around his place and at the gate he kept a massive dachshund that was the terror of the neighborhood. Old Reuben never gave anybody a taste of his fruit and the whole countryside was worried about it. Finally they mentioned the matter to Silas P. Hercules, the champion heavy-weight of his time. He had just cleaned up eleven of the hardest jobs ever set before an all-around athlete and he wanted to make it an even dozen in order to bag the silver mug.

Robbing the Hesperia orchard would do the trick.

do the trick.

So he took his fourteen-pound toadstabber and started for the place. At the gate he whistled for Bruno, and
when the dog jumped for his throat,
he gave a mighty swipe with his venomous cutlery that left the animal
in halves. When Reuben came out with his shotgun Hercules threw a horse blanket over his head and tied him to a tree. Then he calmly went through the orchard. Then he took the fruit to the cider mill of Eurystheus and told the king to have some applejack brewed.

That's the old story.

Now it turns out that this Hesperia

Now it turns out that this Hesperia

Now it turns out that this Hesperia ranch was the first citrus grove.

The golden apples of Hesperides were oranges, of course.

Occasionally we note literary reference to the apples of Sodom. Josephus, who wrote history long before Woodrow Wilson or Col. Roosevelt ever tried it, tells in one of his books of a tried it, tells in one of his books of a strange tree growing on the banks of the Dead Sea. The fruit was perfectly lovely to look at, but the pulp was nothing but a smear of ashes.

Now that wasn't an apple.

Some doggoned freak cocoanut with the hair growing on the inside.

Take the case of William Tell, winner of all the medals at the Swiss schuetzenfest. He was the handiest man with the bow and arrow of his time. The story goes that Col. Gessler of the Black Hussars ordered him to shoot an apple from the head of his son. Now this happened in May when there wasn't an apple in Switzerland. But there were plenty of turnips that season and it was one of these that furnished the target for the immortal archer. As he drew the bow he claimed twixt clenched teeth, "Watche This is why a Swiss watch is called a "turnip" to this day.

It was this same William who was said to have shot the holes in Swiss cheese.

S YNGETES LINES

INDEX TO CONTENTS OF THIS NUMBER.

The City and the Coast, Editorial, House Brown Hitten Right State and Hitten Ry Sugare Brown The Barles Lancer Lancer California, Land of the Sup, by the Westers Sea. Americans in South America, By Frank G. Carpent Lave of Old Eris, By E. Niall Breene Mammeth Typewriter on Exhibition at San Francia A Dreamer in the Sunshine, By Arthur W. Peach Part of the Brazilian Exhibit at San Diego How to Get Our Share of the World's Commerce.

terent Cartoons
Chinese Legand,
iweet Little Ricce,
hillippine Makegan
takegany in Phili
reparing Makegan
ing Make nd. By Dessa M. Pulta see. By Michael Clement gamy and Baro Hardwoo allippines and Lee Angel-gamy for Transportation 5 Good Short Stories
5 Awakening of Prisedila. By Leia Cole is 7 On the Mexican Border of Imperial Coun
10 Manila's Importance to Our Eastern Trad the Harried Life of Helm on Fredery Callings, by Brayer The City and Hone Braself Farm Topics. By R. V. Ba Hone, Sweet Brane Braself Farm Topics. By R. V. Ba Hone, Sweet Brane From Regard in S. Good Little B. Good Little B. Home York Harbor ...

GOOD LITTLE POEMS.

The Hidden Melody.

As I have seen some women do
Who knit and knit the whole day throug
So I, as I go here and there,
Along the city's thoroughfare,
Just take my thoughts amid the throng,
And knit and knit them all day long
Into a gay, fantastic song.

Folk little guess within my head What happy melody is bred, What singing thoughts go laughing pas What jocund love my heart holds fast; Nor how I have to walk my feet, Instructing them to be discreet, To keen from dancing on the street m dancing on the street.

The songs are made of folks I love;
Of wind-blown steam, blue sky above;
Of babies laughing at balloons;
Of young men's quips and whistled tun
Of birds, of beasts, of women's hair,
And jonguils bowing debonair, All strung with words that dance and pair

So all day long, prinked out in rime, My thoughts go by to measured time,
And all because, O Love! O Might!
O Melody of sheer delight!
My soul kneels down to say it true—
Weaving a song forever new,
The world goes dancing past to You!
[Margaret Prescott Montague, in Youth's

Not only to the winging bird.

But also to the wayside grass I bring the essence of my word.

And through them bid its beau

Just as in haughty chant I fire
A race, enslaved, to right its wro
Hammer and flail I oft inspire
To echo my undying songs—

My whisper makes the baby crow, My laughter stirs the lusty boy; e old man's crown of snow, I am the lover's heart of joy-

seen, by tone and rhythm I trace 'Mid star dust or rose spangled s For listening time a path through sp From glowworm unto Son of God. -[William Struthers, in Boston Trans

The Search.

Where steeps eternal slope to night A lonely spirit came; Upon the crag's sheer looming brink He broke the dark like flame.

From starless depths an upward bre Took form of wind and word: What seek ye here where never vo Or plea of man was heard?"

And through the echoing dusk a cry:
"I am the first of those
Whose feet shall pass all barriers
That hell or heaven knows!

"I came along a comet's path,
On starry tides was tossed,
I seek, though seek I evermore,
To find a love I lost!"
[Arthur Wallace Peach, in New Yor

To the Anklet Watch Mermaid.

Pray tell me how when you submerge Yourself beneath the sea. The watch is never waterlogged So it runs sluggish-lee.

I fain would know who made the co Who packed the stuffing box Around the stem that it admits No water through its locks.

Likewise on this September me A hundred in the shade. Pray tell me where the works w And by what expert made.

"If you must know and will be good
The wearer sweetly said.
"This anklet watch is just a fake Without works—like your head."
—-[R., in New York 8]

The Eagle.

Fools would file away my talons (saith the the Eagle,)
Fools forgetful, fools misleading and n

Blind to freedom's instant needs, cold to freedom's ancient deeds,

Deaf to all the voices of my dead—
Yet this: That wrong is strong (saith the Yet this: T Eagle.)

Is the message of my stern, heroic de

Tearing beak and rending talons (saith the Eagle)
And the wings of aspiration—that is I!
And the will that made the weak, grace to talons and to beak,
Freemen! with their foreheads to the

Yet wrong is tyrant-strong (saith the E And who shall bide its onset—if I d

Though I tore the guts from kingship (saith the Eagle)
Yet it writhes from strength to strength across the sea;
Though I showed the fools of earth what the gutted name was worth,
Behold! the fools of earth are deaf to me!
Yet wrong is kingly-strong (saith the Eagle:) Yet wrong Eagle:)

And right must needs be strong

Mine the wings of aspiration (saith the Mine the vision of a sacred pilgrim host hat mounts from life to life to the peace beyond our strife And meets the Lord of Freedom, ghost to

Yet wrong on earth is strong (saith the

in on earth must slay it, flesh or

When the Master purged the temple (saith the Engle)

Did he pacify, or palter, or suggest?
to! a scourge of knotted cords helped work that was the Lord's,
And the arm that hewed the ox-yo did the rest! He knew that wrong is strong (saith the

So his arm that hewed the ox-yokes did the rest!

Do ye likewise, foolish freemen (saith the

Make ye ready for the deeds that free-men do;
y! and forge ye for my heels two far-flashing, mighty steels
To guard my land and sea, and Yours, and You!

or wrong is devil-strong (saith the Eagle,)
And right must needs be stronger—to be fust needs be nobly stronger—to be true!

-[William Samuel Johnson, in New York

Ambition.

Ambuton.

A man with firm and piercing gase
And hair well touched with white
Stood pensive as the twilight has
Was melting into night.

"I've wealth," he said, "and ease o
Yet for one thing I sigh,
I vainly wish that I could eat
A second piece of pie.

The hours are gone, alas for me, When I would never wince While going through the list with glee
From custard down to mince.
Those loys so strangely short and swe
How they have passed me by!
What would befall if I should eat:
A second piece of pie?

"A bit of pastry now and then I nibble half afraid."
My word among my feilow-men Is instantly obeyed.
But I desire no tributes neat, Nor flattery flaunted high.
I only wish that I could eat
A second piece of pie."

—[Washin

HUMOR.

[Puck:] "Money will not take a man the top, Henderson." "I know; but it will give him a lot mo

[Kansas City Journal:] "Well, I am 45

"ansas old today."
"My dear lady, years mean nothing to a beautiful woman."
"I know. Still, I guess I'll have to really move out of the younger set."

[Pittsburgh Post:] "Don't you think it rather foolish to mortgage a home to buy an automobile?"

"Oh, I don't know. When you have an atomobile you don't care whether you have home or not."

[Judge:] Hortense: I can only be ster to you, Alphonse.

Alphonse: Then give me back my pres Alphon

Hortense: Why, Alphonse! Who ever ard of a sister doing such a foolish thing

[Washington Life:] The managing editor wheeled his chair around and pushed a button in the wall. The person wanted entered. "Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are all carried out," and the office boy, gathering them all into a large wastebasket, did so.

[New York Sun:] "Father, what's super fluity?"
"The words, 'Please deposit promptly' on

[Indianapolis Star:] Little Lemuel: Say, Paw, what is the meaning of ostentation? Paw: Ostentation, son, is a way the neighbors have of showing off.

[Boston Transcript:] She: I suppose the Duke has landed estates? He: Landed one every time he married but he managed to run through 'em all.

[Buffalo Express:] "I wish, Mrs. Nuri you would come over some time and a my apiary."

"Thank you, Mr. Jiggs, but really, mys never interested me."

[Topeka Journal:] "When you didn't have your fare did the conductor make you get off and walk?"
"Only get off. He didn't care whether I walked or sat down."

[New York Post:] So, doctor, you are still single? Ah, I fear that you are some-what of a woman-hater."

"Nay, madam; it is to avoid becoming one that I remain a bachelor."

[London Punch:] Longshoreman (after protracted conversation:) Be you one of they Germans, sur?

Visitor: Good gracious, no! Why?

Well, you 'asn't asked if [Life:] Friend: I see you have turned your wife's picture to the wall. Isn't that rather disrespectful?

Widower: No; it seems more natural. You, see, most of my time at home I spent in buttoning up her back.

[Washington Star:] "Did you use that money you put by for a rainy day in the way you intended?"
"Not exactly. But I came as near using it that way as I could. I bought watered stock with it."

[Chicago Herald:] Trustee: We're think-ing of putting up a nice motto over your desk to encourage the children. How would "Knowledge is Wealth" do? Teacher: Not at all. The children know what my salary is.

[4791

[Louisville Courier-Journal:] "I hear there is a movement on foot to weed out all unscrupulous lawyers from the Plunk-ville bar."

"We investigated and found there are no ascrupulous lawyers at the Plunkville bar." "Who investigated?" "Us lawyers."

[Browning Magazine:] "Where're you living now, Podgers?" "Nowhere. Boarding at the same old [Philadelphia Bulletin:] "What's the matter?"

"My wife says I don't know how to handle the baby."
"Touldn't get miffed over that, son."

"I wouldn't get miffed over that, sor said the older man. "Take my advice a [Yonkers Statesman:] Mrs. Flatbush o she told you that piece of gossip, die

Mrs. Bensonhurst: She certainly did.
"Over the telephone?"
"No: over the back fence."

[Punch:] Artist (to model he has just picked up in the street:) A man I had up here the other day stole two pounds when my back was turned. Would you do a thing like that?

Model: Oh. no. sir; you see, I 'aven't

Oh, no. sir; you see, I 'aven't

[Houston Post:] "Want a job, eh?"
"Yes, sir. I am looking for a place where there is plenty of work."
"I am sorry, but there is not enough work
here to keep you busy an hour a day."
"That's plenty of work for me, sir."

LOS ANGELES WEATHER

[From The Times of October 6, 1915.]
THE SKY: Clear. Wind at 5 p.m., west; velocity, 7 miles. Thermometer, highest, 84 deg.; lowest, 54 deg. Forecast: Fair.

LEWIS HOWELL ROGERS Discovers the Mainspring of Life

CALLY THE VITAL NERVE

collection of the control of the con

PERFECT HEALTH

Health through Nature a chance Why not allow Nature a chance others how to get Purfeet Health neinde "RADIO," the Vital Nerv otherapy. Pear systems of Nature Courts nothing to et and Hydrotherapy. Four systems of Nature re in one. Advice free. Costs nothing to is stigate. B. James Maskell, "Radio." 612 V ghih St. Phone F4224. Perfect Health is you turn! birthright. Perfect health await you no

ROSE SPRING

Radium and Radioactive Water ring many diseases such as constipation, atism, stomach, liver and kidney, skin and troubles. Phones 39013; Garvansa 953.

BETTER BE SAFE.

When the eyes ache R is a sign of strain that can rarely ever be permanently relieved without wearing flasses. We can tell you whether this is so or not if you will honor us with a visit.
Glasses at your own price from $1.50 upward.
C. L. McCLERRY, O.D., N.D., Eyesight Specialist, $330½ S. Broadway. Suite 4.

asw the enticing fruit Aciaints paused and picked it up. Then she made another dash for the lead and again the foxy Hippo dropped a fine sample of fruit. He tried this the third time and was able to beat the girl to the wire by ment that you couldn't hear the 6 o'clock whistle blow. Atalanta felt terrible over her defeat, but she menes took an apple from his pocket and dropped it in her path. When she saw the enticing fruit Atalanta paused per pound.

Tin is found in limited quantities in Nigeria and South Africa, in Mexico, in Saxony, in Siberia, in Japan and in Australia. Though traces of the ore the Union, it has not been produced in commercial quantities anywhere in the United States.

Hongkong ranged from 41 to 45 cents tons of tin. Of this amount about one-third was destined for consumption in the United States and the prices at

if the fourth century of the till the fourth century of the celes and Romans up to that come from Cornwall, on the Fast unably from Malacca and islands. HOUGH tin was known thousands of years before the dawn of history are not assigned a regular place in a not assigned or commercial list of the commercial list of the commercial list of the commercial list of the commercial commercial in the commercial c World Sources of Tin.

(THE TIMES MACAZINE) IFFORTRATED WEEKLY

urday, October 9, 1915.]

system of Iduna, daughter of the dwarf, Syald. She had a tree, the fruit of which endowed the partaker with perpetual youth. Possibly this eternal maiden is one of those we meet on Broadway of an afternoon.

This tree of the Northland might have been a real apple.

The Countess D'Amois in her strange memoirs tells of the existence of what was called the singing apple.

On giving one to a person he or she would afterward do whatever you desired. That must have been a pippin.

In the chronicles of the Arabian

Nights, it is related that Prince Ahmed bought in Samarkand an apple, the properties of which were such as to cure all ills to which the body was heir. That sounds something like a real apple.

Then there is the instance of Sir Isaac Newton who was so amazed at seeing an apple fall downward from a tree that he promptly went out and discovered the law of gravitation. What he would have found had the apple fallen up instead of down is marvelous to contemplate. Newton's tree was probably a grafted one and what amazed him was to see an apple fall from a pear tree. Gravity was there all the time. What Newton discovered was graft, which has been with us ever Gravitation and graft sound since.

much alike.

There are numerous other notable references to the apple in fiction and history and there can be no opposition to the institution of an Apple Day. The pioneer of the national movement is said to have been Capt. Jim Handly, secretary of the Mississippi Valley Apple Growers' Association, a society which has been in existence for nearly a quar-ter of a century. The captain's idea of a good lunch was a red apple and a bucket of hard cider and when he was full of his subject he was very engaging. Gov. John R. Tanner was one of the most successful politicians that Illinois ever produced and during all his career he always kept a barrel of apples at his office door to which every visitor was given free access. The Tanner apple exhibit at State conventions was a distinct feature and an apple frequently took the place of a drink. Gov. Tanner designated an drink. Gov. Tanner designated an Apple Day at the whim of Capt. Handly and it has been an institution ever since—spreading over into many other States.

California will try it out on October 19 along with the rest of the country and it is hoped to get an apple into the tummy of half the world, including all the scrappers in the European trenches. The apple has the most persistent class of admirers of any fruit in God's green

Peace Overtures.

THE Messiah during His lifetime, although another name for Him was the Prince of Peace, and although His teachings inculcated peace and if right-fully followed would lead to universal peace, yet warned His disciples that here would be "wars and rumors of wars" until the end of the world.

We have the wars on our hands on a scale never known before in the history of humanity, and mingled with new rumors of new belligerents getting into the melee come frequent rumors of peace. May the God of Battles, another name also for the Prince of Peace, hasten the day when the nations of Europe will be in a position of re-making their worn-out cannon and small arms, their exploded ammunition and every other warlike equipment, into equipment for peace, and when they shall beat their dull, gapped and broken swords into plowshares, pruning hooks, or some other kind of agricultural implement.

millions all over Europe begging peace | diet.

from heaven. If any one of those great men who are responsible for the war could have foreseen the scope that it would take, the money and lives it would cost, the sorrow and suffering it would produce, think you for a moment they, would have raised that terrible 'cry havoc, and let slip the dogs of war?" We do not hesitate to answer war?" the question in the negative.

It is easy to "cry havoc and let slip the dogs of war," but once unleashed and those ferocious bloodhounds having fleshed their teeth in human bodies and lapped the blood of their victims, become frenzied and exceedingly difficult to recall from battening on their horrible feast. It is mighty easy to unleash the hounds, but awfully hard to put the collars around their necks again and tie them up in the old temple of Janus or any other kennel whose doors are always open during war and only closed when peace prevails.

Much as the world longs for peace and desirable as it is on every human account, few people of intelligence and perspicacity will dare to hope for that longed-for event for months to come. The way the belligerents have sustained their warfare is marvelous; marvelous from the standpoint of the men they have thrown into the trenches, marvelous for the guns they have provided and for the ammunition have already expended. But perhaps the most marvelous thing is the money they have provided for this war. The armies are larger, the guns more ti-tanic, the ammunition more abundant, ten times, a hundred times, a thousand times, more than in any other war that has ever cursed humanity. But the financing of this struggle is on a scale so immense that nobody could have beforehand figured out the ability of the nations to stand the strain without incurring universal bankruptcy.

Undoubtedly the Teutonic allies would be glad to make peace on their own terms, and from the information conveyed to the public, their terms are not drastic nor hard, but considering the wonderful success their armies have achieved, must be characterized as moderate. Why then not make peace? Because, although the Teutonic allies profess their willingness to give up the conquered territory in their hands and ask for little indemnity, yet peace now would be of wonderful advantage to the central European nations. Advanta-geous? How? In prestige mostly. They would be in a position to claim a victory as gigantic and far-reaching as the war has been.

It may be national pride that dictates this effort on the part of the other allies to do what the Chinese call save their face. But undoubtedly while national and racial vanity figures in the situation, there is more than that at stake. Until one side or the other is vastly more exhausted than at present, peace talk from any quarter would seem to be in vain. The British gov-ernment and its allies have given the States government to understand that any peace proposals emanat-ing from this country will be regarded in the light of "an unfriendly act." Then there is undoubtedly the realiza-tion on the part of the belligerents that all sides must be more exhausted in men and money before peace could be established on anything like a stable

If money holds out to defray the ex-penses of the war we may expect to see the men hold out indefinitely, and therefore it looks as if the world were in for another winter of war rather inactively in the trenches, to be followed by another active campaign in the following summer. It is very sad to contemplate this proposition, but it would our land. better be faced if it has to be.

A woman in Los Angeles succeeded in getting a divorce because her hus-band would never provide anything for

Hitting High Spots in History.

By Engene Brown. By Eugene Brown.

The reason is that just 423 years ago that morning a Spanish sailor with a dago accent sprang from the deck of a venerable seew and raised the banner of the King of spain on an island many acres off the Florida Coast. The odd part of it is that he thought he was confiscating India.

There is popular assent to the claim that hristoforo Colombo was the white discoverer of the American continent, although this is not substantiated by fact. According to off-hand impressions our country was dis-covered by Columbus, recovered by Lincoln and uncovered by Roosevelt.

Anyhow it is well to give Columbus a blue ribbon for what he did. He was a grand stayer and would be considered a blend of bulldog and goat. He began life in Genoa, Italy, which was some handicap to start with. Hs father was a weaver and as a lad Columbus was taught to knit yarn mittens for the heathen. As he grew older he wanted to see the heathen at first hand and so he went away to be a sailor. He mingled with the Portuguese, for they were the best sea-dogs of their time. The Portu-guese were regular ducks for the water. After Columbus had sailed up and down the known coasts he sighed for wider waters. He came back possessed of two ideas—that the world was round and that he could make an egg stand on end, if the wast was so he he could reach India by sailing west. So he went and broke the news to King John of Portugal. His Royal Highness didn't seem to be particularly impressed and thought Columbus was stringing him. The popular impression of the time was that the earth was flat and that water boiled at the equator. Consequently the sailor folk were a trifle leary about getting too far away from the home plate. If they went in one direc-tion they would get cooked and in the other they would go over the falls. Chris hung about the place for quite a while and showed the King his magnetic needle and other tools but when he asked for a schooner the King laughed and told him to go down to the Dutchman's on the corner and get one for a nickel. Columbus loafed around Lisbon for quite a while, for he also happened to be stuck on a gosling, but he finally got mad, packed his night shirt and went back to the

He thought perhaps the Genoa Cornet Band would be down at the depot to meet him. But it wasn't. The band was out spieling at the brewers' picnic and never heard of Columbus—never heard of Ohio even. So Columbus tackled the Mayor and Finance Committee for an appropriation for a boat. When he told them that the world was round they shook their heads and made signs that he was fuzzy in his noodle.

There was positively nothing doing. So Columbus once more got passionate under the necktie and packing his valise and borrowing a ten from the old man, he took the night freight for Madrid. he arrived he took a room at the Grand Central Hotel and rang up the palace to ask for an interview with the King. He also met a reporter for the Evening Hummer and when he told him that the earth was round the news gatherer hastened back to the office and wrote a thrilling story for the pink extra, announcing the discovery. It was a great scoop. But times were hard reason why we have Columbus Day instead in Spain, also. The King had a fight on of the day of Leif Ericson.

WHEN YOU go to the bank with a check next Tuesday you will be shocked on beholding a neat sign in the window stating that the institution is closed. Why?

It is one of our numerous legal holidays. The reason is that just 423 years ago that

"Sure, Mike-I mean Ferdy," exclaimed

Columbus eagerly.

Stealthily removing his gum Columbus affixed it to the base of an egg and then balanced it without difficulty on the mantel

"Marvelous!" ejaculated the King in ad-

But it was many weary months befo the enthusiast could get any action on his proposition. The war kept the country broke and the King got down to smoking nickel cigars and wearing his shirt for two weeks. Columbus was about to give it up as a bad job when he happened to set in a game of pinochle one night with the Queen's confessor. The good priest got interested in Columbus's story and told Her Majesty that it would be a shame to let a good thing like Palm Beach get away. So there was another conference. When Columbus had again impressively told his aspirations the beauteous Isabella burst into tears and removing from her swanlike neck the diamond necklace, which all manicure ladies wore, she handed it to

"Take it to a pawnbroker," she whim-pered, "and tell him to give you enough maxuma to float a yacht."

Columbus was very much affected and SCOWS,

And so they sailed.

And they sailed

It was early in August when they left Spain. The admiral headed his little fleet for the west and kept his course as steadily as wind and weather would permit for the better part of two months. The crews were mutinous at times. They thought they would never get back to the corner grocery again. Many of the men thought Columbus was dippy in the dome. But he told the man at the wheel to point her nose to the west and hold her there until the lest armed for explicit. the last armed foe expires.

On the morning of October 12 the look

On the morning of October 12 the look-out suddenly exclaimed: "Land, ho"—and we have been hoeing land ever since. There it was right before their eyes— a fair, green, beautiful land, and as the quaint vessels drew nearer to the shore they noted that the inhabitants, headed by Tammany Drum Corps, were giving them a hilarious welcome.

America had been discovered! It matters not that Columbus believed he had located another route to India. He had found the fringe of a new continent —a continent which was to cut some fig-ure in future history. What matters it now that he called the first men he saw India and the name was to stick to them until the last red man is laid away?

But spite of all this there were earlier white visitors to the American shores. The big, blond-headed Norsemen saw them first. Back as far as 985 Biarni and his sailormen were off the New England coast and in the year 1000 Flat Leif the Lucky, son of Red Eric, landed and had a colony somewhere near where now is Buzzard's Bay-which Grover Cleveland made famous.

But the Norsemen sailed away and for-got us for four centuries and that is the

Sigmund Lubin, another great mov- A young lady who edits a daily ing picture producer, is in Los Angeles newspaper in Peoria has been visiting with a view to establishing one of his in Los Angeles. That is a dangerous great studios here. Let him come, and welcome. They can't make pictures in Southern California without showing the world how beautiful is the hazard of being captured and made

Judge Monroe does not mean that there is more domestic infelicity in Los Angeles than anywhere else when he asks to be relieved from any The whole world is weary of the war, and longing hearts everywhere are crying for peace. Widows in their weeds are lifting suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the whole miserable mass dumped the suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace of the ward would never provide anything for when he asks to be relieved from any quarters of fine convenience and will longer service in the divorce court here. He only means that he objects to have the supplies that all over Europe begging peace of the whole miserable mass dumped the supplies that all over Europe begging peace of the supplies that all over Europe begging the supplies that the supplies that all over Europe begging the supplies that t

Culver City is to get a big portion of the New York Film Corporation's plant. This will give Mr. Ince head-

to New Inc Neglected for and those of By M. V. Hartenett for and Abuse and State of the State of

INDEX TO CONTENTS OF THIS NUMBER.

ITTOSLEVLED MEERT'S

The "Traffic Squad" in New York Harbor.

From New York Sun.

EXACTING TASK.

EW YORK'S harbor has never before been so crowded with every descripton of seagoing craft. The great over erce brought about by the war now taxes the docking facilities to their utmost and crowds the anchorages. More than 100 oceangoing steamers were assembled in l waters at one time last week. This sual congestion of shipping in local waters is just now making a great deal of to the official regulators of traffic New York's harbor, it is not generally known, had its traffic rules and officers to enforce them long before Broadway.

No matter what the congestion of local waters may be a clear channel must, of course, always be maintained, and the traf-fic squad of the harbor must keep up a constant vigil night and day to watch it. The problem is often very complicated. Most of the vessels occupying the public anchorages are large, often measuring 400 feet or more in length. Each steamer or sailing craft rides at the end of a long anchor chain. The turn of the tide makes each vessel at anchor swing around in an immense circle, whose radius is equal to the length of the ship and the anchor chain. When scores of oceangoing ships are anchored close to-gether near the channel they, of course, require a great deal of attention from the raffic squad. Left to themselves, the vessels might find themselves in a hopeless tangle, endangering themselves and the shipping of the harbor.

Scattered throughout the harbor are s twenty-eight anchorages bordering on the regular channels. The boundaries of each of these anchorages have been definitely marked. They are to be found in every section of the harbor, and the convenience fending steamer, just as a traffic policeman of every class of shipping has been care-raises his hand to control the traffic of the fully considered. The public anchorages are of every class of shipping has been care-fully considered. The public anchorages are besides so placed that the regular channels and the courses of ferryboats, excursion boats and other craft will not be interfered with. No anchors are permitted near cabl crossings, pipes or tunnels. To the eye of the average landlubber the boats riding at anchor in the harbor seem to be grouped by chance, while, as a matter of fact, every boat is obliged to toe the mark with ab lute accuracy.

The regular traffic squad which keeps these boats in line comprises three revenue cutters in regular service. The greater part of the ships at anchor are to be found between the Battery and the Quarantine. This section includes the great public anchorages off Liberty Island and along the Staten Island shore, where scores of large ships are always to be found. It is one of the duties of the revenue cutter which runs from the Battery to Quarantine to see that this fleet is within the imaginary line which the Manhattan, makes two trips daily to round up the boats at anchor. A third boat visits the anchorages in the more remote parts of the harbor. Scarcely an hour passes, therefore, without the anchorages being under inspection. Let a boat, from sness or ignorance, drop its and few feet from the proper position and the watchful eye of the traffic squad will note the mistake and call the offending captain's attention to it.

As in the case of street traffic, the inspec tors have the necessary authority to enforce their rules. The skippers of the vessels, no matter what flag they may serve under, recognize the authority. It is only necessary for an inspector to wave his hand at an of-

be out of bounds refuse to move the penalty is definite and severe. Any violations of the rule may incur a penalty of $100 fine, and the vessel may be seized and libelled for the recovery of the fine.

The law regarding the public anci is very explicit, and the skipper of every craft entering the harbor is suppo know what he is about. The law states that each vessel must not only anchor entirely within the prescribed anchorages, but that no portion of the hull shall extend beyond these boundaries after it has veered or when rid-ing to a tideway. Besides, no vessel is permitted to anchor in any of the channels except in case of extreme emergency, and even then must keep as near the edge as possible, so that she will not interfere with the free navigation of the fairway. In case of accident, a vessel may anchor temporarily outside the anchorage boundaries, but only until assistance can be obtained. vessel is allowed to anchor in a position which will obstruct the approach to any

A special rule is made in the case of the stakeboat, used for assembling barges, canalboats and other vessels which are to be made up into tows. That may be moored, under permit granted by the supervisor of anchorages. Such boats may, of course, find it difficult to obey the exact letter of the law. An exception is also made in the case of wrecking plants, derricks and scowe which are being used to recover sunken property. All these craft, however, when occupying positions in the regular channels, must comply with all the laws governing lights and fog signals and assume all the responsibilities of their positions.

These public anchorages are to be fou in every part of New York's great harbor, from Sandy Hook to the northern boundarie of the city, in the Hudson and East rivers and Long Island Sound. Combined, they provide sufficient room for the largest fleets of war and merchant ships which could possibly be assembled. New York's harbor is the most spacious in the world, and the anchorages set aside for public use are proportionate to its great size. Beginning at Sandy Hook, practically the entire area of the lower bay is available for anchorage, excepting a comparatively narrow channel west of Ambrose Channel and the narrow Main and Swash channels.

Another broad expanse of water is set aside north of Coney Island extending to the Narrows. There is a special Quarantine anchorage and a temporary Quarantine anchorage, while the waters set aside for boats along the Staten Island and Brooklyn shores of the upper bay comprise more than half the total area of this section of the harbor.

A special section is reserved at the northern boundary of the general anchorage for naval vessels. Except for a comparatively narrow channel, known as the Bay Ridge Channel, leading from the Narrows to the Erie Basin, the entire eastern portion of the upper bay is also available for general anchorage. A glance at the anchorage maps of the harbor shows that the channels comprise a surprisingly small proportion of the total area of navigable waters. The upper section of the Hudson River shove Seventy-ninth street is kept clear of all anchored merchant vessels, but a special anchorage is provided for naval vessels. This begins at a point opposite Seventyninth street and extends above Fort Washington Point.

A Dreamer in the Sunshine.

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE EIGHT.)

The woman agreed to say nothing, and

From behind the door, as it slowly swung in closing, he stepped, with revolver poised for the blow that would silence the "friend."

ome instinct seemed to make the man turn, for as the blow fell he turned and the revolver crashed against the door. With the same motion, Daniel dropped the re-volver, seized the man's throat, and, exerting all his strength, hurled the other to the floor. In his heart and mind there was but one wild, unreasoning desire, and that

The man on the floor seemed to realize the meaning of the struggle, for he sought to break the hold on his throat with all his strength. But O'Connor's desperation driven fingers would not give, and in the struggling man's eyes a wild look of terror gathered. With one supreme effort he managed to free himself enough to gasp:

"Dan-good-news!" Something in the way the words were gasped struck through to O'Connor's con-sciousness, and his fingers relaxed.

"What d'ye mean?" he demanded, still keeping a close grip.

"Let me up jest a minute—my throat-an——" the other gurgled.

O'Connor eyed him suspiciously. "I

Ye say ye hev good news? What good news kin ye bring me, save ye want to hang a rope aroun' me neck? If ye thinks ye can fool me, think again, fer

"By the Holy Mother, Dan'l, I speak the truth! Tie my hands if ye wish. I'll prove I'm your friend."
"A friend! 'Twas ye who sent me a

"A friend! 'Twas ye who sent me a wanderer over the face of the earth, leavin' behin' my kith and kin, the childer and the

O'Connor's fingers loosened their grip.
"Speak, then, ye dod—ye bloodhound.
What hev ye to say?" Daniel ordered.
The man did not attempt to rise. He felt of his throat and, then lifted his face and began to speak painfully.

"I'll say it, Dan O'Connor, an' you heart'll be wrung before I am through.

"Forty years ago in Glengarry you were charged with the murder of young Lord Elderr. Blame me not. A passer-by near the house where you were playing heard you and the young Lord in dispute; a little later they found him dead and you with a staff that was stained. You were drunk on the floor, but you managed to get away, with the help of the rest of your crowd. Can you blame us for what we did?"

O'Connor's wrinkled face was set in pain.
"The boys said I did it, an' I better get away. I was drinkin' wid 'em, an' I never loved the young Lord. I do not doubt I killed him. I ha' paid the penalty—forty years from kith an' kin in a strange land, seein' the face o' ye at every corner. It has been hell!" He sagged into his seat. "Never a drop has crossed my lips, an' never will—ah, had I but said the same these forty years a-gone.

"Dan'l; it may not be wise to tell you, but I feel I must for many reasons. I have not been after you to jail you. No, not that. The day after you escaped, Chart Ruggarty owned that he knew who it was that hit They hushed it up and laid it upon you, but Chart could not have it so. We caught the guilty man, and he was punished. He—"
O'Connor had risen from his chair, his hands extended tremblingly in front of him His voice was a whisper.

"But man, man, why did ye not tell me?"
"Dan'l," the other said sadly, "I have been tryin' to find you all these years to tell you, but I missed you at every turn. You see, just as soon as the old lord found out you was not to blame he told me to find you, and he gave me money. He pitied your wife and the children, Dan'l-it's hard behin' my kith and kin, the childer and the womant A friend!"

Stirred by the memory of his wrongs, Daniel's wrath was aroused, and his grip closed again on the throat of the prostrate you almost kill me. But I forgive you, and

"Yes, it's been a long time. To think— Sticky as it is palatable.

When the young King

just to think, if I had spoken to ye in St tion of the townsfolk waited on him and Louis the time I see ye an' ye didn't me, I'd been back in old Glengarry thirty years ago—thirty years ago," he muttered.

"True, Dan'l, but I have found you at last; and now let's go home.'

O'Connor raised his head at the sound of the word which had been sweet in his dreams, but was sweeter still spoken. "Home," he repeated again in a wondering way; "why, yes, let's go home -back to Glengarry."

The other, whose quest of torty years was over, looked at O'Connor's face, and understood how faces may look when upon them shines for the first time the light of the Holy City.

Music and Efficiency.

[Christian Herald:] Pilgrims must sing for their own sakes. Songs are the appointed helpmeets of the journey, and if we reject them the road doubles in length. "If the way be weary, tell it Him in song," and in the very telling some of the weariness will have fied. In one of the most powerful of his poems, Wordsworth describes a marvelous sunset which he saw from the cliffs of the northwestern coast of England. And this is how he says he felt: "Wings at my shoulders seemed to play." those are the very wings which play upon the shoulders of the pligrims who pace the highway of the Lord singing the songs of Zion. The song fills the soul with a sense of lightness, and gives nimbleness to the heavy feet. Even Mr. Ready-to-halt "footed it well" when Mercy began to play upon the lute, and melody was heard upon

Alfonso's Ready Silencer.

Few of those who recently read in the papers that King Alfonso of Spain had celebrated his twenty-ninth birthday remembered that the young monarch has reigned longer than any other European sovereign except the King of Montenegro and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was closed again on the throat of the prostrate man. But just before the wavering thread of consciousness was about to break, the man murmured again in the name of the Virgin Mary.

O'Connor's fingers loosened their grip.

O'Connor's fingers loosened their grip.

"Speak, then, ye dod—ye bloodhound. What hev ye to say?" Daniel ordered.

The wave tild me. But I forgive you, and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was man been a King, and has reigned all the twenty-"

O'Connor tottered to his feet. "Are the woman an' the childer alive?" he begged, has faded eyes aglow with hope.

"Yes, Dan'i, alive and waiting. They've to a small Spanish town that is noted for a charged, of course, but they want you. It's been a long time."

"Yes, It's hope, a long time."

"Yes, It's hope, a long time."

When the young King arrived a deputapresented him with a huge box of the famous candy. At the same time a pompous man stepped forward with a large roll of paper in his hand, which he began to open. It was a royal address, and evidently a very long one.

Now, King Alfonso loathes listening to addresses, so as the big man advanced, he handed round the box of candy among the deputation and made the would-be reader take a particularly large piece. Of course, etiquette forbade him to refuse. As he worked his laws up and down, his teeth stuck in the candy, and he could no more have read the address than he could hav flown into the air.

Acetylene Lighting and Cooking for Country Homes

BEST SAFEST CLEANEST

Two and half to three million users of Acetylene.

Write us for free information.

Oxy Acetylene Process for welding and cutting metals by the Oxweld pro-

Oxweld Acetylene Co. 4-656 P. E. Bidg., Los Angeles.

Lenses Accurately Duplicated

By Parcel Post Same Day. Popular Prices.

C. C. LOGAN, M.D., Eye Specialist, 442 South Spring St.

Hitting High Spots in History,

from heaven. If any one of those great men who are responsible for the war could have foreseen the scope that it would cost, the money and hives it would broduce, think you for a moment they would have raised that terrible "cry havoe, and let slip the dogs of "cry havoe, and let slip the dogs of apples of Iduna, daughter of the dwarf, Svald. She had a tree, the fruit of which endowed the partaker with perpetual youth. Possibly this eternal maiden is one of those we meet on Broadway of an afternoon.

This tree of the Northland might have been a real apple.

e been a real apple.

ITTOSLEVARD MEEKI

(THE TIMES MAGAZINE)

VIII, No. 15. Novo Agencies, 10 Co

THE CITY AND THE COAST.

ONE of our friends objects to the statement that there is much waste fruit in California. Since he is the president of a canning factory he ought to know. We would be glad to think that we are wrong in the assumption, yet complaints of this sort have been made to us in large numbers, and many organizations are being formed by fruit growers throughout the State, with the hope of reaching a better understanding with the market.

THAT picnic of persons seventy years of age and over, held at Sycamore Grove, was a fine idea. It demonstrated the courage of Los Angeles. Not many cities would risk geles. Not many cities would risk having more than a handful on such an occasion, and there are still fewer cities that could trust the weather to set a date for such a delicate under-

A SAN FRANCISCO man followed a blonde beauty to San Diego, where he lost his heart to her and $8000. This seems to be truth conclusive that San Diego is not the place to take a blonde beauty.

LILIAN TUCKER has started a club in New York for moving picture actresses. We suppose that the members must correspond by mail, for they certainly live in Los Angeles.

THERE may be something better in climate than the September sunshine in Southern California, but we never expect to see it this side of Paradise.

PASADENA is enjoying the pres-ence of three sets of twins. This sounds like a full orchestra.

World Sources of Tin.
THOUGH tin was known thousands of years before the dawn of history it was not assigned a regular place in the scientific or commercial list of metals until the fourth century of the present era. All the tin used by the ancient Greeks and Romans up to that period had come from Cornwall, on the south coat of Albion, or from the East Indies, presumably from Malacca and neighboring islands.

From prehistoric times tin had been

From prehistoric times tin had been alloyed with copper for the purpose of producing bronze implements, both for warfare and for domestic use. Alloyed with copper it gave that metal hardness, strength and a cutting edge. Acception to the company of the company with copper it gave that metal hardness, strength and a cutting edge. According to the Cornwall legend, cherished to this day, a hermit was accustomed to roam about the rugged cliffs and one day took to his rude home some beautifully veined rocks to form his fireplace. When he lighted his fire a stream of molten white metal flowed from under the stones, and St. Perrin taught miners how to obtain the ore and prepare it for the market.

The production of tin in Cornwall had increased to 2500 tons in 1800, to 10,000 tons in 1840, and to 12,000 tons in 1870. About this time there began to be a rapid development of tin mining in the so-called Straits Settlements, south of Siam, and from this source of supply there came about 40,000 tons in 1900 which rose to 60,000 tons in 1905. The total world's supply, principally from these two sources, was then about 95,000 tons per annum.

An ingot of tin is pure white with a slight tinge of blue. Owing to the 95,000 tons per annum.

An ingot of tin is pure white with a slight tinge of blue. Owing to the fact that it does not corrode on exposure to moisture it is extensively used for the coating of iron for cooking utensils and for cans containing fruit and meat foods. It is also rolled into thin sheets called tin foil for wrapping up tobacco, toilet soap, etc. These increased demands for the metal in various forms have greatly stimulated its production and new sources of supply have been developed in recent years.

One of the largest producers at present is Bolivia on the eastern slope of the Andes. The great tin mines near Lake Titicaca are now rivalling those of the Straits Settlements, and those of the Straits Settlements, and there seems to be an unlimited quantity of the ore. Probably the richest man in South America is Simon Y. Patino, the tin king of Bolivia. His mines vield an income of $5,000,000 a year. He is president of the Banco Mercantile in La Paz, with a capital of $25,000,000. There is promise of a considerable output of tin in Alaska. From the new city of Anchorage, at the head of the deep and safe harbor of Cook Inlet on the south side of Seward Peninsula, a government railroad will be built, 450 miles in length to Fairbanks on the Tanana River. Near the line of this road are valuable undeveloped gold, copper, coal and tin lost the deep and safe harbor of Cook Inlet on the south side of Seward Peninsula, a government railroad will be built, 450 miles in length to Fair hanks on the Tanana River. Near the line of this road are valuable undeveloped gold, copper, coal and tin mines. So promising are the future prospects of the region which will thus be accommodated, that Anchorage has already become a fine city and important seaport. The tin mines have already made a handsome yield and many tons of concentrates will be shipped to Seattle for reduction. This is the locality which the Morgan and Guggenheim syndicates expected to spend millions in exploiting a few years ago, but Uncle Sam has decided to shape matters so that all investors shall have an equal chance in developing its untold riches.

The Yunnan province of China, near the southern border of that empire, and under the French "sphere of influence," is becoming one of the world's large producers of tin. This great tin field is at Ko Chiu, at an elevation of 5900 feet, and although its nearest port is only twenty-one miles distant at Mong-tsu, all its tin shipments go through the Hongkong. In 1912 it exported 9750 and the property of the substant at both of the provided to shape matters so that all the provided to shape matters so that all investors shall have an equal chance in flat and had never been beaten. So influence," is becoming one of the world's large producers of tin. This great tin field is at Ko Chiu, at an elevation of 5900 feet, and although its nearest port is only twenty-one miles distant at Mong-tsu, all its tin shipments go through the British port of Hongkong. In 1912 it exported 9750 and the provided to the provided prov tons of tin. Of this amount about third was destined for consumptio the United States and the price Hongkong ranged from 41 to 45 c Hongkong ranged from 41 to 45 cents per pound.

Tin is found in limited quantities in

Tin is found in limited quantities in Nigeria and South Africa, in Mexico, in Saxony, in Siberia, in Japan and in Australia. Though traces of the ore have been noticed in several States of the Union, it has not been produced in commercial quantities anywhere in the United States.

The Day of the Apple.

T HE rollicking day of the round red apple cometh apace. This is now almost a national institution, alnow almost a national institution, although the date varies slightly in different States. Since the days of Adam the apple has been fairly well advertised, but mainly on its merits as a fruit. In mythology, romance and history the apple has been worked overtime and its connection with a number of memorable incidents is not warranted. Even the little affair of Mother Eve is misplaced. It has been represented that she gave an apple to her spouse; that she gave an apple to her spouse; that he choked on it and has had an Adam's apple in his throat ever since. This is the oldest choke in history. But it is unjustified. It was a green per it is unjustified. It was a green persimmon.

Turing to Grecian mythology we strike the apple of discord. The whole smear of gods and goddesses were gathered in high jinks at the wedding of Thetis and Peleus. The nectar had been circulating freely and Hebe's hands were sore from rushing the growler. They got to where they were playing kissing games when Eris, the unpleasant dame who had charge of the department of hatred, butted in with a so-called golden apple, which she threw on the table with the exclamation that it was for the belle of the ball. It was a swell bunch of girls and it was hard to sort out the niftiest chicken of the lot. At last the contest narrowed down to Juno, Minerva and Venus. Some class, eh? Old man Jupiter was too crafty to decide the bet. He was a flirty guy and if he gave the premium to his wife it would peeve some of the other sparkling gazelles present. So they telephoned for an outsider and the first one called was Paris, a bright young man who owned one of the largest laundries in for an outsider and the first one called was Paris, a bright young man who owned one of the largest laundries in Troy. Paris came spurting up in a taxi and was invited to look over the glittering trio of skirts. It was some job to decide which was the beauty. But Venus, who had been carelessly feeling her oats, happened to give him a wink and that settled it. Taking the golden fruit he handed it to the lovely blonde, who up to that time had not lost her arms. "It just matches your hair," he said with an admiring glance. And then the party broke up.

menes took an apple from his pocket and dropped it in her path. When she saw the enticing fruit Atalanta paused and picked it up. Then she made another dash for the lead and again the foxy Hippo dropped a fine sample of fruit. He tried this the third time and was able to beat the girl to the wire by a nose. There was so much excitement that you couldn't hear the 6 o'clock whistle blow. Atalanta felt terrible over her defeat, but she wreaked a fearful revenge.

She married Hippomenes!

What she thought were apples were

What she thought were apples were

The golden apples of Hesperides were also famed in ancient lore. These grew in the orchard of Reuben J. Pittacus, one of the most successful pomologists of Hesperia. He had a barbed wire fence around his place and at the wire fence around his place and at the gate he kept a massive dachshund that was the terror of the neighborhood. Old Reuben never gave anybody a taste of his fruit and the whole countryside was worried about it. Finally they mentioned the matter to Silas P. Hercules, the champion heavy-weight of his time. He had just cleaned the layer of the hardest jobs ever set. weight of his time. He had just cleaned up eleven of the hardest jobs ever set before an all-around athlete and he wanted to make it an even dozen in order to bag the silver mug.

Robbing the Hesperia orchard would do the trick.

do the trick.

So he took his fourteen-pound toadstabber and started for the place. At the gate he whistled for Bruno, and
when the dog jumped for his throat,
he gave a mighty swipe with his
venomous cutlery that left the animal
in halves. When Reuben came out with his shotgun Hercules threw a horse blanket over his head and tied
him to a tree. Then he calmly went through the orchard. Then he took the fruit to the cider mill of Eurystheus and told the king to have some applejack brewed.

That's the old story.

Now it turns out that this Hesperia

Now it turns out that this Hesperia

Now it turns out that this Hesperia ranch was the first citrus grove.

The golden apples of Hesperides were oranges, of course.

Occasionally we note literary reference to the apples of Sodom. Josephus, who wrote history long before Woodrow Wilson or Col. Roosevelt ever tried it, tells in one of his books of a strange tree growing on the banks of tried it, tells in one of his books of a strange tree growing on the banks of the Dead Sea. The fruit was perfectly lovely to look at, but the pulp was nothing but a smear of ashes.

Now that wasn't an apple.

Some doggoned freak cocoanut with the hair growing on the inside.

Take the case of William Tell wine.

the hair growing on the inside.

Take the case of William Tell, winner of all the medals at the Swiss schuetzenfest. He was the handiest man with the bow and arrow of his time. The story goes that Col. Gessler of the Black Hussars ordered him to shoot an apple from the head of his son. Now this happened in May when there wasn't an apple in Switzerland. But there were plenty of turnips that season and it was one of these that furnished the target for the immortal archer. As he drew the bow he claimed twixt clenched teeth, "Watch" This is why a Swiss watch is called a "turnip" to this day.

It was this same William who was said to have shot the holes in Swiss cheese.

From New York Sun.

The "Traffic Squad" in New York Harbor.

TOS VACETES LINES

INDEX TO CONTENTS OF THIS NUMBER

The City and the Coast, Editorial, Illisting Bligh Spots in History, By Sagene Brown Thillisting Bligh Spots in History, By Sagene Brown Toulisersky, Lewi of the Sun, by the Western Sin Americane in South America, By Frank G. Carpender Love of Old Erin, By E. Nill Bresse.

Mammoth Typewriter on Exhibition at San Prancisc A Dreamer in the Sunshine, By Arthur W. Peach Part of the Brazillan Exhibit at San Diege How to Got Our Share of the World's Commerce How to Got Our Share of the World's Commerce

Recent Cartama A Chinese Legand, By Dreen M. Fulta flivest Little Blees, By Nichael Clemant Philippines Rahogang and Bare Hardwoods Mahogang in Philippines and Les Angoles B Treparing Mahogany for Transportation Good Short Riories Awakening of Prioritis. By Leia Cole Kitt On the Mexican Berder of Imperial County Manilla's Importance to Our Eastern Trade

A Venture in President and Martin 13 The Bursted Life of States and Martin 141.

13 The Bursted Life of States and Martin 151.

14 Powlity Cathure, De Henry W. Krendstein 15 The City and Home Beautiful. By Street 17 Pares Topics. Ry S. V. Hartmeri 17 Pares Topics. Ry S. V. Hartmeri 18 Brown Sweet Home "Traffic Squard" in New York Barbor 25 "Traffic Squard" in New York Barbor 25 Good Little Forms, Burner 15 Good Little

GOOD LITTLE POEMS.

The Hidden Melody.

As I have seen some women do Who knit and knit the whole day thro So I, as I go here and there, So I, as I go here and there,
Along the city's thoroughtare,
Just take my thoughts amid the throng,
And knit and knit them all day long
Into a gay, fantastic song.

Folk little guess within my head What happy melody is bred, What singing thoughts go laughing pa What jocund love my heart holds fast; Nor how I have to walk my feet, Instructing them to be discreet, To keep from dancing on the street.

The songs are made of folks I love;
Of wind-blown steam, blue sky above;
Of babies laughing at balloons;
Of young men's quips and whistled tunes;
Of birds, of beasts, of women's hair,
And jonquils bowing debonair,
All strung with words that dance and pair.

So all day long, prinked out in rime, So all day long, prinked out in rime,
My thoughts go by to measured time,
And all because, O Love! O Might!
O Melody of sheer delight!
My soul kneels down to say it true—
Weaving a song forever new,
The world goes dancing past to You!
-[Margaret Prescott Montague, in Youth's

Music.

Not only to the winging bird,
But also to the wayside grass
I bring the essence of my word
And through them bid its beau

Just as in haughty chant I fire
A race, enslaved, to right its wrongs;
Hammer and fiall I oft inspire
To echo my undying songs—

My whisper makes the baby crow, My laughter stirs the lusty boy; I bless the old man's crown of sno I am the lover's heart of joy—

Unseen, by tone and rhythm I trace,
'Mid star dust or rose spangled sod,
For listening time a path through space—
From glowworm unto Son of God.

[William Struthers, in Boston Transcript.

The Search.

Where steeps eternal slope to night A lonely spirit came; Upon the crag's sheer looming brink He broke the dark like flame.

From starless depths an upward breath Took form of wind and word: What seek ye here where never voice Or plea of man was heard?"

And through the echoing dusk a cry:
"I am the first of those
Whose feet shall pass all barriers
That hell or heaven knows!

"I came along a comet's path,
On starry tides was tossed,
I seek, though seek I evermore,
To find a love I lost!"
[Arthur Wallace Peach, in New York

To the Anklet Watch Merm

Pray tell me how when you submerge Yourself beneath the sea. The watch is never waterlogged So it runs sluggish-lee.

I fain would know who made the case, Who packed the stuffing box Around the stem that it admits No water through its locks.

Likewise on this September morn, A hundred in the shade. Pray tell me where the works were And by what expert made.

"If you must know and will be good.
The wearer sweetly said,
"This anklet watch is just a fake.
Without works—like your head."
—[R., in New York is

The Eagle.

Fools would file away my talons (saith the

Fools would file away my talons (saith the the Eagle,)
Fools forgetful, fools misleading and misled,
Blind to freedom's instant needs, cold to freedom's ancient deeds,
Deaf to all the voices of my dead—
Yet this: That wrong is strong (saith the Eagle.)

Eagle,)
Is the message of my stern, heroic de

Tearing beak and rending talons (saith the Eagle)
And the wings of aspiration—that is I!
And the will that made the weak, grace to talons and to beak, Freemen! with their foreheads to the

et wrong is tyrant-strong (saith the Eagle) And who shall bide its onset—if I die?

gh I tore the guts from kingship (saith

the Eagle)
Yet it writhes from strength to strength across the sea;
Though I showed the fools of earth what
the gutted name was worth,
Behold! the fools of earth are deaf to me!
Yet wrong is kingly-strong (saith the Eagle.)

And right must needs be stronger

Mine the wings of aspiration (saith the Eagle;)

Mine the vision of a sacred pilgrim ho
That mounts from life to life to the pea beyond our strife
And meets the Lord of Freedom, ghost

Yet wrong on earth is strong (saith an on earth must slay it, flesh o n the Master purged the temple (saith

the Eagle)
Did he pacify, or palter, or suggest?
fo! a scourge of knotted cords helped
work that was the Lord's,
And the arm that hewed the ox-ye knew that wrong is strong (saith the

So his arm that hewed the ox-yokes did the rest!

Do ye likewise, foolish freemen (saith the agle;)

Make ye ready for the deeds that free-men do;
y! and forge ye for my heels two far-flashing, mighty steels
To guard my land and sea, and Yours, and Your

For wrong is devil-strong (saith the Eagle,) And right must needs be stronger—to be true; (ust needs be nobly stronger—to be true! -[William Samuel Johnson, in New York

Ambition.

A man with firm and piercing gaze
And hair well touched with white
Stood pensive as the twilight haze
Was melting into night.
"I've wealth," he said, "and ease of
Yet for one thing I sigh,
I vainly wish that I could eat
A second piece of pie.

The hours are gone, alas for me,
When I would never wince
While going through the list with glee
From custard down to mince.
Those joys so strangely short and swe
How they have passed me by!
What would befall if I should eat:
A second piece of pie?

"A bit of pastry now and then
I nibble half afraid."
My word among my fellow-men
Is instantly obeyed.
But I desire no tributes neat,
Nor flattery flaunted high,
I only wish that I could eat
A second piece of pie."

—[Washington Star.

[Puck:] "Money will not take a man to the top, Henderson." "I know; but it will give him a lot more room at the bottom."

[Kansas City Journal:] "Well, I am

ears old today."
"My dear lady, years mean nothing to a ceautiful woman."

"Oh, I don't know. When you have an itomobile you don't care whether you have home or not."

ster to you, Alphonse.

Alphonse: Then give me back my pres

Hortense: Why, Alphonse! Who ever eard of a sister doing such a foolish thing wheeled his chair around and pushed a button in the wall. The person wanted entered. "Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are all carried out," and the office boy, gathering them all into a large wastebasket, did [Boston Transcript:] She: I support the Duke has landed estates?

He: Landed one every time he marriput he managed to run through 'em all.

[Buffalo Express:] "I wish, Mrs. Nurich, you would come over some time and see my apiary."

"Thank you, Mr. Jiggs, but really, monkeys never interested me."

[Topeka Journal:] "When you didn't have your fare did the conductor make you get off and walk?"
"Only get off. He didn't care whether I walked or sat down."

[New York Post:] So, doctor, you are still single? Ah, I fear that you are some-what of a woman-hater."
"Nay, madam; it is to avoid becoming one

[London Punch:] Longshoreman (after protracted conversation:) Be you one o' they Germans, sur?

Visitor: Good gracious, no! Why?

Longshoreman: Well, you 'asn't asked if I wor thirsty!

[Life:] Friend: I see you have turned your wife's picture to the wall. Isn't that rather disrespectful?

Widower: No; it seems more natural. You, see, most of my time at home I spent in buttoning up her back.

[Washington Star:] "Did you use that money you put by for a rainy day in the way you intended?" "Not exactly. But I came as near using it that way as I could. I bought watered stock with it."

[Chicago Herald:] Trustee: We're think-ing of putting up a nice motto over your desk to encourage the children. How would "Knowledge is Wealth" do? Teacher: Not at all. The children know what my salary is.

HUMOR.

"I know. Still, I guess I'll have to really love out of the younger set."

[Pittsburgh Post:] "Don't you think it rather foolish to mortgage a home to buy an bile?"

[Judge:] Hortense: I can only be a

[Washington Life:] The managing

[New York Sun:] "Father, what's superfluity?"

"The words, 'Please deposit promptly' of the back of a check."

[Indianapolis Star:] Little Lemuel: Say, Paw, what is the meaning of ostentation? Paw: Ostentation, son, is a way the neighbors have of showing off.

[Philadelphia Bulletin:] "What's the me ter?"
"My wife says I don't know how to handle the baby."

ret miffed over that, son,"

[Louisville Courier-Journal:] "I hear there is a movement on foot to weed out all unscrupulous lawyers from the Plunk-ville bar."

"We investigated and found there are no ascrupulous lawyers at the Plunkville bar." "Who investigated?" "Us lawyers."

[Browning Magazine:] "Where're you living now, Podgers?" "Nowhere. Boarding at the same old

"I wouldn't get miffed over that, so said the older man. "Take my advice a [Yonkers Statesman:]

Mrs. Flatbush: ce of gossip, did So she told you that piece of g

Mrs. Bensonhurst: She certainly did. "Over the telephone?"
"No: over the back fence."

[Punch:] Artist (to model he has just picked up in the street:) A man I had up here the other day stole two pounds when my back was turned. Would you do a thing like that?

Model: Oh, no, sir; you see, I 'aven't

Oh, no, sir; you see, I 'aven't

[Houston Post:] "Want a job, eh?"

"Yes, sir. I am looking for a place where there is plenty of work."

"I am sorry, but there is not enough work
here to keep you busy an hour a day."

"That's plenty of work for me, sir."

LOS ANGELES WEATHER.

[From The Times of October 6, 1915.]
THE SKY: Clear. Wind at 5 p.m., west; plocity, 7 miles. Thermometer, highest, 84 sp.; lowest, 54 deg. Forecast: Fair.

LEWIS HOWELL ROGERS Discovers the Mainspring of Life

GERENT THE VITAL NERVE

C CHIROPBACTOR'S ASSOCIATION.

alest discovery of the century shows that of this good circulation only shows that of this good circulation only shows that equired in any sickness or composed incurnace. Consumption, Typhol Fever, Farsly art Discass and other bugglears' vanish lik am. (All can do it.) Everybody, without c reach the Electric Center of their own be bout a moment's delay and obtain relief from

PERFECT HEALTH

ROSE SPRING

Radium and Radioactive Water g many diseases such as constipa im, stomach, liver and kidney, skin ubles. Phones 39613; Garvansa 95:

BETTER BE SAFE.

When the eyes ache it is a sign of strain that can rarely ever be permanently relieved without wearing glasses. We can tell you whether this is so or not if you will honor us with a visit. Glasses at your own price from $1.5 unward.

was able to beat the girl to the wire by a nose. There was so much exciteo'clock whistle blow. Atalanta felt etrrible over her defeat, but she wreaked a fearful revenge.

She married Hippomenes! fruit. He tried this the third time and and picked it up. Then she made an-other dash for the lead and again the tons of tin. Of this amount about one-third was destined for consumption in the United States and the prices at saw the enticing fruit Atalanta paused the United States and the prices at

He United States and the prices at Hongkong ranged from 41 to 45 cents per pound.

The is found in limited quantities in Nigeria and South Africa, in Mexico, in Saxony, in Siberia, in Japan and in have been noticed in several States of the Union, it has not been produced in commercial quantities anywhere in the United States.

precient Greeks and Romans up to that period had come from Cornwall, on the courh coat of Albion, or from the East ball on the East it was not assigned a regular place in the scientific or commercial list of metals until the fourth century of the present era. All the tin used by the OUGH tin was accounted by years before the dawn of history of years before the dawn of history THOUGH tin was known thousands World Sources of Tin.

will Tone-Arey Series, Single Copies, by mail or at

(THE TIMES MACAZINE) ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

turday, October 9, 1915.]

apples of Iduna, daughter of the dwarf, Svald. She had a tree, the fruit of which endowed the partaker with per-petual youth. Possibly this eternal maiden is one of those we meet on Broadway of an afternoon.

This tree of the Northland might have been a real apple.

The Countess D'Amois in strange memoirs tells of the existence of what was called the singing apple. On giving one to a person he or she would afterward do whatever you desired. That must have been a pippin.

In the chronicles of the Arabian
Nights, it is related that Prince
Ahmed bought in Samarkand an apple, the properties of which were such as to cure all ills to which the body was heir. That sounds something like a real apple.

Then there is the instance of Sir Isaac Newton who was so amazed at seeing an apple fall downward from a tree that he promptly went out and discovered the law of gravitation. What he would have found had the apple fallen up instead of down is marvelous to contemplate. Newton's tree was probably a grafted one and what amazed him was to see an apple fall from a pear tree. Gravity was there all the time. What Newton discovered was graft, which has been with us ever Gravitation and graft sound much alike.

There are numerous other notable references to the apple in fiction and history and there can be no opposition to the institution of an Apple Day.
The pioneer of the national movement is said to have been Capt. Jim Handly, secretary of the Mississippi Valley Apple Grow-Association, a society which has been in existence for nearly a quar-ter of a century. The captain's idea of a good lunch was a red apple and a bucket of hard cider and when he was full of his subject he was very en-gaging. Gov. John R. Tanner was one of the most successful politicians that Illinois ever produced and during all his career he always kept a barrel of apples at his office door to which every visitor was given free access. The Tanner apple exhibit at State conventions was a distinct feature and an apple frequently took the place of a drink. Gov. Tanner designated an drink. Gov. Tanner designated an Apple Day at the whim of Capt. Handly and it has been an instead and in the many California will try it out on October 19 along with the rest of the country and it is hoped to get an apple into the tummy of half the world, including all the scrappers in the European trenches. The apple has the most persistent class of admirers of any fruit in God's green ever since-spreading over into many other States.

Peace Overtures.

THE Messiah during His lifetime, although another name for Him was the Prince of Peace, and although His teachings inculcated peace and if rightfully followed would lead to universal peace, yet warned His disciples that there would be "wars and rumors of wars" until the end of the world.

We have the wars on our hands on a scale never known before in the history of humanity, and mingled with new rumors of new belligerents getting into the melee come frequent rumors of peace. May the God of Battles, another name also for the Prince of Peace, hasten the day when the nations of Europe will be in a position of re-making their worn-out cannon and small arms, their exploded ammunition and every other warlike equipment, into equipment for peace, and when they shall beat their dull, gapped and broken swords into plowshares, pruning hooks, or some other kind of agricultural implement.

The whole world is weary of the war, and longing hearts everywhere are cry-ing for peace. Widows in their weeds are lifting suppliant hands to heaven in millions all over Europe begging peace diet.

from heaven. If any one of those great men who are responsible for the war could have foreseen the scope that it would take, the money and lives it would cost, the sorrow and suffering it would produce, think you for a moment they would have raised that terrible "cry havoc, and let slip the dogs of war?" We do not hesitate to answer the question in the negative. the question in the negative.

It is easy to "cry havoc and let slip the dogs of war," but once unleashed and those ferocious bloodhounds having fleshed their teeth in human bodies and lapped the blood of their victims, become frenzied and exceedingly difficult to recall from battening on their horrible feast. It is mighty easy to unleash the hounds, but awfully hard to put the collars around their necks again and tie them up in the old temple of Janus or any other kennel whose doors are always open during war and only closed when peace prevails.

Much as the world longs for peace and desirable as it is on every human account, few people of intelligence and perspicacity will dare to hope for that longed-for event for months to come. The way the belligerents have sus-tained their warfare is marvelous; mar-velous from the standpoint of the men have thrown into the trenches, marvelous for the guns they have pro-vided and for the ammunition they have already expended. But perhaps the most marvelous thing is the money they have provided for this war. The armies are larger, the guns more ti-tanic, the ammunition more abundant, ten times, a hundred times, a thousand times, more than in any other war that has ever cursed humanity. But the financing of this struggle is on a scale so immense that nobody could have beforehand figured out the ability of the nations to stand the strain without incurring universal bankruptcy.

Undoubtedly the Teutonic allies would be glad to make peace on their own terms, and from the information conveyed to the public, their terms are not drastic nor hard, but considering the wonderful success their armies have achieved, must be characterized as Why then not make peace? moderate. Because, although the Teutonic allies profess their willingness to give up the conquered territory in their hands and ask for little indemnity, yet peace now would be of wonderful advantage to the central European nations. Advantageous? How? In prestige mostly. They would be in a position to claim a victory as gigantic and far-reaching as the war has been.

It may be national pride that dic-tates this effort on the part of the other allies to do what the Chinese call save their face. But undoubtedly while national and racial vanity figures in the situation, there is more than that at Until one side or the other is vastly more exhausted than at present, peace talk from any quarter would seem to be in vain. The British government and its allies have given the United States government to understand that any peace proposals emanated. stand that any peace proposals emanat-ing from this country will be regarded in the light of "an unfriendly act." Then there is undoubtedly the realization on the part of the belligerents that all sides must be more exhausted in men and money before peace could be established on anything like a stable

If money holds out to defray the expenses of the war we may expect to see the men hold out indefinitely, and therefore it looks as if the world were in for another winter of war rather inactively in the trenches, to be followed by another active campaign in the following summer. It is very sad to con-template this proposition, but it would better be faced if it has to be.

A woman in Los Angeles succeeded in getting a divorce because her hus-band would never provide anything for the table but soup, and wanted about five kinds of soup a week. It seems that love cannot subsist upon a liquid shocked on beholding a neat sign in the window stating that the institution is

Hitting High Spots in History. By Engene Brown.

It is one of our numerous legal holidays The reason is that just 423 years ago that morning a Spanish sailor with a dago ac-cent sprang from the deck of a venerable scow and raised the banner of the King of Spain on an island many acres off the Florida The odd part of it is that he thought he was confiscating India.

There is popular assent to the claim that Christoforo Colombo was the white dis-coverer of the American continent, although this is not substantiated by fact. According to off-hand impressions our country was dis covered by Columbus, recovered by Lincoln and uncovered by Roosevelt.

Anyhow it is well to give Columbus a bluribbon for what he did. He was a grand stayer and would be considered a blend of bulldog and goat. He began life in Genoa Italy, which was some handicap to start Hs father was a weaver and as lad Columbus was taught to knit yarn mithe wanted to see the heathen at first hand and so he went away to be a sailor. mingled with the Portuguese, for they were the best sea-dogs of their time. The Portuguese were regular ducks for the water. After Columbus had sailed up and down the known coasts he sighed for wider waters. He came back possessed of two ideas—that the world was round and that he could make an egg stand on end. If the world was round he could reach India by sailing west. went and broke the news to King John of Portugal. His Royal Highness didn't seem to be particularly impressed and thought Columbus was stringing him. The popular impression of the time was that the earth was flat and that water boiled at the equa tor. Consequently the sailor folk were a trifle leary about getting too far away from the home plate. If they went in one direct tion they would get cooked and in the other they would go over the falls. Chris hung about the place for quite a while and showed the King his magnetic needle and other tools but when he asked for a schooner the King laughed and told him to go down to the Dutchman's on the corner and get one for a nickel. Columbus loafed around Lisbon for quite a while, for he also happened to be stuck on a gosling, but he finally got mad, packed his night shirt and went back to the old home town.

thought perhaps the Genoa Cornet Band would be down at the depot to meet him. But it wasn't. The band was out spieling at the brewers' picnic and never heard of Columbus—never heard of Ohio even. So Columbus tackled the Mayor and Finance Committee for an appropriation for When he told them that the world was round they shook their heads and mad-signs that he was fuzzy in his noodle. There was positively nothing doing. So Columbus once more got passionate under the necktie and packing his valise and borrowing a ten from the old man, he took the night freight for Madrid. When he arrived he took a room at the Grand Central Hotel and rang up the palace to ask for an interview with the King. also met a reporter for the Evening Hum-mer and when he told him that the earth was round the news gatherer hastened back to the office and wrote a thrilling story for the pink extra, announcing the discovery. But the Norsemen sailed away and forthe pink extra, announcing the discovery got us for four centuries and that is the reason why we have Columbus Day instead in Spain, also. The King had a fight on

WHEN YOU go to the bank with a with the Moors and the royal family was check next Tuesday you will be so hard up that the lovely Isabelia had to run a manicure and massage parior on the side. Nevertheless they received Columbus kindly and listened to his proposition. "Can you make an egg stand on end?" inquired the King. "Sure, Mike-I mean Ferdy," exclaimed us eagerly.

Stealthily removing his gum Columbus affixed it to the base of an egg and then balanced it without difficulty on the mantel

"Marvelous!" ejaculated the King in ad-

But it was many weary months before the enthusiast could get any action on his proposition. The war kept the country and the King got down to sme nickel cigars and wearing his shirt for two weeks. Columbus was about to give it up as a bad job when he happened to set in a game of plnochle one night with the Queen's confessor. The good priest got interested in Columbus's story and told Her Majesty that it would be a shame to let a good thing like Palm Beach get away. So there was another conference. When Columbus had again impressively told his aspirations the beauteous Isabella burst into tears and removing from her swan-like neck the diamond necklace, which all manicure ladies wore, she handed it Columbus.

"Take it to a pawnbroker," she whimpered, "and tell him to give you enough maxuma to float a yacht."

Columbus was very much affected and immediately went out and bought three

And so they sailed. And they sailed

It was early in August when they left The admiral headed his little fleet for the west and kept his course as steadily as wind and weather would permit for the better part of two months. The crews were mutinous at times. They thought they would never get back to the corner gro-cery again. Many of the men thought Columbus was dippy in the dome. he told the man at the wheel to point her nose to the west and hold her there until the last armed foe expires.

On the morning of October 12 the look out suddenly exclaimed: "Land, ho"—and we have been hoeing land ever since.

There it was right before their eyes—a fair, green, beautiful land, and as the quaint vessels drew nearer to the shore they noted that the inhabitants, headed by Tammany Drum Corps, were giving them a hilarious welcome.

America had been discovered!

It matters not that Columbus believed he had located another route to India. He had found the fringe of a new continent
—a continent which was to cut some figin future history. What matters it now that he called the first men he saw Indians and the name was to stick to them until the last red man is laid away?

But spite of all this there were earlier white visitors to the American shores. The blg, blond-headed Norsemen saw them first. Back as far as 985 Blarni and his sattormen were off the New England coast and in the year 1000 Flat Leif the Lucky, son of Red Eric, landed and had a colony somewhere near where now is Buzzard's Bay which Grover Cleveland made famous.

Sigmund Lubin, another great mov- A young lady who edits a daily ing picture producer, is in Los Angeles newspaper in Peoria has been visiting ing picture producer, is in Los Angeles. That is a dangerous great studios here. Let him come, and welcome. They can't make pictures in Southern California without showing the world how beautiful is our land.

Judge Monroe does not mean that there is more domestic infelicity in Los Angeles than anywhere else when he asks to be relieved from any longer service in the divorce court here. He only means that he objects to hav-ing the whole miserable mass dumped upon his own head.

into a moving picture star.

Culver City is to get a big portion of the New York Film Corporation's plant. This will give Mr. Ince head-quarters of fine convenience and will add appreciably to the pay roll of Culver City. Many of the actors will live there, whereas nobody is expected to live in Inceville.

Forms, Humor Torms, Humor fast Nee De Neglevied, and Home Brouilful. By Errors De sice. By M. V. Martenett an Body—its Care, Use and Abuse.

INDEX TO CONTENTS OF THIS NUMBER.

LLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

The "Traffic Squad" in New York Harbor.

From New York Sun.

EXACTING TASK.

EW YORK'S harbor has never before been so crowded with every descripton of seagoing craft. The great oversea erce brought about by the war now taxes the docking facilities to their utmost and crowds the anchorages. More than 100 oceangoing steamers were assembled in local waters at one time last week. This unusual congestion of shipping in local waters is just now making a great deal of trouble to the official regulators of traffic. New York's harbor, it is not generally known, had its traffic rules and officers to enforce them long before Broadway.

No matter what the congestion of local waters may be a clear channel must, of ourse, always be maintained, and the traffic squad of the harbor must keep up a stant vigil night and day to watch it. The problem is often very complicated. Most of the vessels occupying the public anchorages in length. Each steamer or sailing craft rides at the end of a long anchor chain. The turn of the tide makes each vessel at anchor swing around in an immense circle. whose radius is equal to the length of the When scores of ship and the anchor chain. ceangoing ships are anchored close gether near the channel they, of course, re quire a great deal of attention from the raffic squad. Left to themselves, the vessels might find themselves in a hopeless tangle, endangering themselves and the shipping of the harbor

Scattered throughout the harbor are so twenty-eight anchorages bordering on the regular channels. The boundaries of each of these anchorages have been definitely marked. They are to be found in every section of the harbor, and the convenience of every class of shipping has been care-fully considered. The public anchorages are besides so placed that the regular channels and the courses of ferryboats, excursion boats and other craft will not be interfered with. No anchors are permitted near cable crossings, pipes or tunnels. To the eye of the average landlubber the boats riding at anchor in the harbor seem to be grouped by chance, while, as a matter of fact, every boat is obliged to toe the mark with abso-

The regular traffic squad which keeps these boats in line comprises three reven cutters in regular service. The greater part of the ships at anchor are to be found between the Battery and the Quarantine. This section includes the great public anchorages off Liberty Island and along the Staten Island shore, where scores of large ships are always to be found. It is one of the duties of the revenue cutter which runs from the Battery to Quarantine to see that this fleet is within the imaginary line which bounds these anchorages. A second boat, the Manhattan, makes two trips daily to round up the boats at anchor. A third boat visits the anche ages in the more rem parts of the harbor. Scarcely an hour passes, therefore, without the anchorages being under inspection. Let a boat, from carelessness or ignorance, drop its anchor a few feet from the proper position and the watchful eye of the traffic squad will note the mistake and call the offending captain's attention to it.

As in the case of street traffic, the inspec tors have the necessary authority to enforce their rules. The skippers of the vessels, no matter what flag they may serve under, recognize the authority. It is only necessary an inspector to wave his hand at an offending steamer, just as a traffic policeman raises his hand to control the traffic of the streets. Should the ship which chances to be out of bounds refuse to move the penalty is definite and severe. Any violation the rule may incur a penalty of $100 fine, and the vessel may be seized and libelled for the recovery of the fine.

The Lagle.

The law regarding the public anchorages very explicit, and the skipper of every craft entering the harbor is supp know what he is about. The law states that each vessel must not only anchor entirely within the prescribed anchorages, but that no portion of the hull shall extend beyond these boundaries after it has veered or when riding to a tideway. Besides, no vessel is permitted to anchor in any of the channels except in case of extreme emergency, and even then must keep as near the edge as possible, so that she will not interfere with the free navigation of the fairway. In case of accident, a vessel may anchor temporarily outside the anchorage boundaries, but only until assistance can be obtained. No vessel is allowed to anchor in a position which will obstruct the approach to any

A special rule is made in the case of the stakeboat, used for assembling barges, canal boats and other vessels which are to be made up into tows. That may be moored, under permit granted by the supervisor of anchorages. Such boats may, of course, find it difficult to obey the exact letter of the law. An exception is also made in the case of wrecking plants, derricks and scown which are being used to recover sunken property. All these craft, however, when occupying positions in the regular channels, must comply with all the laws governing lights and fog signals and assume all the responsibilities of their positions.

These public anchorages are to be found in every part of New York's great harbo from Sandy Hook to the northern boundaries of the city, in the Hudson and East rivers and Long Island Sound. Combined, they provide sufficient room for the largest fleets of war and merchant ships which could possibly be assembled. New York's harbor is the most spacious in the world, and the anchorages set saids for public use are anchorages set aside for public use are proportionate to its great size. Beginning at Sandy Hook, practically the entire area of the lower bay is available for anchorage, excepting a comparatively narrow channel west of Ambrose Channel and the narrow Main and Swash channels.

Another broad expanse of water is set aside north of Coney Island extending to There is a special Quarantine anchorage and a temporary Quarantine an-chorage, while the waters set aside for boats along the Staten Island and Brooklyn shores of the upper bay comprise more than half the total area of this section of the harbor.

A special section is reserved at the northern boundary of the general anchorage for naval vessels. Except for a comparatively narrow channel, known as the Bay Ridge Channel, leading from the Narrows to the Erie Basin, the entire eastern portion of the upper bay is also available for general A glance at the anchorage maps of the harbor shows that the channels comprise a surprisingly small proportion of the total area of navigable waters. The upper section of the Hudson River above Seventy-ninth street is kept clear of all anchored merchant vessels, but a special anchorage is provided for naval vessels. This begins at a point opposite Seventyninth street and extends above Fort Washington Point.

A Dreamer in the Sunshine.

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE EIGHT.) The woman agreed to say nothing, and went out. From behind the door, as it slowly swung in closing, he stepped, with revolver poised for the blow that would silence the "friend." Some instinct seemed to make the man turn, for as the blow fell he turned and the revolver crashed against the door. the same motion, Daniel dropped the revolver, seized the man's throat, and, exert ing all his strength, hurled the other to the floor. In his heart and mind there was but one wild, unreasoning desire, and that

The man on the floor seemed to realize the meaning of the struggle, for he sought to break the hold on his throat with all his strength. But O'Connor's desperationdriven fingers would not give, and in the struggling man's eyes a wild look of terror gathered. With one supreme effort he managed to free himself enough to gasp:

"Dan—good—news!"
Something in the way the words were

was to kill.

gasped struck through to O'Connor's con-sciousness, and his fingers relaxed. "What d'ye mean?" he demanded, still keeping a close grip.

"Let me up jest a minute-my throat-

"Let me up jest a minute—my throat—man—" the other gurgled.
O'Connôr eyed him suspiciously. "Is this any game? Ye say ye hev good news? What good news kin ye bring me, save ye want to hang a rope aroun' me neck? If ye thinks ye can fool me, think again, fer

"By the Holy Mother, Dan'l, I speak the truth! Tie my hands if ye wish. I'll prove I'm your friend."

"A friend!" 'Twas ye who sent me a wanderer over the face of the earth, leavin' behin' my kith and kin, the childer and the felt of his throat and, then lifted his face and began to speak painfully.

"I'll say it, Dan O'Connor, an' you heart'll be wrung before I am through.

"Forty years ago in Glengarry you were charged with the murder of young Lord Elderr. Blame me not. A passer-by near house where you were playing he you and the young Lord in dispute; a little later they found him dead and you with a staff that was stained. You were drunk on the floor, but you managed to get away with the help of the rest of your crow Can you blame us for what we did?"

Can you biame us for what we did:

O'Connor's wrinkled face was set in pain.

"The boys said I did it, an' I better get away. I was drinkin' wid 'em, an' I never loved the young Lord. I do not doubt I killed him. I ha' paid the penalty—forty years from kith an' kin in a strange land, seein' the face o' ye at every corner. It has been hell!" He sagged into his seat. "Never a drop has crossed my lips, an' never will—ah, had I but said the same these forty years a-gone.

"Dan'l; it may not be wise to tell you, but I feel I must for many reasons. I have not been after you to jail you. No, not that. The day after you escaped, Chart Ruggarty owned that he knew who it was that hit the young Lord; it was one of your gang. They hushed it up and laid it upon you, but Chart could not have it so. We caught the guilty man, and he was punished. He—'
O'Connor had risen from his chair, his hands extended tremblingly in front of him His voice was a whisper

"But man, man, why did ye not tell me?"
"Dan'l," the other said sadly, "I have been tryin' to find you all these years to tell you, but I missed you at every turn. You see, just as soon as the old lord found out you was not to blame he told me to find you, and he gave me money. He pitied your wife and the children, Dan'l-it's hard to speak of them, I know. But the old ago—thirty years ago," he muttered.

"True, Dan'l, but I have found you at last; and now let's go home."
"Home?" O'Connor raised his h

just to think, if I had spoken to ye in St.

Louis the time I see ye an' ye didn't me, I'd been back in old Glengarry thirty years

the sound of the word which had been sweet in his dreams, but was sweeter still spoken. "Home," he repeated again in a wondering way; "why, yes, let's go home back to Glengarry."

The other, whose quest of torty years was over, looked at O'Connor's face, and understood how faces may look when upon them shines for the first time the light of the Holy City.

Music and Efficiency.

[Christian Herald:] Pilgrims must sing for their own sakes. Songs are the ap-pointed helpmeets of the journey, and if we reject them the road doubles in length. "If the way be weary, tell it Him in song," and in the very telling some of the weariness will have fied. In one of the most powerful of his poems, Wordsworth describes a marvelous sunset which he saw from the cliffs of the northwestern coast of England. And this is how he says he felt: "Wings at my shoulders seemed to play." And those are the very wings which play upon the shoulders of the pilgrims who pace highway of the Lord singing the songs Zion. The song fills the soul with a sense of lightness, and gives nimbleness to the heavy feet. Even Mr. Ready-to-halt "footed it well" when Mercy began to play upon the lute, and melody was heard upon the road.

Alfonso's Ready Silencer.

Few of those who recently read in the papers that King Alfonso of Spain had celebrated his twenty-ninth birthday rebehin' my kith and kin, the childer and the womant A friend!"
Stirred by the memory of his wrongs, Daniel's wrath was aroused, and his grip closed again on the throat of the prostrate of consciousness was about to break, the man murmured again in the name of the Virgin Mary.

O'Connor's fingers loosened their grip.
"Speak, then, ye dod—ye bloodhound. What hev ye to say?" Daniel ordered.

The man did not attempt to rise. He to speak of them, I know. But the old lord gave me the money, and your brother helped, and all these years I have been a seeking you. Now, I have found you, and you ereign except the King of Montenegro you almost kill me. But I forgive you, and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was they're waiting for you over in Glengarry—"

O'Connor tottered to his feet. "Are the woman an' the childer alive?" he begged, his faded eyes aglow with hope.

"Yes, Dan'l, alive and waiting. They've to a small Spanish town that is noted for a changed, of course, but they want you. It's been a long time."

"Yes, it's been a long time. To think—
When the young monarch has reigned longer than any other European and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was born a King, and has reigned all the twenty-ninth birthday ve membered that the young monarch has reigned longer than any other European and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was they're waiting for you over in Glengarry—"

O'Connor tottered to his feet. "Are the begged, his faded eyes aglow with hope.

"Yes, Dan'l, alive and waiting. They've to a small Spanish town that is noted for a certain delicious kind of candy that is as sticky as it is palatable.

When the young Monarch has reigned longer than any other European and the Emperor of Austria. Alfonso was they're waiting for you over in Glengarry—"

O'Connor tottered to his feet. "Are the begged, his faded eyes aglow with hope.

"Yes, Dan'l, alive and waiting. They've to a small Spanish town that is noted for a certain delicious kind of candy that is as sticky as it is palatable.

When the young monarch has reigned that t

tion of the townsfolk waited on him and presented him with a huge box of the famous candy. At the same time a pompous man stepped forward with a large roll of paper in his hand, which he began to open. It was a royal address, and evidently a very

Now, King Alfonso loathes listening to addresses, so as the big man advanced, he handed round the box of candy among the deputation and made the would-be reader take a particularly large piece. Of course, etiquette forbade him to refuse. As he worked his laws up and down, his teeth stuck in the candy, and he could no more have read the address than he could have flown into the air.

Acetylene Lighting and Cooking for Country Home

SAFEST BEST CLEANEST

Two and half to three million users of Acetylene.

Write us for free information.
Oxy Acetylene Process for welding and cutting metals by the Oxweld pro-

Oxweld Acetylene Co.

Lenses Accurately Duplicated

By Parcel Post Same Day. Popular Price C. C. LOGAN, M.D. Eye Specialist, 442 South Spring St

California, Land of the Sun, by the Western

Saturday, October 9, 1915

ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

Eagle likes to leave his perch on the granite tower in the midst of the big busy city and travel on slow wings over hills and valleys to his mountains. How-ever interested he is in watching the pul-sating life of his human brethren as they go about their daily vocations, and much as he enjoys an occasional flight to the against the shore, the mountains are his homeland, and to them he turns for real rest and refreshment. In their quiet stead-fastness he finds relief after hurry and fastness he finds relief after hurry and restlessness of city and shore.

Alighting on some tail gaunt pine which has gained poise through long battling with the strong winds which occasionally sweep over the exposed crest where it has established a firm foothold, the Eagle sits for hours at a time on the topmost branch and takes in the 'ld with his glance. From this high vantage point all seems serene. The hum an haste of the city are lost in distance, and only at intervals arises a faint sound of industry from the valley spreading fair and wide far below him.

The Eagle has traveled much and "many goodly states and kingdoms seen," but always after these extended flights ne returns gladly to his beloved California. he has seen the Scottish highlands, the plains and storied hills of Italy, and the "blue Alsatian mountains." He has soared about the rocky peaks of the Alps with their sempiternal snows and has watched the comings and goings of the seekers

Inter health and pleasure. Dut never has seen grander peaks, notier trees, more magnificent streams and waterfails, or lovelier flowery meadows than in the Snowy Range, or the "Range of Light", as your beloved John Muir called it—"the most divinely beautiful of all the mountain chains I have ever seen." And he too had traveled in many lands.

In your own Mother Mountains of Southern California the Eagle loves to linger at times. Lacking some of the awesome grandeur of the high Sierras, they yet have dignity and beauty of their own, and an appearance o. brooding over the plains and the lower hills, their children.

From his lofty perch on a forest giant the Eagle notes with keen eye the everyday life of the wild folk of the mountains. He sees the rabbit and the quall among the brush, the rattlesnake gliding down the hillside. Though not musical himself, he likes to hear the sweet tones of songsters. The saucy chatter of the busy squirrels as they go about their harvesting amuses him. He loves to see the deer feeding quietly with their fawns or tripping lightly to some rock-strewn stream to drink. Occasionally he sees a water ouzel following the windings of he stream or poised daintily on a rock, and at rare times its exquisite song penetrates to his keen ear through the rushing sound of the cascade. He watches the fish as they glide smoothly and gracefully through the water, their shining sides iridescent in the sunlight.

The Eagle is a peaceable bird and loves

The Eagle is a peaceable bird and loves to see peace and happiness about him Therefore he does not hail with delight the coming of the hunter and the fisherman the coming of the hunter and the fisherman to the mountains to bring sorrow and pain to his friends. However, the reasonable hunter or fisherman is endurable, though not welcome. But the game hog, who takes pride in "getting the limit" every time he sallies forth in his war paint, the contempt of the sallies forth in his war paint, time he sallies forth in his war paint, is a creature quite beneath the contempt of the Eagle and all his tribe. Why, dear human friends, do you not abolish the game hog from the face of the earth?

You have numerous camps and pleasure resorts in your mountains where many of you spend a week or a month each summer. The Eagle is glad to see you there.

Die is glad your City of the Angels has provided a playground in the mountains above San Bernardino where the less fortunately situated among you may get a breath of the pines and of the clear air of the heights. He rejoices that so many of these mountain places have been made easily accessible by good roads, permitting even the aged and the invalid to enjoy their benefits.

The Eagle hopes the extent of these roads may be increased so that all of you who appreciate may see the many beauties that are now reserved for the equestrian and the sturdy foot traveler in the mountains. He hopes that before many months have passed you may begin the construction of the road you have so long talked of from Pasadena to the Antelope Valley, and that more recently suggested and even more scenic route from Azusa through the San Gabriel Canyon and over the range to Big Rock Creek on the desert side. It would rejoice the heart of the old Eagle to see a road along the crest of the ridge connecting these two cross routes, possibly to be extended later beyond the Cajon pass to join the "Rim of the World" road and continue to Big Bear Lake. The Eagle in his soaring flights has looked down on all this country and found it a delight to the eyes.

He has seen it at all seasons and at all times of day and night. He has seen the snows of winter piled deep in canyons and on high peaks and weighing down the pine boughs with their heavy white burden. He has watched the flower buds open and the trees burgeon forth in the spring time. The story of summer blossoms and full streams has made him happy. But not least has he enjoyed the splendor of the autumn, when the maples and the sycamores in the canyons turn to pale gold, the oaks on the hiliside wear tranished gold and russet, and the poison-oak flames scarlet. Most of you, human friends, who forsake the mountains when September comes lose much of their resplendent beauty.

The Eagle is glad to see you take, an interest in his beloved mountains, and beauty.

The Eagle is glad to see you take an interest in his beloved mountains, and he wishes there were more of you who showed this interest, for he knows from experience the value of the gifts which the mountains bestow on their lovers. He knows that even the indifferent man who is rightly constituted can not fail to become impregnated with the lofty and calm spirit of the heights. Pettiness and greed and selfishness must vanish sooner or later, to be replaced by tolerance and largeness of vision. The benefits which the physical man receives in rest and re-creation through healthful exercise are obvious to you all.

the physical man receives in rest and re-creation through healthful exercise are obvious to you all.

Not only is the Eagle pleased to see more roads planned to penetrate and cross the Sierra Madres, but he is eagerly watching developments in the Sierra Nevadas. He is almost holding his breath with expectancy and waiting to see whether a highway will really be built in the near future to the top of California, nearly to the summit of Mt. Whitney. I issue to come some day, but how soon?

There are a number of literary folk among you who are giving good service, spreading the gospel of the open air and the heights by means of beautiful books and interesting magazine articles profusely illustrated. And that splendid organization, the Sierra Club, one of whose found is was John Muir, is a most effective factor, with its 2000 members enthusiastic in their devotion and in their purpose "to explore, enjoy and render accessible the mountain regions of the Pacific Coast." The club has financed the construction of many trails, showing its faith by its works.

As he sits on his granite tower above the busy street corner or perches on a faith by its works.

As he sits on his granite tower above the busy street corner or perches on a granite crag of some rocky peak and thinks of these things the Eagle wishes that all his human friends might know the joy of crisp fall days in the mountains, of brisk climbing which sends the blood racing to all parts of the body, the splendor of the autumn foliage, the gathering around the blazing camp fire, the sound, dreamless sleep in warm blankets under spark ling stars.

E MAY as well face it. Sport cham pions will persist in writing books about it. The thing is settling down into a positive tradition. The tennis and golf into a positive tradition. The tennis and goir heroes are the most persistent. They sim-ply ooze literature. They seem to take it as a matter of duty, of conscience, to place their opinions of how the game should be played into book form, and make a sublime effort to appear sweetly modest and retir-ing while making it plain what clever chaps they are.

The male of the species is far more deadly than the female in this connection. One simply has to be a bit of a prig and a good deal of a bore in sport to think that his own little personal attainment justifies him in filling several hundred pages of print about his ideas and experiences—and the ladies have not arrived at that stage yet.

Jerome Travers is the latest sinner in golf.

have not arrived at that stage yet.

Jerome Travers is the latest sinner in golf, But one has to commend his business acumen in first dedicating his book to the duffers, of whom there are comfortable thousands of predisposed purchasers, and in saying a whole chapter full of pleasant things about the ladies, which is quite an innovation in golf annals.

S REGARDS the ladies, Travers offers a shock to male complacence. He a shock to male complacence. He mounces quite definitely that the woman older, certainly she is of the championship lass, is a far better sport than the male, far more pleasant opponent, a far more cheerful loser, and far less of an eternal bore in talking about it afterward.

Oh, heresy! He says that the women players make of golf a sport—not war. That when they make a poor shot they laugh, and comfortably endeavor to do better next time. No swearing at the caddle, no blaming the atmosphere or the gallery or her clubs, no peevishness with her opponent, no glum silence, but everything in accordance with the idea that golf is a game for pleasure.

Well, we are glad to hear it. It is true that our own women's tournaments are gay-er and less tragic than the men's, but it is also true that our California women golfers also true that our California women golfers generally manage to interpose at least one good flood of tears at every meeting. And Travers was speaking primarily of the Englishwomen champions who come over for the big events. And we must remember that Englishwomen are less pampered, and have never, under any circumstances, been allowed to take themselves or their sports seriously. They have been trained with the idea that they don't matter, that foolishness is expected of them, that they are merely clever imitators, anyway. Like precoclous children.

The Awful Gravity of Golf.

A ND even the Englishman does not take his golf to heart like the American. A big American tournament is much more like a tragic funeral than a game. You would think that the honor of the nation depended upon each individual player making a superlative showing. If he tops a mashie shot or drives into a bunker the miserable sinner feels disgraced for life; it's a hideous family scandal that will take years to live down.

To talk of anything but golf, and that with sparse brevity, is a crime. They have all read those interminable books by cham-pions who never fail to insist upon the pions who never fail to insist upon the vital importance of concentration. And if an automobile whizzes by a roadside green at the moment when Smith is addressing his putt, it is a horrible calamity for which the player is entitled to gallons of sympathy, and to have his trial recorded in the report ors have a pleasant little way of recommending golf for nerves, but one sees more shattered nerves on the golf course, the result of unskillful shots, than ever were seen in Wall street. Ungovernable rage is quite usual and it is no imaginative joke to hear blasphemy of a terrific order rend the air. And it usually means that Smith's ball struck a pebble and kicked from the line—that's all.

Dressing Up.

D ID you dress up last week, old man?
Or did you smile with comfortable indifference and conclude it did not mean you?
Clever chaps, these sartorial merchants.
Complacently assured as we are that there is no room for improvement in our particular get-up, the beggars do jar us a bit. And they have got the ladies on their side. Of course we don't care a continental what the ladies think about our clothes; we know it won't make any difference to our irresistible attractiveness.—but, hang it all, what has it got to do with them?

The insinuation is that they want us all

The insinuation is that they want us all right, but that we might have the decency to make ourselves worth wanting. As a fine specimen of debonair masculinity, I protest against the tables being turned upon us in this way. It has been our inalienable right to criticise female fashions, to jeer at right to criticise female fashions, to jeer at them for slaves of the mode, to ridicule their contour and their gaudiness. And, now, instead of trying modestly to improve their ways, they have, with the usual feminine effrontery and lack of logic, started jeering at us for being incredible dowds, and holding us up to ridicule for self-satisfied but very imperfect prigs.

imperfect prigs.

Of course, we don't care. Of course, it won't alter our ways in the slightest. And we beg to inform them that if we have recently purchased a new suit, and one of those flighty waistcoats, if we have indulged in a half-dozen saucy shirts and glddy ties, if we have carefully considered the right kind of shoes to wear with this acquisition, and the right kind of hat, well, dash it all, we meant to this week anyway, and it wasn't anything to do with any silly dress-up campaign. Quite so. Very well, then.

And just to spite them, we won't invite them-out to dinner until the pristine spruceness has worn off. So there. And we shall it's costly."

No. It's when the car doesn't run that it's costly."

not care when the rigid crease down our trouser leg shall have disappeared—not much. Except, of course, if she persists in assuming that we did not know it ought to be there. Drat her!

The Masquerade Husband Case.

A VERY indignant young lady is asking the British courts for protection from spurious husbands. It appears that her husband went out to fight in the Dardanelles. Six months later he came home, very much altered in countenance, owing, he explained, to the awful experiences he had been through. The lady kept a village grocery store, moderately prosperous. While she was alarmed and concerned over the change in her husband, she accepted him and duly killed the fatted calf and resumed conjugal relations.

relations.

Everything went well until another lady appeared on the scene and claimed the returned hero for her own. Her evidence was painfully indisputable, and she added insult to injury by heaping caustic remarks upon his victimized wife.

Now the village provider is demanding damages of the British government who, she considers, should have protected her from any such victimization. Among other things, she requires the government to buy her grocery store, as she says life is untenable for her in that locality. That she is the village pet joke. That the first question she is asked over the counter every morning is, "Well, how's hubby?"

And the worst of it is, she doesn't know

"Well, how's hubby?"

And the worst of it is, she doesn't know where or how hubby really is, but she expects him to return in an awful rage by and by. She says she will never take another husband in until the, British government has certified and vouched for him. She says it is bad enough to have to house her own husband, but she draws the line at other neonle's.

The Human Body-Its Care, Use and Abuse.

TOS VACETES LIMES

"Home, Sweet Home"

For Wife and Mother. For Daughter and Maid.

KINKS IN THE KITCHEN.

NEEDLE NOTES.

If crocheted in very fine stitches, smart outing scarfs for girls can be made in dark wools. These are used as wide throwstoles, and are worn outside the coat. They are worn in dark blues, grays and browns us-

Embroidered Card Cases

The pretty embroidered card cases one sees so much now can easily be fashioned by the girl who is clever with her needle. One seen recently was made of huckaback linen, and the center was decorated with a wreath of tiny French roses. The huckaback outside this wreath was darned by running a colored slik thread underneath the cast-up threads of the linen. This darning extended to within an eighth of an inch of the edge and was then covered with a single outline stitch. The pockets were folded up neatly and the edge finished with a picot buttonhole stitch. The little center wreath was done in Dresden shades, and the darning was carried out in beige to match the owner's calling costume.

FOR THE LAUNDRY.

Satisfactory Sprinkling

[Indianapolis News:] Here is a method for sprinkling clothes which will be found very satisfactory. This saves a lot of trouble and prevents the hands from getting chapped in cold weather. Take an ordinary cork and cut a small fluting in it lengthwise. Fill a glass bottle with water and put the cork in it. When the bottle is shaken the fluted cork acts as a spray, sprinkling the water evenly over the clothes.

After Fringed Articles Dry.

CARE IN DRESS.

New Method of Canning.

[New York American:] A West Virginia woman, who grew tired of toiling so long over a hot stove during the annual canning season, has devised a brand new method of canning fruit, berries and so forth.

She tried it on a small scale last year with peaches, red and black raspberries, cherries, blackberries and pears. She declares that she never lost a can, that the color and the flavor of the product were fine and the fruit firm and solid.

Prepare Scalding Syrup.

Her first step is to put the jars (ones with tops preferred) on to sterilize. While the jars are sterilizing she prepares her fruit and makes a syrup of one part sugar to two of water, or not quite so heavy if the fruit does not require it. The syrup is boiled thoroughly.

The raw fruit is then put in the jars and the hot syrup poured over it, filling the can full. The rubbers are put on and the tops screwed on tight.

The jars are placed in a tub or wash boiler and covered with a rug or blanket and let stand over night. The next morning they are ready to take out, wipe off and put away.

Value of Detail.

[The "Queen," London:] One thing, and it is of vast importance, the insistent simpler dressing has brought to the surface, and that is the value of fine, delicate finishing to the surface, and that is the value of fine, delicate finishing touches, writes Mrs. Jack May. The other day I picked up a slightly-soiled gray Georgette blouse at one of the exclusive houses now holding a sale of models, and wondering for the space of a second or so why it was so attractive. For the style was simplicity itself, the fortn and back united on the shoulders beneath an applied band, the fullness of the latter laid in a series of small boxplaits, and the fronts just slightly gathered and faced back with broad, loose pieces of gray faille. There were deep cuffs and a high up-and-down collar of the faille, cut away in front, and supported by a narrow cravat of black morier ribbon. It all, I admit, sounds nothing in the telling, whereas the charm either.

Hand-work Beading.

NEEDLE NOTES.

The Knitted Hat.

One talks so glibly of some dress or blouse being adorned with narrow open-work beading, only the few realizing the amount of that are quite new and made in the shape of the soft little turn-down mushroom hats of felt can be crocheted in dark colors. These hats are ornamented with bands of grosgrain ribbon tied in regular hatband fashion at the side.

They are excellent hats and well liked by the average girl. They are comparatively new. The stitch is very close and fine. One frequently finds duplicates of the cut in the little fabric hats affected by schoolboys.

If crocheted in very fine stitches, cmart

HOME COOLING PLANT.

[New York Evening Telegram:] Or coman modelled her artificial cooling pro [New York Evening Telegram:] One woman modelled her artificial cooling process for the home after the methods employed by some of the theaters. She bought two tin boilers and pasted chints on the outside, so that they would not look objectionable in her parior and dining-room. She kept these filled with big chunks of ice and stood them on her now useless steam radiators. The top of the boilers was uncovered and the ice produced the most astonishing difference in the atmosphere. Of course, the tins had to be emptied twice a day, and it meant extra expense for ice, but the originator of this novel idea felt more than repaid for the extra trouble and pense by the immense gain in comfort d coolness.

The first steps toward keeping the home comfortable in summer are semidarkness and some artificial means of cooling the air from the streets.

There is no need for tightly-sealed windows if a wet cloth be kept pinned to the bottom of the window when it is raised. This will flap up and down in the breeze as it blows in and will cool off the air as it enters. The cloth will have to be wet frequently if it is to do any good, as the heat of the air will dry it quickly. If windows with wet cloth attachments are opened in the rear of the apartment and in the front as well, you will find that the draught through will be cool and refreshing even on the hottest days.

If you are washing fancy-fringed bedspreads, towels or tablecloths, after they are dry and ready for ironing shake well and brush the fringe out with a clean whisk broom. It will be almost like new.

It is often hard to get the top out of the milk bottle without a deluge. The next time it sticks use the point of a can opener for the purpose. A large pin is also effective.

bound on will relieve the pain and help effect a cure.

For insect bites there is nothing better, applied in the same way.

For cleaning white painted woodwork, a 5-cent box of baking soda will go farther than any cleaning preparation at the same price, and will do the work more effectively; it really removes soot and grease magically, and leaves the paint white instead of yellow, as so many strong soaps do. It is not so hard on the hands.

In washing fiannels there is nothing to equal a little soda in the water; it softens and whitens the fiannels.

To settle an upset or soured stomach, half a teaspoon of soda in a glass of water, taken internally, will do the work.

It is a simple matter to empty out the enameled coffee pot after using, fill it up with cold water, throw in a tablespoon of baking soda and set on the stove until other dishes have been washed, and after it has boiled a few minutes, it will wash easily and is left in a clean, sweet condition, free of all discoloration on the inside.

A pinch of soda added to tomatoes before

A pinch of soda added to tomatoes before straining into the milk, in making cream of tomato soup, keeps same from curdling. Soda added to molasses candy will pre-vent its causing too great a fermentation in the stomach.

in the stomach.

In summer, if the baby is suffering from prickly heat, it will be most soothing to the child to give it a sponge bath with a little soda in the water.

GOLDEN DON

EUCALYPTUS PORTIERES

Beautiful, durable and unique portieres—disses—for home or club. They are unusuatistic in color and considering the worquality are very low priced. Exhibits in Chamber of Commerce. Address or call

A. H. SOUTHWICK, Manufacturer, P.O. Box 15, 204 S. 3rd St., Sawtelle, Near Los Angeles.

USES FOR SODA.

[Baltimore American:] Baking soda, which all housekeepers have on their pantry shelf, is one of the cheapest and most useful articles one could have—always so handy, too.

Here are some of the ways in which it can be used:

For burns, moistened soda applied and bound on will relieve the pain and help effect a cure.

For insect bites there is nothing better, applied in the same way.

For cleaning white painted woodwork, a policy of the same way.

For cleaning white painted woodwork, a state of the same way.

For cleaning white painted woodwork, a state work more effectively;

Thou shalt have no other gods before me; thou shalt not bow down to them nor serve them."

Rest in Flight.

The flying arrow, knowing its path is made, Goes singing softly at the bow's behest, Taking its destined journey unafraid— In every moment of its flight at rest.

speed, O soul, to your divine abode; to singing through the shadow and the light—

Go bravely to your righ-appointed road, At rest in every moment of your flight. —(Edwin Markham, in Shoes of Happiness

Spinal Irritation

That's what causes:—Pain or distress in beart of head; pulling of cords in the neck; tree with eyes; pain between shoulders or in ot parts of spine or burning, aching tenderness soreness; belt of countriction or pain around he numbness of fingers or feet or coldness or tinglike pricking of pins; peculiar, almost indescrable pains of distress in heart, stomach, kidn or other parts of chest or abdomen; backae sciatica.

selatica.
This disease is very easily cured by right mesh
ods. Our elegant, illustrated bookiet tells hou
Price, 19 Cents.
O. S. PUB. CO., 1236 N. 17th St., San Diego, Ca

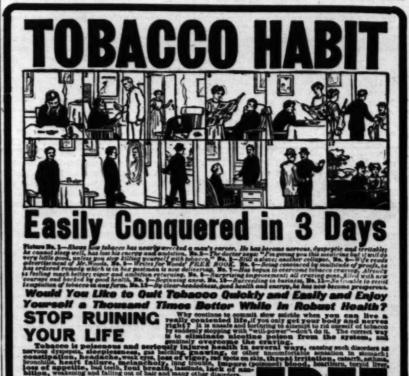

THE MILK DIET TREATMENT

MILE DIET SANITARIUM

DO YOU ITCH

MILLS' ECZEMA REMEDY

FREE For Sale by Drug

their benefits.

The Eagle hopes the extent of these roads may be increased so that all of you who appreciate may see the many you who appreciate may see the many featiful the now reserved for the equestrian and the surely foot traveler in the mountains. He hopes that before of the heights. He rejoices that so many of the heights. He rejoices that so many of these mountain places have been made easily accessible by good roads, permitting their beneaths and the invalid to enjoy their beneaths.

as your beloved John Mult Califed it. The most divined it in most divinely beautiful of all the mountains of bad have ever seen." And he too had traveled in many lands.

In your own Mother Mountains of Southern California the Eagle loves to linger at times. Lacking some of the awesome grand-dignity and beauty of their own, and an dignity and beauty of their own, and an appearance o. brooding over the piains after health and pleasure. But aever has be seen grander peaks, nobler trees, more magnificent streams and waterfalls, or loveller flowery meadows than fin the Snowy kange, or the "Range of Light", blowy kange, or the "Range of Light", as your beloved John Mulr called it—"the say your beloved John Mulr called it—"the

California, Land of the Sun, by the Western Sea

Wizards' Magic Age.

During the last week in September the convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association was held at the Potter Hotel, Santa Barbara. The president of the organization, Charles A. West, seems to be a man with eyes to see. In his address he called attention to the opening of long-distance telephone communication between New York and the Pacific Coast. He certainly had an inspiring theme, and it was not lost on his active brain. He saw in this accomplishment of the wizard science of the twentieth century an important commercial influence. This in the pinion of Wizards' Magic Age.

mercial influence. This in the pinion of Mr. West meant increased activity in commerce between the Coast and the East. It is a long call from fifty years ago, when there were infrequent "steamer days" out of San Francisco by way of Evramer the collection between the Panama, the only connection between the two coasts excepting the pony express across the continent. The average time of communication between San Francisco and New York in those days was all of three weeks, and between Los Angeles and the East it was a week longer. Of course there was the telegraph, an expensive way of communication used only in emergencies

The telephone, by which one can speak directly with a merchant or a manufac-turer in the East, annihilates time and space and brings the two coasts face to face. With this means of communication, and with fast freight trains across the continent, a merchant anywhere on the Coast can order goods from any city in the East today, and may expect to get them in from two to three weeks.

Day of Big Ocean.

T HE twentieth century is the biggest I era the human race has ever seen. This big era is the era of America and the Pacific Ocean. James J. Hill, the Great Northern Railroad man, is quoted in an article in the Times Illustrated Weekly of October 2, to the effect that in a short number of years the population of the United States will be 300,000,000. When that day comes, while it may not be the most populous empire on earth, it will be the greatest, everything considered, by far the greatest. New York today is taking the place of London as the center of world commerce. This has been an evident out ome to close observers and far thinkers for years past as sure to come within the first half of the present century. The war in Europe has hastened this event very rapidly.

When the country has a population of 300,000,000 the center of world commerce will have shifted from New York to San Francisco. The commerce of that day will be to that of today in about the same proportion as the area of the Pacific Ocean is to that of the Atlantic. The center of population in the United States when this population is here will have sh''ted far into the interior of the country, and the States of the Pacific Coast will be more densely peopled than those of the Atlantic. These reflections are brought to the surface by the discussion of the establishment of a line of steamers between the Los Angeles harbor and Honolulu. The question has been up between our merchants and the officials of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company for some time. the steamship men ask is a guarantee of 1000 tons of freight per ship before beginning the service on a four-and-a-half-day run between here and Honolulu. The plan is to have one big turbine steamer make the run direct from the islands to Los Angeles, returning by way of San Francisco. while another would run from Flavel, Or., connecting with the Honolulu steamer with with passengers and freight.

Central America have organized a society, known as the South American States Association, for the purpose of promoting trade between all the Americas. The members have subscribed $16,000,000 to carry on the plan, and one of the things in contemplation is the erection in New York of a building of which a floor will be devoted to exhibiting the products of each state represented.

The fact that a Pacific Coast man has been is reported that his salary is to be $15,000 a year for three years, with a bonus of $25,000 at the end of the period if he remains in the position for the whole time. It is a purely private organization, separate from all government control and influence, and indicates the interest existing between the sections of the continent.

The Era of Manufacturing.

HE present day in Southern California is the era for developing manufacturing of various kinds in this section of the cour We have been an agricultural and hor ticultural community since the first Spanish settlements were made in Southern Cali-fornia, and the development in this line in a hundred years has been very notable. From the pastoral industries of the early Spanish settlers, with the growth of poplation and connections with the outside world came an era of general farming. This was succeeded by the orchard age, and the production of fruits of various kinds has been carried to a high degree of perfection. The development of orchards has caused a large increase in the population, has increased the wealth of the community vastly beyond that of the days of herding and of general farming, and has laid a basis for the establishing of manufacturing plants.

A Gay Assembly.

FIFTEEN hundred men and women, every one of them over 70 years of age, the other day were at a picnic at Sycamore Grove in the city of Los Angeles. They came from all parts of Southern California, and were coming and going all day long to the lunch tables as thick as a l t of ants around an ant hill or of bees around a hive. One of the suborganizations was the Octogenarian Club, and eighty did not begin to measure the extreme old age of many of these picers. Dr. S. E. Wisher was 90, Dr. David J. Higgins 98, while Mr. and Mrs. F. Bryan were married sixty-two years. There were eleven of those present more than 90 years Six were 87, two 88 and one 89.

A few days later in Los Angeles a family gathering was held to celebrate the birthday of a young daughter, and there were five generations present. The crowning glory of the assembly was the spry great-grand-mother of 90 years of age. It may well be questioned if such an assembly could have been gathered anywhere, outside of South ern California, and certainly nowhere could so many be found of three-score years and ten who had been sent here with the threat of death in six years if they had attempted to remain in their old home.

The beginning made is an excellent one. The section has more than 3000 plants, with a very heavy output of products valued at $157,000,000 a year. No less than 100 new dustries have been set on foot here since the beginning of the current year. All we waited for was the local market, cheaper money, and cheaper labor, as we have a great advantage all the time in a mild climate. We now have abundant raw material, very cheap fuel, transportation facilities connecting us with the outside world by rail and ship, and labor conditions equal to those of any section of the country, superior to most if not all of them.

In the district surrounding Los Angeles there are, according to the Industrial Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, more than 2000 separate manufacturing plants turning out a total of 875 different articles. Los Angeles leads the list, then comes Long Beach with sixty, Pasadena fifty-four, and the Los

THE VARIOUS states of South and Home Products Week, in which the merchants are asked to make a special display of goods made in Los Angeles in their show windows and to urge their customers to buy these. Among the industries of the current year, one of the very important ones is the Southern California Iron and Steel Company. The unique industry on the Coast is the Avery Manufacturing Company, maker of dolls. Tuna packing has grown to a giant industry. From nothing it has telligent and shrewd people, and have un-grown until there is invested $1,000,000 in doubtedly informed themselves of conditions selected to manage the affairs of the associa- packing plants, and the pack of the year is in Italy and France as to the possibility of gustion" will improve.

tion is interesting to the people of the Coast. 350,000 cases. There is no limit to the gathering the crop and saipping it out in amount of this fish that can be sold if proppresident of the Panama-California Exposierly canned. It is the least fishy of any—

Then in other sections of the States, thing that swims the deep, and a salad made of canned tuna is quite as delicious as a chicken salad and not very easily distinguished from this.

Eye-opening Decision.

THE decision of the Appellate Court as to the legality of a city or district of country ruling absolutely against the intro-duction of all alcoholic stimulants is in the nature of a sensation. That it is a con-scientious decision on the part of the court cannot be questioned. A judge doing politic and thinking of his own re-election instead of administering law and doing righteousness would certainly have ruled otherwise. The Times is always in favor of temper ance. It recognizes this as one of the most important of our morals, and recognizes drunkenness as the source of more evil than any other vice that curses poor fallen hu-Yet we are of the opinion that the decision is not only sound in law but whole some in morals. This opinion is based on two important and radical considerations. In the first place it never was the intention of the American government as framed by the fathers thereof to interfere too much with the private life of the individual or to majority, however large, override the will of a minority, however small, excepting on considerations of the most vital import and where there is no room for any ques-tion of the right of the majority to coerce the minority. Of course when it comes to a minority, no matter how import ing the majority, the case is utterly against all principles of American jurisprude

The decision is very important to a large er of our people who are engaged in the industry of grape growing, wine making, and the merchandising of this commodity. It is important to another large section of the community who produce barley and hops on their farms, and to those who convert these products into light beers.

San Bernardino, not San Fernando

HROUGH an unfortunate typographical error in this page of last week's Illustrated Weekly it was made to appear that the San Fernando Valley was a vine-growing on. It was stated that grapes were be ing hauled to the wineries there. As is well known to most readers, the San Bernardino Valley is the great wine-making region of this part of the State, and the paragraph in question referred to the San Bernardin ley instead of to the San Fernando Valley.

For Holiday Regaling.

S OUTHERN CALIFORNIA from the Tehachepi to Tia Juana is almost everywhere busy harvesting the walnut crop of the season. This crop is estimated at 12,500 tons, or 40 per cent. larger than that of last year which, by the way, was under the aver-age. The growers of the nuts have been age. The growers of the nuts have been holding a meeting to consider the market and the possible prices to be had for their crop. They have fixed the price at about 10½ cents for No. 2's, about 13½ cents for No. 1's, a little more than 16½ cents for jumbos, and for budded 17 cents. This should enable the consumers all over the country to get good nuts for not more than 15 cents a pound, excellent quality for 20, and the finest for about 25 cents. The growers expect to get about $3,500,000 out of the crop.

The growers evidently are of the opinion that there will be no interference with the shipment of French and Italian walnuts to with sixty, Pasadena fifty-four, and the Los Angeles harbor district forty-six.

The bureau referred to above has set apart the week beginning November 1 as two districts in the world that produce this fruit in anything like abundant measure enough to interfere with the California crop. Below Naples in Italy, around Sorrento, there is a district that produces quite a quantity of walnuts of immense size. But the great walnut-producing center of the world is on the Rhone in France around Grenoble. The walnut growers of Cal..ornia are an innotably at Fresno, the vine growers are busy curing their crop of raisins. These will be available for the holiday trade. These are certainly among the most delicious foods the human race enjoys, and on the Thanksgiving and Christmas tables will be at the dessert of millions of homes in America exceedingly enjoyed.

Building the City Beautiful.

HERE IS a decided revival of building in Los Angeles and in all the cities round about us. A single edition of the Sunday Times is bulging with accounts of new enterprises in the way of fine buildings. On the corner of Lake and Sixth streets, overlooking Westlake Park, a great hotel and apartment-house is about to be erected at a cost of $150,000. Far down to the southwest, on Vermont and Slauson avenues, a great square of buildings is to be erected at once. square of buildings is to be erected at once. One of these is to be a two-story frame apartment - house containing ninety-six rooms. F. W. Braun, the owner of this projected improvement, has forty acres adjoining which he intends to improve with a num or homeoforws. He has plass lling for forty in the near future.

A twenty-room flat building is to be erected on the 1500 'lock of South St. Andrews place to cost $16,000. A sixteenroom flat is to go up at 2737 West First room flat is to go up at 2737 West First street. There are a number of flat buildings of less ambitious pretensions planned for immediate construction

The greatest activity in building is in the construction of fine houses, and of all the sections of the c' the Southwest is the scene of the greatest activity. It is but a few years since Col. Crenshaw secured a tract of land lying between Sixteenth and Washington streets out near Vineyard station at the western limits of the city. The streets in the tract are private. The lots restricted to residence purposes for a a wonderful success of this tract. The houses are nearly all of the Italian villa style, with white plaster exterior, and there are probably nearly a dozen new ones us construction there at the present time,

Notes of Progress

THE Rialto Heights Association is abo to construct a new packing-house at ost of $10,000.

The F. P. Newport Company is about to aise a lot of tide lands near the harbor by dumping in the dredgings from the channel. In the Carissa Plains, Santa Maria region in the Cuyama Valley, a great crop of grain is being gathered, estimated at 25,000 sacks.

Mayor Lisenby of Long Beach announces the securing of a tract of sixty acres on the north slope of Signal Hill for a city park

The Nevada Powder Company has applied to the Board of Trustees of Azusa for a tract of land on which to erect a powder factory.

At Owensmouth, in the western part of the San Fernando Valley, there is wonderful building activity, the structures under way being worth a quarter of a million dollars. S. J. Wood of Pomona is the moving spirit for a project to level mesa land around Yuma for the purpose of planting orange Nursing a Grouch.

[Zim, in Cartoons Magazine:] What a dissatisfied bunch of mortals we are! Three hundred and sixty-five days of each year we grumble about the weather. It's either too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry. You meet a friend who says, "It's a fine day today!" You answer, "Delightful!" The next one you meet says, "Ain't this beastly weather?" You answer, "The foulwith and join the knocker. Even the poor innocent weather cannot escape your mer. Every thing is this world was made wrong-except yourself, I mean; you are the quintessence of perfection in your own mind! When you're invited to a party, you are mad because you are invited, and if you are ignored, you're mad again just ecause that condition fits your disposition. Why don't you, for a change, look at the bright side of things and maybe your "dis-

HEVKLIZEVZE

[Baltimore American:] Baking soda.

[Unity:] We find that the selfish shours have on their panity

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find the selfish

[Unity:] We find the selfish

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find that the selfish

[Unity:] We find the selfish

[Unity:

USES FOR SODA.

[New York American:] A West Virginia [The 'Queen," London:] One thing, and woman, who grew thed of telling so long it is of vast importance, the insistent simmon and the surface. It is not stove during the annual canning

Value of Detail. CARE IN DRESS.

'awo

KINKS IN THE KITCHEN.

For Daughter and Maid For Wife and Mother. Sweet Home"

The Human Body-Its Care, Use and Abuse.

CORRESPONDENT of this magazine has written us asking for information about the best method of treating the form of rheumatism which results in enis frequently the result of the form of rheu-matism popularly known as inflamatory, and is one of the most obstinate and per sistent conditions that afflict humanity.

The older method of treating this diseas was by external applications, blood purifiers, and various medicines ... h were thought to have some effect in reducing the in-flammation about the joints. But recently much more satisfactory results have been obtained by the use of vaccines, or serums, injected hypodermically into the circulation. Obviously, this sort of treatment can be administered only by a physician. But in this respect it does not differ from most effective methods of treating serious afflictions; and the marked improvement, and even complete cures, that have followed this form of medication show the advisability of giving it a trial, particularly when the older remedies have failed.

Poisonous Effects of Decomposed Food.

It is a comparatively recent discovery that certain forms of heart disease and dis of the blood vessels, particularly har dened arteries or arteriosclerosis, are frequently caused by the decomposition of food products in the system. This decomposition is at work from childhood to old age, and is undoubtedly the chief underlying cause of the increased blood pressure which nally results in arterial changes and cardiac diseases in later years.

"In babyhood," says Dr. Robert N. Wilson of Philadelphia, "the main influence of their production is usually an oversupply, less often today, an unclean or improper form of food. This factor of gross over feeding and consequent gastro-intestinal de composition is operative, as a rule, through-out childhood and well past puberty. Occasionally, it is continued through life. exerts two influences on the heart, one toxic, the other mechanical. Beginning with the child's admission to the general diet of the family table enters still more forcefully the factor of indigestible food, not infrequently taken in unreasonable excess. We all est too much for our individual needs; we all indulge in many things better calculated to disturb than to further nutrition, and most of us send them on their way toward the stomach and the bowel very imperfectly prepared for assimilation. As a direct result, whether babies, or adult working units, or old men and women, we have at all times within us digestive tub more foul than they should be, from which we absorb the poisonous end products of not only an excess, and of improper pabulum but also of the altogether suitable foods.'

An Experiment in Over-feeding.

In this connection, it should be remen bered that the quantity as well as the kind of food eaten is an important item in pro ducing poisonous effects on the system. Dr. Wilson has reported a series of experiments which seem to demonstrate very conclusively that over-eating produces detrimental effects, not only upon certain organs, but upon the system as a whole. One of his experiments consisted in giving measured quantities of food to a cat, which he describes as follows:

"I have just finished a nine months' study of a giant tom cat in which were noted, on a single meal per diem, a normal pulse rate of about 100, a single formed stool, and an apparently well, lazy, affectionate cat. On two daily meals (one of milk, one of mixed od from the table,) the cat ran a distinctly angry cardiac action and rate of three and were exceedingly offensive, and ideals, and the already known means of ap-the cat was evidently irritable and ugly proaching them are utilized, the needless when disturbed. On three meals daily, two of them containing a small quantity of meat, may be left to take care of themselves. It the stools became numerous and diarrheic is not so much necessary to fight disease in character, and occasional blood streaking as to cultivate health for the happiness, con could be noted, the animal manifestly suf- tentment and moral gain that it bring fering from an intestinal inflammation sec-ondary to the decomposition of food in ex-and buoyant in such words. They en The cardiac action averaged from the psychologic cue to comfort and happi

120 to 130, and the apical impulse was no longer bounding and angry and of high ten-sion; it was rather diffuse and weak, and an occasional irregularity could be detected. The heart and the vessels were incompetent

This series of experiments was carried on repeatedly on various kinds of foods, with identical results in all instances. The excess of animal proteins would poison the nimal more promptly than a strictly vege table dietary, but the main factor was manifestly the excess of supply, and not the kind

An interesting feature of Dr. Wilson's experiments is his conclusion that certain nonprotein foods produce the same detrimenta effects as meats, if taken in excessive quanti-ties. Thus he finds that such highly acid vegetables as tomatoes and rhubarb, and such fruits as the apple, orange, lemon, peach and strawberry, and also the cants loupe, will sometimes produce identical ef-fects with excessive use of proteins and over-indulgence in any kind of food. He also finds that shell fish, excepting when used in moderation, are likely to produce toxic effects.

Climate and Lung Troubles,

It is a popular belief that lung troubles (particularly tuberculosis,) are peculiarly prevalent in certain climates and practically The fact that person who are afflicted with pulmonary diseases frequently recover on moving to some other locality suggests that one climate is less favorable to these conditions than another. It appears, however, that these differences are more apparent than real, and that tuculosis develops in all climates from the Arctic region to the equator. This seems to indicate that social and hygienic conditions are really much more important in preventing this disease than climatic ones. A French physician who has made a care ful investigation of this subject has re cently summarized his conclusions as fol-

"Climate exercises absolutely no influence on the more or less marked frequency of the disease. Tuberculosis takes place just as frequently, and its appearance is just as serious, among the Esquimaux and the Laplanders as among the negroes of the Congo State or the Kanaki of the New Hebrides. If, generally speaking, these races suffer less than the European, this is ex-clusively owing to their habit of living together in less numerous groups, and also owing to the nomadic life which some of them habitually lead."

Scaring People Into Health.

When the era of public hygiene was inaugurated something like a quarter of a century ago two methods came into vogue for inducing people to give more heed to the subject of health and disease. The older method of attempting to have men pay more attention to the condition of their bodies was similar to that frequently employed to compel them to provide for the welfare of their souls, namely, by frightening them. But practical experience in hygienic mat-ters, like the experience with religious teachings, has shown that this method is not the most effective. It requires something more than the fear of illness or of death to make the average person pay the necessary attention to matters of hygiene.

Appreciating this fact, the Life Extension Institute has recently issued a pamphlet which aims to inculcate the love of health rather than fear of disease, in the campaign that is being waged for the production of better public hygiene: "It is not a fear of or of death that we should encourage, but a love of health, a sense of responsi-bility for the care of our bodies, a desire for bodily endurance and efficiency and full miseries that embitter the lives of so many

"There is something unusually optimistic

ness for many a patient, without implying that 'man is incapable of sin, sickness and death,' or that 'health is not a condition of matter, but of mind.' To inspire a love of health does not mean to exclude the great body of scientific knowledge which is the best that science can offer today regarding disease, or to replace medicine by crude metaphysics. The ardent love of health insures a mind receptive to the lessons of modern medicine."

Purification of Swimming Pools

It has been demonstrated conclusively that public swimming pools may be the source of various infections unless special attention is given to purifying the water either by chemical or mechanical means As the purely mechanical methods of purification are not practical in their applica tion to most pools, the question of chemical purifiers has been thoroughly investigated with the result that the use of copper sul-phate in small quantities is now the accepted method, which seems unobjectionable, in expensive and thoroughly practical. The manner of using this chemical was sum marized recently in a technical journal as

"The method of using copper sulphate is very simple. I found as the results of experiments that about one-twentieth (0.04) part of copper sulphate to a million parts of water, used every day, kept the water pure. As stated before, this amount can not be recommended absolutely for every pool. The chemical contents of the fresh water, the number of bathers, the frequency of refiltration, etc., are factors that should not be overlooked. However, for most pools averaging not more than from 100 to 150 bathers per day, and in which the prope care is taken, this amount will prove the

"Copper sulphate may be obtained at the present time under the commercial name of blue vitriol for about $7 per hundred pounds. One houndred pounds will last the average pool a year."

Substitute for Absorbent Cotton.

Since the beginning of the European war the demand for cotton substitutes has in-creased on account of the high prices and the difficulty of obtaining cotton. Various cheaper substitutes have been devised, but are not as satisfactory. Among these sub-stitutes is "Lignin," a German product made by a secret process which is said to absorb blood better than cotton, but is not so good as a dressing for a wound. It is made in sheets, 14x24 inches in size. cellulose wadding made from chemical wood pulp is a Swedish product for dressing wounds. It is prepared in thin sheets like

DEAF The Little Gem Ear Phone awarded the Gold Medal, highest award for Ear Phones, at Panama-Pacific Exposition, in competition with Pacific Exposition, in competition with all hearing instruments.

The simplest, smallest and most perfect hearing device. Far above anything ever produced. We offer you a scientific wonder, pronounced by deaf people the world over as the most satisfactory hearing device ever invented.

vented.
THE AUTO MASSAGE stops head noises and improves the hearing. Free private demonstration at our store. Call today. Ask for booklet.

THE SUN DRUG CO.

TRUSSES Properly Fitted and Satisfac Guaranteed.

SUN DRUG CO. Surgical Store 759 South Hill St.

tissue paper, but crimped. The process of manufacture is secret, but it seems to be other substitute for cotton in dressings is a moss gathered in Westmoreland and Yorkshire, in England. The moss contains minute tubes and in a natural state holds water to the amount of eight or nine times the weight of the plant. When it is dry it is one of the most absorbent materials known. It is soft, light and cool, and, of course, is sterilized before use. Little preparation is required, and it is very economical. It has been used for some time in the hospitals in England.—[Commerce Reports

Servian Method of Treating Fractures.

Whatever may be said of Servia, it is enerally admitted even by the friends of that country, that it is not progressive in things directly concerned with medicine or surgery. It is interesting to note, therefore. that the method of treating fractures as practiced by the Servian surgeons, particularly fractures of the bones of the limbs, has been found so effective that it has been adopted in some of the large military hospitals of other nations.

The method as employed by the Serb sur geon is as follows: The limb is suspended from a bar fastened to the head of the bed and to a higher bar standing upright at the toot. The suspension is made with two, three or four triangular bandages, so arranged that the knee is slightly flexed. In this position, the dressings can be changed readily, the patient suffers comparatively little pain, and there is rarely stiffening of the joints.

It will be seen from this that the Servians have departed from the older method of fixing broken bones rigidly in place by means of wooden splints or plaster of Paris cas-But results seem to show that this departure is at least a practical one. And in this connection it should be noted that the American Indian, in his primitive state, employed a method of freating broken bones very similar to that used in Servia. The Indian did not use triangular bandages or metal beds, but he accomplished the same purposes by the use of basket-like cradles made of flexible twigs in which he sus pended the injured limb.

HARRY BROOK, N. D., former editor Times Health Dept., still teaches how to cure chronic diseases, through dietetic advice by mail. Send for pamphlet. Dr. Brook now edits BRAIN AND BRAWN, monthly, one dollar a year, ten cents a copy. Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles.

Are You Suffering from Painful Afflic-tions of the Feet,

WESTERN ORTHOPEDIC APPLIANCE CO.

ment I will send a $1.00 bottle to any sending file to help pay postage and packs When you are completely cured send me Otherwise your report cancels the charge B, J, LANE, 253 Lane Bidg., $8. Mi

DR. FRANK LAMB WILLSON NATUROPATHIC PHYSICIAN

actice limited to Eye and Nerve Disor-rs. Suite 422 and 423 Exchange Bidg., r., 3rd and Hill Sts., City. A$418. For-erly 340 Bradbury Bidg.

[Saturday, October 9, 1915.

sugar cane grows luxurlendly. There is a streak deal of rice raised, and there are four rice mills near Villa Americana. Not long ago some of the Americana started planting watermelons. They were doing well, when the Italians came in and competed, cutting the prices to such an extent that the Americans had to give up the business. The little are streak the freek.

ITTOSLBVIED MEEKIN

Americans Settled in South America.

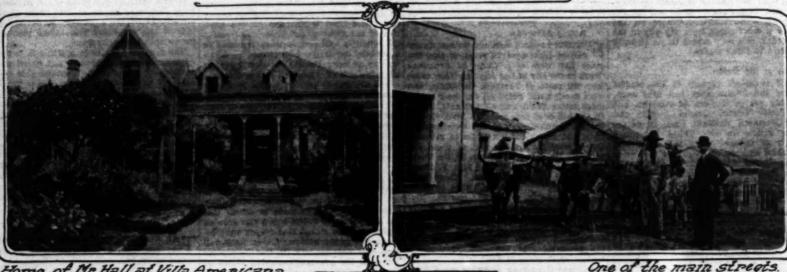

By Frank G. Carpenter.

That was almost fifty years ago, and since then a great number of the settlers have made their homes here. Some have become disgusted long since and gone back to the States. Others returned home only to come back to Brazil, finding that they preferred the conditions here to those of the new regime in our country. A number have stayed and become Brazilians. Among the older families now living here with their families are the following:

William Pyles from Georgia, William Keese from Mississippi, Alonzo Keese from Mississippi, William Prestidge from Alabama, Wilbur McKnight from Texas, Ezekiel Pyles from Georgia, John Rowe from Mississippi, McAlpin from Alabama, Charles C. Finley from Mississippi, John Carlton from Mississippi, Charles M. Hall from Virginia, and others.

Mr. Hall now lives in Americana, although

Mr. Hall now lives in Americana, although Mr. Hall now lives in Americans, although he has a number of large farms in the country near by. He has sugar plantations and cattle ranches and is, I judge, a man of considerable wealth. I called upon him at his home and met some of his children, who are now grown up. The young ladies have been educated in the United States, and the family is a delightful little slice of America transplanted to the heart of Brazil. Mr.

Home of Mr. Hall at Villa Americana

One of the main streets

here. They were men from the South who had become disgusted with carpet-bag government and who left home to build up a new country in a new land. Some of the original immigrants are still living here, and not a few of their descendants have fine farms on this high rolling plateau. During my stay in the country about I have met a number of them and this story is made up from my talks with the original settlers and their descendants.

We all remember how poor the South was at the close of the war, and how proud. Its people had spent their all for the cause of secession, and when they were overrun by the officials from the North and their State governments given into the hands of the negroes, some of the more spirited of them decided to go abroad and seek homes in other countries. The subject was one of wide discussion and it was brought forth at many meetings throughout the Southern States. Some of the people favored Mexico as a place of refuge. Others wanted to go to Honduras, while a third class planned to come to Brazil, which was then under an imperial government.

Attracted by the Climate. *

Attracted by the Climate. *

The southerners were attracted to Brazil by the fact that its climate was semi-tropical. They looked upon this part of the country as the same as their own, and they came here to raise the same kind of crops. Some may have been influenced also by the fact that slavery was then still in existence here and that they could use negro labor to work their plantations. I am told, however, by the old citizens that this did not enter into the question, and that their chief reason for leaving was their disgust and despair of the treatment of the South by the North.

Snapshot in Villa Americana.

Hall did not come with the party from New Orleans, but on a later steamer, which carried several families from Alabama and elsewhere. The first settlement near Santos was at the town of Iguape, and Mr. Hall said the colony contained a preacher by the name of Dunn, who returned to America and brought out more people. When the Iguape colony became disgusted Ballard Dunn left them and went back to the United States. After that the exodus occurred, and the people climbed to the highlands, many of them on foot. None of the colony had very much money, but lands were cheap, and those who held on have found that their investments have quadrupled and quintupled in value, although I doubt whether the land has, on the whole, increased more than similar lands in those parts of the United States from where they came.

An Attractive Region.

And still there are not many parts of the

And still there are not many parts of the world more beautiful, more fertile and more salubrious than these highlands of Sao Paluo. The land is about 2000 feet above the sea. It is almost twice as far south of the equator as Panama is north of it, and the climate is something like that of Southern Florida or Northern Cuba. The scenery is beautiful. The country is rolling and it reminds me of the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia or the famous blue grass lands of Kentucky. There are great meadows with trees scattered here and there through them, and you have a succession of views at every spin of your motor car.

The soil is rich, and it will raise corn, cotton, sugar cane and rice. Some of the cotton lands now under cultivation are producing a bale and a half to an acre, and

Methods of Restoring Flood Gullies on Farm Lands.

By M. V. Hartranft.

SOIL SAVING.

SOIL SAVING.

Many a ranch in Southern California now has a guily running right down the middle of a broad field as the result of the flashing flood of 1914, which may be satisfactorily restored if attention is given to the construction of solisaving dams before the rainy season begins. Even so large a gulley as was made upon the grounds of the San Gabriel Country Club can be restored in handsome shape and at very little cost in relation to the value of the accomplishment.

If you fill up the small gullies and provide a flume or concrete ditch for the subsequent flood flow you will never have large guilles. We see in every section attempts to retain eroded soil by building unprotected dams across farm gullies. A favorite, and quite successful method with small guilles is to form a check dam of brush (or orchard prunings,) upon which stones and boulders and dirt is piled to form a dam behind which the muddy water settles and leaves a load of siit. If the brush dam is porous enough to permit the slow percolation of the water through it, or gently over it a gully may be fully restored at almost no expense.

The brush dam method in large guilles.

The brush dam method in large gullies fails during heavy flood flow by washing out. When the volume of water gets large enough to tear over the top of such a dam the destruction thereof is a question of but a few moments. few moments.

struction thereof is a question of but a few moments.

The protection against such destruction is the simple plan of laying sewer pipe, in such a way as to carry the surplus water under the dam. There is some danger in getting the tile too small, but no danger whatever in getting it too large. For the very smallest gully in which an ordinary brush dam will not suffice, and in which a tile underdrain pipe is needed to take the water by the dam the twelve-inch pipe should be used. For such a large gully as has been made on the grounds of the San Gabriel Country Club a series of underdrain pipes should be used—or perhaps a concrete conduit in size of four by four feet should be constructed in place before the dirt dam is built around it.

The sewer pipe method is a very simple way of preventing the loss of rich soil washed down from cultivated hills and of catching that which washes from your neighbor's farm. The dirt dam when constructed also provides a good roadway along its top as will hereafter be discussed. The method was worked out by a farmer named Christopher in M'ssouri after fifteen years of trial and experiment, it is not patented and he has made known his experience for the benefit of others. The application of the method in California is but a question of building an underdrain flume or series of drain pipes that has capacity to carry all subsequent flood flows away as fast as it arrives behind the dam.

Construction Details.

At the lowest point in your gully lay out ten to twenty joints of vitrified clay pipe on the bottom of the stream, according to the width of the base of the proposed dam. Make the joints as tight as possible with good rich mortar; then over this pipe and across the bed of the gully build an earth bank or dam. Upon the end of the pipe which extends out on the upstream side of this dam, place a vitrified pipe elbow or one-quarter curve in a vertical position, and fit into its upturned end one length of pipe. Protect this pipe by driving four stout stakes around it and wrap hog wire around the stakes to keep debris from clogging the pipe. Continue the earth dam until its crest is at every point two feet higher than the top of the upstanding pipe. When the rains come they will bring valuable soil from the foothills and fields above you and the water will be formed for the time being into a small pond by the dam, rising to the level of the upstanding pipe. Having reached this level, the water will begin to pour down through it, under the dam and away, but the greater part of the fine soil which it originally carried will have settled to the bottom of the pond, and after a few hard storms the entire depression will be filled with soft rich soil up to the level of the pipe. It is then time to add a few more feet to the dam and place another length of pipe upon the first. The silt will now settle to a much higher level, much broader in expanse, and the process may be continued indefinitely so long as the dam and the pipe are from time to time with debris. The pipes or L conduit with debris with the pipe are pipeled.

Set fear posts and wrap with wire to keep rubbish out of 2011-215 Dickey Soil Saving Dam catches the top soil washed from the fields - also 1010 DEPOSIT OF TOP SOIL 100 Set pipe curve on Clear stones from stream bed and tamp firm bed of stones solt earth famly around and under pipe engthwise section of gulley, showing cross section of earth dam and installation of vitrified clay sewer pipe.

may be continued indefinitely so long as the dam and the pipe are from time to time raised.

In a broad and comparatively flat depression, cut up by a winding stream, one long dam with a number of L pipes will produce a wide fill. In a steep gully deeply eroded by a swift stream, a succession of very short dams, each with a single pipe, will transform a waste strip of land into a succession of steps or terraces of wonderful fertility; and besides the land actually gained and added to the ranch in this way, is the further advantage of being able to work your fields all in c..e piece instead of wasting time and energy in hauling and climbing around the canyon gashes. Every ranch along the foothills where the messare divided by deep arroyos or gulches can be brought under control and the messas linked together with good earth only slightly depressed. Most of these big guilles have been cut by great floods in the past. You know what the maximum stream flow is and that it would not fill one one-hundreth part of the guily that has been eroded. Therefore build a check dam with an L culvert (or pipe,) instead of a horizontal culvert or pipe and let the guily fill up. After its restoration to normal proceed to make a conduit that will carry off the maximum flow without future erosion. These dams can be scraped into position by the team at a time of year when they are not busy with rush work.

Automatic Road Making.

they leak.

Vitrified clay pipe insures permanence. The earth for the dam must be well packed. The upstanding ends of the overflow pipes must be well protected against choking with debris. The pipes or L conduit must be sufficiently large to carry the heaviest runoff so that at no time will the stream flow over the crest of the dam. The rules used by railways for culvert areas in your locality may be safely divided by two on account of the greater velocity of water under the head obtained in the vertical pipe.

Controlling Mad Waters.

Controlling Mad Waters.

recorded by a swift stream, a succession of very short dams, such with a single pipe, will transform a waste strip of land into a succession of steps or terraces of wonderful gained and added to see means to transform and the stream of steps or terraces of wonderful gained and added to see means to transform and the steps of work your fields all in one piece instead of wasting time and energy in hauling and climbing around the canyon gashes. Every ranch along the foothills where the means are divided by deep arroyso or gulches are two schools of engineering in the matter of shought under control and the means linked together with good earth only slightly depressed. Most of these big guiltes have been cut by great floods in the past. You know what the maximum stream flow is and that it would not Lin one one-hundred part of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore built of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty of the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty of the guilty that the will carry off the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty of the guilty that the will carry off the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty that the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty that the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty that the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty that the guilty that has been eroded. Therefore builty that the guilty t given, to cause a dirt field to fill in the arroyo that now divides two fine mesas of productive land upon our ranch.

Likewise, if we may be permitted the intrusion into semi-private affairs, could we not build an excellent soit-saving dam, or possibly two of them, with nice driveways along the tops thereof, upon the grounds of the mentioned country club, and restore that ugly gash for just about one-tenth the cost of retaining the lawyers that are fighting the case against the city of Pasadena?

A Short and Profitable Patent.
[Wall Street Journal:] Perhaps the cortest patent application extant is the one on file in the patent office at Washington, which reads: "I claim a patent on a erew with a gimlet point."

Previous to that all screws used in wood-work had been of the blunt end variety, and the carpenter had to carefully bore a hole with a gimlet or auger before insert-ing his screw and forcing it home. The advent of the screw with a gimlet point which would bore itself in, revolutionized this.

this.

This patent was held by the American Screw Company, of Providence, R. I., and before the patent ran out and it was impossible for others to manufacture it without damage suits, this company made tremendous profits.

The demand for the gim-mendous profits. The demand for the gimlet pointed screw was, of course, immense and the company did not know what to do with its profits.

All of its dray horses were carefully selected blacks and tremendous prices were paid for good stock. The harness was of patent leather trimmed with red, while the wagons plying back and forth between the factory and the docks or the railroad had red undergear to match the harness trimmings, and the wheels were decorated with gold leaf, 14 carat fine. But this is all past. Today the pointed screw can be purchased at any corner store for a few cents a package.

The Chewing-gum Habit.

"The chewing-gum habit." writes Zim, in Cartoons Magazine, "is bad enough in itself, but the habit of sticking the quid on the bedpost is intolerable. Wives who are addited to the latter should be advised to desist before a serious breach in the family occurs. The bedpost is the husband's recognized clothes-tree and should be held sacred as such. To find his trousers garnished daily with that adhesive element is not conducive to connubial felicity. Another convenient place of repose for the harmless-looking little wad which thwarts immediate detection is the under-side of the wife's dining-room chair. I have known men to leave a quid of 'Honest Scrap' or 'Fine Cut' on the window slill during luncheon, but they were not deemed gentlemen of high caste; neither can a woman who deigns to return a wad of once-used gum to her jaws for a "second kneeding lay claim to the title of lady. There is a respectability in everything if properly carried out, but the practice of sticking chewing-gum in obscure places is downright beastly."

Rural Science.

Rural Science.

The famous botanist was pacing slowly along the country road, his eyes, as usual, roaming from side to side for new plants to study.

Suddenly an eager look swept across his features, and he leaned over the low fence inclosing a cottage garden. He h · found a plant he did not know.

What could it be? If only he had a s · cimen of it to study?

At that moment a shock-headed lad strolled along the road and stopped to gaze open mouthe" at him

"I say," called the botanist urgently. "See that plant there—that pale pink one in the corner? you know it:"

"Uh-uh!" said the country boy briefly.

"What's its name? Do you know what family it belongs to?"

The lad jerked a grubby thumb over his shoulder toward the little cottage as he spoke more briefly still.

"Higginses!"—[Utica Herale- patch.

By Frank G. Carpenter.

Americans Settled in South America.

TOS VACETES LINES

LUNTRATED WEEKLE

ago some of the Americans started planting watermelons. They were doing well, when the Italians came in and competed, cutting the prices to such an extent that the Americans to give up the business. The Italian immigrants are among the great competitors of the Americans. They live on almost nothing, a large part of their food being sausage and mush. One of the ns tells me they eat the mush and smell the sausage and this suffices.

In connection with the agricultural con ditions of this part of Brazil, I cannot do better than describe my visit to the farm of one of the oldest of the American settlers. I refer to that of Ezekiel Pyles of Georgia. He came here at the age of 25, and he has under cultivation and in pasture something like 1000 acres of land. He has 400 acres which are now in crops of one kind or other, and his fields are as clean as any garden in Georgia. His home is far more comfortable than the average farmhouse of Georgia, and its luxury approximates that of some of the richest homes of the South. Mr. Pyle has thirty men working on his farm. They all homes there, and most of them have families.

A Productive Estate.

This estate is situated about ten miles from Vil's Americans, and I went there in an automobile in company with young Dr. Hall, a son of Charles M. Hall, of whom I have written. We passed through rich lands all the way, and at one time cro a fazenda of 9000 acres owned by a Portu iese, who has married a Brazilian Pyles's farm adjoins that estate, but It is better cultivated.

In going over the Pyles farm we us obile, riding through wide roads from to field. Everything was growing luxuriantly. I saw fields of sugar cane, ton and rice, and also of cowpeas and vel-vet beans. Mr. Pyle tells me that the prices of cowpeas are $2 or $3 a bushel, and that he is raising them to supply the farmers of the neighborhood who are becoming inter-ested in advanced agriculture and want to bring up their lands to the use of such crops. He says there is a market for all the corn and rice that can be raised, and that the sugar cane when turned into sugar and rum

I asked Ezekiel Pyles as to the character of farming in the country about. He said is was poorly done. Before the Americans were covered with bunch grass so tough that it could not be dug out with a hoe. The Americans bought this land at low prices and used their plows to turn the grass under. The grass made a good fergrass under. The grass made a good fer tilizer and the land trebled in prices.

I asked as to the coffee possibilities. Mr. Pyles replied that the land about Villa Americana is not fitted for coffee growing on account of the frosts, although the State of Sao Paulo has the largest coffee plantations of the world, and supplies the greater part of the world's crop. He says the pasture is excellent for cattle and mules, and that Mr. Hall is raising mules to supply the local demand. Big mules sell well; a good team will bring over $300, and mules as large as ours bring as much as $400 or $500 per team. The chief working animals are oxen, which are yoked up by the necks in stead of the horns. Sometimes as many as a dozen yokes will be harnessed to one wagon, and in moving heavy machinery thirty-two oxen are sometimes used to drag the trucks over the road. The ordinary oxcart has a wheel of solid wood. The driver has a long goad, at the end of which is a ring and a sharp point. The latter is driven into the oxen to prod them along.

This is no place for Americans without noney. The farm hands get wages of about 75 cents a day, with free house rent. The tenant-house is a shack about fifteen feet tenant-house is a snack about inteem feet square and from eight to ten feet in height. The whole family sleeps on the floor. The stove is usually of brick with a sheet of iron on top. The common food of the people is rice, beans, dried beef and bacon. The farm hands work from day light to dark. They have a half-hour off for breakfast and forty minutes for dinner. The working day is fourteen hours in the summer and ten or eleven in the winter. The climate is such that the grass grows all the year round. The grass is always green and several crops can be raised on the same ground in one year. The ordinary working man needs but little clothing, his usual at-tire consisting of a shirt, hat and a pair of The hat is of straw and it costs about 6 cents, the shirt and trousers can be bought for $3, so that for $3.06 a man can get a full outst.

Mr. Pyles tells me that he had enjoyed his life in Brasil. He believes it is a good place to make money, but he would prefer the United States as a place to die in. The reason for this is his children. He would rather have them among his own people han here in Brazil.

I find that a number of the Americans

here are well satisfied with their conditions, and some are sensitive about being pitled for their expatriation. About twenty-five years ago a sympathetic wave concerning the American colony passed over our coun-try, and the United States government sent word to our legation at Rio to look up the expatriated Americans and aid them to return home. At that time the secretary of legion was a man named White, a pompous young fellow, with a high opinion of his own office and also of the Stars and Stripes. He came down to Sao Paulo and traveled u to the American settlement. He was met by some of the older citizens, and among them a man named John Norris Mr. Norris told him that he was an An ican and that he would like to know how the United States was getting along now. Mr. White replied that our country was prospering and that he had been directed by the State Department to visit the Amer-ican colony to Brazil can colony in Brazil.

Satisfied With Brazil.

"Indeed," said Mr. Norris, "and may I ask what is the object of your visit?

Mr. White replied: "It is to learn your condition and to tell you that Uncle San would be glad to have you come home, and that, if necessary, he would even supply the unds to carry you there."

The way this remark was made angered He replied:

"I and the rest of my American friends are satisfied with Brazil, and I think we will stay where we are."

"I am sorry," said Mr. White. "But per-haps there is something eise that the Amer-ican legation can do for you. If so we will be glad to do it."

There is only one thing that you can do," the reply. "That is to send us some was the reply. thing that will kill the insects that are in festing our cotton."

The trip from Sao Paulo to Villa Americana is interesting. I left Sao Paulo yes cana is interesting. terday morning on the railroad and it was not until afternoon that I reached Villa The country Americana high and rolling, the vegetation is a rich it would be impossible to go through the forest without the use of an ax. Here and there the fields were black. This is caused by burning the grass to clear away the vegetation. It ruins the soil, taking the life out of it, and in some places the country is barren.

Much of the farms is given up to pasture. I saw herds of long-horned cattle not unlike our old Texas stock. Now and then ing them were bulls with humps on their backs like the cattle of India.

On the way we passed through Campin This is a thriving little city in the heart of one of the oldest coffee regions of Brazil. It has coffee trees which are more than 100 years old and are still bearing. The Americana and therefore less subject to frosts. The railroad passes through many plantations. The coffee trees are low and bushy. They cover the sides of the hills.

Nearing Villa Americana the land is more and more rolling. It looks not unlike parts of Virginia. There are many fields of corn fenced with wire. The country is divided up into fields. There are no barn or outbuildings. The animais feed out of doors all the year round. Now and then one sees a chapel by the roadside with a cross on the top of it and a shrine inside. These eattered over this part of Sao Paulo Each stands upon the site where a man has died or to mark the grave of a heathen.
Only Christians can be buried in the regular cemeteries. I am told that unbaptized babies have to be buried outside for this reason. I doubt that.

[Copyright, 1915, by Prank G. Carpenter.]

Adversity.

Sweet are its uses, so the great bard said. Go not thou, then, along misfortune's road With brow bent low and heart bowed down

But stand erect, throw off the loathso

Go bravely forth, pluck from its venon

The precious jewel of the ugly toad -[J. J. M., in New York Sun

Through Love of Old Erin. By E. Niall Breene

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE. H, PSHAW, Aileen!" said Mary, as she was doing up her hair before the glass, "you're entirely too particular. That gilt-edged introduction idea was all right back in your little Irish town but this is a live 'burg' where competition is keen, and if we're to get the right man we'll have to step lively. I'm a stickler for the conventionalities myself, when it comes right down to the point, but if I waited for an introduction in the old-fashioned way I'd miss a lot of good times. Anyway, I'll bet if the right man came along you wouldn't be so particular about a little thing like an

"My right man," said Afleen icily, "isn't the type of man who flirts with operators over the lines, and I wouldn't talk to a man I didn't know if he were the last man on earth. I wouldn't do it, never!"

"Well, I'm not so fussy," said Mary. "He has a big machine and he can show me a good time. I am old enough to take care of myself, so why should I fret?" Then she threw her arms around Alleen and said here we could go." Then came the thought, penitently, "Don't be mad, honey—these why couldn't she go herself? There was the things all seem funny to you because you're Afleen sat still for a long time looking at the disorderly room and thinking. She ne over from Ireland only six months had come over from Ireland only six months ago, and it was hard for her to get used to some of the standards she found at the office of the American Telephone Company. When Aileen had come she had intended to stay with friends, but they had moved away shortly after her arrival, so left to her own resources she had accepted Mary's invitation to room with her. Aileen was to her, but there were some things that Mary did to which she could not get used.

Tonight the trouble was a date that Mary had made over the line. To Aileen it all seemed common and cheap, and she felt hurt that Mary, her friend, should care for anything of the sort.

The light from the solitary electric glob beat down wearly on the room, and seemed to bring out unflinchingly the harsh, ugly outlines of it all. Aileen was heartsick for her little old town of Kerry—for the joy of the moonlight, the clean open winds, and the song of the lark in the morning. All the wild, rich beauty of Erin seemed call-ing to her, and the gray-blue eyes were halffilled with tears, while the corners of her rose-petal lips drooped sadly. She picked up the evening paper listlessly. There, staring at her was the announcement that Chauncey Olcott would appear that evening in "A Play of Old Erin, with six new Irish songs." Alleen looked at it wistfully. "I'm sure 'twould be just like seeing a bit of home again," she said. "If Mary were only 50 cents that was to have gone for a new strange. I have to go now. He's waiting jabot—but it was a long way to the theater for me: Be good!" and she was gone. wavered undecidedly. Then suddenly she wavered undecidedly. Then suddenly she remembered the beautiful new pumps that she had bought on her pay-day, and the new slik hose that Mary had given her for Christmas. With the thought all the eternal feminine in Alleen came to the surface. Of course she would go.

She flew around setting the room to rights, dressed hurriedly in her little blue serge.

suft and panama hat, with the pumps and the new silk hose to set it all off, and when she was ready to go she paused for a moment before the glass. It was a charmefore the glas ing bit of femininity that peered out at her, and Aileen was woman enough to know it She looked around guiltily. Then her hand stole into the drawer and brought out Mary's powder puff. Delicately she dabbed a bit of powder on her nose and then surveyed the effect. Suddenly seized with a panic, she rubbed it all off again and hurried out, ocking the door.

Alleen went in with the big crowd of people at the balcony entrance. She was soon seated and surveying it all at her leisure. It was a very critical, if not disparaging look that she gave it.

"Sure, it's not very fine at all," she said, "and the walk are that the walk.

"and the walls are that dirty; my!"

Then the music began and Alleen was in raptures. The Irish folk dances were new to Alleen, still the lilt of old Erin was in them and her heart sang to the tunes.

Finally the play began with a pretty little lady, and a big, genial Irishman in a long, comfortable old room

"For all the world like the bailiff's house in Kerry," said Alleen.

Then the big Irishman, who was really Chauncy Olcott, g, and Alle charmed by the liquid melody of his voice.

When the song was ended there was a burst of applause, and the boy in the seat next to Alleen nodded enthusiastically, with for all the world like my own little town of Kerry."

"Now did you know Michael said the boy. Keirns and the place o' the wells at Kerry?"

So the conversation began and after the theater Alleen walked home, and the boy walked along with her, and neither of the it it was strange.

By the time they had reached Aileen's ome they had found so many things to talk about, and there were so many places that they each had known and loved that they seemed like old friends, and when the boy suggested a trip to the beach for the following Sunday, Aileen accepted gladly.

When Mary came home, Alleen was sitting up in bed waiting for her.

"Oh, Mary," she said, "Twe been to the grandest play, and I met the nicest Irish boy that you ever did see."
"For the love of Pete," said Mary, "how did you happen to go to a show, and who is this said boy?"

"Why," said Afleen, "I just saw an Irish play advertised and I went on the 50 cents that I was saving for a jabot, and it was all so fine that I had to talk to someone, so iked to him, and he's going to take me to the beach next Sunday, and, Mary, he

"Well, of all the nerve!" said Mary. "Here you are lecturing me about flirting over the telephone lines, and you go to a show, calm-ly pick out a stranger and make a date for Sunday! I'm afraid I don't quite get your I'm afraid I don't quite get your reasoning."

"But, Mary," said Alleen, "he wasn't like a smile.

"Isn't he the grand one though?" said the boy.

"He is that," said Alleen, "and the play's leepily, "a body just couldn't help talkin' at that play."

"Oh, I see," said Mary, laughingly, as "Are you from across the water, too?" turned out the light. "A one touch of na

'DNIAVS TIOS

By M. V. Hartranst.

Methods of Restoring Flood Gullies on Farm Lands.

The City and the Home Beautiful.

Gardens, Grounds, Streets, Parks, Lakes.

By Ernest Braunton.

Chrysanthemums.

THE DAY OF THEIR ANNUAL EXPLOI-TATION AT HAND.

OR THE next few weeks the attention of flower fanciers will be centered on chrysanthemums (what a jaw-breaking name when 'mum's the word.) Soon we shall have flower shows from Redlands to the sea and the "Queen of Autumn" will reign supreme over every one of them. Pasadena has each year been the center of attraction in its display of 'mums and this year, during the last week in October, they will show their latest and their best. For the whole of the same week Los Angeles is to have a flower show, after a lapse of sev-eral years, and near enough to the scene of the last of the old run to make many of us recall with a sigh how we worked day and night to entertain an apathetic public with a grand Jisplay of the finest flowers and plants to be found in local gardens. fields and greenhouses. Yet the same old band of workers, with many new accessions to the ranks, will be found at the Broad way Flower Show, October 23-30.

But we started out to talk about 'mun for now, in the closing days of the season will be striving to produce the every best and many will overdo. Too much food at this time often proves disastrous to nany ambitious, worthy, but misdirected enthusiasts. If the flowers have not been well fed before this it is too late to ge gigantic blossoms, for when color shows in the bud all food stimulus must be stopped, but water should be given unspar-ingly. There will be late sorts not yet showing color that may still be fed and the rule of little and often should be strictly observed. Liquid manure has rever been surpassed as a food for 'mums, and that from the dairy has proven better than that Many of our growers use nothing else and often those btaining first prizes in all classes have for years adhered strictly to the application of liquid leached from cattle manure se using bone-meal early in the seaso and other commercial fertilizers later are many, and splendid results are attained with almost any food if the method of little and often governs its application. The most noted grower of 'mums in this country at present uses the liquid manure herein noted almost exclusively, but also applies a solution of sulphate of ammonia made by dissolving one pound of the sulphate in fifty gallons of water. More 'mums are spoiled by too much food than by too little. But use water copiously.

The Tulip Tree.

ONE OF the finest deciduous trees for street or garden use is Liriodendron tulipifera, the tulip tree. Aside from its lovely flowers it is strikingly handsome when in full leaf and its outline is ideal, closely resembling that of a gigantic um-brella tree. Just why it is not more fre-quently seen in Southern California is a hard nut to crack, for it certainly thrives. Two large trees on the old Rust place. Monterey Road, South Pasadena, bear wit ness that the tulip tree does as well it this end of the State as any tree native to our Southern States. It is a close relative of the evergreen magnolia, so popular ir California, and surely is as well suited to local climate as that much-abused native to low, damp lands.

Nearly Ever-blooming.

F ONE experienced and observant with plant life were asked what shrub comed more months in the year than any other he might perchance say Spartium junceum, the Spanish Broom, for it bears several crops throughout the ye, or at least two or three long-extended crops, according to treatment. As this shrub grows somewhat sparse and slender it is well to cut it back severely at the end of each flowering period, for this treatment will induce a bushy growth and also keep the flowers down within the line of vision, for they bloom on the newest growth and this is nearly all strictly purports and year little programment. is nearly all strictly upright and very little of it lateral or horizontal.

THE EVERGREEN, ORNAMENTAL, FRUIT-BEARING AVOCADO

Advertising Avocados,

EVERAL have written to this department stating that they have one re avocado trees bearing fruits of a hip grade and asking how best to realize pro from such trees. In fairness to the p let it first be stated that if one has an ex cellent quality of avocado the question of a market for young budded trees is easily solved. An exhibit of the fruit and the plants for sale by any energetic nursery man of good standing will start things right. If you wish to get the greates ossible returns from a tree, regardless of its intrinsic value, insure it for a large sum, surround it by a glant chicken coop se curely locked (presumably to keep the natives from swiping buds for proagation,) and hire a live press agent. We believe this method is a proven succe

MYRTUS COMMUNIS, the commo myrtle; Abelia grandiflora or A. rupestris, Coronilla glauca, Leptospermum lavigatum, and L. scoparium formed a group of shrubs lately noted by the writer and all were go-4. The Leptospermums grow much faster than the others and are more spreading but in other respects the growth of this shrubbery was much alike under general garden treatment. The last mentioned doubtless grew the faster for the reason that less water is required by them for a normal growth.

THAT CROP production may be engaged in north of the Arctic Circle is one of the results of a study of the soils of a vast area in Alaska by experts of the Bureau of Solls, made for the purpose of deter-mining the possibilities of agricultural de-velopment. It was found that gardening is carried on and grass thrives in Alaska, up to and north of the Arctic Circle. In addition it is shown that the climate and soils of Finland are very similar to those of Alaska the latitude of the two regions being practically identical. In Finland a number of crops are grown at a considerable distance north of the Arctic Circle.

A Good Red Rose

HERE WILL ever be some dispute as I to what is the best rose of any color or class, for soils and treatment vary so widely as to bring results equally as varied. In the writer's garden no red climbing rose has bloomed through so many months each year or with a more abundant crop than climbing Souvenir de Wootton. All who have grown it will admit its good qualities and the experience of many has been simi-lar to that of the writer. In addition it is a most vigorous climber, well foliaged down to the base, never bare below as is the case with Henriette.

Native Clematis.

SIDE from their being deciduou A species of native clematis, found quite generally over California, make very satis factory climbers for fences and arbors.
They drop their leaves about Christmas and leaf out again in March so that not for long are they devoid of foliage. During summer they make a dense shade and bear abundant crops of flowers. The lowland species, Clematis ligusticifolia, is not nearly the interesting facts brought out by a report on a reconnoissance soil survey in Alaska soon to be issued. This embodies in higher altitudes.

THE NEXT convention of the Southern California Arboricultural Association will be held at Redlands on the 11th and 12th of this month. All interested in any phase of civic beautifying are invited to be present, also to join the association, for membership is not confined to tree war-dens, park superintendents, etc., but is open to all who will aid in making a more beautiful Southern California.

NO DOUBT radium fertilizers" are of benefit to the soil, but the benefit is in all probability due rather to the nitrogen, potash and phosphorus they contain than to any radium which may be present. Until the value of radium as a fertilizer has been actually demonstrated the economy of pay-ing high prices for such fertilizers is deciding high prices edly questionable.

Know Your Garden Flowers.

THE TRUE way to enjoy flowers is to get on intimate terms with the . Know them by name, know their characteristics. Learn to love them and make them a part of your life. Then the flowers breathe their crets, and you learn little by little that secrets, and you learn little by little that they are living things—boon companions and friends. Those who work with flowers know of other things than seeds and bulbs—bye and faith and love; strength, inspiration and happiness. The gather in more than the blushing flowers themselves. They are health and wealth and Nature's regather health and wealth and Nature's revealed secrets. How natural it is, then, that those who work with flowers should be big, and strong, and good, and kind. They are very close to the heart of life—and Full Directions, by Maurice.

I N SOME notes on "How to Produce the Best Gladioli sistems for Ex bitton," by Maurice Fuld, he gives the following "wrinkle:" "Wait until the spike is well advenced and the bottom buds are just opening. Remove one or two o' the top buds very carefully, then place a brown paper band around the hottom for shade, leaving it on for a few days, with the ton leaving it on for a few days, with the top exposed to the sun. In this way you will get all the flowers out at once. Another method is to cut the spike when the first bud shows color, to remove the two top buds and to place the spike in a vessel of water and store it in an absolutely dar place. In three to four days flower has opened while none has wilted. There is one disadvantage in this method—that the color is not nearly as brilliant as if the blooms had opened outdoors."

Nurserymen Florists

100,000 people will visit the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show, October 23 to 10, at the Boston Store Building, opposite City Hall.

Entries for the 42 cups to be awarded in the flower competition assure a wonderful lay of cut flowers and plants. should embrace this golden opportunity to show these visitors what you produce. For particulars as to space, apply to J. S. Conwell, Boston Store Building.

Free Lawn Folder

Tells all about our new sprinkler head. How it economically and efficiently waters lawns. Write today for it. Thompson Adjustable Sprinkler Heads with brass core and sinc body, are simple, unique, practical and inexpensive. Save time, trouble, water, money.

THOMPSON MFG. CO., Sth Street and Santa Fe Ave.

GARSTANG GRASS BURNER

For the city lot owner, or rancher. Designe for fighting dangerous and useless bruweds. Clears of city lots or vacant acress the peed of weeds and rank vegetation right season. Safe, inexpensive and an enfeguard against accidental fires. Burns tillate or gasoline. Prices on application likehard Garsiang, Futentee, 224 W. 20th

PRIZE-WINNING SCHOOL GROUNDS.

The awards of the 1915 Beautifying Committee to high schools in Class No. 1, were: Inglewood, first ($400;) Covina, second ($200;) Venice, third ($100;) and Montebello, fourth ($75.) All these were planned by Ernest Braunton. A full set of plans and specifications were furnished the first, second and fourth; and the third was advised how best to compete, during a visit to the grounds. Among the other prize winners, Ernest Braunton was official adviser to the following: Santa Monica; High School; Grant and Garfield schools, Santa Monica; Central School, Redondo Beach; Central School, Venice; Lawndale; and Zelvah Zelzah.

Let me plan your parks, school grounds and residential sites. Country homes grounds a specialty.

WAIT A MINUTE—There is now in press and will be on sale in about ten days the best book on California gardening ever printed. It will tell you how to plan, plant and care for your home grounds; no essential phase or detail being overlooked. The 14 chapter titles will be: Pianning the Piace; Lawns and Soil Covers; Trees and Shrubs; Climbers and Trailers; Rockeries and Ferneries; Annuals and Perennials; Water Gardens and Aquatics; House and Porch Plants; Bulbs and Tubers; The Rose Garden; Chrysanthemums; Pests and Diseases; The Garden Calendar; Glossary. Well bound in cloth covers, freely illustrated. Price, One Dollar, postpaid. Send now and get the first out.

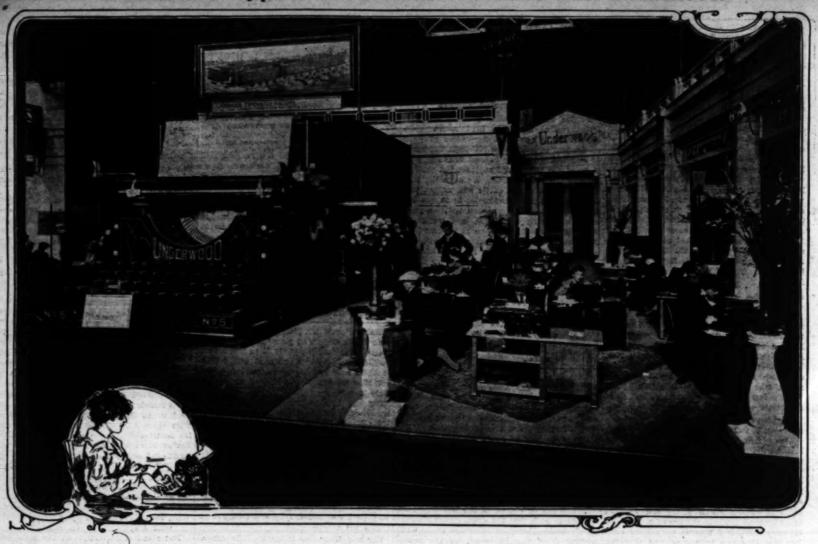

Ernest Braunton, 237 Franklin St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. Dahne and Part of Brazil's Exhibit at San Diego.

LSaturday, October 9, 1915.

ITTOSLEVIED MEEKIK.

Mammoth Typewriter on Exhibition at San Francisco.

A picturesque grand prize winner in the Palace of Liberal Arts, Panama-Pacific Exposition, is the exhibit of the Underwood Typewriter Company. There are two central features of this display around which all others revolve. One is the gigantic machine, now known and immortalized throughout the country as the largest typewriter in the world, and the other is the illusion and moving-picture combination which tells the story of the evolution of office equipment.

The mammoth typewriter weighs fourteen tons and is an accurate fac simile of the regular business typewriter. It is electrically operated in connection with a regular isse typewriter. As the operator for the small machine presses a key, the corresponding lever of the large machine is operated, striking a giant letter through a ribbon wide mough to be used as a bed sheet, the impression on an enormous sheet of white paper.

Running close to the giant Underwood in popularity is the series of illusion-moving pictures which teaches the lesson of the world's progress in expression. The first electric is a typical office scene of the period of 1853 and looks as if it had been lifted bodily from a Cruikshank edition of Dickens. There sits the antiquated office clerk in mickerbockers and faded long-tailed coat, an old bandanna falling from his back pocket. He writes with the quill of our grandfathers' days, a flickering oil lamp affording him carcely enough light to do his work.

As one watches the lamp it gradually changes into a gas lamp and the entire picture is transformed into the 1883 period. The worn, worried amanuensis of those days sits a desk manipulating an old-fashioned blind typewriter, while on the wall is an old-time and very primitive type of telephone.

Presto-change! The gas light is transmuted into an electric fan. The weary office clerk is translated into a chic, present-day stenographer in a well-equipped and efficient usiness office with a desk telephone and an indirect electric lighting system.

The next picture is the Underwood factory at n resto-change: The gas light is transmitted into an electric lan. The weary omce cierk is translated into a chic, present-day stenographer in a well-equipped and emicient interest office with a desk telephone and an indirect electric lighting system.

The next picture is the Underwood factory at night with the city of Hartford in the distance and a beautiful cloud effect adding beauty to the portrayal. Finally appears attractive room with the product of the factory on display.

This progress exhibit is continuously going on. It is handsomely staged. The foyer and platform are carpeted in a rich, soft, blue velour. The curtains are of the same terial and are heavily hand embroidered in gold thread.

Dreamer in the Sunshine. By Arthur W. Peach.

GOOD NEWS.

1.D DAN O'CONNOR never attempted to account for the park in which he passed away the days. Just why there should be a patch of struggling green and a dozen slowly-dying trees in the heart of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out. When, at the age of 56, he took his carefully-treasured little hoard and sought out a room in the densely-popular of the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out. When, at the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out. When, at the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out. When, at the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out when a superior of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out. When, at the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out when a the world will be densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out when the world will be densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to reason of the tenement district be did not stop to reason of the tenement district be did not stop to reason of the tenement district be did not stop to reason out when a the age of 56, he took his carefully-treasured little hoard and sought out a room in the densely-popular of the tenement district be did not stop to the tenement district be did not the tenement district b

By Henry W. Kruckeberg.

Alfalfa a Popular Green Food for Poultry.

S VACELES TIMES

by just five eggs.

During the last week in November there will be held a poultry show and an exhibition of agricultural products in Coalinga. The former will be under the auspices of the local poultry association, and the latter of the Chamber of Commerce.

O. T. Nichols, Secretary of the Ontario-Upland Poultry and Pigeon Association, writes: "We have close to 100 members in our association, with an attendance of about thirty-five at each of our monthly meetings. Have up now for special consideration the question of a proper market for our eggs and stock."

an oven and heat before feeding.

Poultrymen look for a good winter and spring trade, both in eggs for hatching and breeding stock. If you are a small operator try to get your share of this business.

If cheaply available, unthreshed wheat and barley make excellent material for the scratching shed.

If cheaply available, unthreshed wheat and barley make excellent material for the scratching shed.

The proposition to have two varieties of Barred Plymouth Rocks should be frowned down. It is proposed to have Dark Rocks one from a newly-discovered nest in the intervention and also acts as a preventive for lice and mites.

An experiment that has large possibilities for poultry is being conducted at the California station by Prof. M. E. Jaffa, with the assistance of Dr. H. A. Mittell of Salt Lake active. The proposition to have two varieties of Barred Plymouth Rocks should be frowned down. It is proposed to have Dark Rocks come from a newly-discovered nest in the nest for two days, it tells it; if the eggs come from a newly-discovered nest in the divergence in color markings brought about by the double mating system. Not only should the idea be "killed a bornin,'" but the necessity for double mating also removed.

In another two months the first of the winter shows will be in full swing, the ball opening in this State with the advent of the formance.

does anything produce better advertising value to breeders than to exhibit liberally at these functions, be they large or small. It is said that electric egg-testing tells the whole story of how you treat your egg crop. If you wash the eggs it comes out in the testing. If you have left them in the nest for two days, it tells it; if the eggs come from a newly-discovered nest in the barn loft, it is found out.

Turkeys Must not be Neglected in Early Fall. By M. M. Stearns.

WHEN RAIN COMES.

HEN the first Southern California rains drift in after the long dry summer months, turkeys that have apparently been doing fairly well throughout the year will often sicken for no very evident reason; instead of coming through the moult properly, old birds will be found "going light" and epidemics of colds or croup will spring from powhere.

out the year will often sicken for no very evident reason; instead of coming through the mouit properly, old birds will be found "going light" and epidemics of colds or croup will spring from nowhere.

This disastrous condition may almost always be prevented if the proper precautions are taken in time. It is only is flocks that are suffering to a certain extent from the neglect that seems to be air t universally the portion of turkeys in the early fall that sick birds are seen.

Turkeys get plenty of attention just before Thankgiving; during the five of aix weeks of fattening that immediately precede the big fall marketing nothing is too good for them; but not infrequently all this care lavished upon them after the dollars that they are to brings in are in sight, is partially wasted on account of the neglect that immediately preceded it.

In most instances turkeys finish the sum mire in a lean, more or less rundown condition, that renders them pretty susceptible to disease. If they are well cared for they go into the moult readily, and a little later take on weight in the fattening process to a gratifying degree; but if for any reason they receive scant attention until after the first damp, chilly moraings of fall have had their effect, a discouraging crop of turkey troubles is apt to be sown.

A thorough cleansing of the birds' quarters, a change of feed, and a little extra care in the important matters of green food and stimulation to exercise, will see the danger period safely past. It is only the fact that altogether too often focks of turkeys frailer with he hight amount of necessary extra care, that makes possible the early fall louses with which nearly every turkey raiser who has handled the birds on a big scale is familiar.

Old turkeys, rather than young ones, are most apt to suffer at the edge of colder weather with no linjurious results as arule, though occasionally they too, if some what needed with the previously immune. Old turkeys are considered hardy; it is often said that mature turks are as he turkey raiser who has handled the birds on a big scale is familiar.

Old turkeys, rather than young ones, are most apt to suffer at the edge of colder weather after a hot summer. Young birds, that have been growing properly during the first four or five months of their existence, pass on into the succeeding periods of colder weather with no injurious results as a rule, though occasionally they too, if somewhat neglected, will suddenly harbor the germs of diseases from which they have seemed previously immune. Old turkeys are considered hardy; it is often said that mature turks are as healthy as young turks are frail, but in the first weeks of a California fall the exact reverse will once in a while be found to be true.

Turkeys that are ranging, are, of course, a while be found to be true.

Turkeys that are ranging, are, of course, not nearly as apt to suffer from early fall neglect as birds that are confined, for the simple reason that they are to a far greater extent looking out for 'nemselves anyway, and enioy the benefits of a comparatively natural condition all the time. Ranging turkeys may be neglected by their owners, but cannot be neglected by their owners, but cannot be neglected by nature; their semi-wild environment enables them to take the unconacious precautions that safeguard them from harm. But even at that it is safe to assume that the early fall weeks see a greater proportion of fatalities among old birds than any others of the entire year, unless possibly it should be the hard weeks that immediately precede the return of warm weather in the spring.

When turks are kept throughout the year in confinement it is an entirely different matter. Yarded turkeys can be wintered with even greater safety than birds on range; through the breeding season and the warm weather of early summer they do well, and only as cold weather comes on do they seem to feel the effects of the confinement particularly, taking the moult hard, and dying at the first opportunity offered.

The first step to take in building up the condition of a flock of run-down yarded turkeys is to disinfect the pirds and their quarters thoroughly.

Just as in the spring a thorough cleansing-

If any, or all of these precautions are taken in the weeks of early fall, just before the fattening process proper begins, the value of the turkey flock at Thanksgiving time, when the profits for the year are realized, will be enhanced to a degree that will amaze the turkey raiser whose birds have just been allowed to struggle along as best they could.

A Bunch of Liars.

The veracious historian of this veracious fish episode concludes his narrative by saying that Pete was easily captured and the dead trout extracted with difficulty. Pete dead trout extracted with differently. Pete appeared none the worse for the experience, and quite contented with his female friend. A companion to the Connecticut fish lie is found in another column of the same issue of the New York Herald in a story related by a New Je. chi correspondent. This Ananias states that a plumber named Rensch, who was an experimenter in incubation, figured that if the heat in an incubation, figured that if the heat in an incubation would hatch an egg in twenty-one days it followed to to increase the heat twenty-one times would cause an egg to be hatched in one day, thus saving time and anxiety.

From the steam-heating boiler in the

From the steam-heating boiler in

Mr. Rense) and upstairs to obtain food more suited to advance roosterhood, but he forgot to turn off the heat, and when he returned to the cellar, he found that the rooster had died of sensility and the chicks in the other eggs had perished of old age.

Mr. Rensch pledged to the New York Herald his honor as a poker player, a Tammany politician and a friend of Chautauqua Bryan for the truth of this story, and, on his assurance, the Herald Ished it.

Was it a Threat?

"That Patrick Mulligan is a funny fellow!

"Why? What's he been up to now?"
"Well, you see, he and I were having a little argument at his house the other e ning, and then I offered to prove that he ning, and then I offered to prove that he was a fool, in black and white."

"Yes; well, what about it?"
"Well, up to then had confined ourselves to slightly raised voices, but when I said that he flared up immediately.
"Prove O'l'm a fool ack and white, will ye?" he yelled. "Well, if ye don't clear out of this house at once O'l'll prove in black, blue and red it's falseh od ye're telling!"—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Nurserymen Florists

100,000 people will visit the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show, October 23 to 30, at the Boston Store Building, opposite City Hall.

tries for the 42 cups to be awarded in courses for the 42 cups to be awarded in the flower competition assure a wonderful display of cut flowers and plants. You should embrace this golden opportunity to show these visitors what you produce. For particulars as to space, apply to J. S. Conwell, Boston Store Building.

Staite's Lice Killer Food

A preparation which when fed to fowls rid them of Lice and Mites, keep then absolute health, prevent disease and crease the egg yield.

THE UP-TO-DATE METHOD

No Spraying, No Dusting, No Greasing
"JUST FEED IT TO 'EM, THAT'S ALL."

Does not affect eggs or flesh.

Try this new Lice Killer, it is a wonder
Mix in the feed three times a week.

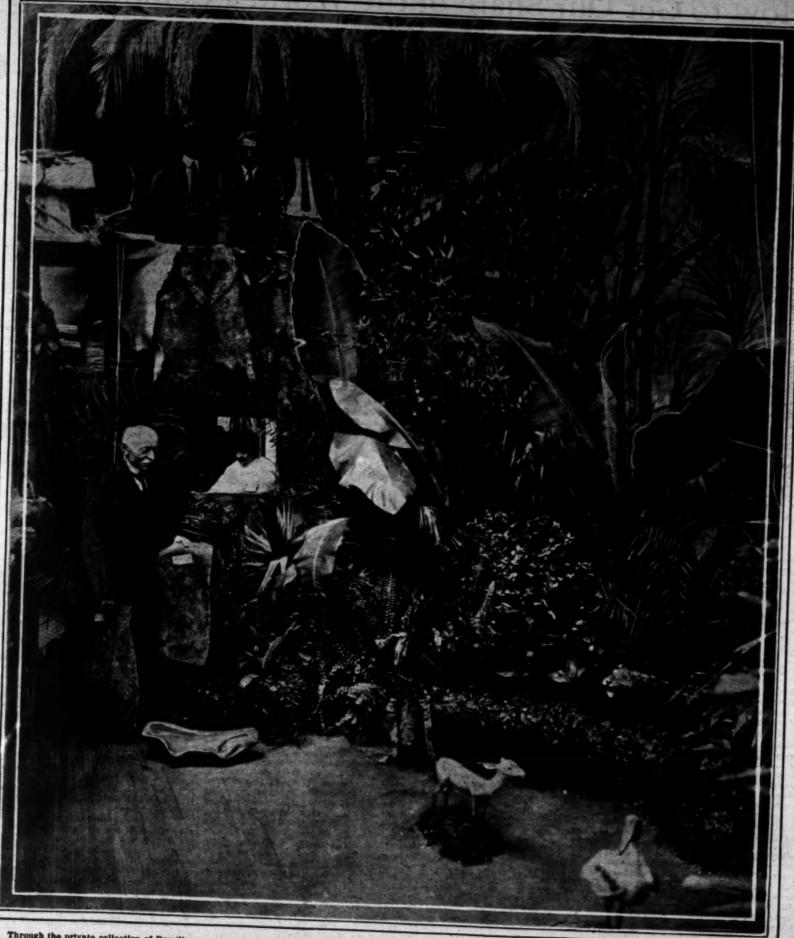

Aggeler & Musser Seed Co.

115 NORTH MAIN STREET
Los Angeles Agents.

Mammoth Typewriter on Exhibition at San Francisco.

Saturday, October 9, 1915.]

Dr. Dahne and Part of Brazil's Exhibit at San Diego.

Through the private collection of Brazilian products gathered and exhibited by Dr. Eugenio Dahne in the Commerce and Industries Building at the Panama-California Exposition, step at interest in the resources and possibilities of Brazil in its future commercial development has been aroused. In fact, so much interest has been shown that Dr. Dahne left been officially announced that such will be the case, it is almost a certainty that the exposition will continue.

The exhibit with its Southern Brazil section, where is a display of the native beverage, mate, the coffee exhibit from the State of Sao Paulo, the rubber exhibit and others have attracted the attention of men and women of prominence as well as homeseekers and others who have visited the fair. Each and every one has drunk the delicious Dr. Dahne and his charming wife. When Pan-American Day was celebrated at the exposition, the principal exercises of the programme took place at signer to the San Francisco exposition from Argentina, made addresses on the future possibilities of South and Central America. Though the exhibit is a private one it is one of United States government for five years working on the Brazilian exhibits, at once resigned his position with the govern ment and went to Brazil to obtain a private collection representative of his country. His work resulted in the opening of the exhibit in July of this year, which he hopes to make much larger and to be official next year.

Frank G. Carpenter's sketches of Brazil and descriptions of the Brazilian exhibit at the exposition. Said Dr. Dahne: "After the article by Mr. Carpenter, on the Brazilian bevernance, appeared, we were besieged with questions about the preparation of the drink and with requests for a cup of that which we serve here."

cut Astricultural Experiment Stanton in 1911, in severational Show in San Francisco, The they are endeavoring to determine just what is sat to about the the description of the the should be called out at regular from the species of grains are able to promote the the should be called out at regular from the description, be they seek about the specialty at this season of the proposition to have two rarieties of good performance and profit.

The proposition to have two rarieties of comparing the story of how you treat your egg formance and profit.

If it is supposed to have bark keeks to the story of how you treat your egg formance and profit.

If the whole story of how you treat your egg formance and profit.

If the whole story of how you treat your egg for the should be replied on the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from a newly-discovered nest in the cases of the wind the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from a newly-discovered nest in the cases of the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the story of how you treat your egg for the should be from the should be should be

The proposition to have two varieties of serred Piymouth Rocks should be frowned own. It is proposed to have Dark Rocks to that the plain Rocks, due undoubtedly to had tust plain Rocks, due undoubtedly to try to get your share of this business.

If cheaply available, unthreshed wheat and bariey make excellent material for the scratching shed.

Poultrymen look for a good winter and spring trade, both in eggs for hatching and breeding stock. It you are a small operator Smutty grain and mouldy bread should not be fed to hens. To purity same, put in an oven and heat before feeding.

Unting the last week in November there will be held a poulity show and an exhibition of agricultural products in Coalings.

The former will be under the auspices of beats the White Rock hen "Lady Show You"

Alfalfa a Popular Green Food for Poultry.

By Henry W. Kruckeberg.

FEEDING VALUE.

UCH has been said and written in favor of lucerne or alfalfa as a green food for poultry, not only in the arid West, where it constitutes the leading greenery for fowl, but also in the cooler sections of the country. To our minds it is the best green food available in this sec-tion, hence finds wide application among poultrymen. The reasons are that it luxates under prevailing conditions of is and climates, and when irrigated deep soils yields enormous crops proper conditions of culture. green food for poultry it should be sown thickly broadcast, so as to secure a thick stand, thereby insuring a succulent growth. It is usually at its best when about oneeighth of the flower buds are developed. On grounds of economy, as well as for the health of the birds, it should be fed cut into short lengths; if fed as hay, or in lengths as cut from the field, the fibrous stems are apt to bunch up in the crop, thus forming an impacted mass that is hard to digest, often resulting in what is known as "crop bound." Some breeders pasture their birds in open fields or yards planted to this crop, but this results in much waste, and is not exempt from the trouble just alluded to. Some practice feeding in small bundles hung in the yards. This may afford some exercise to the birds, but is still open to the criticism of more or less loss from waste. Cut alfalfa is also fed in troughs or dishes, which is really the best way. If cut short, the birds "go to it" greedly, and unless fed in too great quantities, will eat it up clean in the space of, say, twenty to twenty-five minutes. It may also be fed in the wet mash foods, say, at the rate of about one-third alfalfa to twothirds of the mash material.

According to D. F. Laurie, alfalfa has a high feeding value. The protein content ranges up to 17 per cent., fat 3 per cent., and mineral salts averaging 6.43 per cent. The fiber is rather heavy (22 per cent.,) but if fed when chopped into small lengths causes no trouble.

Alfalfa meal represents the product in a milled condition, in which state it has be-come quite an article of commerce. In this it is made at once available in the wet mash foods for use by people with family flocks, or by fanciers who grow poultry in rather limited numbers, thus obviating the labor and appliances for cutting, and also the necessary ground for its cultivation.

An Aggravated Case of Mites.

Under date of September 23, J. T. Leddy of Pasadena writes: "Recently I rented a place with five chicken yards, each 20x50 "Recently I rented a feet, and find it to be alive with mites. It has been used for chicken yards for years. I have sprayed the houses with crude bolic and distillate and they appear to be clean; I have scraped the top of the soil, and cleaned up everything all around and I seem to have made no improvement. The ground, fences and trees, however, are still full of mites. Please advise what to do; I cannot move the chicken yards nor plant the ground, for it is too hard." You have indeed a problem calling for drastic and continuous treatment until the pest is eradicated. The red mite is really not a louse at all, but belongs to the spider family. It lives on the blood of its host, and when allowed to increase without hin-drance multiplies amazingly. It lives in cracks and crevices, in the joints of the roosts, under boards, and indeed wherever it finds dry shelter. Unless numerous, it is usually dormant in the day, coming out at night to live on its victims. Once in pos n of the premises it is a formidable ace to the prosperity and well-being of the fowl. Its thorough eradication simply means a siege until finally overcome and extermi-nated.

A FLOCK OF CALIFORNIA WHITE LEGHORNS.

ing all perches, and be sure that the liquid bring top prices, must be taken from the gets into all cracks and crevices. A good nest before the germ starts, and got to spray is made as follows: Shave one 10- market while still new; and (2.) That cent cake of laundry soap into one pint of water; heat or allow to stand until a soap paste is formed; stir in one pound of com-mercial cresol and heat or allow to stand until the soap paste is dissolved; then stir in one gallon of kerosene. For a lice-killer use undiluted, painting the perches and sides of the house with a paint brush. If used as a spray add fifty parts of water and stir. This will make a milky fluid which may be used in the sprayer. Cresol is a coal-tar product and druggists supply it.

In addition give the ground a thin coating of air-slacked lime; this will not only assist in their destruction, but also sweeten up the ground, which should be spaded up soon after applied, because hens do better on a friable soil than on hard ground Spraying should be repeated every weeks until the premises are clean of every vestige of mites. In the meantime remove the fowls, if there are any, while cleaning is going on. If affected they should be treated with insect powders and even their temporary quarters subjected to disinfec-Thoroughness is essential, as the nce in possession of premises can once in poss only be conquered by repeated disinfection

Medals at World's Poultry Show.

Advices just received from Secretary S. T. Campbell, of the American Poultry Association, contain the gratifying information that a series of association gold and silver medals will be offered to California exhibitors at the Panama-Pacific International Poultry Show at San Francisco Novemb 18-28. He further announces that all who are not members that get their entries in before the closing date (October 15,) will have the privilege of joining up to the time that judging commences. This affords a that judging commences. This affords a splendid opportunity to compete for the A.P.A. medals, which are distinct and in addition to the exposition honors and all special awards that may be offered. Special attention is called to this feature just at this time, because the closing date for making entries is October 15. Particulars, entry blanks and premium lists can be sequed by blanks and premium lists can be secured by addressing the Bureau of Live Stock, Poultry Division. Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Better Quality in Eggs and Meat.

It is not the custom of poultry associa tions to have at their meetings the presence of commission men and dealers; but once in a while such a thing does happen, the third annual meeting of the pos At men of Massachusetts, the breeders listened a siege until finally overcome and exterminated.

The men of Massachusetts, the breeders listened to some sound sense from one of these much-abused individuals in the person of found on fowls and under perches in small patches do not apply where the pest has gained possession over whole premises.

The men of Massachusetts, the breeders listened to some sound sense from one of these much-abused individuals in the person of the first part of the sense of the person of the sense of th way. Go at it with a spray pump, remove his listeners were: (1.) That eggs, to Glendale, Cal., vice-president, and breeders should ship poultry in better eating condition. Too much poultry is shipped alive before it has been properly fattened. There is good money in keeping the hens and roosters two weeks longer before shipping and properly fattening them. Today much of this has to be done by the whole-sale houses, who would rather not do it, in order to suit the buyers of the hotels and

This is not only true of New England but applies to nearly every section where poultry is produced. Nearly all the table poultry that reaches Los Angeles on the of is subject to betterment-a condition that enhances the growers' returns and in-ures to the satisfaction of the final buyers.

A. C. F., Santa Ana, writes to know about the blood spots on some of her eggs, the rause and if there is a remedy.

It is generally supposed that spots in eggs are due to the rupture of small ble vessels, which seemingly do no harm to the hen, but, nevertheless, vitiate to some extent the commercial value of eggs. These spots are more common with hens that are in a fat condition and to pullets in their early laying period. In the former case the condition suggests its own remedy while in the latter it is quite apt to regu-

A Plymouth Rock breeder from Gardena reports a remarkable egg-laying hen, but complains that every once in a while she lays a soft-shelled egg; says she is not fat, and apparently in perfect health, and that the ration he is feeding supplies shellforming material.

To name the cause in this case a hazardous, and to prescribe a remedy, still We will suggest, however, that a hen might be fat enough to cause the trou ble, and yet not be over heavy in weight and in appearance trim and in good work-ing condition. She may be carrying a super-abundance of fat only about the egg-mak-

W. F. Redlands writes for information garding gluten meal mentioned in the Mis-souri egg-laying ration published a few Gluten meal is one of the products sepa-rated from corn in the manufacture of glucose; gluten feed is a mixture of this with other bi-products of the same process. Both are rich in protein and fat. Neither is extensively used for poultry.

Charles H. Owings of Dumont, N. J., tary-treasurer.

So good an authority as Michael K. Boyer sof the opinion that England may be proud of her Orpingtons, France of her Houdans, China of her Langshans, and Spain of her Spanish, but when it comes to the produc-tion of broilers and roasters, our American breeds outclass them all.

In the Illustrated Weekly for September 18, the types made us say that five hens fed on the balanced egg ration in the Missouri contest, laid in six months 1603 eggs —which is, to say the least, going some.
Without having the official record at hand, we nevertheless opine that the figure should have read 603.

A scrutiny of the Los Angeles markets shows that poultry products usually reach their maximum prices during November and December, and their minimum in April and May. Last November and December eggs

Foothill Feather Farm

FOOTHILL FEATHER FARM. No. 7063
W. Franklin Ave.. Hollywood District. A picturesque spot. 30 minutes from tecty. 15 minutes from Tvan Nuys. 45 minutes from the San Fernado Valley generally, via the Cahuenga Pass. Phone
Home 57278.

Read What Midland No. 4 Will Do.

Makes Eggs.
Makes Feathers.
Makes Healthy Birds.
Makes You Money.
Makes You Happy.
All from one Sack.

Price $2.00

Aggeler & Musser Seed Co. 115 N. Main St. Southern California Agents.

Hauser's Organic Fertilizers

Nitrogen and Phosphoric Acid derived fro organic sources only. Car Loads or Less. Write for prices.

HAUSER PACKING CO.

Now is the time to feed Coulson's Egg Food Write for full particulars "Chickens."

Coulson Company, Petaluma, Cal.

Baled Shavings, 25c Bale

th

Miller Hive & Box Co.

"That was an exceedingly poor business tremendous effort which I hope we shall put of them, but that if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we shall be in a position to dictate if we have shall be in a position to dictate if we have shall be in a position to dictate if we have in a position to dictate if we have a position to dictate if we have in a position to dictate if we have in the interest in the property particularly particularly better, consisting of an exchange of this particularly better, consisting of an exchange of the property present in the present in the

"I went to Manila and was met with a note from Gov. Forbes, who said he had been laying for me." "He put a steamer at my disposal and assigned a man to take me around the istem the saying that the longer that I kept that in yourney would like it, for he knew Amorican trade.

Amorican trade.

seeing to it that the change continues till seeing we take the place which rightfully is ourse "Years ago I hoped for this, and thought I saw it coming. Now my greatest hope is that he a matter of fact. Today, New York is temporarily the fluancial center of the world. If we are reasonably intelligent it will have so established its advantages and will have so established its advantages and till fire prestige by the time the war ends that the

TITESTRATED WEEKLY

How to Get Our Share of the World's Commerce.

By Edward Marshall.

CAPT. DOLLAR TALKS.

THAT days of such prosperity as we never knew before are close ahead of us is the opinion of the most notable expert in ships and shipping whom I could find to talk to—an expert so notable that by both sides of the controversy over the La Follette bill he has been recognized as one whose opinion must be reckoned with

And his optimism stands even in the face of what must be, to him, the most depress-ing fact that his particular interests have been hit extremely hard, not only by the war, but by our own legislation which preceded it.

Capt. Robert Dollar is the largest single ship owner on the Pacific Coast; he is the one important individual figure in our oriental maritime trade; he is a very careful student of world commerce.

"We are confronted by enormous opportunities," said he, with the strong Scotch burr which survives his ardent American-sim.

"If we do not take advantage of them, world conditions cannot be blamed; our own intelligence will be at fault. We are an intelligent people and that should not occur. "I have seen peasimistic predictions in the newspapers; I can see no justification for them there, although I myself have suffered heavily so far. But I have faith in the United States. We have before us unprecedented chance for foreign trade, and foreign trade is the surest guaranteee of any nation's prosperity. I don't believe that we shall let it slip. I can't believe it.

"Personally, I am confident that the next Congress will adopt such measures as may be necessary to the development of an American merchant marine, and as soon as that is done our foreign commerce will spring into proportions which could not have been possible if the European war never had been declared.

"Indeed the war has done us a consider-

"Indeed the war has done us a considerable service. It has created an extensive commerce in munitions, which has been more than sufficient to offset the commerce which the conflict has kept off the seas, and when I say 'munitions,' thus, I do not include in this classification any arms or ammunition, any military transport, or indeed any purely military material of whatsoever character. We have exported these things, but we have exported other things in truly mammoth quantities.

"We have been uniquely situated in the past. We have grown with such rapidity that our production never has far exceeded our own demands, so we have not greatly needed foreign trade. Hence we have never studied seriously the art of getting and retaining it.

"Only a few years before the war began it, for the first time, became apparent that conditions had begun to change and that our continued national prosperity upon the old scale would necessitate our entrance into competition with the other great producing nations for world commerce.

"But we were in the habit of an insular prosperity, and could not adjust ourselves readily to the fact. We lost because of slowness of adjustment. Long ago our merchants seem to have forgotten both their opportunities and their necessities; our legislators stupidly have failed to revive shipping laws and inspection requirements, which make it impossible for American vessels to successfully operate in foreign trade. Now has come the La Follette bill, which caps the climax. It was passed not long after hostilities commenced, in spite of its obvious injustices. Without it we should have borne much better the world-shock of the great conflict. "Instantly after the war began there sprang the great conflict.

"Instantly after the war began there sprang into the public attention various statements of the enormous gains which would accrue to American shipping as soon as foreign bottoms were scared from all the seas by hostile ships. Those who made these predictions failed to take this law into their consideration.

"This did not seem a of the enormous gains which would accrue to American shipping as soon as foreign bottoms were scared from all the seas by hostile ships. Those who made these predictions failed to take this law into their consideration.

"This did not occur, first, because we had no ships worth mentioning with which to "See? The ship is a trade missionary. Not finding a cargo ready to bring home she seeks one, even going to the length of buying one, if she can get one in no other way.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at Manila at a certain price."

"Indeed the man the seas by hostile ships."

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Indeed the man the man the man the season as foreign to the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"An accruate of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We wanter of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

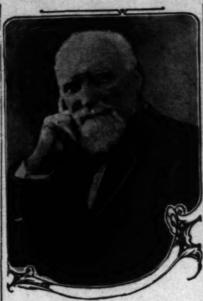

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

"We will say that sae can buy hemp at "Ships" of the ship is a trade missionary.

CAPT. ROBERT DOLLAR.

capt. Robert dollar.

Take advantage of our chance; second, because those which we had were governed by restrictions making them unprofitable even in the face of the great opportunity; and third, because the ocean war was so uneven that the commerce-carrying vessels of one country only suffered. England's and those of France remained practically free to sail and trade as they never before had sailed and trade as continuance of its decline. We had no ships, and under existing regulations could not begin to develop a great foreign commerce without a merchant marine, any more than a man could start a factory without tools. Indeed we sold some of the ships which we had.

"The war, however, has been a great educator and the next session of Congress is bound to remedy some of our old mistakes, adjusting our affairs so that certainly we shall be able to take some advantage of the shance before it passes into history. I cannot doubt this.

"There has been a general stimulation of our national interest in those foreign markets which will be open to us as soon as we have carrying facilities wherewith to supply them, and those carrying facilities surely will be possible to us before another year comes to an end.

"The opportunity in South America is very great. We are her logical source of supply. Since her European trade has been shut off.

"There is no good reason under heaven why this nation should not be prosperous at the present time as never before. A vast opportunity has been thrust upon us by this."

"The opportunity in South America is very great. We are her logical source of supply. Since her European trade has been shut off we have built up a considerable trade with her. As soon as we get ships wherewith to forward it that will grow rapidly."

forward it that will grow rapidly.

"A laden vessel sent to foreign countries becomes a drummer there, not only for the sale of the goods carried in her holds, but for cargoes to bring back with her; and it is through such exchange of cargoes that foreign trade is nurtured. As soon as we get ahips we shall find that every one of them will create trade in both directions.

"Take the experience which my own firm has had with our own ships. It is the rule in our various far eastern offices to cable the home office when one of our vessels has discharged in an oriental port and there has found herself without a cargo for the homeward voyage. Our representative tells us how many more tons of cargo can be carried than already has been secured and lets us know what can be bought there on the ground.

The Ship a Trade Missionary.

The Ship a Trade Missionary.

30,000 tons a year.

"On one occasion, finding our ships light in the north of Japan, we began to get out oak timber there for the return cargoes.

"We bought the standing timber, put in the men to cut it, and had it stacked and ready for such occasions as might come when we could find no other cargo. There were several such occasions. In San Francisco the timber was cut up and made into furniture.

Bringers Must be Takers.

"The man on the street who considers ocean commerce is likely to forget that if we bring we must take, and if we take we must bring. Ships must be loaded as they travel or their travel will be profitiess. A vessel traveling in ballast one way must get double freight is an oppression upon commerce, the consumer and the nation which is forced to pay it.

"There is no good reason under heaven why this nation should not be prosperous at the present time as never before. A vast opportunity has been thrust upon us by this war, which has driven Germany from the seas and preoccupied the other nations or filled their vessels' holds with war munitions to the exclusion of the commodities of ordinary life for themselves and non-belligerent nations. Statistics show enormous loss of foreign shipping.

"With this unparalleled decrease of foreign bottoms and the total cessation of commercial shipbullding at the yards of the belligerent nations which are the greatest in the world, and with the stoppage throughout Europe of ordinary manufacture—the substitution of the manufacture of dife and comfort giving commodities—our mills and shops should find themselves faced by a constructive task such as never came to them before, and surely such as never will come to them in the future, for it is inconceivable that, in the face of such an argument for international peace as the history of the war will be, all Europe will involve itself in any war which will leave us alone.

"We very seriously must consider this matter of our foreign trade. It is of importance to every human being in our territory, not merely to the residents of seacoast cities and seafaring folk.

"Indeed, analysis of the situation places the man whose interest is in ships last upon the manufacture of the manufacture of each of the manufacture of seacoast cities and seafaring folk.

"Indeed, analysis of the situation places the man whose interest is in ships last upon at which hemp can be sold in the United States. If that which she can buy can be sold here at an advantage great enough to give us profit even to reasonable freight rates, it is wise for us to buy it, is it not? "We buy it; she brings it; we sell it.

"We get at least freight charges for its handling and its carriage, and a new trade has been established. See how the vessel has acted as a trade missionary?

"Our ships have developed a nice little pig-iron trade between China and this country, having been stimulated to the task by the fact that they had no cargoes to bring home after they had discharged those which they had carried westward.

"They are now bringing on each homeward voyage enough to make that voyage profitable, and when they do this it must be clear that not they alone, but the whole commerce of the country benefits.

"We sent cargoes to the Philippines some years ago, and in order to make the voyages profitable brought copra back with us. Previous to that no trade in copra with the Philippines existed. Now it is a very satisfactory affair, amounting to from 20,000 to 30,000 tons a year.

"On one occasion, finding our ships light in the north of Japan, we began to get out." carriage of ocean trade.

We Must Export Surplusage or Suffer.

"Our farmers furnish from our soil more than this country can consume. Their surplus must be exported or their pocketbooks will suffer.

"Before the outbreak of the war many of the farmers in our vast interior were convinced that we were self-supporting, self-sufficient; but their awakening was rude when the war's beginning left them with their products unsold on their hands.

"When banking facilities abroad were ended and when cargo-carrying ships were frightened from the seas, they found themselves with a great surplus and learned with a sharp shock that this is a small world, in which the ill-fortune or the madness of any considerable population must affect the happiness and the prosperity of the whole, unless that party really is prepared to meet emergencies.

"Our manufacturers were as self-complacent and as wrong as were the farmers.

"Mr. Redfield, our Secretary of Commerce, has declared that our manufacturers, running at full capacity for six months out of every twelve, could supply all our needs.

"This means that foreign trade gives employment not only to half our capital engaged in manufacture.

"See how this brings home the problem of our shipping to the workingman? It is as definitely and as individually interested as the farmer is.

"Our factories cannot run full time unless we send their surplus over our domestic needs to the outside markets of the world. If, lacking the means wherewith they may so send it, they do not run full time, we shall be unable to produce at reasonable prices that which we need for home consumption.

"So, no foreign trade or an undeveloped foreign trade means poor business for our

"So, no foreign trade or an undevelo foreign trade means poor business for manufacturers and high prices for our b

Trade Cannot Develop Without Drummers.

"I have said that ships are the best drummers for a nation's business, and have told you why I think so. We, of all people, have learned the lesson that even local trade cannot be developed without drummers.

"If we wish American trade to grow, and we do wish that, for we do not wish to nationally deteriorate, we must have not only ships to carry our commerce, but they must be American ships. The existence of American ships plying to the world's ports of American branch houses, fighting for the world's business.

"Some of our manufacturers employ foreign houses to act as agents for them in the foreign field, but this is a foolish business. Foreign agents will work for our prosperity but half-heartedly if at all. This is a lesson which those of us who are endeavoring to develop foreign trade have learned in sorrow. The German, Austrian, English or French firms in foreign ports will not develop trade for us, save when such opportunities occur as cannot be met by their compatriots.

"The situation, as it stands, is an absur-compatriots.

"The situation, as it stands, is an absurdity, and would be a tragedy were we not capable of correcting our mistakes with a rapidity and thoroughness which exceeds the capabilities of any other nation in the the capabilities of any world.

"Already we are waking to the fact that we must do our own banking. An inefficient situation has existed in the past. For instance, England has controlled all oriental business. Our Pacific Coast has done business with Japan and China through London.

"Now this is beginning to change, and if we choose we may have the opportunity of

JOHNNIE'S STRUGGLE, to be all tied up in the blicky but to be all tied up in the blicky but to be all tied up in the speak by the speak JOHNNIES SLENGETE

By Alice Virginia Hall. A Venture in Freedom.

GEFES LINES

shiy cuts, den't your" she cried. "I'll jump out I tell you," she cried. "I saidn't a' come, only all of us is half sick th worry about Johnnie, an' Harry mad, 'all." Her voice was lost in sobs, but is next second she had wrenched one hand face.

There was an instant lull, then skyrockets of abuse, half-muffled in the handkerchief with which the man was mopping his face. John Milton was wide awake now, every nerve in his body tense. His mother had told him to take care of Kate. To keep her away from Steve. What else did she mean when she said she had to count on him balted he was her likely many. Resides, he hald always builted him. All thought of soft, safety and consequences were wiped clean from his mind. He swung himself recklessly from his perch, missed his footing and landed, a limp, black object, almost directly opposite the boat.

He must get up and fight. That thought alone swam up in his mind as he lay in a crumbled heap on the grass. Then Steve was bending over him, and Kate making an awful row. After that people running, and a lantern flashed blindingly into his face, then blackness and singing away.

The next he remembered was his bed at home, all soft, sweet and white, with his mother hanging over him.

John Mitton closed his eyes and opened them again with daring puddenness to test the trath of his vision. Then his arms went up about his mother's neck and his face down in that little hollow on her shoulder that had ached for him as a baby.

"I tried to get him," he sobbed.

"There, there," she said, consolingly.

"Don't fret, little man. Kate's down stairs, and so is Harry." But at this point the I-love-you look in her eyes melted, brimmed over and ran down her cheeks in tears.

"Child, dear child, how you worried us!"

"I hadn't ought to 'a' done it," he hastened guiltily. "I hadn't ought to—only nobody cared what happened to me."

oneliness, and his boyish needs. And she intened to him—his mother—with a quest flickering light in her eyes and a vow someway, somehow in her busy day to crowd in a little more time for her boy.

But when he was alone in his little room, alone with his thoughts of what had been, what was, and what was to be (he reckoned well on his father's thrashing) he sighed a deep sigh of contentment.

Tomorrow, of course, he would expatiate to the fellows on the glories of a free, untrammelled life, but as for trying it again—well, his mother needed him.

The Married Life of Helen and Warren.

By Mabel Herbert Urner.

THINGS TO DO.

Stop paper—ice—mill Put away silver. Put away silver.
Look up trunk strap.
Speak to the superintendent abo
Have him fix faucet in pantry.
Phone Mrs. Stevens.
Clean white slippers.
Warren's suits pressed.
Rubber heels on tan shoes.

ELEN checked off the first and third items. She had seen the leeman that morning, put a note in the milk bottle, told the elevator boy about the paper—and had found the trunk straps.

The silver Anna was cleaning, and the tallor had just called for Warren's suits.

"The superintendent's here now, ma'am," announced Anna.

Helen dropped her list and hurried out to the kitchen.

"It's this hot water."

"It's this hot water faucet, Mr. Thompson.
You can't turn it quite off, and I don't want to leave it dripping while we're gone."
"The plumber's in the house now—I'll send him right up."
"And I want to speak about the maid
We're going tonight at 8:10, and I'm leaving her to close up the apartment tomperson."

ing her to close up the apartment tomorr She's to give you the key, and I wish yo come up—just to see that everything's right."

"Certainly, Mrs. Curtis. I'll be glad to do that. You'll be gone about a month?"

"Yes; we're going up through Canada. Mr. Curtiss has some husiness in Toronto. We haven't been away this summer, so we thought we'd make a trip of it."

The superintendent gone, Helen sent Anna around to the little shoemaker for the tan shoes she had left there yesterday.

"Stop in at the tailor's and tell him to send Mr. Curtis's suits as soon as they're pressed—I'm waiting to pack them."

By noon Helen had all the things crossed off her list and Warren's trunk ready. His clothes were always easy to pack—a man has so few accessories. Over her own trunk she labored all the afternoon.

The problem of what to take and what not to take was always a difficult one. Warren always fumed at her for taking too much.

"Now remember, we're not going to the much.

"Now remember, we're not going to the Fifi Islanda," had been his last warning that morning. "We can always buy what we need, so, for heaven's sake, don't try to take the whole apartment! Pack light!"

Perhaps, after all, she had better not put in that electric iron. Her blue chiffon would be all that would need pressing, and the chambermaid would do that for a quarter.

By 5 both steamer trunks, suit case and handbag were ready. By half-past she was dressed for the train. It was almost 6 before she heard Warren's key in the door.

"Thought I'd never get away." Tired and warm, he threw down a bundle of papers. "A dozen things came up the last minute. All packed?"

"Yes, dear; everything's ready. Come see if I've put in the right suits."

"Yes, dear; everything's ready. Come see if I've put in the right suits."

Kneeling before his trunk, which stood at the foot of the bed, Helen tilted up the tray and showed him the suits underneath. "Here's your light gray, your blue serge and that tweed you got in London. The dark gray I left out for you to wear."

"No, I won't take that tweed—doesn't keep its shape. Where's that other light gray? Put that in instead. What's this?"

"Why that's your dinner coat."

"Oh, nothing—it's all right. I remember now."

It was not all right—but it was too late to go back! Would there be time to phone from the station? She could have screamed with impatience as the traffic policeman held them up at a jammed crossing.

It was not all right.—but it was too late to go back! Would there be time to phone from the station? She could have screamed with impatience as the traffic policeman held them up at a jammed crossing.

It was not all right.—but it was too late to go back! Would there be time to phone from the station? She could have screamed with impatience as the traffic policeman held them up at a jammed crossing.

It was to all right.—but it was too late to go back! Would there be time to phone from the station? She could have screamed with impatience as the traffic policeman held them up at a jammed crossing.

It was not all right.—but it was too late to go back! Would there be time to phone from the station? She could have screamed with impatience as the traffic policeman held them up at a jammed crossing.

It was the light in the hall closet—and she left it turned on. At the last moment she had rushed in there and got an um-

"Well, I'll not need THAT," emphatically, jerking it out and tossing it on the bed.

"Why, dear, at some of the hotels—you'll want to dress for dinner."

"Not if I know it! Tm going to be comfortable on this trip. Take out those dress shirts. Where's my sweater? I'll want that for the boat."

"Dinner's ready, ma'am," Anna tapped at the door.

the door.

While Warren hurried to wash up, Helen went in to the table. It was meagerly set with kitchen cutlery, for all the silver had been put away.

"Oh, Anna, while I think of it," as Heler sat down, "there's half a package of oatmea and the other cereal—give all that to the house man. Don't leave anything in the pantry to draw roaches."

"See here, we've got to hustle." Warrer came in. "It's twenty after now."

"See here, we've got to hustle." Warren came in. "It's twenty after now."

"Yes, dear, but everything's ready. You've just got to strap the trunks."

They ate dinner with hasty abstractedness, Helen giving anxious instructions to Anna while she served.

"You phone for the taxi," Warren left the table to change his suit. "Have it here at 7:15 sharp. I've got the tickets—but it'll take some time to check the trunks."

With his usual dispatch, he was dressed, had the trunks strapped, and was writing a note that he had not had time to get off at the office.

Helen was fluttering about, giving endless directions to Anna, and making sure that she had forgotten nothing.

"There's the taxi," sealing his letter as the phone rang.

the phone rang.

The elevator boy took out the trunks.

Warren followed with the hand baggage, while Helen lingered for a final admonition.

"Now, Anna, take good care of everything. Before you lock up, be sure all the faucets are turned off—and all the windows closed tight."

"Come on; here's the elevator, "called Warren. "We have no time to fool."
Outside, the lights of the taxi gleamed invitingly. An alluring excitement always surrounds the starting-off on a trip at night. "Grand Central," directed Warren as they

"Grand Central," directed warren as they got in.

Helen leaned back with a relaxing sigh of content. Now she could rest. There was a delightful sense of freedom in "getting off" without mishap and knowing that everything was left in good shape. This time nothing had been forgotten.

"Oh, dear, it's going to be wonderful," her hand crept into Warren's. "I just feel in the mood for a trip."

"Well, I'm pretty blamed tired," putting his feet on the seat opposite.

"But you'll get a good rest tonight. You can always sleep on the train."

They were speeding on in silence, when suddenly with a start Helen withdrew her hand and sat up, every muscle tense.

"Now what's the matter? What'd you forget?"

get?"
"Oh, nothing—it's all right. I r continuous heat might easily set fire to that thin material.

Only one more block. As the taxi "honked" its way through the street before the station, Helen's mind was filled with a harrowing picture of their whole apartment in flames.

Warren leaped out, paid the driver, and then hurried after the porter, who trundled the trunks to the baggageroom.

There were several in line waiting for checks. Helen seized her opportunity. She had already located the telephone booths just beyond.

"Dear, I'll be right back."

She heard his "Hold on there; where're you going?" but she dared not stop to answer.

In the booth she panted out the number. Through the glass door she could see the crowd hurrying to the trains.

"Central—Central!" frantically shaking the receiver hook. "Can't you get that number?"

"Haven't answered yet."
Where was Anna? Why didn't she come

"Hello! Anna?" tensely. "This is Mrs. Curtis. See if I left that light burning in the hall closet. Go right now and turn it

"Why, no, ma'am, you didn't leave it burning. I've just been in there to put away your overshoes you forgot."
Stumbling out of the booth, Helen flew back to the baggage counter. Warren was waiting, his watch in his hand, his eyes fairly blazing.

"Oh, dear, I—I didn't think it would take so long," breathlessly. "We've plenty of time, haven't we?"

"Half a minute!" through his teeth.
"Montreal express?" he shouted to a uniformed attendant.

formed attendant.

"To your right—track five! Afraid you won't make it, sir."

They reached the gates just as the guard was closing them. Another second and it would have been too late.

Down the platform, past the day coaches to the sleepers in front.

"Hope you got your nose powdered," snarled Warren, as he sank puffingly into their linen-covered section. "Why didn't you doll up a little longer?"

"Why, Warren, I wasn't in the dressing-room! I—I was phoning Anna."

With withering scorn he glared at her.

"Well, think up the rest of the things you forgot before we reach New Haven. Long distance gets pretty high after that." [Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Real Boyhood and Small Towns. "Really, to portray boyhood," says a writ er in Cartoons Magazine, "one should have en brought up in a small town.

"It is only in a small town that one can "It is only in a small town that one can fly kites successfully. Here, too, are back-yard paradises, often with possibilities in buried treasure. Here one can operate tincan-and-string telephone systems, or navigate a raft during the spring floods. It is in the small town that circuses are heralded by pink handbills and gorgeous posters on the wagon sheds and billboards, and are seen finally in all their glory of street are paradeq and pink lemonade. Here the small by

Anna would never think of looking in the closets—and the apartment would be closed for a month. The bulb was just inside the door and a voile dress hung against it. The continuous heat might easily set fire to that thin material.

Only one more block. As the taxi "honked" its way through the street before the station, Helen's mind was filled with a harrowing picture of their whole apartment in flames.

Warren leaped out, paid the driver, and then hurried after the porter, who trundled

Incomes of Kings.
[Tit Bits:] According to reliable the war has brought about a decided diminution in the income of the Kaiser. The tearing up of the little "scrap of paper has already cost him personally £5,000,000. Wilhelm, however, has still a respectable fortune left, if a recent calculation by Herr Martin, an authority on German rich peo ple, is correct. Wilhelm was suppose be worth £7,000,000, but Herr Martin has be worth £7,000,000, but Herr Martin has pointed out that a trifie of, roughly, £13,000,000, the valuation of the Kaiser's forest lands and farms, has been overlooked. This brings up the royal estate to a total of £20,000,000.

The Kaiser, however, has never been the richest monarch in the world. This honor belongs to the Czar, who on his accession came into the Romanoff private estate, yielding about £2,000,000 a year. Beyond that, his salary amounts to another £2,000,000, besides many profitable investments abroad. There are small expenses to be deducted, such as some £500,000 a year to Grand Dukes and Duchesses, but when everything is taken into account the Czar's income is far ahead of that of the Tugkish Sultan with £1,500,000, or our own King, who is poorest in pelf and palaces of all the Old World potentates. A state grant of £1,500,000, added to his other revenues, brings the Czar's income up to £8,000,000 a year. Out of this he has at least £5,000,000 a year for his private use.

King George receives £470,000 per ana year. Out of this he has at least £5,000,000 a year for his private use.

King George receives £470,000 per annum from the state, but little more than a fourth of this goes into the privy purse. It would be naturally impossible for our King to live in a manner befitting his rank on an income of £120,000 or so, but there are miscellaneous revenues from invested funds and other private sources which help to swell the privy purse.

and other private sources which help to swell the privy purse.

The Emperor of Austria, who is also King of Hungary, draws two salaries amounting to £562,500 each. The King of Italy receives £750,000 a year, but has to make allowances to several members of the royal family out of it. King Alfonso has an allowance of £357,500, a sum which is his own to spend as he pleases. Belgium's King receives about £175,000.

World's Petroleum Production.

The quantity of petroleum entering the narkets of the world in 1914 amounted to markets of the world in 1914 amounted to 400,483,489 barrels, according to statistics compiled under the supervision of J. D. Northrop of the United States Geological Survey. Of this record-breaking output the United States is credited with 66.36 per. cent., representing in quantity a trifle less than double the output of all other oil producing countries combined. Changes in rank during the year affected only Japan and Peru, the former superseding the latter by a narrow margin. By Edward Marshall.

How to Get Our Share of the World's Commerce.

aturday, October 9, 1915.]

"Years ago I hoped for this, and thought it shall be a matter of fact. Today, New York is temporarily the financial center of the world. If we are reasonably intelligent it will have so established its advantages and its prestige by the time the war ends that the cessation of hostilities will not alter this condition.

"We already have the farmers and the land, the manufacturers and the raw material with which they can work effectively. Now we must have the American banker to finance avalance in Aller (1998). "Was Gov. Forbes the missionary? No.

with the foreign house, the American banks to finance exchange in dollars (not pounds as now) and American ships with which

"We have been in the position of the merchant who has no delivery service, but is compelled to hire from his competitor across the street the vehicle with which his wares are taken to his customers

"Of course, such a merchant would not get the best of service. The growth of his trade would be subordinated to the growth of that of the man who owned the vehicles; his interest would be a secondary matter. He would deliver his own goods first, leav-ing ours to time and opportunity. We must see to it that our trade is primary to those intrusted with promoting it. What would you think of the farmer who left the market-ing of his grain until his neighbor's, and rival's, wagons should be idle? "Another thing: American ships can car-ry American cargoes, under reasonably equal conditions, cheaper than anybody else can carry them. I am a shipowner, we will say, living in New York. Could I carry freight to you from another port as cheaply as I could carry it to and from New York?

"Of course not, for if I live in New York I shall be upon the ground there."

I shall be upon the ground there, my ships normally will dock there, my offices will be there, my trusted men will be there, there will be less chance there than elsewhere of mistakes in the conduct of my busi

"Is it not, therefore, obvious that the cities and the nation which are the residents of the ship owners and the home ports and nations of the ships will get the trade? It

"I live on the Pacific Coast. Is it likely Taye on the Pacific Coast. Is it likely that I shall try especially to develop New York's trade? Only in a general way. New York's trade indirectly benefits me, but the Pacific Coast trade directly benefits me.

"The city and the nation that has the ships will get the cheapest freight rates, for reasons which cannot be gainsaid.
"I have done sympthius to develop Pacific.

for reasons which cannot be gainsaid.

"I have done something to develop Pacific Coast trade because I have lived on the Pacific Coast. A Boston man, a Philadelphia man, a resident of New York, situated as I have been, would have done what he could to develop Atlantic Coast trade—particularly trade with his particular home port. The fact that England owns more tonnage than any other nation explains the fact that British commerce leads the world. Men help

Merchants will tell you that in busine they forget the flag under which ships sail. That is absolutely true. But they do not forget the operating expenses of those ships, for they fix the freight rates. The operating expenses of an American ship under our law are 30 per cent. higher than those of foreign ships.

"Our government has done something to develop its foreign trade. It has had won-derful consular reports and has done fine missionary work abroad.

"But it has done little or no missio work at home, and that is what we need.

"If our government would select one mer-chant or manufacturer in each of the lines promising the best foreign trade develop-ment and see to it that his interest was aroused, he would straightway be

"Was Gov. Forbes the missionary? No. Was 17 No. Was the ship? Yes. Gov. Forbes's efforts and my own would have been futile if there had not been an American ship waiting at the other end of the Pacific cable.

"Gov. Forbes was delighted. I went on to Shanghai and before I left there I cabled him that I had sent for another ship. Many ships have gone since then, and many more

"There was a case in which our govern-ment co-operated with a private individual in working for the public good. There should be more of this.

"Our tendency toward antagonism between government and individual is too great. Of late in the United States the successful man, the enterprising man, is likely to be looked upon at once as one to be suppressed and handicapped. We must get over that. It is a foolish tendency.

Every Citizen Interested in Shipping ocean shipping and the passage of right laws regarding it. Was not this startlingly illustrated when the cotton crisis came? Is it not strikingly illustrated now, when we have bumper crops of grain, "Crops must be moved to market, else the farmer cannot raise them profitably. If we raise more than the domestic market can absorb they must be moved to foreign markets. They can be moved to foreign markets in ships only. If we have not the ships they cannot move. If they do not move of what value are they to the men who have produced them? produced them?

"Not long ago a friend told me of the necessity of sending a ship to South America to bring back cargo, but said that he could find no cargo for the outward trip. He sent cards to friends asking them to help him find a cargo

"They did so. He sent her laden with potatoes and the potatoes sold in South America, although North American potatoes had never been offered there before. The ship brought back South American goods which were badly needed here.
"That was constructive work which could not have been done if he had not had the ship, and the sort of constructive work which could be done much oftener if we had more ship owners and more ships. If we pass laws which will make ships profitable pass laws which will make ships profitable

"The fellow that has the transportation omes near to being master of the situa comes near to being master of the situa-tion. Have we not all on land learned that in dealing with the railroads?

"He must be comfortable. If we bother him too much we all shall lose by it. Give him a fair chance and he'll make good. Don't let him take advantage of you. That will hurt you both. We have learned that, too, in connection with the railroads; but don't unduly oppress him.

unduly oppress him. That, too, is certain to affect you both unfavorably. We now are learning that, also in connection with the railroads."

"What new trade ought we to get after the war is over?" I asked Capt. Dollar. "We ought not to wait until the war is over," he replied. "The markets of the world are open to us now, if we do enough missionary work among our business men. missionary work among our business men arousing them not only to their opportunity for getting it, but to the means for keeping that we will buy of them, but that if we do they, in turn, must buy of us.

"We shall be in a position to dictate if we are wise. Commerce, really, should be merely barter, consisting of an exchange of commodities, rather than an exchange of money from one side for the commodities from the other. We took commodities and gave money. England, Germany and Europe generally were wiser.

"But when the war began Europe's position immensely altered. She had to buy of us more than she sold to us. Had she been in a position to sell to us as much as she had to buy of us I do not believe that she would have had to send here, as she did not long ago, the allied commissioners for the negotiation of a great war loan.

"Among truly prosperous nations the balance of trade must be about equal. We must try to equalize our balance of trade with every nation on earth, and we never can do that until we are ship owners.

"We have at hough the best potential sales.

an do that until we are ship owners.
"We have at hand the best potential sales nen ability that the world has ever known Years ago Americans abroad were no credit to their home country, but those days have passed. Our Consuls at one time were a miserable lot; but those days, also, happily have passed.

Choosing American Representatives

"But we still must be careful of our representatives. When I go to a foreign country those with whom I do business do not call me 'Mr. Dollar;' they say, 'that American.' If I do wrong my nation suffers. "When a foreigner treats us badly here we speak of him as 'that Japanese,' 'that Austrian,' or what not.

"We must remember these things when we select our agents to do business for us in the foreign fields.

"We must impress on all those whom we urge into new trade that the honor of the nation, to a considerable extent, is in their nation, to a considerable extent, is in their hands; and we must encourage for the work only the best men of the highest abilities and ideals. We not only must have good salesmen, but good citizens abroad. This cannot be too strongly emphasized.

"The days when the whole world distrusted Yankee shrewdness now are past. I know we stand as well abroad as Englishmen or Germans do. It we do not we should see to it that we rise promptly in the world's estimation.

world's estimation.
"So, assuming that for honesty and integrity we compare favorably with our competitors in foreign countries, it is high time that we began to compare favorably with them for enterprise and trade intelligence, and I know that we do not do that at presented.

quality of the goods which we sell them, but they have some doubt that we will send them exactly what they order.
"We have been strangely prone to a needs than that market knows itself.

"When a market orders a certain sort of carpet we do not always send that kind to it, but, instead, ship to it the sort of carpet which we think it ought to want. And so, sometimes, with other things.

Must Take no Liberties with Trade.

"Very likely we are right, but we must not take such liberties until we have proved that to be the case. We must abate that "When I began in the China trade there was a demand there for long American timber. It was inconvenient stuff to handle, and short timber would have served the purpose just as well, so I started a campaign of education to prove this, and at length I did prove it.

"But until I had done this 1 gave my Chinese customers long timber, shifting to the short only when they, themselves, as the result of that which they had learned,

"Before we end this talk I want to say a few more words about the farmer's inter-

"As a matter of fact, it will cost us 2 or 2 cents a bushel more to carry grain under this law than it did under the old laws.
"Will the consumer pay it always? No. Sometimes the producer must pay it —he must if he meets competition not similarly burdened, and he does exactly that when he sells his grain for export.

"When we are forced to charge increased freights the farmer must sell at a less price or not sell at all. And so, also, with the manufacturer. This shipping problem is a great one, touching all of us."

[Copyright, 1915, by Edward Marshall.]

A Nocturne of Paris.
"Many of the leading French artists," says front, painting war as it is. Others have remained at home to portray little incidents of Paris. Among the latter is L. Sabattler, for many years cartoonist of Le Figaro, and who is remembered for his broad, sweep-who is remembered for his broad, sweeping style in crayon.

"Perhaps the most notable of his recent drawings is "Les Matinales"—the earlymorning wanderers of the Paris streets in war times. In the small hours of the long night they pass by, these women, as unnoticed as the good angels that guard us against evil. Under the veils that shroud their fease somewhat drawn by the long their faces—somewhat drawn by the long vigil—one perceives the white hair of a mother, or the blonde or brown locks of a young girl. Some are returning from a night's watch at the bedside of a wounded soldier; others are on their way to duty as nurses in one of the many hotels and clinics now converted into Red Cross Hospi-tals. All traverse Paris at the hour when not so long ago they used to return from the ball or the theater. No more of the gay night flaneurs in evening dress who hailed a taxi while they finished a cigar. The morning wanderers pass in silence, alone with their thoughts, theirs the satis-faction of duty accomplished."

Seeing 11,400 Weddings

[Answers:] A parish clerk who has see in average of a marriage a day for thirtyeight years is Mr. Charles Maisey, who has just retired from the parish clerkship of St. George's, Hanover Square, London, after thirty-eight years service. He has officially attended, during his long term of office, no fewer than 11,400 weddings.

Only once during Mr. Maisey's service were the bans forbidden, and then unsuccessfully. He arranged the wedding of many famous people, and no clerk has recorded more illustrious names in his register.

Among them were Mr. Asquith, the present Premier, and Miss Tennant; Mr. Roose veit and Miss Edith Kermit Carow; "George Eliot," the novelist, and Mr. W. J. Cross; Signor Marconi and Miss Beatrice O'Brien; and Lady Mary Acheson and Mr. Robert Ward. To the entry recording this marriage are attached the signatures not only of the present King and Queen, but also of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. Three Prime Ministers—Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Balfour and Lord Rosebery—witnessed the wedding of Mr. Acceptance.

four and Lord Hosebery—witnessed the wed-ding of Mr. Asquith.

Scores of Americans have paid Mr. Maisey the usual 2s. 7d. for a copy of Mr. Roose-velt's marriage certificate, and have even tried to take away a chip of the old table on which the register lay when it was signed. signed.

World's Pencil Production.

[Baltimore American:] According to a recent article by Mr. H. S. Sackett of the Forest Service, the world's production of lead pencils probably amounts to 2,000,000,000 a year, half of which are made from the production of the service of the servic American-grown cedar. The United States makes about 750,000,000 a year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabi-aroused, he would straightway become a home missionary.

"It takes the product of many factories to make the cargo of a ship. The bigger the cheaper the rate. So it is to the interest of every business man who wants it, too—and to see to it that his neighbor wants it, too—and to see to it that he gers it if he can.

"I, personally, have had some interesting experiences with regard to foreign trade. It. We never before have had so favor-strived in China just after the revolution started a few years ago. I told my son that there would be no Chinese business, and he said he had been thinking of the Philippines.

"It is of paramount importance that we should put our men in the foreign fields. The drist chance now exists for us to put the expert trade, and the strong link which binds every human being in this country to the great problem of ocean ship fing, even though they may live in the invest it. We never before have had so favor-strived in China just after the revolution started a few years ago. I told my son that there would be no Chinese business, and he said he had been thinking of the Philippines.

The first chance now exists for us to put the export trade, and the strong link which binds every human being in this country to the great problem of ocean ship fing, even though they may live in the invest of everyone that our shipping laws should be such as to make a series of tests which show that, next to the two species heretofore used for this pursue of making, the Forest Service has carried out shipping and ship-owning possible. They are not so at present.

"The La Foliette law is an attempt to equalize wages on all ships in the world. When I was asked by the Congressional and alligator juniper.

a little more time for her bay any to crowe in a little more time for her boy.

But when he was alone in his little room, alone with his thoughts of what had been what was, and what was to be (he reckoned well on his fathou's threshing) he sighed a well on his fathou's threshing.

Then in a resh of confidence all his average critences broke loose, all his stored-up innolons, his reacor against his father. Interest to him—his mother—with a quest liketened to him—his mother—with a quest liketened to him—his mother eyes and a row someway, somehow in her eyes and a row someway, somehow in her byes and a row of his sty, somehow in her byes and a row of his his particular time for her boy.

"There, there," she said, consolingly, "There, there," she said, consolingly, and so is Harry," but at this point the and so is Harry," but at this point the I-loveyou look in her eyes melted, brimmed over, and ran down her cheeks in tears.

Tobnute!" she cried out.

John Milton closed his eyes and opened them again with daring suddenness-to test the truth of his vision. Then his arms went up shout his mother's neck and his face down in that little hollow on her shoulder that had ached tor him as a baby.

"I tried to get him," he sobbed.
"I tried to get him," he sobbed.
"I tried to get him," as said. consolingly "There, there," she said. consolingly "There, there," she said.

LINGERING OF WESERING.

There was an instant built then services as in the bands of the band shows as in the bandserbles. There was an instant built then services as an instant built then services as an instant built then services.

There was an instant built then services are the bead of the boat.

There was an instant built then services are the bead of the boat.

There was an instant built then services are the bead of the branches as he lay in a short was an instant built then services.

There was an instant built then services are was an instant built then services are an instant built then services are was an instant built the way of th mighty oute, don't your" she cried. "I" "I'll jump out I tell you," she cried. "I'll tell you," she cried she half sick with worry about Johnnie, an' Harry mach, an' all." Her voice was lost in sobs, but the next second she had wrenched one hand from his grasp, scooped up some water at the boat's side and splashed it full in Steve's lace

ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

By Alice Virginia Hall. A Venture in Freedom.

JOHNNIE'S STRUGGLE. OHN MILTON STUBBS sat on a low stool in the kitchen shelling peas, his mind bitterly analytic. To shell peas is a humiliating enough occupation for an 8-year-old fellow, but to be all tied up in a checked appear a checked apron, apparent to the roving and malicious eye of Billy Burns, one's next-door neighbor and avowed rival in the af-door neighbor and avowed rival in the affection of the gang, is pure tragedy.

"Ouch," he sulked, pulling so violently at the strings tied neatly and firmly at the back of his neck that his eyes fairly bulged from his red, moist face; "You gota let me outa this; I can't breathe, I say."

His mother looked down at him with disturbing unconcern for his miseries. She was ironing in true, old-fashioned style, her irons heating on a wood stove that roared irons heating on a wood stove that roared away as unconcerned as if the thermometer did not already register 98 in the shade.

"Well, you can just make up your mind to stand it," she said calmly. "You ain't going to dirty up your one good pair o' trousers. that's certain. An' you might just as well be occupied. You find plenty o' time to get into mischief as it is."

John Milton wilted down on his stool with groan. What was the good to talk to a groan. What was the good to this to women? The never could understand the way a fellow looked at things, anyway.

He attacked the peas with vigor. There was a rain of small green balls over the kitchen in various directions. John Milton grinned appreciatively, and woke up to him self as a possible gunner on an immense ocean liner. The new game was becoming very absorbing when

"Johnnie, stop that this instant," came his mother's emphatic command. "I declare I don't know what on earth to do with you."

John Milton discovered Billy Burns star-ing in at the kitchen door laughing at him, and melted close to tears.

"I ain't done a thing. But you wait," he threatened, choking down a sob in his throat. "You'll be sorry. I'll run off some day . . . and play polo, too."

A giggle greeted this climacteric remark.

John Milton glanced up wrathfully at his 18-year-old sister who stood in the door-

"You needn't laugh," he sniffed, applying the checked apron indiscriminately to eyes and nose; "You make me sick; 'n' anyway, I ain't a tattle-tale," he scorned. "Well, anyway, Mr. Johnnie Stubbs, the next time you put smashed fruit in corners of the parlor for folks to spoil their clothes on 'em I'll whip you myself. Mother never does. Harry's suit is ruined, too, and what's more, it's off between us . . . for keeps, too," she added, suddenly avoiding her mother's critical eyes. "I wouldn't make up with him if he was the last mar on earth."

"He oughta know you ain't responsible or Johnnie's doings," her mother re-

"He oughta keep things to himself," Kate flashed back angrily. "I'll catch him makin 'a fool o' me before all the fellows an girls at the shop again. Tellin' 'em if they come to see me to look sharp before they sit down on account o' rotten apricots slum-berin on the parlor chairs and sofa. He tried to patch it up afterward but it didn't go with me. I'll never hear the last of it."

"It serves you right, Kate Stubbs. you had come in and turned on the lights like a respectable girl," Mrs. Stubbs paused long and significantly, "well, it wouldn't 'a happened, that's all."

"I guess Harry and me was as good as engaged," defended the girl, her face averted and her voice uncertain.

Johnnie mustered his courage and cleared his throat for action. "I thought Steve was comin' last night." he offered in muffled tones, his chin and mouth far lost in apron folds. "If I'd a known it was Harry I wouldn't have done

Steve again? Don't expect nothin' from your father an' me it you trapse around with that good-for-nothin'."

Kate looked superior. "A lot you know about him," she said with disdainful inflections. "He's a better spender and a better dancer than Harry. I don't intend to hang around the house waitin' for Harry, after workin' all day hard . . . not much. I got to have my fun. Gee, it's too hot in here for me." She pushed by Johnnie and passed into the next room with impressive

Mrs. Stubbs looked silently after her fo second, then resumed her ironing.
"I declare I don't know," she said with

"I'm sure I don't know."

But Johnnie had finished the peas. He gathered his checked robes about him and came staggering toward her for deliverance. She untied the apron, then suddenly leaned down toward him and stroked back the de bangs that hung down in his eyes.

"Johnnie, you hadn't ought to ha' done it, dear. Me havin' such a time with Kate an' all. I got to count on you, you see. You're my little man. Dear, dear! There's your father and dinner not even on." She drew away from him half guiltily as if ashamed for the little stolen moment and went back to her work.

"Fill a kettle with some water and set the peas on, will you, Johnnie? There's a

John Milton left the kitchen with chas-tened spirit. All his rash resolves for desperate deeds melted away under the magic of his mother's altered voice and the I-love or his mother's attered voice and the i-love-you look in her eyes. He saw himself aid-ing and abetting her through the years, defending her against Kate, against his quick-tongued father, against the world it-

He took even Billy Burns's facetions re marks about his real lady clothes of the afternoon with unconcern. He bragged a afternoon with unconcern. He bragged a little, of course, just a little, about the big house and automobiles and grand clothes he was going to earn for his mother. Billy was impressed, too. That tempted John Milton's powers of imagination, but he held even them modestly in check.

Yes, all would have been well in spite of the mashed apricots and the tedious after noon of pea-shelling if his dad had not "life into" him at the dinner table. Hod-carrying was not exactly a restful day's occupation for a man, but John Milton could not under stand that, since he was always deeply thrilled and impressed just in watching his father at his work. Once in his career he had dreamed of following in his father's footsteps, but he had been converted from his desire by a park policeman, who was now his ideal of manly splendor.

John Milton had always been more or less of a match to his father's gunpowdery self That was his mother's own description of the recurrent explosions that took place be-tween them. She tried to screen the child little, to throw herself in as a shield, but it did not always succeed. Tonight it failed utterly. John Milton was in for a thrashing and all the King's horses and all the King's men could not swerve his dad from his un conscious determination thus to work off his curdled feelings. The inevitable came quickly and effectively.

Alone in his bed with the late twilight of that summer day still tempting, and alive to the tantalizing shouts of the boys playing ball in the street, all the grievances of the afternoon, of the day before, and of all the preceding days rose like ghosts and marched in exaggerated shape before John Milton's reddened eyes. He hated everybody and everything—except maybe his mother. He would go away and earn loads of money, and then come back for her. But in the midst of his dreams—a heroic figure, the park policeman.

Sure enough, the park policeman! With the thought of him John Milton was acknown it was Harry I wouldn't have done it. Honest. But you can just bet Steve can't make fun o' me."

"Steve," burst out Kate; "well, he was a broken the only decent one in the bunch today."

Mrs. Stubbs stopped ironing to look at the flushed, angry girl before her. All her assertion melted. The tired lines that determined effort had held back crept out and drew themselves about her eyes and mouth. In her voice was entreaty.

"Look here, Kate. You ain't took up with such interest that he strength. He got up and sneaked into his clothes with such interest that he was a little uncertain when he came to him, and his mother—he was a little uncertain when he came to check off his mother's emotions. He hoped she would not worry too much. He hoped she would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in such goodly supplies that he would have preferred to go aboard a ship and be wrecked good Robinson Crusoe style, but he supposed beggars could not be choose."

"Look here, Kate. You ain't took up with such interest that deval do the was a little uncertain when he came to him, and his mother—he was a little uncertain when he came to check off his mother's emotions. He hoped she would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would have faith in him and realize that he would not worry too much. He hoped was to come the word and drifted darkly away.

The red lantern They we the thought of him John Milton was ac-

the perilous part of his undertaking in John wild thrill of the boy's heart, when he had Milton's eyes. His father was in the side come unexpectedly upon his picture in a garden digging around the vegetables. He could hear the dig, dig of his hoe, and the smell of his old black pipe floated up to him there in his room. His mother and Katie were rattling away at the dishes in the litchen But the follows out on the above. kitchen. But the fellows out on the street—they were just as liable to give him away as anything. He would have liked to say "good-by" to the gang, bût this was out of the question. Still, with a nickel and a fishline in his pocket, and high hope and wild, glowing adventures in his heart and mind, he was capable of surmounting any diffi-

By the time his nickel had carried him to the end of the carline and to the entrance of the park, all grievances were for the time forgotten. He had never witnessed park splendors by night and he stood in wrapt wonder at the great expanse of lake with its inky-black shadows and long ribbons of light reflected from the arc-lights above, or from the searching lights of the little boathouse. Canoes and boats drifted over its surface, lit by bobbing red lanterns and filled with laughing, singing crowds of people on pleasure bent. Away down in his deserted end of the lake a fish leaped out of the water. John Milton's heart leaped with it. It swelled large and joy budded out in him like a bouquet of

This, all this was worth while. This was the world and life and all that made them.

A policeman strolled by, talking to a bunch of girls with high-keyed voices. He did not see John Milton's little figure, and anyway the child was already instinctively developing the caution of a veritable ban-He slid behind the tree and discovered that the policeman was not his friend. Something had warned him that it was not he when he shied for the goodly tree trunk Matters were complicated now. He had re lied on the policeman to give him hints as to how to make his own living, as he remembered the graphic sketches he had made of his own experiences as a boy. John Milton had hope of getting inside information that would enable him to follow in his hero's footsteps, on to the glory of a club, brass buttons and policemanship.

But even this unexpected blow could not daunt him. Perhaps this man was only on night duty. The morning must bring his friend to light.

He wandered on to the discovery of pic nic grounds and an idea for breakfast. He planted himself near the great stone oven with its broiling steaks, his face fairly blaz of eager picnickers discovered him. Her enthusiasm was real, contagious, too, or at least John Milton soon found himself in the heart of a picnic supper such as he had never before even conceived in his most clastic dreams. He ate little, but stored much, till finally, with bulging pockets, a contented stomach and grateful heart he slipped away unobserved to the flat, welcoming arms of a tree. Well screened in-by broad-leafed foliage, he watched the party until his eyes refused to do future duty. He closed them obediently and did not open them until the sun shone in through the leaves and lay hot across his face at Stretching sleepily, John Milton all but stretching sleepily, John Milton all but tumbled from his roost, but the quick, half-sickening loss of balance and its regaining woke him to the thrill of his new life, which he had lost for a time in sleep. His stomach clamored healthily to be filled, and he dived contentedly into his pockets. There were so many delicious ideas to swallow with his fried chicken and sandwiches that he was almost bewildered. By this time all the gang must know that he had finally made good his boast to run away. His father and Kate would be wighty away. er and Kate would be mighty sorry he chose if he did not wish to be delivered to his family in mose ignominious style, en-tirely stripped of all possible glory. He got along royally, too. There were picnick-ers a-plenty and always some joily girl to discover his eager, wistful little face, and either gather him close to her around the goodly board, where, in the uproar of pleasantries, he was forgotten and left unob served to satisfy the enormous demands of a growing boy's appetite, or surreptitiously to slip him dainties as she laid the table

He caught some fish, too, sitting alone in the shade of the weeping willows with the soft, rustling song of the lake in his ears, and contentment deep in his heart. Once an old man bought some of his fish. It was a great moment when that 25 cents lay in his small dirty paim and he realized that he had taken his first step toward becoming one of America's capitalists. He climbed his tree that night with a glow at his heart that transfigured the whole world. only drawback was that he could not tell the gang. But after a while—that after-while of youth. He went to sleep in its arms all wrapt in glory.

For some curious reason there was a slump in his heart the next morning when he awoke. He felt stiff and sore inside and out. Perhaps it was only because a mist had drifted in late in the night and now shrouded all the usual brightness of park in damp grayness, perhaps because he thought with sudden sharp interest of a piping-hot breakfast, with his mother sitting at the head of the table, big and laughy, with that nice sound in her voice such she had when she wasn't too busy to notice He pulled himself up sharply when he began to realize where his mind was drifting and groped valiantly for the threads of his last night's enthusiasm. But when the day starts wrong it is hard to whip it back in the right path. He caught no fish, got into a fight with some park rowdies, in which he came out much the worse for wear, and climbed to the shelter of his thee that night very light as to stomach and extraordinarily heavy as to heart.

With dull eyes he watched the canoes and boats drift by underneath his perch. The world had it in for him. It was the same everywhere evidently. Pity for himself welled high. After all, he was only just a little boy, and here he was cast out on the mercy of the world, forced to forage for his food and to sleep in a tree. Why, some folks treated their dogs better. But his father and his sister—they were glad. Probably they were glad that very moment. Perhaps they hoped he would never come back. A sob rose in his throat and choked him. He forced back the tears, but an intolerable ache invaded his throat. What wouldn't he give for his mother's arms? No matter how mad she got at him, cared. You bet, she cared.

cared. You bet, she cared.

The thought of some one who cared was far more overpowering than of those who did not. He succumbed to the tears and finally to sleep. He did not know how long he had slept, most of the night it seemed to him, when he was awakened by voices in a boat pulled close to the shore near his roost. His eyes flew wide open. He sat up cautiously, his ears keen, his heart beating so fast that he could scarcely breathe. Kate's voice. There was no mistaking it. She was mad, too. He knew those staccato

She was mad, too. He knew those staccato tones in her voice too well. And the man with her—the man, was Steve.

They were not after him then; they were not even thinking of him. His first feeling of crushed pride instantly gave place to

By Dessa H. M. Fultz.

Chinese Legend of the Milky Way.

ITTOSLEVLED MERKI'K

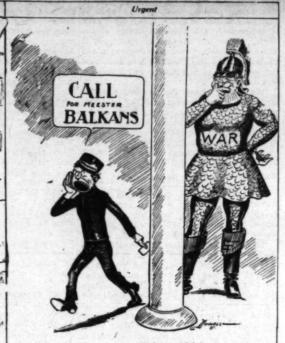

Recent Cartoons.

-Philadelphia Star

"LAND OF THE FREE."

St Louis Globe-Democrat ...AND SOME HAVE GREATNESS THRUST UPON THEM

- New York Herald

- Baltimore American

DO WITH IT IF HE GETS IT? Cleveland Plain Dealer.

- New York World.

In the Mexican Border of Imperial County.

TOS VACETES LINES

turday, October 2, 1915.]

Dring the Huerta regime, Mexicali was at its very worst. Officials not only extorted tribute and shared the plunder of thieves and grafters, but took on burgiary and assassination as side lines. Two of them, a judge and one of Huerta's special agents, made the mistake of burging another official's residence on the American side, to steal some Mexican court records for which one of the parties to the litigation over the canal system might be willing to pay much dinero, and they were caught and served terms in the Imperial Country Jail: Upon the special agent was found a report, which he had not had time to mail, giving Huerta a full account of an assassination that he had just accomplished, and commending the judge for his able assistance in the affair.

judge for his able assistance in the affair.

With the next spin of the Mexican whiriting of a revolution, the Huertistas vanished from Mexicali, and Col. Cantu and the Twenty-fifth Battalion took possession. Presumably they were Constitutionalists, but none of them talked polites and the colonel would say no more than that he represented the government. When the break with Villa and Carranza came, it made no ripple at Mexicali. Cantu sat tight and said nothing. He established peace along the border and something like order in Mexicali.

It takes money to run a government and

It takes money to run a government and pay an army, and the system of taxation Col. Cantu found in operation was not producing enough. Wherefore he revised the system and proceeded to get money. He imposed an export duty, ranging from $6 to $10 a head, on cattle, and increased the assessments on land and personal property. Col. Cantu shed his uniform and got into mufti, announced himself Governor of Baja California, northern division, and moved the see a peetry considerably efficient growers ment.

Cantri has made a real town of Mexicall and motified its cussedness quite a lot saloons, dance halls, smalling joints and other facilities for debauchery still flourish but they are licensed and policed, and the town is no longer a safe refuge for "gents on the dodge." The process of extradition its quite simple. American officers designate the man wanted, if he is known to be in may be contained the man wanted. If he is known to be in may be contained to the american officers.

Mexicall 1.0. Cantur's policemen round him up, escort him to jab bridge at the boundary and kitch him across the line into the arms of the American officers.

Mexicall now has a town council and a presidente, and is putting in a sewer system and laying cement sidewalks. Got cantur has put up a concrete building that contains government offices and a public school, has placed a band stand in the new public park or plazs, has had built as "custrel," or barracks, to take the place of the old built ring that was used as a sheter for troops. The Twenty-fifth Batallon, holding Ensenada. Mexicall and several posts along the border, consists of $10 men and 150 officers. The men are paid $1 a day, and hoard themselves. There are 150 mounted men, and each cavalryman has the allow ance of 40 cents a day for horse feed. There are 150 civilian officials and employes at $1.75 to $6 a day. The total coat of Col. Cantu's sovernment in Baja California is estimated officially at $50,000 a month. Finances are on a gold basis. Circulation of the control of the cont per hectare, a hectare being equal to 2.47 lacres, and cattle were valued at $20, Mos., per head. The tax rate was $4.50 per thousand. Land now is assessed at $25, gold, per acre, cattle $25, gold, per head, and the rate is $10 per thousand. The city rate in Mexicall is $12 per thousand. Gov. Cantu is said to be considering the advisibility of taxing unused land higher than cultivated land. In the town, an owner of five lots must have a building on at least one in order to retain title. Evidently the Governor has ideas about unearned increment.

An absentee owner of lots went to Mexi-money; therefore he was obliged to ammoney from the Americans.

"I have soldiers here to protect property," said Col. Cantu. "If I should fail to pay the soldiers they would not stay. Then what would be likely to happen to your canals and to the ranches, nearly all of which are owned by Americans?"

The Americans?"

Manila's Importance to Our Far Eastern Trade.

By S. S. Knabenshue, Former American Consul-General at Tien-tsin, China.

BIG OPPORTUNITIES.

In any discussion of ways and means the close extension of our rades in the other control of our furdes in the other control of the faithful distance of the of the Recent Cartoons.

A Chinese Legend of the Milky Way.

By Dessa H. M. Fultz.

THE SPINNING MAIDEN.

ANY, many years ago when the world was created, the King of Heaven placed a blue dome over the earth. Then He made the Sun. It was the duty of the Sun to travel from the eastern rim of the world to the far western edge of the earth, each day. At the end of his journey he rested in the wonderful palace of the Western Royal Mother. He filled the earth with warmth and light and gave life to everything that grew.

Then the King of Heaven placed the Moon and the Star People in the blue dome give light to the Earth People when the Sun had one to rest. The Moon was a ball of silver light. But the King of Heaven decreed that his light should be seen in all its splendor only a few nights at a time. But the Star People should always show their lights. To Earth People the Stars seemed only bright points of light. But they knew they were really people; that they worked and lived and loved, like the Earth People. But they knew, too, that death never came to m. For they had tasted the Tau water that flows through the garden of the West-ern Royal Mother, Si Wang Wu. Those who taste this water never know death.

Among the Star People was a maiden named Vega, whom the Chinese especially loved. Year in and year out she sat at her spinning wheel, never leaving her work for a moment. Her hair was like gold, her eyes blue as the dome of heaven and her garments of soft gauze and fine linen. Having eaten of the peaches of immortality that grew in garden of the Western Royal Mother, she never grew old. She only grew more beautiful with the passing years. So the Earth People named her "The Spinning

Not far from the home of Vega lived Altair. Now, even in the country of the Star People, there are great herds of cattle. And it was Altair's duty to care for these herds. So the Earth People gave him the name of the "Cowherd."

As Altair passed from one pasture to another with his herds, he daily saw the Spinning Maiden at her work. Who could help loving any one as good and beautiful as she At least that was the way Altair felt and his love grew stronger as the days passed. But the maiden was so busy she never seemed to see Altair, although he was the finest of all the young men in the Star country.

Mother was her god-mother. One day her god-mother said to the King of Heaven:

"O King, the Spinning Maiden has never rested. Why not give her time to visit her

The idea pleased the King, and when he told the Spinning Maiden she was overjoyed. She left her spinning wheel and joy-fully flew to the earth.

Now when Altair passed the home of the Spinning Maiden the next day he saw the wheel still and the maiden gone. It did not take him long to find where she had gone and quickly he followed her.

It was springtime. The grass covered the earth with a garment of green. Blo turned the trees into great bouquets and bordered the paths and the banks of the streams. The air was filled with their sweetness. Birds flitted among the trees, filling the world with melody, while bright-hued butterflies hovered over the flowers.

Vega wandered through all this beauty, now stopping to gather a handful of blossoms or gaily singing with the birds. The very air seemed filled with happiness and love. Altair was always near, although he kept out of Vega's sight, awaiting an oppor tunity to declare his love.

One day as Vega was wandering through a forest she came to a beautiful little stream. Following it, as it wandered among the trees, she came to a pool. Cherry and peach strawberry trees, covered with their pink blossoms, surrounding it, hiding it from the rest of the world. Slipping out of her garments, she sprang into the crystal water, diving and swimming like a water nymph, happy in the thought that no one but the flowers could see her.

But she was mistaken. Altair had sees her disappear into the flowery bower. Silent ly he crept to where her clothes lav. snatched them up and ran away. Then, after hiding them, he returned and made himself known. He told her of his great love and wooed her so successfully she soon promised to be his wife. What else could she do? Altair would not return her stolen garments—and then she had loved him ever since she first saw him. For, although she had seemed indifferent, she had not really

Years passed happily, and a son and daughter came to bless their home. One day Vega asked her husband for the garments he had stolen from her. Their life had been

Now Vega was the granddaughter of the so happy together he never dreamed of her near Vega, in the constellation of Lyra, ar King of Heaven, and the Western Royal wanting to return to the Star Country. So the children of the Spinning Maiden and the he told her they were hidden in an old, dry well near the pool she had been bathing in. No sooner had she found them and put them on than she again became the Spinning Maiden-for the garments were magicaland started for her former home

Now it so happened that Altair had a piece of ox-skin that gave him power over the earth and air. Hastily taking this precious piece of skin, his ox-goad and the two children, he started in pursuit of his wife.

Altair overtook his wife just as she reached the country of the Star People. Instead of Vega going to her spinning wheel and Altair to his herds, they again started their home. Now their idleness angered the King of Heaven. Finally he consulted the Western Royal Mother. After much thought, they decided that Vega and Altair must be separated. But how? Western Royal Mother took a magical silver pin from her hair. With it she drew a line between Vega and Altair. Following the line her silver pin made, flowed a river, that separated the two and which they were powerless to cross. By the Star People it is called "The Heavenly River," but the Earth People call it "The Milky Way."

From the greatest happiness, Vega and Al-ir were plunged into the depths of despair. They could stand on opposite sides of the Heavenly River but it could not be bridged and they could not pass over it. They could not even hear each other's voices!

So deep was their sorrow that even the heart of the King of Heaven was touched. So he decreed that they might visit each other one day each year. But how could they? The Heavenly River separated them and there was no means of crossing it.

Then the magples came to their rescue. The King of Heaven had set the seventh day of the seventh moon as the day Vega and Altair should spend together. When that morning came, the magples gathered in great multitudes around the home of Vega. With wings overlapping, they found a bridge over the Heavenly River. Over this living bridge Vega passed and Altair again held his wife in his arms. But when the Sun sank into the west, they had to part. Then they wept so bitterly that their tears fell like rain. That is why, so the Chinese say, there are such floods at that time

This is why on the seventh day of the seventh moon, Vega and Altair are seen so close together. And the two stars so Cowherd, Altair, who dwells in the constellation of Aquila.

For many years after the Spinning Maiden and the Cowherd returned to the land of the Star People, they were remembered loving-ly by their friends among the Earth People. But, as years passed, they were forgotten by the younger ones. Finally many of the Earth People laughed at the idea of their ever having lived on the Earth and few be-lieved their story.

From the foot of Mount Kw'en Lun, on which is the Lake of Gems and the won-derful garden and palace of the Western Royal Mother, flow the Blue River, the White River, the Red River, the Black River and the Yellow River. It was said by som that the Yellow River was none other tha the Heavenly River, that separated Vega the Spinning Maiden and Altair the Cowherd. Others laughed at the belief. Finally, Chang Ch'ien, a man noted for his travels, decid he would sail up the Yellow River to find its source

So, taking the trunk of a tree, by his magical powers he turned it into a great boat, filled it with food and started upon his journey. For many moons he sailed up the river. The farther he went, the clearer became the water; finally it became like milk, pure and white. He passed villages full of happy people, green fields full of cattle, flowery meadows and wonderful scenery. The air became softer, the sky bluer and the breezes full of perfume.

Seeing a beautiful girl sitting in a door spinning, he approached her.

"O Maiden, I am trying to find the source of the Yellow River. Can you tell me where I am?"

As he spoke, a young man leading an ox approached. The Maiden smiled and said:

"O Stranger, take my shuttle and return to your home. Then take my gift to an astrologer. Tell him when you received it and he will tell you where you have been."

Chang Ch'ien did as the maiden told him

The astrologer then told him that the day and hour the Spinning Maiden had given him the shuttle, a star had been seen to enter the village where the Spinning Maiden Vega and the Cowherd Altair lived. For it was the seventh day of the seventh moon, the day the King of Heaven permitted Vega and Altair to spend together. So Chang Ch'ien proved that the Yellow River is only the earthly part of the Heavenly River, or what the Earth People call "The Milky Way."

Sweet Little Niece. ROAD TRAIN.

By Michel Clement.

There was no getting out of it. It had to take that baby. And I was barely out of my nonage—a much unmarried youth of 22.

At the termination of a brief visit with my married sister, I had persuaded her to pick up baby and baggage and accompany me home for a glimpse of the folks. Every detail of the trip had been arranged. But at the final moment my sister found that it would be impossible for her to leave the washerwoman until a couple of hours later, and that she would have to take the evening train. The baby, 11 months old, could not, of course, go at any other time; milk bottles sleeping hours determined her schedule But if I would be a paragon of carefulnes I would be allowed to take the precious darling alone on the sixty-mile journey. I tactfully interposed a number of possible dangers, but all were overruled. Thwarted.

Our journey to the station was not uninteresting. In my left arm, held high toward my shoulder, was my sweet little niece, Mary, frilled, rose-cheeked, blissful. With the right hand I pushed a large carriage containing the baby's bedding and two portly suit cases. Dangling from the fingers of my other hand was a good-sized bucket with its contents of milk surrounded Mary's green bathtub also found room to hang from the same fingers. Swinging against my chest, and held pendant by a cord encircling my neck, and the hours, I uttered many a grateful prayer. I auditors.

diaper bag, embroidered and recherche. Too, I was wearing my overcoat, and the day was warmish. One matter more: The right pocket of that overcoat contained a thermos bottle with warm milk for possible use on the train; the other was bulging with toys.

The farewell exhortation of Mary'a m er was still a clarion in my ears.
"If she begins to act fussy, give her the bottle that has the slow nipple—the one in the thermos bottle, remember."

Slow nipple became my traveling slogan There was a wait at the railroad station that gave me time to unburden by checking the carriage and the bathtub. Mary still ondered and smiled.

At length the train arrived, and I did succeed in climbing up the steps. The car was crowded—and how it stared. An eye-twinkling old lady stood up and of-fered me her place. I took it. Several other ladies smiled. Mary began to twist about; so I held her at the window and let her look out at the swift-gliding trees and

A few minutes passed dustily, stuffdly. I floor was work longed for a magazine. The only obtainable bit of reading matter was "Holt on Bables," fished from the depths of the diaper bag. I plunged into that intense work, one hand the while clutching at Mary's dress. My niece stood on the seat slapping at the pane of glass.

One hour, half the journey's time, slipped away, during which period I had, by vigilance, repressed all serious outbreak. With the annihilation of minutes and quarter-had permitted my watch to be slobbered over, to be dropped several times, and the fob to be mangled; on the floor beneath the seat was a litter of cast-aside toys and ani mals; a good knife had been lost down some magnetic crack, a button on my coat had been successfully removed, and my necktie was all awry.

At the fourth train stop, Mary had whim pered-had more than whimpered. when we moved on the precious darling did not become quiet. Two girls across the aisle became only too interested in Mary's and my movements. This nettled me as much as the baby's fussings.

And this was fussing! No doubt abou that. Minding the soritical admonition, I reached down, opened the brown there bottle and drew out the talismanic milk flask with the slow nipple. Mary selzed the tempting glass vessel with a grasp like a carpenter's vise. This was encouraging. But for some reason she wanted a change of grip and let go her hold.

The crash of glass was bad enough, but the spreading lake of milk on the aisle's floor was worse. To top it all Mary opened her vocal muffler. I attempted to swab up the white liquid while holding the infant. Resultant little rivers of milk ran under a half-dozen seats, and many were the satch els and even shoes that were touched and

I looked up, across, and down the aisle. The facial consensus showed scant sympa-thy and a deal of amusement. Two faces directly opposite were convulsive. But amused onlookers soon became annoyed

The conductor, red of cheek and blithe of countenance, passed through about this time. He paused a moment by me, sur-veyed the wreckage, and then announced in a loud, kind voice:

"That's all right, Papa."

"That's all right, Papa."

I threw my whole soul into the baby.
Crowding against the window with wailing
Mary in my arm, I pounded on the glass, pointed fieldward and shouted, "Oh, see the nice bossy cow, Mary!" Then, "Big horsey; see the big horsey!" And when the bell was rung, "Hear the ding-ding!" All unwas rung, "Hear the ding-ding!" All unavailing. Above the rumble and shriek of the train rose Mary's ear-shattering voice.

Merciful gadzooks! How that bra-how Merciful gadzooks! How that bra—now that sweet little niece of mine did scream! I alone of all listeners was unable to stuff fingers into ears. I could merely sit there, Mary in my lap, with the profuse sweat of agony encircling my brow. I waited for the decades to roll by.

One whole century—sixty minutes—crept into the past. Those lungs of stoutest leather had not lost one whit of their infant strength. The two girls opposite me had long since gone into the smoking-ar.
At length the blessedly familiar environs of my own city began to slip grandly by the window. And we were slowing down at our destined station.

Train stopped. Mary stopped. With the benediction of this instant silence—ineffably sweet-I gathered up one or two essentis and my little niece. On the station plat-form, with anticipatory, proud look, awaited Mary's grandmother. And into her arms Mary's grandmother. And into her ar the grand-daughter flew—I saw to that.

Odds bottles and bables!

"I have soldlers here to protect property," said Col. Centu. "If I should tail to pay the soldiers they would not stay. Then what would be likely to happen to your cansis and to the ranches, nearly all of which are owned by Americans!"

seesed at a vaulation of $2.50 to $10, Mex., 100 per pectere, a bectare being equal to $45, Mex., 100 per bectare, a bectare being equal to $45 Mex., 100 met and cattle were valued at $25, Mex., 100 per sere, cattle $25, gold, per bead, and the per sere, cattle $25, gold, per bead, and the last series of The city rate in Mexical is $12 per thousand. The city rate in take is $10 per thousand. The city rate in take is $10 per thousand. The city rate in las said to be considering the advisibility of taxing unused land higher than cultivated in the town, an owner of five lots in the town, an owner of five lots order to be to building on at least one in order to retain title. Evidently the Governorder to retain title.

and modified its cussedness quite a lot. Saloons, dance halls, gambling joints and other tacilities for debauchery still nourish, but they are licensed and policed, and the town is no longer a safe refuse for "gents on the dodge." The process of extradition apital from Ensenada to Mexicali. As Roy Bean was "the law west of the Fecca," Extenden Canta is the government of the northern part of Lower California, and he is a pretty considerably efficient government.

Dring the Huerta regime, Mexicall was at India to Welcall was at tribute and abared the plunder of thieves and grafters, but took on burging about sacing and as judge and one of Huerta's special agenta, ficial's residence on the American side, to ficial's residence on the American side, to see also make the mistake of the American side, to delibrate the mistake of the American side, to one of the parties to the littigation over the

On the Mexican Border of Imperial County.

By a Special Contributor.

Mexicali, Gov. Cantus capital and New River

Officers with machine oun in front of fort Mexical

THE PRICE OF PEACE.

HEN Tom Hind, the "firing-line" engineer superintending the building of levees in the delta of the Colorado, to prevent the summer flood water from draining northward and troubling the farmers of Imperial Valley, was arrested by a Mexican policeman on the charge of high treason and taken to Mexicali re cently, he smiled wearily and was not wor ried at all. One less familiar with the ways of our impulsive neighbors would have had dons of adobe walls and firing squads, and wondered how he was going to raise the long yell that would be heard and heeded by Mr. Bryan before the guns should go off. But Mr. Hind had held down Col. Epes Randolph's division of the Southern Pacific in Sonora through a few revolutions, maintaining neutrality and dodging bullets at Empalme during the siege of Guaymas, and figuring frequently in the news reports as ag the killed, missing and in jail. Be ing pinched for high treason was all in the

Taken before the Court of First Instance at Mexicali Mr. Hind was arraigned in due charged with?" inquired Mr. Hind blandly.

"Usurping the powers of government," he was informed by the court.

"And the specification?" pursued Mr.

"Imposing a poll tax on mules," was the

The engineer produced his account book The court looked at the book, apologized for the arrest, and Mr. Hind went back to his

It ail came about because a subordinate icial did not understand the intricacies of the system of taxation devised and estab-lished by Col. Cantu, who is the government because † payable quarterly in advance. of labor must pay the taxes for the men they hire. This catches the Chinese working or the ranches, and the floating labor on levee and canal construction. To simplify collect tion, Col. Cantu agreed that Mr. Hind should assume that every scraper team on the job had one driver, and should collect from the owners of teams on that basis instead of trying to keep track of the floaters and sking the contractor pay another poll tax every time a driver got too drunk to work or jumped his job. And so it came about that someone thought Tom Hind was levy ing poll tax on mules.

The principal function of government be e collection of taxes, it is easy to show that the border town of Mexicali, the de facto capital of Baja California, enjoys —more or less—the distinction of having the only stable and efficient government Mexico north of Vera Cruz. The stal The stability is provided by the Twenty-fifth Battalion, so ng as the pay is regular, and Col. Cantu's ingenuity and thoroughness as a tax gatherer stitute the efficiency. Only once before in its history, covering but a dozen years, has Mexicali been governed at all. That was when the first bunch of insurrector captured and held the town four years ago Mexicali was the Jackson's Hole of the Southwest; the refuge of outlaws, outcasts and criminals from the American side, and the lair of predatory dive-keepers, tinhorns, thugs and voracious Mexican officials, who licensed the thieves for shares of the plun-Calexico only by a ditch, its villainous sa-loons and dives and its vicious denizens made Mexicali the social plague spot of Imperial Valley, whose sober and exasper-ated citizens vainly appealed to Washing-ton to induce the Mexican government to either clean up or obliterate the nuisance.

licensed every sort of vice, but they sold bunco, shell-game, strong-arm and pick-pocket privileges as freely as if they were country constables of the old circus days.

shortage, and the canal companies ren strated with the saloon men of Mexicali and persuaded them to deal out less virulent poison for a time

There was no substantial reformation of Mexicali until Senor Leyva and Simon Berthold came along early one Sunday morn ing with a mixed lot of hobos, and took pos on in the name of the Socialist Republic of Lower California. The capture was made with but one casualty. The Mexican jailer refused to open the door of the calaboose, and his head was in the way of a bullet fired through the plank by an impatient revolutionist. The jail was emptied, and liberation. Berthold seized the government offices, but they got only one official, the Collector of Customs, all the others having the good judgment to live and sleep on the American side. The collector had the choice of paying $1000 for his life or giving it up to a firing squad before night. He could get the money only on the American side. One Gallegos, his friend, offered himself as hos tage for the collector and was accepted, and he risked the firing squad while the other was raising the ransom money. The col-lector did not return, but an American gambler bought the release of Gallegos for $500.

Berthold and his Socialist adventurers,

The Mexican official grafters not only not more than thirty all told, held Mexicali first care was to close the saloons. He told Twenty-fifth Battalion of Infantry, and pays the soldiers their dollar a day regularly. Needing money for the brave and loyal soldados, and for other things, 'kick" in them, and during one summer the ditch amonth, gold, on every male inhabitant old enough to wear trousers, Indians. This wastage threatened a labor lested no private property. They confished the mass to close the salcons. He told crue was prevented from operating the gates of the mass prevented from operating the gates of the was prevented from operating the gates of the dive-keepers imported wood alcohol by the barrel and concocted mescal, of liquor to anyone they would be stood up of water to the American canals. Imperial valley appealed to Washington for protection, and troops were sent to the border the gamblers, thugs and night birds were to the border the ditch barrel and concocted mescal, of liquor to anyone they would be stood up of water to the American canals. Imperial valley appealed to Washington for protection, and troops were sent to the border the gamblers, thugs and night birds were to the border the concocted mescal, and they believed him, for he was a very serious man. All the owners that if they sold or gave a from or exercising any control over the delivery of water to the American canals. Imperial valley appealed to Washington for protection, and troops were sent to the border them.

cated all the government money they could find, and they paid for all the provisions they used. Gov. Vega marched over the ountains from Ensenada with Diaz troops to drive them out, and met disastrous de-feat in the battle of New River, which was observed at close range by the entire population of Calexico.

After Berthold and his band marched way to capture Ensenada and set up their Socialist state—an enterprise that ended in disaster and the death of Berthold—Mexicali was occupied by a bunch of joyously irresponsible adventurers, who were repudiated by all the warring factions in Mexico. Among them were veterans of the Boer War and the Spanish scrap, deserters from the cavalry troop on the American side, who yearned for action, and youngsters eager for adventure. These fellows were no respecters of the property rights of neutrals. They commandeered horses, mules, wagons and anything else they wanted from the Americans ranching on th Mexican side; burned railroad bridges and seized trains, killed cattle and lived on the country. Led by an English soldier of for-tune, Stanley Williams, sixty of them marched out and attacked Gen. Mayol and 400 Mexican regulars, who had two machine guns, fought them all day from behind a ditch bank and whipped them to a standstill. They lost Williams and one other man in the fight. Then they set out to take nada and were cleaned up at Tecate and Tia Juana

That left Mexicali in the hands of a nondescript gang of scallawags; Mexican ban-ditti, American I.W.W. tramps and all the riff-raff that had been driven out by Berth old, and for the next few months the town was a small hell with the blower on. Ranches were plundered and registered cat-tle were butchered, and all farming opera-tions were stopped below the line. Imperial Valley, with nearly a half-million acres irrigated from a main canal running through Mexican territory, was uneasy. A few sticks of dynamite intelligently placed under one of the structures controlling the water would put the canal system out of commission and cause the loss of millions in crops and live

The valley was not reassured greatly when Huerta's troops came in and the scallawag gang faded away. The soldiers took posfor several weeks, and during that time it session of the canal headings, ostensibly to was the most orderly, peaceful, sober and protect them, and the receiver of the Amergenerally moral town in Mexico. Berthold's ican court having charge of the canal system was prevented from operating the gates in 1914 Los Angeles, as already stated, received more than 2,000,000 feet figures put the story in a nutshell. nted to only 1,300,000 board feet, while saliquilidq eds mort arroque lasoit apid growth of the trade it may be men-loned that during the years, 1909-1910, the

Saturday, October 9, 1915

As regards oversee markets, the nearest great shipping center is Hongkong, 600 miles from Manila. Here large quantities of lumber go, to be transhipped to india, an excellent customer for Philippine bard woods, and to China, which offers an inexhaustible market for the lower grades. Europe also is a profitable market, especially Great Britan, which is always reads to take the lang.

branches. When felled the crown crashes down and is broken. The trunk is then cut into logs streem to twenty feet long. These are snaked by the sid of long steel cables and donkey engines to the narrow-gauge logging railway, usually not more than a logging railway, usually not more than a then rolled on to the small trucks and thanled to the mill. There they are dropped having to storage pond of fresh water, so that ash, now most commonly used. For wagon tongues and citter vehicle stocks, hubs, spokes and felloes, there are excellent materials in any size and quantity desired. Shuttles and spindles must be hard, retired tough and resistant to abrasion; several vericular and in these requirements. For eight ready been referred to in this article.

Philippine Mahoganies and Rare Hardwoods.

Modern Forestry.

INEXHAUSTIBLE SUPPLIES—NEGLECTED UNDER SPANISH RULE—WORK OF THE FOREST BUREAU—LEASES AND CONCESSIONS.
CLASSES OF COMMERCIAL TIMBERS—OLD AND NEW METHODS OF LUMBERING—OVERSEA MARKETS—LOS ANGELES CENTER OF DISTRIBUTION IN AMERICA.

OVERNMENT statistics tell convinc-ingly the steady progress of the lum-ber industry in the Philippine Islands. It is only to minds of a certain class, howber industry in the Philippine Islanda. It is only to minds of a certain class, however, that statistics convey any real understanding of the story therein embalmed. But when in this cosmopolitan city of Los Angeles, in the rush of the opening of a big new department store, the shoppers and sightseers behold the establishment finished throughout with mahogany from the archipelago, and learn that the contract for this beautiful woodwork amounted to no less a sum than $150,000, then the world promptly wakes up to the fact that the Philippine timber trade has indeed arrived. The result is due not merely to the existence of virtually inexhaustible supplies of superb hardwoods in the vast virgin forests of the islands, but to the change from Spanish lethargy to American alertness and enterprise in the government of the archipelago.

ness and enterprise in the government of the archipelago.

The forests were there for unnumbered centuries before the American came on the scene. But their dormant potential wealth required the vitalizing touch of a magician's wand. And it is to the American government that the credit for this awakening is mainly due, for it has brought to the Philippines the political stability necessary for sound commercial development, the systematic scientific research of a forestry bureau, which is the true foundation for permanent success in such an undertaking, together with the fostering care of government officials in all departments that has gradually attracted capital in large amounts from the outside, and men of tried experience in every branch of the trade, from the felling of the tree to the marketing of the finished product of the sawmills. The transition thereby effected within the period of a single decade constitutes one of the romances of modern industrial enterprise.

period of a single decade constitutes one of the romances of modern industrial enterprise.

Under the Spanish regime lumbering operations in the Philippines only amounted to a thinning of the edges of the great forests. A single day's output from any one of the five big American mills now at work probably exceeds what would have been a full year's production under the old conditions. Yet with the cutting for home conumption and for export now more than 100,000,000 board feet of all timbers per annum, we are even still at the mere beginnings of possible development. A few figures, gathered with care by The Times Illustrated Weekly, will make this plain. The area of the total land surface of the Philippine Islands is computed at 115,026 square miles, about equal to the New England States together with New York and New Jersey. Of this area more than 40,000 square miles, or approximately one-third of the total, are clothed with virgin forests. There are also 20,000 square miles of zecond growth forest, yielding large quantities of firewood and small-sized timber, and suitable to be reforested and retained as permanent timber lands. Therefore 60,000 square miles, or nearly one-half of the entire lands surface, come under the designation of forest lands. Of this vast domain 99 per cent. is owned by the government and is, therefore, under government control.

The government system of commercial development is on a twofold plan, whereby opportunity is afforded both to small capitalists and to companies in command of ample means. An ordinary license may be issued, restricted to a period of one year for a definite small area. Or a long-term license, popularly known as a concession, may be granted which, according to the amount of capital invested, confers exclusive rights for the cutting of timber over an area extending perhaps to several hundreds of square miles. A concession lasts for wanty years with provisions for extension of the setup is an ever passes out of government ownership, only the contribution of the setup is and at the mace ordinate of the wartery of the timber.

The three concession plan the industry of the setup production of the wartery of the timber.

The three was the timber of timber of the timber of timber of timber of timber of the all classes of wood, make but little impression on this particular kind.

Another family has two varieties—Dungon and Dungon-late. These are hard, heavy, dark brown woods, very close grained, used exclusively for structural purposes—bridges, foundation sills, etc.

Ebony is the most valuable wood in the islands, being sold by the pound. It is exported to the United States in the rough log, in whatever state it comes from the forest. It is only the heart wood of the tree, however, that constitutes the deep black ebony of commerce. Two-thirds of the log from the bark inward is perfectly white, this being called the sap wood. In order to get at the black heart the sap wood is cut away in the forest and left there. But the government charges stumpage for the entire cubic contents of the tree. Because of its color, durability, hardness and suspectibility to polish, ebony is much used for cabinet work and inlaying, also for the manufacture of planoforte keys, knife handles, backs of brushes, jewel boxes, etc. The price of the wood in America is usually 15 cents a pound, the supply being limited.

Mancono is the hardest and heaviest of all Philippine woods—the "iron wood" par usually 15 cents a pound, the supply being limited.

Mancono is the hardest and heaviest of all Philippine woods—the "iron wood" par excellence of the world. Its grain is very fine and twisted. It is harder than the celebrated Lignum Vitae of the West Indian Islands, and is now being applied to all manufactures suitable for the latter wood, such as ship's pulleys, fine rulers, mallets, etc., where hardness, toughness and durability are the prime requisites. Mancono is practically impervious to decay, posts after fifty years of service in damp soil show not the slightest signs of deterioration. The timber, after drying for fifty-nine hours in a temperature of 110 C., weighs seventy-seven pounds per cubic foot. This compares with the three best known hardwoods of commerce as follows: Oak, fifty to fifty-six pounds; mahogany, thirty-six to fifty-six pounds. As water weighs sixty-three pounds to the cubic foot, oak, teak and mahogany all float and can be rafted, but Mancono sinks to the bottom like a plummet.

The above comprise the timbers of chief and mahogany all float and can be rafted, but Mancono sinks to the bottom like a plummet.

The above comprise the timbers of chief commercial account in the export trade from the Philippine Islands. In their practical application they fall roughly into four principal classes: Woods for interior finish and furniture, cabinet woods, woods for special uses, and heavy construction timber.

(1.) Interior finish and furniture woods.—The prime requisites of a wood for these purposes are that it be at least fairly abundant, not very difficult to work and to finish, of good size, and of pleasant texture and color. All of these requisites, as has been shown, are fulfilled by the woods of the iauan family. To this family belongs nearly three-fourths of the standing timber of the islands, so that Philippine mahogany may be said to occupy the place that the conifers do in the north temperate zone, although possessing a wider range of color, hardness and other qualities. There are, of course, numerous other Philippine woods besides the lauans available for this class of work, but in lesser quantities.

(2.) Cabinet woods.—Of these the Philippines possess an astonishing variety, of which the Narra group, above described, is the most representative. Cabinet woods are the aristocrats of the lumber world, large size, beautiful color, fine grain and durability being their chief recommendations. Among Philippine cabinet woods is a wonderful range of color, from the jet black of ebony to creamy white, with red, reddish brown, dark brown, grayish, yellow, pale straw varieties in between, also streaked or mottled kinds in different hues.

(3.) Special uses.—Throughout the islands there are a large number of exceptionally hard, tough and heavy woods available for such specialties as bowling balls, bearings, stern shaft bearings, tool handles and other parts of tools. In all these cases difficulty to split is a prime essential monosiderable quantities. For long agricultural tool handles, in which hardness is less essential than toughne

From Many Sources. Brief Anecdotes Gathered

Compiled for the Times. Good Short Stories

TOS VACETES LINES

Awakening of Priscilla. By Lela Cole Kitson.

FOUND THE LIFE.

RUETT' and 'Pringle' aren't so much alike as to warrant this mistake," said Miss Priscilla Pruett, pursing up her lips as though she had just taken a bit of an under-ripe persimmon.

The steward looked from Miss Pruett to the brassly adorned steamer trunk with a puzzled expression on his harassed face.

"I am sure that a Miss Pringle was to have this stateroom, madam, and as you made your reservation at the last moment there has probably been a slight mistake in the luggage. Now, if you will kindly keep your—I should say, if you will allow me a few moments to rectify this mistake—" me a few moments to rectify this mistake—"

"You don't suppose," interrupted Miss Pruett in a stern tone, "that I would have consulted you in this matter if there had been anything else to be done. I have exhausted every means of finding my baggage—and it simply can't be found. This Pringle person—her christened name is 'Pansy,' I believe,"—Miss Pruett fairly expectorated the innocent word—"did not sail. She recalled her belongings at the last moment—that is, she recalled my belongings. It's a clear case of theft, or of unwarranted carelessness on somebody's part. I shall, of course, report the matter at Honolulu the moment we dock there. And in the meantime the question is, "What's to be done?" "Couldn't you—er—manage to wear Miss Pringle's things until you own can be traced and restored to you?" The steward tried to put a soothing note in his voice. "What a suggestion!" she snorted. "Why, the woman is an actress."

"What a suggestion:" she snorted. "Why, the woman is an actress."

"Well," said the steward helplessly after a brief but frigid silence, "Til send the stewardess around immediately. She can doubtless suggest a way out of the difficulty. It is most unfortunate, especially for Pansy Pringle," he added under his breath, and left Miss Pruett to her own musings.

Miss Pruett went down to luncheon, but that was the last meal she took for some time. There ensued days when no thought of dress, nor food, nor the vanities of this world, entered the lady's mind. Indeed, disregarding the fact that the clothes she wore were all she could rightfully call her own aboard ship, she retired in them, and refused to be enticed out of them during the entire period of her indisposition.

At length, one morning she was able to sit up weakly on the edge of her bunk.

"I've been a very sick woman," she informed the stewardess in a feeble voice, "and look at my clothes!"

"and look at my clothes!"

The latter much-enduring person had been busy with Miss Pringle's trunk, and now the lid stood open revealing a marvelous assortment of feminine apparel.

"What awful taste," murmured Miss Pruett, as she lay back and gazed at the lingerie the stewardess was handling in a practiced manner. "I wonder what sort of woman would wear such filmsy pink-and-white nonsense—by preference?"

"It's beautiful on the deck today," said the stewardess irrelevantly; "seems a pity that you shouldn't be able to get out and enjoy the air," and fluffing up the delicious-looking peaches-and-cream creation, she laid it on the bed near the invalid, and left her to her fate.

Time drags heavily is a narrow stateroom.

her to her fate.

Time drags heavily in a narrow stateroom, when the flash of sun on deep blue water calls. Miss Pruett thought of her empty chair up there on the white deck, and wondered if by chance there might be somebody worth while among her fellow-passengers. Although she had never admitted it even to herself she had always expected to meet her Prince Charming on shipboard, That was one reason she traveled so extensively. Now, it seemed to her, more than ever before, Destiny beckoned to her. Her present situation began to grow intolerable. Finally, in a sort of desperation, she dropped on her knees and began to investigate the contents of Miss Pansy Pringle's trunk.

vestigate the consequence of the impertinent hats. Miss Pruett swept these things aside with mutterings of disgust. What she had hoped to find was a gown that didn't shriek at once, or perhaps a quiet skirt and some respectable blouses. But alack! The gowns she unearthed were obviously not intended to be worn by ladies of 36 years and of chaste and refined taste, nor yet were the skirts and blouses. In fact these giddy garments defied Father Time in every line. Priscilla was on the verge of tears.

"But I've simply got to find something that will do until I can ascertain whether there are any ladies on board from whom I might borrow a suitable outfit," she cried at last, and reached desperately for the dress whose black-and-white checks seemed comparatively small.

The ordeal of dressing in 'the person's' clothes was not so bad as it might have been. In spite of herself, Priscilla was obliged to admit that the "filmsy pink-and-white things" were soothing to the spirit. It gave her a shock to discover that she was taking a positive enjoyment in them. Well, "Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady might be sisters under their skins," but no one must ever know that she, a Pruett, and a minister's daughter, had donned such ungodly garments, and moreover, with a sense of satisfaction. After all, it would be the dress that would try her soul.

This creation was a 1916 model "built"—not merely made—to conform to the lines of a female form divine whose style of architecture differed from that which distinguished Miss Pruett. However, after the mystery of fastenings had been solved, and the lady stood arrayed before the mirror, she blushed to note that the gown lent her something of a grace she had hitherto deemed in almost questionable taste. But there were incongruities—the most painfully apparent being her feet.

Now Miss Pruett had always considered feet necessities with but one purpose, and she had always considered feet necessities with but one purpose, and she had always considered feet necessities with but one purpose, and she had always considered deemed in almost questionable taste. But there were incongruities—the most painfully apparent being her feet.

Now Miss Pruett had always considered feet necessities with but one purpose, and she had always consistently shod here in accordance with her belief; the result being boots of a stern, uncompromising character, flat-heeled, high-laced and eminently sensible. These boots peering modestly forth from the folds of a long, dignified skirt, might pass unnoticed and unsung anywhere, but protruding from beneath this frisky, flary skirt, they had an unclothed, almost naked look, which could not fail to challenge the most unobservant eyes. The bottom of the skirt failed to connect with the top of the boots by at least an inch. Miss Pruett decided that it was unhealthy.

In the trunk there was another pair of boots. They were very high, very slim, with ridiculous heels, and absurd lacings in the back; and they had outlandish bits of leather of a contrasting color sewed here and there on them. But after a brief but sharp struggle with her better judgment, Priscilla defiantly encased her horrified and protesting pedal extremities into these atrocities, and prepared to let them do their worst. After a few moments of tottering uncertainty, however, she conquered. Then came the heart-rending problem of making her hat and the "sports" coat come to terms. They had declared war on each other at first sight.

The classic piece of headgear had buffeted many a storm, and now, like the staunch old war-bonnet it was, it reared a hoary and indomitable front against the encroachments of the fee. The wide and gaudy flare of the "sports" coat collar stood valiantly up to meet it, and with the meeting came the inevitable clash. Caught between these two hostile forces Priscilla's poor little face looked the size and color of a split pea.

After a grim moment of doubt she ousted her old ally and clawed recklessly through pea.

After a grim moment of doubt she ousted her old ally and clawed recklessly through the trunk's contents in search of something more nearly in keeping: with this day and generation. Fortunately her coiffure conformed to convention in the matter of plainness, and the tiny toy hat she found embraced her head and clung to it as though it had found its long-lost mother. Try as she would she could not make it "sit straight," though. It refused absolutely to be a prim little hat, or in fact anything short of an outright audacious little hat; but even with all its impudence Miss Pruett found herself admiring it.

She removed her nose-glasses to get the effect, and quite suddenly decided not to put them on again.

"Why, for gracious sake," gasped Priscilla, "I'm quite good-looking in this absurd get-up," and then, inspired by she wotted not what dormant instinct of depravity, she reached for the rouge pots.

Let us humanely draw the veil before the scene of debauchery that followed, in which a Pruett, and a minister's daughter, took the leading role. Suffice is it to say that after Priscilla had tinkered a bit, albeit with unpracticed fingers, among Miss Pringle's aids to beauty, she looked like a different person. A tender bloom suffused her erstwhile sallow cheeks, the glow toned and subdued by a discreet coating of pearly-tinted powder; pale, recalcitrant eyebrows and lashes had been coaxed into asserting themselves, and now seemed pleased to form delicately outlined frames for a pair of really "nice" gray eyes; a touch of cherry lent to lips a trifle too straight and thin the little suggestion of Cupid's bow that no lady's lips should be without.

Priscilla was dazzled. Her improved appearance assumed in her eyes the proportions of raging beauty. To be conscious for the first time of unmistakable good looks is enough to make any woman a bit dizzy; it had an extraordinary effect on the dear little spinster. Completely carried away by the excitement of the moment, a triffe awkward as to pose, but perfectly confident as to poise, she sought the deck and her long-abandoned steamer-chaff. There was no prick of conscience, no goad of self-reproach, as she stretched herself out in the sun. Her heart was pounding wildly. Never had she felt so exhilarated, so daring, so young.

The woman at her right was obviously a sensible individual—the sort that earlier had she felt so exhilarated, so daring, so young.

The woman at her right was obviously a sensible individual—the sort that earlier in the day Priscilla had intended to seek out in search of clothing, but now she looked her up and down in distaste. There was something irritating about her conservative, irreproachable boots, her styleless hat, and her drab, alpaca gown. She turned her attention to her neighbor on her left.

Just as she focused her limpid gaze upon him the man turned around—and lo! she realized with a thrill that shot from her head to her heart that she was looking straight into the eyes of her Prince Charming. Always she had known that she would fall in love thus precipitately. It was the great moment of her life.

He looked just as she had known he would look; high, noble brow, crowned with a fringe of silky hair—too much hair made a man look so coarse, she thought—dreamy light-blue eyes, dark-rimmed spectacles, mobile, sensitive mouth, quiet, unostentatious clothes—every inch of him proclaimed the scholar and the gentleman. He returned Priscilla's look with frank interest, nay more, with enthusiasm.

It was all like a wonderful dream. And then suddenly Priscilla woke up.

"These horrible clothes!" she gasped mentally. "What can he be thinking of me? And my face! To have him see me thus for the first time! Oh, it is terrible, terrible!"

Covered with confusion, her one idea was Covered with confusion, her one idea was to get away—to seek her own raiment as quickly as possible and efface from his mind, if she could, this dreadful first impression of her. She struggled to her feet.

But Miss Pringle's frivoious gown had no intention of allowing itself to be thus ingominiously disposed of; nor of permitting a romance so propitiously begun to be nipped in the bud. It wound itself determinedly around a splinter in the deck-chair and refused to be detached; which necessitated prompt first-aid attentions from Prince Charming.

In the end Miss Pruett remained—remained and talked with reckless abandon; chattered and laughed as though her life had not been forever blighted by the untimely wearing of Miss Pringle's clothes; as though she had nothing on her mind but Miss Pringle's saucy hat.

In her stateroom late that afternoon she reviewed the situation. "Tomorrow," she decided, "I will have my own things cleaned and pressed and appear before him properly clothed and in my right mind. But how explain my—my complexion?" That was the point. How explain, indeed? There seemed ow way. The truth would strike such a sensible, unaffected man as utter folly. Would he consider for a moment as a possible wife a woman capable of such base deception? "Never in the world!" decided Priscilla desperately, and gave way to tears.

There was nothing to be done, apparently, but submit to the inevitable. Probably, she considered, he had only been firting with her during the afternoon. No matter how nice a man he might be he would naturally feel privileged to flirt with a woman gotten up as she was. Well, if a filration was all it could ever be, she would make it worth remembering. The recollection of this brief period of bilss would help console her through all the passing years.

It was with a sort of madness that she dressed that night. Miss Pringle's clinging, low-cut dinner gown shocked her every sensibility, but still she wore it. Miss Pringle's big-buckled satin slippers elevated her three inches above her normal height and did their best to send her sprawling, but still she wore them. As for the aids to beauty, she distributed those with an extravagant hand—probably Miss Pringle would have considered what she did to aid nature "just a little freshening up," but to Miss Pruett her use of these little vanities seemed monstrously base.

But Mr. Hastings—his name was Cnarles Algernon Hastings—his name was Cnarles her use of these little vanities seemed monstrously base.

But Mr. Hastings—his name was Charles Algernon Hastings—was so perfectly charming that she forgot all about her deception. A real flood of red dyed her cheeks as she bade him good-night under the mellow rays of the tropical moon. Firitation or not, this was the happiest experience in her whole life, and she dreaded to think of the day that the journey should end. For, of course, these ship-board fiirtations always ended with the journey.

This was the thought uppermost in her mind that pensive starlit night before they reached Honolulu. Their deck-chairs were very close together, but Miss Pruett was too busy thinking to bother about the proprieties. She scarcely realized it when Mr. Hastings took her hand. He had taken her hand once or twice before in an absentminded sort of way, but she had always gently withdrawn it. There were limits even to a fliritation, in Miss Pruett's way of thinking.

But tonight she did not draw her hand away. She way making up her mind to the even to a fliritation, in Miss Pruett's way of thinking.

But tonight she did not draw her hand away. She way making up her mind to take a very decided step when they reached Honolulu tomorrow. Surely there would be shops where she could purchase some strictly decent clothes, like those in which she had come aboard the ship. After tomorrow he would know her as she really was—and maybe he could forgive the deception of the past week. He had told her that she had a fine mind; perhaps when he learned that she also had quiet, respectable tastes in dress it might make a wonderful difference. Suddenly she realized with a start that Mr. Hastings had possessed himself of both her hands. He was saying something softly. Was it—could it be—'I love you?" It was. Was he—could it be possible that he was asking her to marry him? He was. Miss Pruett almost swooned with surprise and happiness, but she hastily recovered and bashfully accepted—promptly, but withal, bashfully.

bashfully accepted—promptly, but withal, bashfully.

He was looking intently at one of her slippers. She withdrew it under the hem of her gown, almost in a panic.

"But, darling," he was saying, "I love your little feet! They are so—er—well, 'dainty,' I guess is the word. And your quaint little hats and"—he turned and looked at her approvingly—"your dashing little gowns. I love them all. Do you know I had begun to believe that all women with brains and—well, our sort, you know, simply couldn't wear anything but mannish, dowdy clothes, and when I found a little woman who 'new how to dress like a woman—oh, I don't know what the trick is, but you've got it—why I simply fell in love—that's all."

Miss Pruett gasped—in fact, to be exact, she gulped. And for a moment she made no 13ply. She was very busy registering a change of mind as to the nature of her shopping in Honolulu on the morrow. At last, after a long blissful silence, during which she received her first 'ss, the lady whispered:

"Charles, darling, I don't quite know whether I'm dreaming, or whether I've just awakened, but whichever it is, 'this is the life.'"

WORLDWIDE EXPORT TRADE BEING Modern Forestry.

Philippine Mahoganies and Rare Hardwoods.

tained in the various Islands, surveying, cruising and reporting on the possibilities of lumber options. To Mr. Schneider, as classifying expert, falls the task of determining the species of wood samples sent in. At Manila the bureau has equipped a forestry museum and a forestry school. This brief synopsis just serves to indicate the splendid work being accomplished by the department, both in scientific research and in practical development of the forest resources.

recovery mesens and a forestry school. This brief synopsis just serves to indicate the designation of the control of the contr fore, very little real information is obtainable up to the outset of the American occupation. But the export trade was of small account and until recent years Philippine hard woods were practically unknown in tongers and follows, there are excellent mathanks and follows, there are excellent mathanks and follows, there are excellent mathanks and resistant to abrasion; several varelates ill these requirements. For clarabox lumber of high grade Calantan has already been referred to in this article.

(4.) Heavy construction timbera—The Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Altrahle construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Altrahle construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Altrahle construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Murable construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Murable construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Murable construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Murable construction timbera—The
Molare group, previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Murable construction timbera—The Multiple and the supply of magnificant passed of the previously described, stand
pre-smittent in this class. A number of Multiple and premarket forth and water, a less three species furnishing a supply for magnificant posts of the smittent of the construction of the supplemental of the supplemental in these war times when food supplies and other commodities in urgent European demand promptly command all the accommodation available. In these circumstances, therefore, shipments of Philippine hard woods consigned to New York are now arriving via Los Angeles. For example, the most recent cargo of Philippine lumber handled at the San Pedro docks, brought by the steamship Alpena and amounting to 600,000 board feet, was immediately transshipped for New York by way of the Panama Canal. As every furniture manufacturer in the United States is now using Philippine mahogany, the supplies for New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and other Eastern States are likely to continue to follow this trans-Pacific channel. The wants of the large furniture factories in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and the Middle West generally are met by railroad shipments from Los Angeles in carload lots, this part of the shipping business being now a matter of established routine.

One of the pioneers in the business is W. M. Milne, whose experience in the foreign timber trade extends throughout the world. Mr. Milne supplied the pictures for this article, and during a conversation with the writer made the following remark: "It was in 1906 that Gen. Otis first drew my attention to Philippine hard woods. He presented me with a collection of samples, which he himself had brought from the islands, after his return from his military campaigns in the years 1898 and 1899, with the remark that there was undoubtedly a great future for these timbers. I smiled incredulously. But all the same the hint was taken, I directed my attention to the quite, suddenly decided not to a moment as a tosable a again, graden not to a moment as a possible as a graden with a second-tooking in this absurd the comparatory, and grave way to tested the continuous properties of these, inspired by she wotted to the continuous continuous and provided by the continuous continuous

POUND THE LIFE.

PRUETT and 'Pringle' aren't so warrant this this that she had hoped that the multiple as to warrant this that didn't and some source with multiple as to warrant this that she had hoped the multiple as to warrant this she had hoped the multiple as to warrant this multiple as to warrant the multiple

Awakening of Priscilla. By Lela Cole Kitson.

ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

Good Short Stories

Brief Anecdotes Gathe From Many Sources

Compiled for the Times.

VERY once in so often a strange longing for the sea steals over me and if I must restrain my mood within the narrow confinement of four walls I do that thing which is next best. I pick up a copy of Stevenson and make the most of it. Upon the last occasion I had scarcely laid down "Treasure Island" when such salty phrases as: "walking the plank," "hanging from the yard-arm," etc., recalled an incident in the life of Benjamin F. Butler which I doubt if the general has set down in his memoirs. This incident was related to me by a sea captain who was, for many years, an intimate neighbor and of whose veracity there was no question. I will let him tell it in his own words.

"During the war of the rebellion," he said, "Gen. Butier was transporting a regiment of Yankees from the New England Coast to one of the southern ports. I was in command of a sailing vessel at the time and my ship was chartered for the purpose. On the first night out we ran into a storm. It presently became so violent that I found it necessary to order the men below, and below they went, with padiocks fastened to the hatches. This procedure brought forth grumbling from the men and it was not long before they complained to the general. Gen. Butier sought me out."

"Captain," he said, 'can't allow my

"Captain," he said, 'can't allow my boys to be shut up like this below deck; you'll have to open the hatches.
"General,' I told him, 'Tm sorry, but we're in a storm. I can't have them getting in the way of my own men at a time like this, or we won't be able to manage the ip. They'll have to stay below.'

"The general stormed. Do you mean to

"I mean,' said I, 'that I am captain of this essel and am responsible for all on board. know the law of the sea and I'll not take orders from anyone."

"You heard what I said,' thundered the general, shaking a fist in my face, 'and you mark my words, if the padlocks aren't off those hatches in ten minutes I shall hang you by the neck to your own yard-arm.

"In ten minutes I had forgotten all about the incident—we were too busy taking care of the ship—but when the time was up the general approached me again.

"Well," he demanded, 'are you ready to open the hatches?

"No, general,' I told him, 'I'm not. can hang me to my own yard-arm if you want to. But I'm captain of this vessel and know what I'm talking about. Now, what do you propose to 60?

"The general started to speak but thought better of it, and this time when he stamped off he didn't return." "He didn't hang you then, did he, grandpa?" spoke up a little child at the captain's knee.

"Well, if he did," smiled the captain, was so long ago that I've forgotten it."

Y OU look very smiling this morning, Binks," said Harkaway.

"I guess I ought to be. I went to a fortune teller last night and she prophesied immediate financial reverses," chortled

"I fail to see anything very joyous in the said Harkaway.

"You would if you knew anything about my finances," said Binks. "I tell you right now that if they don't reverse pretty dinged quick I'll be busted."—[New York Times.

GENTLEMAN traveling on horseback

OM MARSHALL of Kentucky, who flourished as an orator and wit T OM MARSHALL of Kentucky, who flourished as an orator and wit in the last century, was a gallant tentleman who, opportunity offering, histributed his osculatory activities without regard to age, race or previous condition of servitude. On Christmas eve met in the hall the pretty octoroon slave majd of Miss Breckenridge, a society leader and belle. Tom kissed her and she was so responsive and he so liberal that he expressed his appreciation by giving her what he supposed was a twenty-dollar gold piece. In fact, it was a gold medal that had been presented to him by the citizens of Frankfort, Ky., for some services rendered to that burg. The girl tried to change it, when the storekeeper, supposing it to be stolen, impounded it and gave it to her mistress. The girl being called to account admitted that it was a Christmas gift from Mr. Marshall and confessed that the hall was dark and that Tom kinsed her before she could help it.

Miss Breckenridge determined to give Mr. Marshall a leason in good manners, so that evening at a brilliant social function she assembled half a dozen Louisians belies about her and calling Tom to the group handed him the medal and said: "Mr. Marshall, here is something you parted with in the dark. It is restored to you in the light." Tom replied promptly. "It was dark sure enough but believe me, Miss Breckenridge, if I had known it was you I wouldn't have given you a cent."

T. F. flourished as an orator the last century, was

H E WAS ticketed to undergo a slight op-eration at the city hospital. Simple though the operation was the man didn't feel quite easy about himself. A few minutes before the annesthetic was to be applied he sent for his physician, who was to handle

"Please, doctor," he said, "be careful about

"Oh, don't worry," the doctor said with fine assurance. "You'll be all right."

"But I wish you to be careful, doctor, the patient insiste

"You seem quite anxious about yourself," the doctor remarked with a smile.
"I am," the patient replied, nervously. "I have $900 life insurance and I don't like my wife."-[Indianapolis News.

Not Merely Their Attire.

CLEVELAND party went out auto A CLEVELAND party went out automobiling the other night and had an unpleasant mishap. It occurred on the Euclid road not far from Willoughby. A four-footed creature of intensified odor got in the way of the car. Nobody in the auto noticed the impact, but everybody noticed the appalling

The man who drove the car told a frien

The man who drove the car told a friend about it the next day.

"Terrible," the friend agreed. "I suppose you all had to change your clothes?"

"Change our clothes!" snorted the chief victim. "Why, we even had to change our tires."—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Only Human Nature.

T HAT man wants his photographs to look as natural as possible, whispered the assistant to the proprietor of the en make it as handsome as you c came the quick reply.

"But—but he's awfully ugly, and insists be doesn't want the portrait to flatter him

"He won't think it flatters him," said the proprietor knowingly. "He'll only feel sure that at last someone has managed to catch him looking just right."—[Answers.

Stopping Him.

who was fencing in a most barren and deso-late piece of land.

"What are you fencing in that lot for,"
Pat" said he. "A herd of cows would starve to death on that land."

"And shure, your honor, wasn't I fencing it to keep the poor bastes out of it."— [Philadelphia Public Ledger.

[Puffalo Enquirer.]

[Fuffalo Enquirer.]

[Fuffalo Enquirer.]

[Fuffalo Enquirer.]

H E WAS traveling in the South and had to put up over night at a second-rate hotel in Western Georgia. He said to the clerk when he entered:

"Where shall I autograph?"
"Autograph?" said the clerk.
"Yes; sign my name, you know."
"Oh, right here."
As he was signing his name in the register in came three roughly-clothed, unshorn fellows immediately recognizable as Georgia "crackers." One of them advanced to the desk.

"Will you autograph?" asked the clerk, his face aglow with the pleasure that comes from the consciousness of intellectual superiority.

"Certainly," said the "cracker," his face no less radiant than that of the clerk; "mine's rye."—[The Argonaut.

A CONFEDERATE veteran's wife, whose shrewish temper was well known throughout the State, demanded that an old servant, who had served with her husband in the Civil War, be dismissed.

"Sam," said the old man, "go to your room and pack your things and leave—go away."

"Me—I can go!" he said, in an ectasy of gratitude. Then suddenly his manner changed, as with the utmost compassion he added:

"But you, my poor old friend, you m stay."—[New York Times.

N INSTRUCTING a youthful lass in mathematics the teacher turned to John what an average is?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the prompt response of Johnny, "an average is what a hen lays eggs

"What?" exclaimed the amazed teacher "What on earth are you talking about?"
"That's right, Miss Mary," was the rejoinder of Johnny. "Most every leason in our 'rithmetic start, off 'If a hen lays three eggs a week on an average."—[Chicago News.

PAT WAS called into court to testify to a talk that he had had with the de-fendant in a civil suit, and everything went along as swimmingly as a flock of builfrogs until the lawyer attempted to bring out the important points of the conversation.

"Now, then, Pat," said he encouragingly please tell the court what you and the lefendant talked about."

"Yis, sor," answered Pat willingly. "We talked about fifteen minutes."
"No, no, no!" interposed the lawyer. I mean, what did you and the defendant talk over?"

"Yis, sor," was the calm rejoind of Pat.
"We talked over the tilephone, sor."— (Philadelphia Telegraph.

THE CHAIRMAN of the committee was addressing a meeting at a teachers' in-

"My friends, the schoolwork is the bouse of "ivilization. I mean—ah—"
He began to feel frightened.
"T" buthouse is the schoolwork of civ-A smile could be felt.
"The workhouse is the bulschool of—"
He was evidently twisted.
"The schoolbul is the housework—"
An audible snigger spread over the always.

"The bulschool—"

He was getting wild. So were his hearers. He mopped his perspiration, gritted his teeth, and made a fresh start.

"The actual teeth and made a fresh start."

A sigh of relief went up. Hamlet was himself again!

He gazed serenely around. The light of triumphant self-confidence was enthroned triumphant senupon his brow.

"Is the wootbark—"

And that is when he lost cons

A LEXANDER POWELL, the war correspondent, was talking in New York about the English volunteer army.

"It will be all right in time," he said, "but at present it is pretty wabbly. You

"It will be all right in time," he said,
"but at present it is pretty wabbly. You can't take a lot of clerks and brokers and swells and navvies, you "now and tu...
them into a first-rate army overnight.

"It's like the groom who was brought in at the dinner party to help out the butler. The groom was willing enough, poor fellow. He asked a deaf old lady if she'd have any peas, and she put her big, bell-mouthed trumpet up to her ear to hear him.

"Gee," said the groom to himself, this is a new wrinkle on me, but if she wants 'em that way I better let her have 'em.'

"And down the ear-trumpet went a generous spoonful of peas."—[Washington Star.

HENRY PORD said at a picule in Dear-

I I born:

"In politics I'd be as ridiculous and absurd, I guesa, as the young fellow who had proposed to the schoolmarm.

"The schoolmarm, after his proposal, looked at him steadily through her big spectacles. Then she said:

"George, before I decide, you must answer one question. Do you drink anything?"

"George gave a loud laugh of joy. He

"George gave a loud laugh of joy. He crushed her to his breast.

"Anything," he murmured, smothering her with kisses. 'Anything.' "—[Washington

Bold Again.

T WAS a butcher's shop, with a fine dis-play of tongues for sale. Suddenly a man rushed in. "I say," he gasped, "there's a big black dog running down the street with a tongue in its

"Is there? The beast!" shouted " a butcher, seizing a chopper and rushing out of the shop after the canine thief. He caught a snop after the cannot theer. He caught a glimpse of a dog answering the description at the street corner and gave chase, but after rare dodging and twisting he lost sight of the animal.

"Have you seen a big black dog with a ngue in his mouth?" he asked of a group

"With a tongue in its mouth?" said one, laughing. "Did you ever see one without?" "Soid!" muttered the butcher, when he returned and found that all his tongues had gone as well as the two thieves who had taken them. — [Pittsburgh Chronicle-Tele-

Not His Money's Worth.

WHEN the ballplayers are down South When the ballplayers are down South in the spring the old boys do not take any chances with their pitching arms, letting the youngsters prove their energies instead. One day at Little "--k, where the Detroit team was playing an exhibition, old Red Donahue, who in his day was the sharpest-tongued man in baseball, as tossing them over and letting the Little Rock batters hit at will, to the great delight of the spectators.

the spectators.

"Oh, Red, you're easy, easy, easy," shricked one very wild fan who was getting on Red's nerves.

"I'm not half as easy as you are," retorted Red. "You paid 50 cents to see me do it."—[The American Boy.

No Chance for Him.

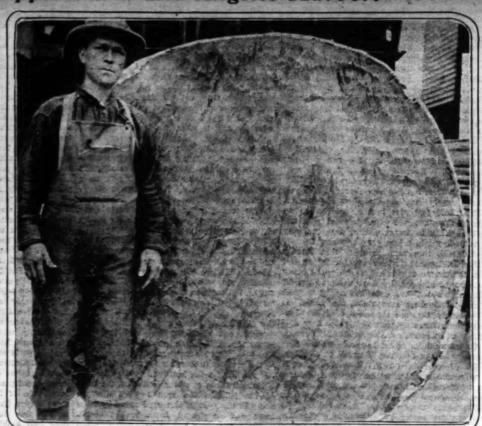

A MAN was on trial before a Wisconsin judge for horse stealing. When it came time for the lawyers on both 'des to tell the judge what instructions " wanted him to give the jury in addition to the points covered in his own charge, the attorney for the defense said:
"I respectfully ask your honor to charge the jury that it is a fundamental principle the jury that it is a fundamental principle of law in this country that it is better for ninety-nine guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be found guilty."

"Yes, that is true," said the judge, reflectively, "and I so instruct the jury; but I will add that it is the opinion of the court that the ninety-nine guilty men have already escaped."—[Harper's Magazine.

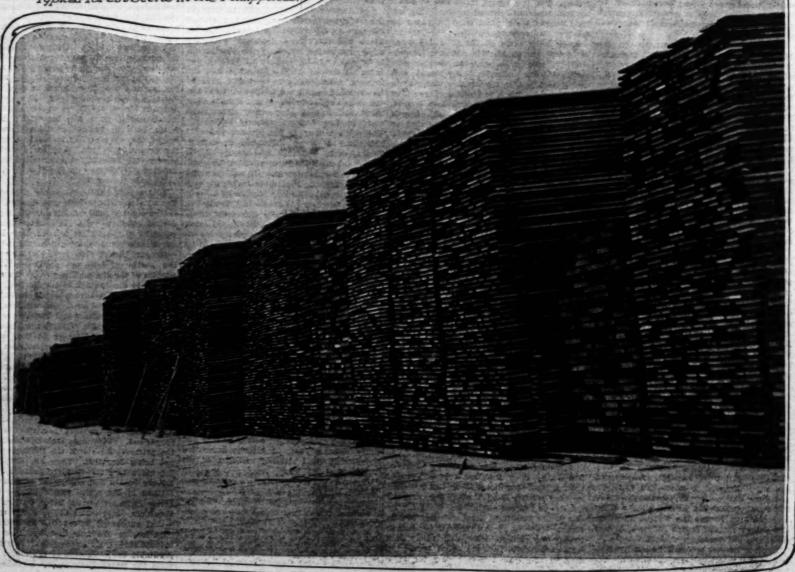

Mahogany in Philippines and Los Angeles Harbor.

Solid piece of Red Narra, 5 feet, 9 inches in diameter from tree near Mablos.

Typical forest scere in the Philippines.

Direct from Philippines, 540,000 feet mahogany in Los Angeles Harbon.

Mahogany for Transportation to Galifornia.

Loading mahogany logs on cars for haul to sawmill

Mahogany bgs in sawmill pond.